LITTLE ROCK, ARKANS

PUNGENT PARAGRAPHS.

Loyalty to God and loyalty to good government do not conflict.

We cannot be thoroughly loyal to God unless we are also loyal to good government.

Human government is not perfect, yet obedience to any just government is a part of obedience to God.

In a government like ours ballots and not bullets should effect changes; and we are in duty bound to accept the arbitrament of the ballot, and not resort to bullets.

There is no moral, no legal, no physical obligation upon anyone to make, sell, buy, or use intoxicating liquor; but there are ample moral, legal, and physical reasons for letting liquor alone even if the law permitted manufacture, sale, and

If we obey only the laws we like and disobey those we dislike, we are not good citizens even when we are obeying the laws we like, because we would disobey those same laws if we disliked them, and hence our obedience is of our likes and not our laws.

PEACE PROSPECTS.

President Hoover and Premier MacDonald have met and taken counsel together in a thoroughly informal and wholesome way, and as a result a peace parky will be called early next year. What's ever may be the result decrease of armaments, the effect of y rence has been good It cements the A ace and amity betwee the two great Ex eaking nations, that will have more to do) naking peace and war than any other nations. The way to abolish war is to think peace and have peaceful purposes. Our nation is in no danger of aggression. Unless all the other nations combined against us they could not hope for final victory. They might harrass our ocean shores; but could not get far into the interior; and when we had become aroused, even though at first unprepared, we would take care of ourselves. Then why make any war preparations except purely defensive? Our example would have weight, and might be contagious. Let us think peace, plan peace, talk peace and pray for peace, and let it be done in the spirit of our Christ. Then it will impress the world with its genuineness. Thank God for Hoover and Mac-Donald, Quaker and Laborite! May their tribe increase and their principles prevail!

THE SENATE AND LOBBIES.

For three or four years members of Congress have been belaboring the lobbies which are said to infest Washington. Recently, after the exposure of a notorious paid propagandist, the Senate appointed a committee, of which Senator T. H. Caraway is chairman, to investigate the activities of lobbies. There is certainly no objection to this if the Senators do not take advantage of their privileged position to badger and abuse helpless citizens for partisan or personal purposes. It is easy to do this, and Senators will need to exercise unusual restraint to avoid it.

The "wets" and disgruntled politicians whose plans have gone awry because of the wholesome influence of the various organizations of lawloving and law-abiding citizens, have been trying to discredit the Federal Council of Churches, the Boards of Temperance and Social Methodist Churches, the Anti-Saloon League, and the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and they have charged repeatedly and vociferously that these organizations have maintained unfair and dangerous lobbies. Now that this committee has been formed and authorized to investigate, we are eager for it to take up these charges and give all of these organizations opportunity to show the nature of their activities, and then it should

SUBMIT YOURSELVES TO EVERY ORDI-NANCE OF MAN FOR THE LORD'S SAKE; WHETHER IT BE TO THE KING, AS SU-PREME; OR UNTO GOVERNORS, AS UN-TO THEM THAT ARE SENT BY HIM FOR THE PUNISHMENT OF EVILDOERS, AND FOR THE PRAISE OF THEM THAT DO WELL. FOR SO IS THE WILL OF GOD, THAT WITH WELL DOING YE MAY PUT TO SILENCE THE IGNORANCE OF FOOL-ISH MEN; AS FREE, AND NOT USING YOUR LIBERTY FOR A CLOKE OF MALI-CIOUSNESS, BUT AS THE SERVANTS OF GOD .- I Peter 2:13-16.

EVENTUALLY, THEN WHY NOT NOW? Eventually the raising of $25,000 will be necessary to stabilize our Conference Organ. It has a financial side that no other church enterprise has. Some church organizations will run with little or no funds. Some can run with reduced income. The paper cannot. It takes just so much money to pay for paper and press work, and payment must be made. It would be the height of folly to think of an effective and aggressive Church without its Organ of Publicity. Such an Organ must be maintained. The owning of the fine property, that is now used for the Home of the ARKANSAS METHODIST is regard-Inaders as wise. This property will y house the paper, but in due time will provide the headquarters which we need for all of our state-wide organizations and activities.

The funds must be forthcoming for this property and payment of our debts. Commissioner Galloway is seeking to raise these funds in the most approved way. He has the approval and backing of Bishop Boaz and other leaders. If you help him, he can finish this undertaking before the Conferences close. If it must be done and is being done in the right way, why not do it now and be done? Then your paper will be in position to serve all of the interests of our Arkansas Methodism more effectively.

EVENTUALLY THIS TASK MUST BE FINISHED. THEN WHY NOT NOW?

Pray over it, and then send to Commissioner J. J. Galloway the largest amount which you can possibly afford to give. Do not delay. He cannot personally see all. Do not wait for him to visit you. Make him glad by remitting promptly all you can afford to contribute to this enterprise.

get some special advantages from legislation. If this committee will go to the bottom and uncover the activities of all alike, we feel sure that the organizations named above have nothing to fear. find so doing. It can be shown conclusively that they are not organizations for selfish gain or political advantage, but that their sole purpose is to overthrow evils that seek the protection of government and prey upon the weak and guileless. There is the difference of night and day between these patriotic and benevolent organizations and the other lobbies maintained at large expense for more or less selfish reasons.

The right of petition is one of the most sacred rights guaranteed in the Constitution, and it certainly means that those who petition have the right to organize for the purpose of making their wishes known to Congress. We contend for that right, and would contend for it even for organizations whose purposes we did not approve. But it is also right that the work of these organizalook industriously into the activities of the scores tions should be done honorably and that the of organizations which are diligently assking to public as well as Congress chould be protected against wild and wicked propaganda. Hence, if this committee is to accomplish any permanent good, it should, as far as possible force all propagandists into the open and expose their real pur-

The proposition to register lobbyists and tag them is silly. The good propagandists would only be exposed to ridicule and the wicked propagandists would carry on their work secretly and in-So far as Congress is concerned, if members are honest, they do not need any protection. It is the public that needs protection from subtle propaganda which influences sentiment improperly, and yet that can hardly be done without abridging the freedom of the press and of speech.

The only protection which Congressmen need is absolute honesty and integrity. When lobbyists find that members of Congress cannot be swayed by unfair methods they will not be greatly annoyed. Congress needs to clear itself of the suspicion that it is subject to unwholesome and unpatriotic influences. There are men there who are free from the smell of lobby smoke, and then there are others.

WORK AND PRAY.

The end of the Conference year draws nigh. Soon the day of accounting will dawn. Shall we be ready with a goodly report of increase in members and collections? A reasonable pride in achievement is proper; but mere ambition to make a record is reprehensible. We are laborers in our Master's fields, and our Lord is entitled to our best service. We should work for Him not solely from a sense of duty: but because we love Him and desire to promote His holy cause.

Because He loved, God sent His Son to die for us. Because He loved, the Son came and lived a lowly, yet lofty life, and was lifted up on the Cross for our redemption. How can we show our love for Him? How can we in any measure repay Him for His infinite sacrifice in our behalf? With such an example and such leadership, can we take life easy? Can we neglect any duty? Can we afford to fail to please Him who is our Lord?

Let us work willingly and effectively. Let us pray unceasingly for the spirit of our Master. Let us be not satisfied with ordinary things, with mediocre efforts. The results may not be what we had hoped; but if we work and pray with our love driving us on and Christ's love lifting us up, we cannot fail. The events are with Him. Let us work that our part be not lacking. Let us pray that we may connect our puny strength with omnipotence. Let us frust that He may bless our efforts with holy increase.

"Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his Lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season? Blessed is that servant, whom his Lord when he cometh shall

TO THE METHODISTS OF ARKANSAS.

We are now trying to get the Arkansas a place in Little Rock, where they can establish headquarters. The cost is $25,000 ..

Rev. J. J. Galloway is leading in this most worthy enterprise and he needs assistance from every possible source. That which he is trying to get us to do is good business and should have been done years ago. It represents the unanimous judgment of the Board of Managers, and we desire most earnestly to see it put over this year.

At the fourth Quarterly Conference of Austin Circuit resolutions were passed expressing appreciation of the late Earl Morris and sorrow on account of the loss to the church and community in his death.

Information comes that Mrs. Forrest, wife of Rev. Edward Forrest, our pastor at Prairie Grove, has been able to return home from the Fayetteville Hospital, where she had a major operation, and that she is rapidly recovering.

Sending in a nice list of subscribers, Rev. W. T. Thompson, our pastor at Walnut Ridge, writes: "This is a very pleasant charge in some respects. The people are heartily in accord with the program of the church. We are in the midst of a campaign to pay off the church debt and to build a parsonage. I shall give our people a chonce to contribute to our Methodist Headquarters before Conference.'

DO IT NOW

Tomorrow will never come. Hence DO IT NOW. You expect to make a contribution to the Arkansas Methodist Campaign Fund, why not DO IT NOW? Every day notes and checks are coming in. People are responding, but some are making very small contributions who should make larger ones. Make us a liberal contribution and DO IT NOW.

Securing $25,000.00 to pay for the house and lot and the debt against the paper is one of the most business like steps ever taken in the interest of our Conference Organ. The $9,000.00 debt is an obligation that Arkansas Methodism cannot and would not fail to pay. It is an honor debt. The home and lot will save about $1,800 a year in rents and will * increase in value, hence it is a good proposition even though later we should desire t change our plans. It will have a stabilizin effect on Arkansas Methodism for ou Co: ference Organ has never had a 1. There are only three such homes in th, Methodist Church: one is in North Carolina, one in South Carolina and one in Alabama. This will be the first one West of the Mississippi River for our Church. I know you want a part in this; hence I am urging you, notwithstanding any other obligations which may be staring you in the face to take your pen in hand and write a check NOW.

From week to week you will see our announcements of the contributions. We confidently hope for some other large contributions. Three have given $1,000 each and we are looking for three more who will do the same. One has given $500 and a large number $250 each. Of course, we are glad to receive any amount. May we hear from you by next mail?

Early this week, Mr. Henry Colquette, son of Rev. D. H. He escaped with seven broken ribs and several bruises, and is recovering rapidly. It was a narrow escape.

October 26, at his home in Pine Bluff, Mr. Alphonse Brewster, one of the distinguished memage of 90. A native of Mississippi, he came to Arkansas in his youth and developed into a very successful business man, making his home for many years at Pine Bluff where he was a leader in the church and a large contributor to its ongoing. The editor had known him for more than forty years and appreciated his friendship very highly. He is survived by his widow, four sons, and one daughter. In his will large bequests were made for Galloway College and Superannuate En-

In his inaugural address, Dr. A. A. Brown, "The world has a of Drew University, said: right to expect that the church-controlled school He has gone a little beyond the standard. He shall be loyal to Jesus Christ. The aim of these schools is to seek truth, to share the experiences of the teachers with those of the young people in a quest for what Jesus called 'the abundant life.' "

> Returning Monday from El Dorado, the editor chanced to meet Rev. J. L. Lyons, commissioner for the Southern Methodist Hospital and Sanatorium at Tucson, Arizona, who had preached Sunday at Monticello and Crossett and at the Agricultural College. He is representing his work at Conferences and among the churches, and was on his way to St. Louis.

> During the past week our Commissioner has visited Hope, Washington, Nashville, Delight, and Arkadelphia. While this was rather a flying trip, we are expecting each of these places to do a good part in our campaign. Some have already made a contribution. If we can be of aid to you in helping your place locally to do something, let us know and the call will be answered.

> On Nov. 8, the College of the Ozarks, at Clarksville, will dedicate a new athletic field which has been given to the institution recently. This is a valuable addition to the equipment of this excellent college of the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. Dr. Wiley Lin Hurie, the active and aggressive president, is creating a strong institution which is contributing much to education in our state. The editor appreciates the invitation to be at the dedication and regrets that a previous engagement makes acceptance impossible.

> The editor spent last Sunday night at El Dorado and had the pleasure of hearing Gypsy Smith, Jr., the great English evangelist, who is preaching there in a union meeting. A large tent is used and it was filled to capacity, estimated at 4,000 and many turned away. The music under the leadership of Mr. McKee with a choir of some 150 voices is inspiring and the preaching is of the highest evangelistic type, helpful interpretation nd condemnation of sin. of Scripture and unque I of the 'original This evangelist is a English revivalist, Gypsy Smith, the ee. whom many of us had the ege of hearing here denominations are during war times. This is a good report. Let pastors push the canvass so that their lists may be in good condition for reporting at the Conferences.

ST. LOUIS CONFERENCE.

When the St. Louis Conference is held in the extreme southeastern part of Missouri, which ought, by rights, to be in Arkansas, I have formed the habit of visiting that Conference. This year it was held in Caruthersville, county seat of Pemiscot County, located on the Mississippi River. By the way, looking at the map, I discovered a very remarkable thing, namely, that in the bend of the river at New Madrid is a part of Kentucky that is entirely separated from Kentucky. Caruthersville is a fine little city of some 5,000 population with a very rich farming country back of it, just like Mississippi County, Arkansas. It was once bers of our Lakeside Church, passed away at the on the main line of the Frisco Railway, but when straightened some the line was left on a detour, consequently, going up on the night train, I had to stop at Hayti and spend the night in order to get an early morning train to Caruthersville. This little city is a demonstration of the value of prohibition. Years ago, when there were saloons, I passed up and down the railroad and always saw a crowd of drunken men boarding the train at Caruthersville. Now I did not see a single "drunk!"

In the heautiful new church, just completed at a cost of $75,000, I found the Conference in session, and under the skilful presidency of Bishop McMurry it completed business at 1 p. m., Saturday, and was ready to adjourn at 3 p. m. Sunday. As the Bishop is closing his eighth year in charge of the Missouri Conferences, they have all adopted resolutions of high appreciation of his efficient service, and at this Conference he and his wife were presented with watches representing the love of the preachers of the three Conferences. Here twenty-four years ago, in the absence of Bishop Hendrix he was elected to preside over the Conference and later received almost the unanimous vote of the Conference for delegate to General Conference. This had been a prosperous year and collections showed a slight advance, but there was a small decrease in membership. Unfortunately, on account of emigration, our church in Missouri is losing members. I had the privilege of speaking briefly in behalf of the Western Assembly, and met many friends.

The following Arkansas preachers are in this Conference: J. F. E. Bates, I. C. Bradsher, R. L. Duckworth, G. R. Ellis, G. P. Fikes, J. E. Godbey, W. H. Hansford, I. L. Holt, A. B. Haltom, H. C. Hoy, F. P. Jernigan, M. R. Lark, (Z. T. McCann, deceased this year), and J. T. Self. All seemed to be doing well. I did not hear the appointments, as I left there at 3 p. m. Saturday for Blytheville.—A. C. M.

SUNDAY IN MISSISSIPPI COUNTY.

As I was to spend Sunday at Blytheville and vicinity, Rev. Jefferson Sherman, our pastor at Blytheville, came to Caruthersville, Mo., where I was visiting the St. Louis Conference, and carried me back to Arkansas in his car. I was glad to have this opportunity to see this wonderful agricultural country. Along the Frisco Railway and the magnificent state highway which runs through Southeast Missouri and Northeast Arkansas, is one of the finest farming areas in the world. It is practically all in cultivation and produces wonderful crops of corn, cotton, alfalfa and wheat, although little of the latter is now

At our First Church, Blytheville, Sunday morning I addressed the Men's Class at Sunday School and preached at eleven to a fair congregation in the Sunday School auditorium. Three years ago the church building burned, and immediately plans were made for a new building. The education unit has been completed and used for a year. It cost $55,000 and the furnishings $5,000, and is a wisely planned, fireproof structure remarkably well adapted to the use of the Sunday School. Conditions are ripe for the erection of the auditorium which is to cost about $60,000 and will be one of the best in the state.

This church now numbers 950 members, and of these Rev. Jefferson Sherman, the aggressive pastor, during his quadrennium, has added 450, this year 125. This is a remarkable increase but it reflects the growth of the city and the industry and zeal of the pastor and the co-operation of the membership. This church is well organized. The president of the official board is Mr. F. C. Douglas, and the Sunday School Superintendent is Mr. E. D. Ferguson, while Mrs. W. I. Denton is president of the W M. S., and Miss Carolyn Haley is president of the Senior Epworth League. The superintendent of the Intermediate League is Miss Emma Hool. A very superior choir is directed by Mrs. Geo. Lec. The W. M. S. helped on the church furnishings and is paying $20 a month on support of the District

Blytheville has made remarkable growth in recent years and now claims a population of 12,000, and the business section looks busy enough for a city of that size. It is backed up by rich farming country and has big mills and factories. While cotton is the principal crop diversified agricul-Presbyterians have strong congregations and good site on the river and is now behind a first-class buildings. Peabody. At 3:00 p. m. I preached at Yarbro, one of Rev. W. J. Jordan's churches. This is a thriving community on the paved highway north of Blytheville and almost on the Missouri line. Brother Jordan has another church at Promised Land about five miles southeast of Blytheville. Each has about 150 members, and each has a good Sunday School and W. M. S. Yarbro has Senior and Junior Leagues. Both have fine official boards, and are strong rural churches surrounded by splendid farms supporting excellent people. Finances are in good condition and Brother Jordan expects to make 100 per cent on everything. He has received 18 members this year, and a total during his two years of 30. The parsonage is in Blytheville. I enjoyed my visit with Brother Jordan and appreciate his courtesies.

I ran down to Luxora 12 miles south of Blytheville and expected to preach at night, but a heavy rain prevented. However, I had supper with Rev A. L. Riggs, who, with his little family, lives in the basement of the fine brick church. It has a beautiful auditorium and ample room in the basement for Sunday School and the preacher's family; but plans are pending for building a parsonage on the large lot. The building is worth $17, 000 and the church is out of debt. This is the first year for Brother Riggs and he has had a good revival with 35 additions, making a total membership of 142. On account of the removal of the mill, the church has suffered some losses, but the spiritual state is good. The chairman of the board is Mr. E. R. Bogan. Mr. U. C. Barnett is Sunday School superintendent. Mrs. Bogan is president of an active W. M. S., that is raising funds for the parsonage. Mrs. Bogan is sponsor of the Hi League and A. J. Lynch is president. Mrs. M. E. Wherry is superintendent of the Junior League. All of these organizations are active and vicorous.

Luxora has a large and substantial brick school building and a commodious frame gymnasium. Mr. U. C. Barnett, a graduate of DePauw University and graduate student of the University of Chicago, is the capable and aggressive superintendent. The high school principal is Mr. Thos. D. Wilkes, a graduate of Ouachita College. There are eleven teachers and 300 students. For the size of the town this is one of the best schools in the state, and Superintendent Barnett is one of the finest school men.

Luxora has a population of about 1,200, good

MEETING OF ARKANSAS METHODIST COMMISSION.

Tuesday of last week the Arkansas Methodist Commission met in its annual session. The reports of editor and commissioner showed that good work had been done and progress made. It was decided that the campaign for the $25,000 must be carried through to successful completion. A. C. Millar was re-elected editor and J. J. Galloway was re-elected commissioner with the understanding that he would not continue in this work unless absolutely needed. It was decided that the pastors should be asked to co-operate fully in putting on the circulation campaign early in the year so that it would be out of the way of other campaigns and the paper might be able to help fully with all the work of the year. The Commission expressed appreciation of the work done by both editor and commissioner.

"THE CHALLENGE" AGAIN.

In the October number of "The Challenge," under the flaming headline, "Southern Churchmen Organize to Unfrock Bishop Cannon," is the following: "This growing force against intolerance is expected to demonstrate its strength at the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, to be held at Dallas, Texas, next May, when resolutions will be introduced condemning Bishop Cannon's political activities as well as those of Methodist ministers who engage in state politics. Southern Methodists who regard 'Cannonism' as a malignant growth obscuring the spirituality of the church and obstructing her progress, predict the bishop's abdication before the General Conference assembles because of the growing antagonism to him among Protestant laymen of all creeds, an antagonism so apparent and impelling that it forced him to abandon the Virginia gubernatorial campaign at its most critical stage and seek oblivion in Brazil 'where the nuts come from."

This intolerant sheet tries to create the impression that Bishop Cannon has been obliged to run away from Virginia and hide in Brazil; but ignores the fact that his episcopal duties called him to Brazil just at this time to hold his Conferences. Certainly it has not been Bishop Cannon's habit to run away from a fight. As to his 'abdication" before General Conference, it is to laugh. If an effort is being made to force him to "abdicate" it will be met by a stronger movement to vindicate him; because his enemies have made him the hero of Southern Methodism. When the forces of Rum, Romanism and Nullification attack a man because he has been fighting liquor and intolerance, then Southern Methodism will defend him because of the enemies he has made.

BOOK REVIEW.

Outfitting the Teacher of Religion; by James H. Snowden; published by The Macmillan Co., New York; price $2.00.

This is a textbook on the principles and practices of Religious Education. It is especially designed for those teachers who are possessed of good minds, a high school education, and a real religious experience. It is written by one who, by study, experience, and sympathy, is especially fitted for the task. It is written in clear, simple, and direct style. FOR THE CHURCH

(The following editorial in the October Methodist Layman is worthy of consideration).

During the past two quadrenniums there has been throughout the local Church, and the Benevolences, Church an insistent demand for a both General and Conference. unified educational program both asit affects the local Church and in we would disclaim any intention of point of general administration. The 1922 General Conference took cognizance of this fact in the appointment of a Commission to unify the Boards of the Church. In 1926, while the report of the Commission was not adopted, a new Educational Commission was created and its powers enlarged, looking to the development of a unified educational approach to the local Church and with reference to overhead agencies. Anyone who is thoroughly conversant with the situation in our Church as it obtains with reference to our educational work will certainly be in sympathy with a movement that has for its object simplification and the elimination of overlapping and duplication of effort.

A Unified Financial Approach

Is there not just as great need for a unified financial approach to the local Church?

On every hand, both from preachers and people, complaints are heard with reference to the situation produced in the local Church by the numerous financial campaigns which have been authorized both by the General and Annual Conferences. Let it be understood that these protests are not directed at the causes | tary basis of giving. themselves. It is a rare thing to find any preacher or layman who does not believe thoroughly in every moment from the standpoint of the campaigns which include Missions, Christian Education, Superannuate Endowment, Hospitals, Orphanages, Homes for the Aged, the Support of the Ministry, the Expenses of the

In the beginning of this article seeking to throw any obstacle, however slight, in the way of the advancement and success of any one of these causes. We believe in them sincerely and whole-heartedly. We have given ourselves with whatever influence and time we have without reservation to their promotion. We would specifically call attention to the fact, in financing these various causes which have been authorized by the General and Annual Conferences acting in their several constitutional capacities for the Church, that no discussion should be had or any attitude taken that will in any way militate against their success. Until the law-making body of our Church has spoken with reference to these causes demanding financial support, both those in position of leadership and the rank and file of the Churches should support them with enthusiasm and earnest effort.

With this reservation in mind, we venture the statement that in the light of the experience of the past two quadrenniums there is great need for simplification and unification of our financial program and likewise a shifting of emphasis from the assessment idea to a more volun-

From the Viewpoint of the Pastor Let us look at the situation for a

A UNIFIED FINANCIAL SYSTEM cause represented in these financial pastor upon whom fails the chief responsibility for the success or failure of the various causes represented in the work of our Church. It is his duty to inform and inspire his called Methodists are asked to conpeople relative to each cause. He must see that an organization is set "to put over the campaign." He isconservation of results, or, in other words, the collection of the pledges. A glance at the calendar of the various financial campaigns of our Church reveals the fact that the pastor is not able to complete the collection of the pledges of one campaign until he is called upon to put on another. Thus it goes through-out the year, until, as a matter of fact, a vast deal of time and energy of the pastor is consumed in a repetition of organizing campaigns and conserving results. Consequently he is hindered in a large degree in those other labors as a preacher and as a pastor that should engage a considerable portion of his time, thought, and effort. We ordinarily think of our pastors as "shepherds of the flock," "spiritual leaders." Surely this conception is in keeping with the proper function of the office. Consequently the work of the Church should be so organized as to give to these spiritual leaders the largest possible time for study in preparation of sermons, for visiting the people, especially the sick and those in distress, and for leadership in the of the Church, which largely affects Church.

From the Viewpoint of the People The present repetition of financial bution of assessments is made with campaigns tends to engender friction in the ranks of the members of the Church. Not for a moment would we even suggest that the people tribute too much to the extension of Christ's Kingdom. An examination up, perfected, and made to function of the records will show that as a Church we do not contribute accordlikewise held responsible for the ing to our ability. But the repetition of campaigns produces a sense of friction that is inimical to the best interests of the Church and tends to weaken the spirit of harmony and cooperation that should exist between the pastor and the people. This ought not to be, and for the most part we are convinced that it could be avoided by a unified financial approach to the local Church.

The Assessments

Another source of irritation and consequent failure to some extent is the attitude that has developed throughout the Church toward the General and Conference Assess-

A close examination of the records will show that an equitable distribution of assessments does not always obtain. For the most part the distribution is made on the basis of the support of the ministry and the membership. Anyone who is familiar with economic conditions throughout the territory served by our Church knows that this method of distribution works a hardship on certain conferences, districts, and charges. A more equitable method of distriorganization of the educational work bution must be found. Other factors besides membership and the support the entire constituency of the local of the ministry must be taken into account.

no thought that certain charges will pay out or even make an effort to do so. Certain charges within a district which have the habit of paying the benevolences in full are assessed what they generally pay and the rest is distributed to the weaker Churches. Under this system sometimes a circuit that pays $800 on the pastor's salary will be assessed $600 for benevolences. It is tacitly understood that the circuit will not pay out. In most cases of this kind, realizing that too much has been assessed, no effort whatever is made to pay anything on the benevolences.

Owing to this inequality in distribution and the fact that under the present system the people have not been adequately educated relative to the various causes involved in the assessments, there has grown up in many quarters a spirit of resentment which amounts in some charges and even districts almost to a repudiation of the assessments.

One Campaign and Giving on a Voluntary Basis

Cannot the next General Conference adopt a plan which will bring nominations, we give a brief sumrelief? Has not our Church reached mary of the principles involved and the place where it must go over from the methods being used, as follows: the assessment plan to the voluntary quadrenniums call for the unifying of all our various interests into one ed. campaign? Is there not clearly a need of devising a more equitable member canvass to cover the whole basis of distribution of the various budget, and the combined power of causes calling for contributions on the part of local congregations?

We suggest in this connection consideration of the adoption of a voluntary plan for giving based on a careful estimate of the needs of the causes and the ability of the Church the basis of the following factors involved: membership, budget of the local Church, physical evaluation of income as revealed by the figures of the United States Bureau of Statistics, willingness to pay as ascertainover a four year period. serve to focus attention upon the development of the spiritual attitude toward all giving-namely, under the principles of stewardship and an offering as an act of worship. This would usher in a new day in our Church, offering as it would, an unusual opportunity for the inculcation of the ideals and principles of Christian stewardship with respect to all of life and especially as they relate to stewardship of wealth and giving.

Let all of us who love our great Church and believe in her mission and destiny pray that the next General Conference may be guided aright in the making of those laws that affect so vitally all the work of the Church, but especially as it touches this particular phase of its

RELIGION IN THE TEXTILE CONFLICT

Death, bitterness, suspicion, fear and, poverty characterize the situation at Marion, North Carolina, where on October 2 six strikers were killed and many wounded by the sheriff's forces in front of the mill gates of the Marion Manufacturing Company after a second walk-out had occurred and strikers were attempting to picket the gates and prevent the day shift from going to work. A nine weeks' strike last summer, occasioned by bad conditions in the mill, including a twelvehour day for many workers and low wages, resulted in a settlement reducing hours to fifty-five a week and promising no discrimination against workers for union affiliation. A wage increase of five percent a week was subsequently granted. Increasing dissatisfaction on the ground of discrimination by the company against union workers, however, led to another walk-out on October 2. An official strike was then declared by the United Textile Workers of America, which is affiliated with the Federation of Labor. American There are no communists or communist issues involved at Marion. A thousand people face an acute situation either because of the strike or because their bread-winners have been laid off by the Marion Manu- day Observance was inaugurated facturing Co., or left out of work by Tand have attended several meetings the closing down of the night shift at the Clinchfield Mills. Following the strike of last summer, the people are without cash reserves of any kind. They need food, clothes, medicine, nursing services. Little children are badly in need of milk.

This summary of the situation comes from James Myers, Industrial Secretary of the Social Service Commission of the Federal Council of Churches, who has been on the ground surveying conditions, and making efforts toward mediation, including a call on the Governor and others in this endeavor. He spoke at the funeral of the strikers who were killed, appealing to all employers of goodwill, the forces of the state and the public to cooperate immigrant workers, mountaineers to bring about a better day in in- and Porto Ricans. dustry. the God of love."

As a result of Mr. Myer's report, the Federal Council's Social Service Commission voted to do everything possible to relieve the situation. The Commission feels that there are Christian people everywhere both in the South and in the North who will be quick to respond to this human need and who are unwilling that an economic conflict should be settled by the pressure of hunger. Mediators are at work in the situation. Meanwhile, the people should be fed and protected against the cold and the sickness which will follow if they are not adequately cared for. Checks should be made payable to Miss Olive VanHorn, Treasurer, and mailed to her at Room 605, 105 East 22nd Street, New York City.

FOR UNDERPRIVILEGED CHILDREN

A movement to benefit particularly the underprivileged children of our own and other countries recently has been inaugurated. I have just returned from Europe where I have again seen the needs of the children in several of the European countries. Some Americans are of the opinion that in the eleven years since the signing of the Armistice, Europe should have returned to normal, but those countries do not have our resources and cannot make the financial progress that we have made. None of them was so favorably situated as we were before the war and by their own efforts they will not be able to obtain the proper benefits for their children in this generation.

The famine conditions in China, the extreme poverty in India, and the serious needs in other countries affect the children of those countries most severely. Only those who have travelled in those countries know how serious are the handicaps imposed on the children.

The Golden Rule Foundation has been formed to receive funds for underprivileged children and for other needy benevolences. Was present at the international conference in Geneva when the Golden Rule Sunof the Foundation while it was in process of formation, and I do not hesitato to urge our people to utilize it as a channel of Christian service. The projects it brings before the people at this time include:

The orphan children in Europetransplanted groups of expatriates facing problems of great gravity;

Underprivileged children in the industrial centers of India;

Chinese children, innocent victims of war and famine, immediate relief being necessary and a program of more permanent character suggested in welfare demonstration centers in strategic locations;

LICORICE, THE VERSATILE

The Scientific American, for September, gives the romance of licorice and its real worth in the article 'Licorice the Versatile." These facts were gleaned from it.

Most people only think of candy in connection with licorice, but it is used for medicine, an ingredient in phototobacco, fire-extinguisher, micrographs, beverages, and board.

Licorice is one of the oldest known roots. It was grown in Mesopotamia, which is called the cradle of civilization; it was recognized by Egyptian and Greek chemists as a worthy tonic and medicine. Tons of it were consumed during the dark ages. It has the property of quenching thirst, and it was said by a pupil of Aristotle that certain people could, with this and cheese, go for several days without being thirsty. It was used by armies on long forced marches when water was scarce. Even during the reign of Elizabeth, licorice was highly prized as a medicine and for its sweetness. Chaucer said: "But first he cheweth greyn and licroys to smellen sweete."

Spain. The roots are grown in Italy, Asia Minor, Russia, China, Greece, and Persia and are sent in huge bales to the United States. The roots are then first shredded and some are mashed for the powder is of great use in pharmacy. The active parts of the remainder of the shredded roots are then chemically removed, and the solution is treated in different ways, according to the final uses of it. A dry extract is obtained which is sold as "powdered" extract. The syrup and paste are the kinds used by confectioners. In the past, it has been often connected with anise and the black color; anise has been eliminated now, and since the natural color is dark brown, the black will soon disappear. Licorice is fifty times as sweet as sugar, and it is extremely healthful not only as a candy, but as a tonic and food. Throughout Southern Europe it is used as a popular non-alcoholic beverage, and in some factories is given to the workers instead of water.

The "waste" is very negligible. Its propensities as a foam-producer are made use of in the Foamite System of fire-extinguishers; its thick foam cuts off oxygen and soon the fire ceases to burn. This foam used to be used by beer-brewers who desired more foam on the top of their production. Last of all, the 'spent root," as it is called, is rolled and pressed into wall board and paste board.

A tough fiber-board, superior to leather for sheathing, preventing passage of heat or cold, better than brick or concrete, presenting an ideal surface for plaster, is the final use of the "versatile" licorice which has been of such service to mankind.-Mary Brown McSwain, San Marcos, Tex.

THE MISSING APPLE

If there was one thing that Andrew liked, it was apples! Perhaps that was what made him so strong and rosy-cheeked and happy. So when he received an invitation to an apple party, although he had never heard of such a thing before, he was sure that he would have a very, very good time.

The party was to be at Beth's house, and Beth's uncle had an orchard of the finest kind of apples. Andrew could hardly wait for the day of the party. On the afternoon before he took a long walk to pass the time.

While he was out walking, he saw a girl with a big basket. The basket was so big that it seemed as if she should be carried in it, instead of carrying it all by herself. Andrew ran forward.

"Let me help you carry your basket," he said.

"All right! It is full of apples, and very heavy. We are going to have C. E. Kirtley. lots of company, and these are forapple turnovers. I must hurry, but the basket is so big I cannot walk very fast.'

Andrew hurried as fast as he could, and they would have made very good time, indeed, but a big collie dog came bounding down the street and bumped into them. That upset the girl, and the girl upset Andrew, and, of course, they upset the basket of apples. Before you could wink, they were all on the ground, the dog and girl and the apples and Andrew.

The collie barked as if he had done something very cute. The girl laughed, and Andrew laughed as he picked up the basket and put apples in it. Then Andrew picked up the very biggest and reddest apple he had ever seen.

"Why-why!" he exclaimed. "Here my name on this apple! Look and see!"

The apple-girl seemed surprised. "I never heard of an apple with a name on it," she said. "It must be a magic apple, put there because you have been so good to me. You keep it and eat it."

On the way home Andrew was going to eat the apple, but he thought of the party. It would be fun to take the apple with his name on it to the apple party. So he put it away.

The next day, when he went to the lected.

party, Beth came to the door. Andrew saw right away that something had happened. She led him into a room where there were a lot of girls and boys. There was a long table, too, with plates on it. At every place there seemed to be a big red apple.

"O, Andrew!" cried Beth, "there isn't any apple for you! Uncle put paper letters on them before they commenced to turn, so that each of us would have a special apple., But the other day he picked some apples to sell, and he made a mistake and picked some of the apples off this tree. Yours must have been among them. Oh, I feel so bad, for the party was really for you! I know you like apples so well. There are apple salad and apple sandwiches and apple pie and apple surprises, there isn't an apple for you!"

Then Andrew took the apple out of his pocket. "Yes, there is," he said. "I have it right here. A girl gave it to me yesterday."

When Beth saw this, she clapped her hands and was happy. Andrew put the apple at his place at the long, gay table, and the party started.

NOTES FROM EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING OF LITTLE ROCK CONFERENCE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

With eighteen of its twenty members present, the Executive Board of Little Rock Conference Woman's Missionary Society held an all-day session in Little Rock Oct. 15.

This was followed by a season of prayer in which each one took part. The beautiful thoughts of patience and trust lingered with situation be kept before the auxiliar-us through the day as we reviewed the first three quarters' work and realized what yet must be done to round out a successful year. We are carrying an enlarged program and there is need of concentrated effort and patient trust to accomplish it.

The following answered to Roll Call: Mesdames Steel, Wade, Mc-Dermott, Smith, Stinson, McLean, Moorman, Reaves, A. R. McKinney, Rogers, Anderson, Williams, Huie, L. K. McKinney, Thomas, Webb, Cress and Boney.

The president, Mrs. Steel, spoke in appreciation of the way the work had gone forward this year, praising especially the work of the 'faithful district secretaries." reported that we had made some gain as a conference. She regretted that illness in the home had prevented a more active participation in the work on her part. Upon the insist-ency of the Board and assurance that each member would render all assistance possible, Mrs. Steel consented to complete her term of of-

The treasurer, Mrs. Smith, gave a report comparing the present year's first three quarters with a similar period of last year. This showed a decrease in adult and children's departments and an increase in young people's with a very considerable sum to be raised this fourth quarter. She furnished each district secretary with the financial standing of her district. Mrs. Smith called attention to the increase this year which is $1 per member and urged that this be sent in at once. She closed with this searching question: "What are you going to do to help bring our collections up in full?"

Mrs. Steel urged that the financial

The corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. P. McDermott, said that reports had been coming in regularly and on time. She expressed confidence that the auxiliaries would meet their obligations. She gave a very gratifying report of Woman's Building at Mt. Sequoyah. She said: "We are in sight of the goal, but there is still much to be done.'

The superintendents of the severa! departments gave interesting reports. Some outstanding accomplishments were: Schools for Mission Study leaders held in each district resulting in more and larger classes and better presentation. A successful summer camp for young people with four volunteers for life service. A splendid piece of inter-racial work which will surely bring results. A gratifying valuation of contributions through supply department and interest in literature shown in publicity department.

Mrs. W. H. Pemberton was missed from her accustomed place and regret expressed that illness had prevented her attendance. Flowers were sent her with a written expression of love and appreciation for her long and faithful service in the Confer-

Reports of the several districts were given by the District secretaries. All will hold their District meetings in October and the president instructed them to confer together and call such help as they rneeded to put over their programs. Mrs. Steel expressed regret that she would be unable to attend these meetings.

It was noted with pleasure that Miss Novern Robkin is now in Scarritt on one of our scholarships and is happy and doing well.

We learned with regret that Miss Murray is detained at home by illness and was not able to sail for Africa as she had hoped. We are hoping for a speedy recovery that she may soon take up the which is so dear to her heart.

A motion prevailed which it is hoped will lighten the burden of entertainment and allow the hostesses to attend the sessions. The delegates will pay for the noon luncheons, fifty cents the suggested price. It is also suggested that the luncheons be not served by the women. It was learned that our executive meeting had fallen upon our president's birthday, so at the luncheon hour Mrs. Steel was presented with golden chrysanthemums and Mrs. F. M. Williams expressed congratulations and felicitations on behalf of the Board.

The session was closed by an earnest prayer led by Mrs. Steel.-Mrs. J .M. Stinson, Recording Secretary.

The Pine Bluff District meeting will be held in Rison, October 30 and 31. Mrs. V. D. Webb, District secretary, will be in charge and a good program is in preparation .- Mrs. J. M. Stinson.

SEARCY GIRL LEAVES FOR CHINA.

Miss Pearl McCain, of this city, left August 3 for San Francisco to sail for China August 9, on the Steamer President Garfield, as an out-going Missionary from the Methodist Church, South, of Arkansas.

Miss McCain was reared in Searcy and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. McCain.

She is a graduate of our public school and Galloway College. attended Scarritt Training School, where she received her training for foreign Missionary work. She chose China as her field of work when she graduated. She was too young to go that year to the foreign field, so she was sent to do home Missionary work in London, Ky., college, where she served as teacher for several years.

This summer Miss McCain has been much sought after. She has filled the pulpits at night all over the state.

She has been a very delightful visitor at Mt. Sequoyah, and also at Petit Jean Conference.

Miss McCain has been very active with our young people, doing a wonderful work with them. In going she leaves behind her an influence that will never die.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church has presented Miss McCain with several love gifts, and feel indeed proud that this church has produced such a wonderful character.—Reporter.

The Camden District Conference

convened at the Methodist church in Magnolia, Thursday evening, October 10, at 7:30, with Mrs. Ray Hutcheson, president of the local Auxiliary, presiding. Rev. J. J. Stowe gave the invocation. Beautiful solo by Mrs. William Shipley followed, devotional by Mrs. S. O. Couch, pioneer member of Magnolia Auxiliary, using as her topic "The Gospel of Work," that we may carry the gospel in all our tasks, however humble, closing with prayer. Mr. Glen Martel and Miss Minnie Hawkins gave a flute and violin duet. Young People, Juniors and Primaries of Magnolia Society 30.00 presented an impressive pageant,

"Passing the Torch," illustrating the spirit of service. Mrs. L. K. McKinney, District secretary, gave some high lights of the great Missionary Conference held at Memphis, Tenn., January 1, 2, 3, 1929. Session closed with benediction by Rev. J. D.

Friday morning session, October 11, opened by singing Conferenc Hymn, "Onward Through the Ages," Mrs. L. K. McKinney, District secretary, presiding. Rev. J. D. Baker, pastor of Magnolia Church, led the devotional. Mrs. F. K. Couch extended hearty greetings to the Conference, to which Mrs. McKinney responded in her usual gracious, appreciative manner. Mrs. Chester Green and Dr. Jones gave a vocal number. Mrs. J. L. McWilliams was elected recording secretary. Minutes of Thursday night read and approved. The following Auxiliaries reported: Camden, Fordyce, El Dorado First Church, El Dorado, Parker's Chapel, El Dorado, Vantrease Memorial, Louann, Magnolia, Norphlet, Smackover Stephens, Stephens Juniors, Waldo Junction City.

Mrs. McKinney then addressed the assembly, approving the good work already done, but admonishing to greater effort in this closing quarter of the year's work. Mrs. J. D. Rogers urged the full observance of the "Week of Prayer," that each woman make it a time of real self-denial and prayer. Mrs. J. J. Stowe presented Young People's work, emphasizing the importance of spiritual training for proper development of spiritual growth. Mrs. McKinney presented Junior work, saying this was the age to teach them tithing and the spirit of Missions.

At this time a pause was made to pay tribute to the memory of Miss Lochie Rankin, our first Missionary to China, and her faithful service of 49 years, whose recent death bereaved all missionary workers. Mrs. S. Cabot B. Proctor, a former District secretary, closed the moments of silent consecration, by prayer.

Courtesies Committee as follows: Mrs. Higginbotham, Mrs. J. S. Thomas, Mrs. M. F. Smith. Following pastors and their wives were introduced: Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Stowe, Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Thomas, Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Thompson, Rev. and Mrs. F. F. Harrell, Mrs. Teeter, Mrs. J. D. Rogers, Mrs. J. D. Baker. The consecration service was held by Rev. J. J. Stowe.

A delicious luncheon was served at their hospitable parsonage, where Rev and Mrs. J. D. Baker, assisted the local Auxiliary in dispensing the tempting viands. The Magnolia A. & M. College orchestra added much to the hour by splendid music. Mrs. J. L. McWilliams gave the devotional for the afternoon session, "Growing Like God Through Fellowship and Communion in Prayer"-in this all took part by responsive Bible verses, and prayer in unison. Mission study presented by Mrs. W. E. Eureka Springs Rushing, who took the course on "Roads to the City of God" at Mt. Sequoyah this summer, as the District representative. She stressed the need of mission study that we may have information of the world's need. brought many interesting, helpful Social Service and Publicity were discussed by Mrs. McKinney. Mrs. V. O. Buck presented "Our Mission Special," emphasizing the need of our $1.00 per member for our Conference Missionary girls, Lucy Wade to Brazil, Hortense Murray to Africa. Here's one granddaughter who takes advice from elders

Schoolgirl learns simple health measure

ITH all the talk there is nowadays about the independence of the sub-deb generation, your re-porter got a great kick out of hearing a grandmother describe how her granddaughter was following a good old tried and true method of improving her general health.

"My granddaughter, Margaret,"says Mrs. Zell of 6231 Catherine Street, Philadelphia, "read about Nujol, rested in it, so sent for a sample." It seems she has been taking a tablespoon of Nujol once a day since and expects to continue this treatment. Already she has found an improvement in her general health, her system functioning normally where other remedies had failed.

That's one of the best things about Nujol. It is just as harmless for young girls, or babies even, as it is for adults. For Nujol contains no medicines or drugs. It can't upset you because it works so easily and regularly, in a normal fashion.

Nujol was perfected by the Nujol Laboratories, 2 Park Avenue, New York City. It can be bought anywhere for about the price of a ticket to a good movie. Get a bottle of Nujol today and try it, won't you? In sealed packages.

WHAT A NEW PROGRAM OF WORK DID.

The following from a letter from Rev. Neill Hart indicates what we 1.25 may expect from the New Programs of Work. The one he refers to was placed September 15.

"The Program of Work for Rogers" -----$ 10.00 Chapel Sunday School has certainly 3.12 revolutionized that school. They are 4.30 doing fine work now and certainly 10.00 profited from your visit. We are 11.25 looking forward to having you here .03 with us early in November."

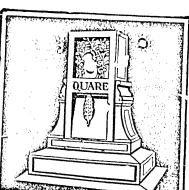

We are placing Programs of Work $.35^{+}$.03 as rapidly as we can.—S. T. Baugh.

PRESCOTT DISTRICT COKES-BURY.

Last week we had a District-wide Cokesbury Training program going in the Prescott District.

We were fortunate in having Miss Mark Skinner, elementary superintendent of the Southern Methodist Church, teaching the Elementary Course at Delight, and Miss Lucy Foreman, who has charge of the Cokesbury Training Work of the Southern Methodist Church, teaching the Worship Course at Emmet, and Rev. Glenn F. Sanford, Extension Secretary of the North Arkansas Conference, teaching the Sunday School Worker at Murfreesboro. Then we had a number of our own approved Cokesbury Instructors helping us as follows: Mineral Springs, Rev. J. A. Sage; Sardis, Rev. F. C. Cannon; Center Point, Rev. L. C. Gatlin; Midway, Rev. M. K. Irvin; Hinton Chapel, Rev. L. T. Rogers; Nashville, Rev. Clem Baker taught a Standard course,, and I was at Glenwood placing a new Program of Work. Results of these classes will be reported later.

At Nashville on Wednesday we had an Institute, and at Murfreesboro on Thursday we had another Institute. Rev. J. A. Henderson, the fine presiding elder of this District, led the levotional service and presided. Brother Baker, Miss Skinner, Miss Foreman, Rev. Glenn Sanford, and District-wide Cokesbury others rendered good service in making these institutes unusually helpful. The ladies at both places served a delightful meal at noon which was enjoyed by all.

This was a new experiment in a Baugh.

Program put on under the direction of the General Sunday School Board, led by Miss Lucy Foreman. She and all who attended were more than pleased with the results.—S. T.

A LETTER FROM N. ARKANSAS CONFERENCE EDITOR

Sending in the report of the Conference Treasurer, Mr. Thad W. Rowden, who was elected Conference editor, writes as follows to the editor. Although in a private letter, it is of sufficient interest to justify publication.

"It may seem and justly that I am somewhat neglecting my position as Conference editor, for, as you know, I have sent in very few news items during the past months. With the exception of a somewhat detailed report of the League Assembly at Searcy and two or three small items sent while I was on Mt. Sequoyah, might desire to do so. They are I have sent nothing. There is, how- looking forward with genuine pleasever, as in all cases, a reason for this seeming neglect. At the present time I am employed in the U.S. Government Engineering Department, working on a survey boat on the Mississippi River some 20 miles above St. Louis, Mo., near Alton, Ill. For financial and other reasons I did not return to the University this September, but set forth in search of a job, which I found on Oct. 1 here in St. Louis while on a visit to my father. The job is only temporary, as the work will have to be discontinued when the ice on the river hinders the work to any extent. This will be about the first of January. This will not be inconvenient to me, since I am returning to the University for the second semester, which begins in January. I was quite fortunate in securing this job, as it is in line with my study at the University and will enable me to get a great deal more out of my last year's work there, since I shall actually know something about the work. It is good view point. experience from that Then, on the other hand, it is doing me good from a physical standpoint. I have gained something like 12 pounds in the three weeks which I have been here, which pleases me immensely, because for the past keeper."

News of the Churches

CONFERENCE NOTICE

To the North Arkansas Conference, Dear Fathers and Brethren-The citizenship of Russellville, generally, as well as the membership of the Methodist church, are delighted to have the North Arkansas Conference meet with them, Nov. 27-Dec. 1. It is their desire to entertain the members of the Conference and the connectional men, in keeping with the hospitality accorded to them in other cities where they have met. Owing to the number of people boarding and rooming in the city, it will not be possible for them to entertain visiting friends, however much they ure to your coming .-- R. C. Morehead, Acting Pastor.

A POUNDING AT BEEBE

We were given one of the most pleasant surprises we have ever had Thursday afternoon and evening, October 24, by people of our church. In the afternoon there was a complete surprise for Mrs. Faust, the ladies bringing good things to eat for the company during the social hour, and many nice things in the way of towels, table linens, bed linens, hose, etc., and several dollars in cash. In the evening folks began to come in with a nice line of groceries of sufficient quantity to last us for a considerable time; and another very enjoyable social time was had with these good folks.

A surprise of this kind is always three years I have been unable to gain a pound. I come in to St. Louis each week-end and spend Sunday with Dad, and will continue to do this until I get so far down the river that it will be inconvenient. All in all I enjoy my work and it is doing me much good. I hope, however, to be back on Mt. Sequoyah next summer at my position as book-very much appreciated at the beginning of the Conference year; but it is doubly appreciated near the close of the year, indicating that their esteem of the pastor and his family has endured through the year. We are very grateful for this expression of the good feelings of our people toward us, and are trying to be worthy of their esteem .- W. J. Faust, P. C.

HENDRIX-HENDERSON COLLEGE NOTES

Perhaps the Hendrix-Henderson activity which now has the most important meaning for the state at large is the membership enrollment ries of brochures, which will comcampaign being carried forward by W. T. Rowland, Jr., secretary of the dist efforts in Arkansas adequately Hendrix-Henderson Alumni Associa- to care for the field of Christian tion and high school visitor. Mr. Education. Rowland's travels thus far have Knob, Little Rock, Lonoke, Carlisle, Hazen, DeVall's Bluff, Des Arc, Cotton Plant, Wynne, Bradford, Atkins, Morrilton, Plumerville, Benton, Malvern, Brinkley, Wheatley, Forrest City, Marianna, Beebe, Cabot, Searcy, Judsonia and Newport.

Mr. Rowland has found a remarkable degree of solidarity among graduates and former students in support of the consolidation program, and the Association has the prospect of becoming a very influential factor in Arkansas education and general development. The choice of Mr. Rowland for this field work has proved a fortunate one. From his school work at Searcy and Marianna and from a term as president of the Arkansas Inter-School Contest Association, he possessed a wide acquaintance over the state before beginning his new duties, and his contacts are being rapidly increased.

Dr. Howard A. Dawson, director of research and information in the state department of education, is president of the Hendrix-Henderson Alumni Association; Dr. W. C. Martin, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Little Rock, is vice president, and Howard C. Johnston, assistant cashier of the Farmers State Bank, Conway, is secretary.

Tyronza, Sr.

The college will soon distribute several thousand copies of an illustrated brochure, "Two Streams Converge," a brief statement with reference to the conditions which obtained at the time the United Board of Trustees made the merger actual. The brochure establishes the relationship between Hendrix and Henderson-Brown as separate colleges and briefly sketches the advantage to be developed from the consolidation. Some of the engravings appearing in the brochure are of greatest historical value.

During the next few weeks, the college will issue others of this seprise an accurate history of Metho-

Miss Johnnie Wallace of Conway, brought him to Russellville, Bald popular Senior, is the new president of Mu Sigma Chi, Hendrix-Henderson chapter of the Scholarship Societies of the South. Horace Hunsaker of Judsonia was elected vice president, and Miss Etta Neal Mayhan of Little Rock will serve as secretary. Albert Graves of Hope, president of the Senior Class, will represent the chapter at the national convention.

> Home-coming is the affair most frequently mentioned on the campus and the College Profile, weekly newspaper, distributed 2,000 copies of its edition for October 25. The home-coming date is November 1 and the day's program will be climaxed with the Warriors meeting with Ouachita in the Young Memorial Stadium. Several committees representing the student body, faculty and Alumni Association, are in charge of preparations for the day, which promises to be a great one in Hendrix-Henderson history.

The College Profile, appearing in its new dress, has given first publication to the new Hendrix-Henderson seal, which was designed by Paul Acruman, a sophomore. Although Acruman's design underwent some changes before final approval, the seal is substantially his drawing. In the upper center appears the Greek motto, "Unto the

The one thousand-dollar mark has been passed with the C. O. Steele fund and we now begin a fund in memory of Rev. Robert William Mc-Kay. Contributions to this fund will go into the Little Rock Conference Endowment Fund and will be an everlasting memorial to the superannuate in whose memory it is given. Let the contributor remember that he may direct his contribution to the memory of any person, whether superannuate or not. A memorial certificate is issued, and on this cer-

GAS AFTER MEALS

"Didn't See a Well Day for Weeks-None of My Food Agreed With Me," Says Engineer.

Kansas Olty, Mo,-"After each meal, distress would come on me, and I would suffer bad pain," says Mr. Peter Seeger, a Missouri Pacific railroad engineer, residing at 329 Elmwood Street, this city.

Mr. Seeger explains that the pain seemed to come from indigestion, as he had a sensation of gas, or bloated feeling in his stomach. "I found that by taking a pinch of Black-Draught, dry, after meals, I would be relieved," he says.

"I would carry Black-Draught to work with me. I took it for about a year and a half.

"None of my food agreed with me. I would frequently taste what I ate, long after my meals, and I did not see a well day for weeks. taking a pinch of Black-Draught after each meal, and kept this up for weeks. Gradually the pain left me, and I began to feel better. I ceased to be troubled wit could eat what I liked.

Three more pastoral charges have gone on the Honor Roll of Paying- the leadership of the presiding eld-In-Full-Before-Conference. Here they are in the order of paying out: Rover co-operation of the laity. Seventeen Circuit, Booneville District, Bates pastoral charges have paid out. Smith District, C. R. Nance, pastor; a considerably larger assessment than and Umsted Memorial, Newport, last year, but the pastor, Sam B. Batesville District, W. M. Edwards, pastor, J. L. Brown, treasurer. I congregation of that historic church

Lynn Wade, and H. K. King, helped a lot in bringing to pass these fine records. All honor to the preachers, Sturdy, Nance, and Edwards; not forgetting the official boards and congregations who loyally co-operated! Next!

The largest check of the week came from Cotton Plant, Searcy District, Fred A. Lark, pastor. This live church has paid seven-eighths of its assessment, and has the largest net gain over 1928's total in the Conference. This unusually fine showing is the result of an everymember canvass that was the real thing. Brother Lark writes that everybody has been "Seen twice this year." He also says: "We are planning to send the balance Sure!

Central Avenue, Batesville, E. L. Boyles, pastor, C. T. Jones, treasurer, is within $80.00 of completing its quota; or to put it differently, has remitted five-sixths of its assessment. This church has already the next to the largest net gain over last year's total in the Batesville District. Splendid work that represents real sacrificial giving. I have ing August by Dr. C. C. Godden. He a paying-in-full-before Conference to make his personal offering to this Avenue Church.

> The treasurer of the Booneville Church, J. O. Barlow, sent in the fine check that puts them in advance of any former Oct. 26th, and further increases their large increase over 1928's total. Of course, its pastor, Brother Mann, will make his usual report of "Everything in full."

Viney Grove, Fayetteville District, J. A. Zinn, pastor, and Black Rock Circuit, Paragould District, L. F. Lafevers, pastor, have both surpassed 1928's total. This is one of the best of progressive signs. Brother Zinn and Lafevers are "hustling hard" for 100 percent by Conference time. Biggers-Success, Paragould District, V. B. Utley, pastor, J. T. Lane, treasurer, is increasing its lead over any previous preconference record.

The following pastoral charges remitting within the last few days was trustee of Hendrix College for are in advance of same date (Oct. 26) 1928: Altus-Denning, L. A. Dardanelle, Booneville District, has Wiggins, the Official Board and the am personally very proud of this tackled the quota with dauntless faith trio. Each one of these charges has and unflagging zeal. Yesterday, Ocnot only paid its assessment in full, tober 26, after I had sent in my weekly notes to the Arkansas Methodist, I received a check from Church crossed by a pen and the open book may be kept as a souvenir. Below they are their own high praise. The friend—for One Thousand Dollars, paying Dardanelle's Conference Claims in full. This is its third time in succession under Brother Wiggins's splendid leadership to send in its paying-in-full check before Conference. What is more, the remittance this year is earlier than ever before. Of course, Brother Wiggins and his people are happy, and this is part of what he writes: "This is undoubtedly the most loyal group of people that I ever saw. We certainly did have whole-hearted co-operation." This is the eighteenth paying-in-full receipt that I have issued this year. The Booneville District, F. E. MONTICELLO DISTRICT

A laymen's banquet, for the West ern half of the Monticello District, M. E. Church, South, with more than 100 attending, was held at the Allen Hotel, Monticello, last Tuesday evening, October 15. George W. Pardee, conference lay leader of the Little Rock Annual Conference, was toastmaster. Dean E. D. Jennings, of Southern Methodist University of Dallas, Texas, was the principal speaker. Large delegations from Warren, Crossett, Hamburg, New Edinburg, Fountain Hill, Wilmar, Rock Springs, Hermitage, Banks and Zion were present. Monticello had the largest delegation with approximately 40 of the tending.

In addition to the laymen, pastors of the charges in the Western area were present. More than 30 ladies also attended.

Other features of the banquet included brief addresses by Noel Martin of Warren, district lay leader, and Rev. John C. Glenn, presiding elder of the Monticello District. Special musical numbers were rendered by the male quartet of Warren and the 11-piece orchestra of the Monticello Methodist church.

The banquet was pronounced the greatest success of any similar one ever held in the Monticello District. Wednesday night, Oct. 16, a banquet for the Eastern section of the district will be held at Dermott, with Dean Jennings as the principal speaker. Mr. Pardee will act as toastmaster. A record-breaking attendance is expected for this dinner .-Advance, Monticello.

SUPERANNUATE ENDOWMENT ON THE BINGEN CIRCUIT

I wish to say that the interest in the Superannuate Endowment Fund is growing among my people. I made a call Sunday morning at Doyle and several came and made a contribution to the dear old preachers.

Then Tuesday morning real early John Wolff sent me $10 to be applied on the Superannuate Endowment Fund. John is confined to his room, cannot get out and make money like his brothers, but he is loyal to all of the programs of his church and is a real Christian man. We pray God's blessings on him and his mother.

We will do our best for this ercutt, P. C.

BAY

This is a small town on the Frisco Railroad and on the Highway 63, in a rich agricultural community. Bro. M. A. Graves is the popular and efficient pastor. On his invitation I was with him on the 20th at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Had a fine leading men of the local church at-religious service at 1:00 and was expectant for the night, but it rained and cut our congregation to only a few. This is a strong country church. In 1899 it was a weak, struggling congregation, but now it housed in a nice commodious building and with such men and women as the Miles, Powells, Holts, Spurlocks, Isbells, Cherrys, Stones, Prof. C., J. Perry, W. J. Watson, and others, there is a bright future for our church here. Pastors and people are expecting to make a 100 percent report at Conference, and it will come to pass, I think. People and pastor were exceedingly nice to me, for which I hereby thank them most heartily. We need more such rural churches .- Jas. F. Jerni-

A LETTER FROM A READER

Dear Readers of the Methodist: We take the good old Methodist, and enjoy reading it. I am a full-blooded Methodist and always believed, if you are going to be anything, you should be true to it. I dearly love to attend church and Sunday School. I am a poor scholar, but I try in my weak way to grow stronger and to do all I can for my Master. I enjoy doing something for him.

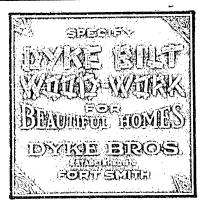

A Christian life is not all covered with flowers. There are no roses without thorns. So for us Christians there are thorns along the way, and I think that the heavier the Cross the brighter the crown. Before this year ends let us make better resolutions than we have ever made, and above all let us keep them. Let us attend church more and seek less pleasure and do more to build up our churches. Let us visit the sick and needy, and never go empty-handcause. Pray for us .- J. W. Neth- ed. Above all, let us get on our knees more often, and send up our petitions to God, and see if at the close of another year we do not three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial more family altars and train our children right. We cannot bring them up right without the help of our Savior. Let us be bright and present, Mr. A. R. Cooper, Pine shining lights in our homes. tomorrow, and where are they heading for today? We must pray more, and do more for them.

Now, dear pastors, I do not mean any harm, for I am your friend, and we must pay more for the preacher and all the institutions of the church; but do you know, dear preachers, that instead of leading souls to Christ these days you are driving them from the church? Here is the reason. When you go into the pulpit, you go crying money and come out crying money. If you would leave money off and preach Jesus and him crucified, you would not have to preach to the benches, and you would not go away empty-handed. I know whereof I speak. Jesus did not preach money, and why do you? Seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." I hope I have not offended any one. It is right from my heart. I wish all of you well .- Mrs. Lee Nipper, Magnolia.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stub-born cough or chest cold can be con-quered, until you try this famous recipe. it is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It nev spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phiegm. This coughs which follow cold epidemies.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creasote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson for November 3

RESPECT FOR EIGHTFUL AUTHORITY

(World's Temperance Sunday) LESSON TEXT-Mark 12:13-17; Rom.

13:1-14; I Peter 2:13-17. GOLDEN TEXT-Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers.
PRIMARY TOPIC-Why We Have

aws. JUNIOR TOPIC—Why We Have

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-

INTERMEDIALE AND SERIOR TO IC—Obeying the Law.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP-IC—Making Effective the Will of the Community.

Though our citizenship is in heaven. we have obligation to the government under which we live.

1. Obligation to Pay Tribute (Mark 12:13-17).

This teaching concerning the tribute money came in answer to the question put to Jesus by representatives of the Pharisees and Herod. They would gladly have killed him, but they feared the people. Their only hope was to discredit him among the people.

1. Their question (v. 14).

Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar or not? The Pharisees contended that since God was the real king of Israel it was not obligatory—yea, even sinful-to pay taxes to a heathen king The Herodians were supporters of Herod. With flattery on their lips. they put this subtle question. For Christ to have answered "yes" would have discredited Him with the people. and to have said "no" would have made Him liable to arrest as an enemy of the government.

2. Jesus' reply (vv. 15-17).

He requested a coin to be brought and inquired as to whose image and superscription it bore, declaring that those who accept the coin of Caesar should pay taxes to Caesar. Thus the Lord escapes their trap and inculcates a principle which applies to all time and conditions as to the Christian's responsibility to civil government.

II. The Christian's Obligation to the State (Rom. 13:1-7).

The believer is a citizen as well as a Christian.

1. Obedience to rulers (vv. 1-4). This obligation is upon all Christians. Civil government is ordained of God, and rulers are His representatives. To refuse obedience to civil authority is to resist God. This does not mean that a Christian at the behest of the state should do that which Is inherently wrong. The same is true of the child in its responsibility to its parents. While obedience to parents is the will of God for children, this does not imply that the child is under obligation to do that which Is morally wrong, at the command of the parents. Submission to authority is the law of the believer's life.

2. The spirit in which the Christian renders ohedience to rulers (v. 5).

He should regard it as his obligation because it is morally right.

3. Methods of expressing this obedience (vv. 6, 7).

(1) In the payment of personal and property taxes. The citizen who enjoys the benefits of government is morally bound to support

(2) Payment of duty upon merchandise, and license fees. The business exchange between nations must be regulated. For such regulations, expense is incurred, for which benefit the citizen should pay.

(3) Veneration for magistrates-"Fear to whom fear."

Those who have the fear of God in their hearts will venerate their rulers, God's representatives.

(4) "Honor to whom honor." Civil efficers should be honored because of the ministry they perform.

III. The Spirit of Loyalty to Authority (I Pet. 2:13-17).

The loyalty of the Christian to right authority should be glad and free. The Christian recognizes the necessity of social order, and will graciously submit to the authority of rulers and faithfully perform his obligation as a citizen, not through cringing fear, but as the Lord's free man, for the Lord's sake. By means of this free submission as God's servant, he puts to si lence the ignorance of foolish men (vv. 15, 16).

1. Honor all men (v. 17).

He will see in every man the image of God and therefore give honor to him. A Christian will attend to the proprieties of life among all classes and in all relations.

(2) Love the brotherhood (v. 17) The Christian has a peculiar love for those who are of the same household.

(3) Fear God (v. 17). This is filial. reverential fear.

(4) Honor the king (v. 17). This had a peculiar significance, for in all probability the wicked Nero was then the reigning monarch.

THE FARM BOARD HAS PLACED A BOTTOM ON THE COTTON MARKET

Doesn't that Interest You?

It now stands ready to loan you more than ninety per cent of the value of cotton and still allow you to carry it.

It stepped in and stopped the decline in the cotton market as was expected of it under the Agricultural Marketing Act.

It says that regardless of how low the market goes it will advance to growers in cooperative associations approximately fifteen and one-half cents per pound for middling seveneighths cotton and a proportionate advance on other grades and staples.

It believes the price will go higher if it can encourage delayed selling so as to relieve the present pressure of spot and hedge sales. Stop selling your cotton and give the market a chance to recover.

YOU WANTED FARM RELIEF

You now have the Agricultural Marketing Bill.

No relief is possible unless the growers themselves make it work.

The only way you can get the relief offered is to carry out the recommendations of the board.

YOUR COTIU IN THE SEASONAL POOL

Ship your cotton in the regular way-draw $65.00 per bale at the bank on receipts or bills of lading-when we class the cotton we will immediately forward you an additional advance bringing the total advance up to the basis prescribed by the Federal Farm Board which is more than ninety per cent of the cotton's present value. The cotton will be sold as the season progresses and you will receive additional advances as sales are made and the total proceeds will be sent you when all the cotton is sold.

Don't be misled by cunning offers—the only way you can get 95 per cent of your money and not continue to depress the market is to pool your cotton in your own association and carry out the recommendations of your Government Farm Board.

Isn't it worth while to try to work this out?

It's the only hope for the future. Join and ship your cotton now to
