Brethren, the Liquor Traffic is intruding itself in ways and with money as never before. While all denominations have been fighting this great evil, yet I call for a united effort.

PASTORS AND LOCAL PREACHERS.

Mr. Editor:—Allow a suggestion for the consideration of those concerned. I have sometimes noticed a lack of that good feeling and thorough understanding that should exist between pastor and local preacher.

This Camp-meeting is a project of an association composed of some of our most prominent preachers. The meeting proved a failure this year.

I must say, Mr. Editor, that I am delighted with this country. The soil, the rivers, mountains and climate are the finest I ever saw.

TEXARKANA CT.—I have just finished up my revival work and got home. My meeting at Rocky Mound was a success; we have the best material there in the Church.
