ACTION OF BOARD OF MISSIONS

THE Board of Temperance and Social Service of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, following instructions of the General Conference of 1930, to carry out its declared policy concerning the liquor traffic, hereby transmits to you a copy of a statement adopted by the General Board of Missions of that Church in session at Nashville, Tennessee, on May 4, 1932. The Board of Missions is composed of all the Bishops and of men and women from every section of the Church, and is the most representative body of the Church next to the General Conference. The resolutions follow:

Resolutions of Mission Board.

"The purpose in the establishment of this Board of Missions is to aid in the bringing in of the Kingdom of God on earth. One of the greatest evils opposing the accomplishment of this purpose in our own and in other lands is the traffic in intoxicating liquor. By the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment that traffic has been justly branded as criminal, as the enemy of the Home, the School, the Church—indeed of the entire Social Order. The present day Whiskey Rebellion is based principally upon the appetite or covetousness of the rebels and not in any change in the awful results inherent in the traffic itself. The conflict between the Church of Christ and this traffic is inevitable and irrepressible. There is no compromise in this war, no surrender, no retreat. No compromise is possible. Therefore be it

"Resolved: 1. We emphasize both the duty of strict observance and of ever increasing efficiency in enforcement of the prohibition law. 2. We declare our uncompromising opposition to any effort to remove the brand of the criminal from the liquor traffic whether in the entire nation, or even in one state. We emphasize that this question is to be settled not by the clamor of wet newspapers, of organizations opposed to prohibition, not even when these organizations are composed of high society women, but that this question must be settled by the people themselves in the election of Senators, Congressmen, and members of State Legislatures. In the strenuous efforts now being made to modify the prohibition law, even to the extent of repealing the Eighteenth Amendment, we urge our pastors, teachers, and people to stand for the election of Senators, Congressmen and members of State Legislatures who believe that Prohibition ought to be the law, and who being elected on that platform, will positively oppose, therefore, any effort to repeal or submit again the Eighteenth Amendment. The fight on this question should be carried aggressively into the coming Senatorial and Congressional elections, just as in the years before the submission of the Eighteenth Amendment by Congress in 1917. In this coming conflict the awful facts concerning the liquor traffic as it existed in the so-called 'good old days' before prohibition must again be brought forcibly to the attention of our people, and all the moral forces of the country must meet their responsibility in this rebellious renewal of the struggle with beverage alcohol, the age-long enemy of the human race."

As the permanent active agent and representative of the Church in making effective its oft-declared policy on the prohibition of the liquor traffic, this Board as stated in the above resolution will enter "aggressively into the coming Senatorial and Congressional elections" and will positively support all candidates who favor the maintenance of the Eighteenth Amendment and will as earnestly oppose candidates who favor "any effort to repeal or submit again the said amendment."

In view of the effort which is being made by the opponents of prohibition to secure a declaration by the Democratic and Republican National

* EXAMINE ME, O LORD, AND PROVE *
* ME; TRY MY REINS AND MY HEART. *
* FOR THY LOVING KINDNESS IS BE- *
* FORE MINE EYES, AND I HAVE WALK- *
* ED IN THY TRUTH.—Psalm 26:2-3. *

Conventions in favor of the submission or repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, thus securing an unfair advantage by bringing undue and unprecedented pressure to bear upon Congressmen and Senators who should represent the views of their own districts and states on the prohibition question, our Board enters its vigorous protest against any such action by said Conventions and furthermore insists that the extreme limit to which said Conventions could go without infringement upon the rights of the people of the several states and Congressional Districts, would be the adoption of a declaration substantially as follows:

The Extreme Limit.

"Fully cognizant of the discussion throughout the country, concerning Prohibition, and recognizing the demands which have been made before the Committee on Resolutions for action of varying kinds, this Convention would emphasize: 1. It is an outstanding fact that in the years of discussion prior to its adoption the Eighteenth Amendment was not considered nor was it finally determined as a partisan political issue, nor was any plank adopted by any national Democratic or Republican Convention favoring or opposing the submission of this Amendment by Congress. So today this Convention declares that any question pertaining to the modification or the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment should likewise be considered and determined by the people themselves entirely free from the pressure of any political party platform, favoring or opposing such submission; 2. The demand in some quarters for a popular referendum on this question is futile, at present. There is no provision in the Federal Constitution for a popular referendum on any question. It would first be necessary to amend the Constitution in the regular way in order to provide for a popular referendum; 3. This Convention would furthermore emphasize that whenever the people themselves desire to amend or to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment or to amend the Constitution to provide for a popular referendum, the people can exercise their rights to do so exactly as they did in writing the Eighteenth Amendment into the Constitution; namely, by electing Senators, Congressmen, and members of State Legislatures or Conventions favorable to such modification or repeal; 4. This Convention pledges the party and its nominees to the vigorous efficient enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment, as an integral part of the Constitution of the United States."

By adopting such statements, the Conventions would leave the people free to decide what pledges they would require on the prohibition question from candidates before electing their Congressmen, Senators, and members of State Legislatures, and such officials when elected would be entirely free to carry out the expressed wishes of their constituents, without any reference to action taken by the national party conventions. However, should either or both conventions take unfair and unprecedented action on the prohibition question, not only should we insist that the people ignore such action and elect their Congressmen and Senators, as in the past, to represent their views on this great social moral question, but the friends of the Eighteenth Amendment would doubtless confer as to what course to pursue for the best interests of the prohibition cause.—Board of Temperance and Social Service, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, James Cannon, Jr., Chairman; Eugene L. Crawford, Gen. Sec.

WET MACHINATIONS

IT has come to our notice that a chain letter is being sent out by certain persons asking that each one send it to ten friends, petitioning the President for a modification of the prohibition laws on the ground that it would improve business conditions. In part, the letter is as follows: "If the law is amended merely to permit the breweries to manufacture real beer, no matter how it is distributed, the economic advantages would be so far reaching that farm, labor and industry would derive untold benefits, as well as the Treasury in excise income. This income will be welcomed to take care of a portion of the deficit which now confronts the Treasury Department. Aside from these economic advantages, the psychological effect of such an argument would tend to renew confidence in the great mass of the people who are the backbone of the nation. May I respectfully ask you to give this request your deep consideration, for I think your voice in heralding such an action would be acclaimed throughout the country as an expression of the will of the majority of our citizens."

The answer to this argument, which has been given again and again, is easy. Facts and figures show that breweries furnish far less employment than almost any other industry, and that the revenue from a tax on beer would be inconsiderable unless the people drank enormous quantities, and that the money spent on beer would necessarily be subtracted from expenditures on better things. This is recognized as a movement of the rich to escape taxation and saddle it upon the poor who are the beer drinkers. It means that the tax would be paid out of the scant living of poor women and children. People with sense and hearts will not allow themselves to be beguiled by such frothy reasoning.

"WE MUST DO MORE PRAYING"

DR. JOSEPH W. KEMP, of New Zealand, as quoted by The Evangelical Christian, thus delivers himself on the necessity of more praying: "If the Church is to succeed evangelically we must do more praying. Church officers must spend more time in this holy exercise. Sunday School teachers and Christian workers must devote their energies to this sacred occupation. The rank and file of church members must oftener gather round the mercy seat. The task is not easy. It is easier to plan and organize than to pray. Prayer is hard. No duty is more earnestly impressed upon us in the Word of God than the duty of continual intercourse with Him. The main reason for this unceasing insistence is the arduousness of prayer. In this realm we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities and powers of darkness. 'Dear Christian reader,' says Jacob Boehme, 'to pray aright is right earnest work.' Uplifted hands grow tremulous long before the field is won."

"I have said that ministers must do more praying. Think of what a prayerless minister means to a church. It is his business to train his people in prayer, but how can that be done if he himself knows so little of converse with God, and of receiving day by day abundant grace for himself and his work. A minister cannot lead a congregation higher than he is himself. He cannot with enthusiasm point out the way, or explain a work, in which he is not himself walking and living."

"Dr. Horton, in his 'Verbum Dei,' has reminded us of John Foster, who used to spend long nights in his chapel absorbed in spiritual exercises, pacing to and fro in the quietude of his spirit, until his restless feet had worn a little track in the aisle. The diary of Dr. Andrew Bonar is probably the best treatise on a minister's (Continued on page 2, Col. 3.)

REV. J. W. MOORE, our pastor at Holly Grove, on May 29, preached the sermon for the Marvell High School.

REV. B. F. SCOTT, as canvasser for the paper at Camden, is doing remarkable work. He has within a month remitted for 94 subscriptions. Who can beat that?

IF you appreciate your paper and want to give a friend or relative a worth-while birthday or other gift, send us a dollar and the paper will be sent to whomsoever you indicate.

REVS. VAN W. HARRELL, AND W. R. BURKS, pastors respectively of Bearden and Junction City, called last Monday on their way to the Pastors' School, bringing subscriptions for the paper.

REV. A. W. WADDILL, our pastor at DeWitt, spent part of last week in this city because Mrs. Waddill, on June 1, at Trinity Hospital, submitted to a major operation. She is making a satisfactory recovery and it is hoped that soon she may be able to return home.

FIRST CHURCH, El Dorado, is making a fine showing this year. It now reports $750 paid on Kingdom Extension and will soon pay $250 more, and all Benevolences are paid to date. Rev. J. L. Hoover, the efficient pastor, is rejoicing over the loyalty of his members.

INFORMATION, without particulars, comes that Mrs. Dunn, wife of our good superannuate, Rev. J. D. Dunn, has just passed away. A worthy woman, a faithful and helpful companion, has entered into rest. Brother Dunn and family have the sympathy of his many brethren and other friends.

EVERY woman should this year get her poll tax receipt so that she may vote in the fall elections, and assist the state to obtain a better class of public servants. It is to be hoped that many of our best women will run for the Legislature. Those who have served in that body have shown themselves capable and dependable.

THE Virginia Anti-Saloon League has prepared a fine poster with a splendid picture of Robert E. Lee, and their slogan is: "A Half Million Robert E. Lee Posters in Dixie in the next six months." They are fine for schools and churches. The price is 25 cents, or $1.75 a dozen. Order of Va. Anti-Saloon League, Box 605, Richmond, Va.

ARKADELPHIA STATION was formed in 1859, and it is probable that no Quarterly Conference for the station has been held outside the city since that day. Last year, on the dissolution of Arkadelphia Circuit, Hart's Chapel, about ten miles south of the city, was placed under the care of Rev. R. E. L. Bearden. Last Sunday the Quarterly Conference for the charge was held at this rural church. The attendance was large, and dinner was served on the ground. It was a very pleasant and unique occasion.

BOOK REVIEWS

Communion With God; by Elmore McNeill McKee; published by Ray Long and Richard R. Smith, Inc., New York City; price $1.75.

This is a very excellent collection of prayers calculated to stimulate a deep sense of reverence in any service of worship. For many years Dr. McKee was chaplain of Yale University and proved the worth of his leadership in college and university services of worship. So successful was he with this work that many who had opportunity to observe him urged him to put in permanent form the materials and suggestions he had found most effective. This volume is in answer to that request and will prove of inestimable value to all who are striving to preserve or build up a strong sentiment for public worship in our schools, colleges and universities. It will also prove a useful guide in family or personal worship.

There is little change in North Arkansas Conference, except that Presiding Elder Davidson's District is moving up and is now tied with Brother Sherman's District. These brethren are pushing the circulation in their Districts. In Little Rock Conference, through the unusual work of Rev. B. F. Scott at Camden, the Camden District has greatly increased its lead. Arkadelphia District has passed Prescott District, and has nearly caught up with Pine Bluff. What will next week's report show?

A VIGOROUS CENTENARIAN

THE RICHMOND CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE is one hundred years old. Its fine editor, Dr. J. M. Rowland, having served over ten years, has just issued a Centennial Number, one of the most complete and interesting we have had the privilege of reading. It has 128 pages, with heavy tinted covers, is richly illustrated, and contains a veritable mine of historic information. Dr. Rowland and Virginia Methodism are to be heartily congratulated on this highly creditable piece of work.

He asked for words of greeting. Below we give our own, because it expresses an opinion of the value of the paper and his work. It is headed, "It Has A Right to Live."

"A denominational paper that celebrates its hundredth anniversary has a right to live: Its contribution to the history of the Church is beyond computation. It has not only recorded history, but helped in a large way to make that history. Virginia Methodism, militant and marching, has maintained a great paper, the Richmond Christian Advocate, and needs that paper today to represent the true spirit of Methodism and to promote every Methodist enterprise and movement. 'The Advocate in every Methodist home in Virginia' should be the ambition of the editor and every pastor. That would mean a circulation of some 25,000. With such a paid circulation the paper's financial troubles would end, and a new era would begin. If every pastor would take seriously his duty to promote the circulation the goal would be easily attained and the influence of the paper greatly increased. Virginia pastors, who have made a great Conference, can do this if they will. Unaided, the editor cannot do it. For his ability, his faithfulness and his continued sacrifice in behalf of the organ of Virginia Methodism, the versatile and brilliant editor deserves the hearty and united support of the pastors. The rich history of a hundred years should challenge every Virginia pastor to help free the paper of every hindering weight and start it on a second century with increased momentum and assurance of success. Dr. Rowland is entitled to a full and enthusiastic co-operation. If all the pastors will do their part, he will undoubtedly respond with an even bigger and better paper."

prayer life which we possess. Shortly after his settlement in Glasgow, he wrote, 'For nearly ten days past, I have been much hindered in prayer, and feel my strength weakened thereby. I must at once return, through the Lord's strength, to not less than three hours a day spent in prayer and meditation upon the Word.' On his first anniversary, he wrote, 'Tomorrow I propose to spend the most of the day in prayer in the church. Lord help me.' Later we find him setting apart one whole day a month for prayer and fasting."

Are not the above words significant and suggestive? Instead of fasting we feast when we come together for church counsel. Instead of praying we discuss problems. It might be profitable to fast long and pray much in connection with our church deliberations. We are advised to fast before our Quarterly Conferences; but when has that been done? We are commanded to "pray without ceasing;" but many have ceased praying. Let us have a revival of fasting and praying, and then we may expect a genuine revival of religion.

METHODISM'S NEW BISHOPS

Dr. J. Ralph Magee of Seattle, Wash., and Dr. Ralph S. Cushman of Rochester, N. Y., were chosen on the seventeenth and nineteenth ballots, respectively, to fill the two places on the Board of Bishops remaining unsupplied when the twenty-six Areas ordered were compared with the twenty-four effective bishops available.

The balloting centered about the names of seven or eight men, and for a long time it seemed impossible for any one to obtain the requisite two-thirds of the votes cast. The fluctuations of the curve of the vote of any one of these shows ups and downs that would be difficult to explain. It was not until the fourteenth and fifteenth ballots, when two whose votes had shown considerable strength withdrew, that an election became possible.

Dr. Magee, who had led the voting since the third ballot but was held in deadlock, emerged with 561 votes on the seventeenth ballot, 536 being necessary to elect. The next ballot brought no election, but showed an advance of 60 votes for Dr. Cushman, the nineteenth giving him nine more than the required 542.

Methodism's two new bishops have both had a New England background, despite the fact that they came from states bordering on the Pacific and Atlantic, respectively.

While Bishop Magee was born in Iowa (at Maquoketa June 3, 1880), and received his early education at Iowa State Teachers' College and Morningside College, he came to Boston to pursue his divinity studies, taking work at Boston University School of Theology from 1907 to 1910. During his student days in Boston he served as pastor at Falmouth, Mass. In 1911 he was appointed to First Church, Taunton, where he remained until 1914, when he assumed the pastorate of Daniel Dorchester Memorial Church, West Roxbury. His next pastorate was St. Mark's Church, Brookline, where he served from 1919 to 1921. From there he went to the pastorate of First Church, Seattle, where he ministered for eight years, taking the superintendency of the Seattle District three years ago. He was elected to lead the Puget Sound Conference delegation in the General Conference of 1928, and the Pacific Northwest Conference delegation in 1932. He has represented the Portland Area on the Book Committee since 1929. During the war he was director of religious work of the Young Men's Christian Association at Camp Devens and in the Boston District.

Bishop Magee is the son of a Methodist minister, has a brother in the ministry, Dr. John Benjamin Magee of Pittsburgh, whose appointment to First Church, Seattle, has just been announced, and a son, John Homer Magee, also in the ministry. Bishop Magee was married in 1902 to Harriet A. Keeler of Cedar Falls, Ia. They have two children—the son already mentioned, and a daughter, Dorothy Jean. The new bishop was ordained in 1902 and served churches in Sioux City and Paulina, Ia., before coming East. In 1921 Upper Iowa University conferred upon him the doctorate of divinity. It was a brother of Bishop Magee, Carl C. Magee, who, as editor of the Albuquerque (N. M.) Journal, initiated the attacks upon the Teapot Dome scandal.

Bishop Ralph S. Cushman comes from old New England stock, an ancestor having been the agent for the Plymouth Company. Bishop Cushman was born in Poultney, Vt., Nov. 12, 1879, educated in the Troy Conference Academy there, and later in Wesleyan University, from which he was graduated in 1902. He received the honorary doctorate of divinity from his alma mater in 1919.

His ministry began in the New England Southern Conference, where he served at Bryantville, Acushnet, Danielson, Conn., and St. Paul's, Fall River. In 1915 he moved to Geneva, N. Y., transferring to membership in the Central New York Conference. It was here that Dr. Cushman came to the attention of the Church in his successful effort to rid First Church, Geneva, of a colossal debt on a new building that was threatened with foreclosure. The teaching, preaching, and organizing for Christian stewardship here led to his appointment as stewardship secretary of the Centenary Movement of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and for a time, of the Inter-church World Movement. His books on church finance have become well known interdenominationally. He has also written verse. His most recent book is "Spiritual Hilltops."

For the past twelve years he has been pastor of Asbury Church, Rochester, N. Y. For two years he presided over the Church Federation of that city, and at present he is the president of the New York State Pastors' Council. He was a member of the Genesee Conference delegation in the General Conference of 1928 and led the delegation elected to the present General Conference.

Bishop Cushman married Maude E. Hammond of Chateaugay, N. Y., in 1902. They have two children—a daughter, Mabel Elizabeth, who is a freshman in Cornell College, Mount SPIRITUAL LIFE RETREAT, MT. SEQUOYAH, JULY 9-11.

Plans are being completed for a Spiritual Life Retreat to be held at Mt. Sequoyah, July 9-11. Opportunity is being given for each Conference to send two representatives. After June 1st, however, any person who wishes to attend may register until 100 registrants have been reached.

The topic for consideration is Creative Prayer and Its Transforming Power (1) in the individual life; (2) in the local church; (3) in the social order; (4) in the missionary enterprise. Those who come will be those who are longing to know how to pray—how to really change things through prayer. What greater challenge can come to a Christian in this day of tragedy and change?

For registration, write to Miss Daisy Davies, 1006 Spring St., N. W., Atlanta, Ga. To help with the necessary expenses and to insure a place for you, there is a small registration fee of one dollar.—Estelle Haskin, Chm. of Com. on Retreat.

MISS ESTHER CASE CALLED HOME

On Saturday, May 7, Miss Esther Case, Foreign Secretary, Woman's Work, Board of Missions slipped quietly and peacefully away. She had been gradually growing weaker since the Council meeting, but had been in her office regularly until ten days ago. She had made a brave fight to keep strong enough to attend the Board of Missions meeting, May 3, 4, but had to give it up at last. A number of out-of-town friends went to see her during the Board meeting, and she greatly enjoyed their visits. She was confined to her bed for only two days, and retained in a remarkable degree the beautiful, triumphant spirit manifest at Council, until at last her breathing ceased without a struggle.

On Sunday afternoon at 5:30 the funeral service was held in Wightman Chapel of Scarritt College. Dr. Pennington, her pastor, was in charge of the service, assisted by Dr. Cuninggim. As the representative of the Board of Missions, Dr. Goddard paid a worthy tribute to her, and Mrs. Perry spoke for the Woman's Missionary Council. The music was given by the Scarritt Choir, directed by Mr. Washburn. The funeral party left that night for Batesville, Ark., where the final service and burial occurred.

Miss Case's resignation was presented to the Board of Missions at its May meeting and was accepted with expressions of deep appreciation of her and the large contribution she had made to missionary work. Miss Sallie Lou McKinnon was elected to succeed her as Foreign Secretary, Woman's Work.

Prior to her connection with the Board of Missions, Miss Case was for twenty years a missionary to Mexico. With other missionaries, she was recalled when missionary work in that country was interrupted by the revolution. Her familiarity with the Spanish and Portuguese languages, as well as her long experience as an active missionary, helped to make her administrative work efficient. In 1917 she was called to fill the unexpired term of the Foreign Secretary in charge of Woman's Work. In 1918 she was put in charge of work in Mexico, Cuba, Brazil, and the Belgian Congo; and in 1922 was elected Foreign Secretary by the General Conference and given supervision of work in Latin America and Africa. After the reorganization of the Board of Missions in 1926 Miss Case was elected Foreign Secretary to supervise work in the eight foreign fields where the Woman's Department of the Board is at work.

Dr. Cram, in presenting her resignation, said of her: "I cannot frame words adequate to describe my appreciation of the good judgment and administrative acumen, and the consuming love for the work of God in Mexico and other distant parts that Miss Case possessed."

SILOAM SPRINGS' AUXILIARY

The Missionary Society met May 20, in the devotional parlors. Mrs. Caldwell was the devotional leader and read Luke 17:11-20. She gave a very timely talk on "Gratitude." This was followed with a prayer by Mrs. J. C. McCulloch.

After the usual business was dispatched the president gave a report on the Conference which met at Forrest City.

Mesdames Caldwell, McCulloch, Perry, E. F. Smith and Cline gave short accounts of the different phases of missionary work. The June meeting of the Society is to be a "guest meeting." Every woman member of the church is to be our guest at this time. The hostesses for this meeting will be Mrs. B. L. Miller and Mrs. J. C. McCulloch.

Mrs. H. B. McGee was a guest of the Society Friday. The meeting adjourned after repeating the benediction.—Pub. Supt.

ZONE MEETING AT McGEHEE

Auxiliaries of Zone 4, Monticello District, met with McGehee Auxiliary, May 12.

The opening number was a violin duet by Miss Emma May Hamilton and Clarence Isch Jr., with Miss Carolyn Moseley at the piano. The Zone leader, Mrs. S. V. Clayton, presided; the president of the McGehee Auxiliary, in a few words, made the visitors a hearty welcome. Rev. Mr. Thompson of Tillar led in prayer, after which Rev. Mr. Cole of McGehee read the scripture lesson and spoke on Women's Work in the Church.

The theme of the hour being The Missionary Society, an Asset, different phases of the work and the benefits derived therefrom were dis-

Rev. Mr. Irwin closed the program with prayer.

A line was formed and an old-fashioned Methodist handshake gave each one present a chance to know everyone else.

The guests were ushered into the parlor, where they were entertained by a reading by Miss Annette Myer and music by Mrs. Wilkes.

While the refreshing plate luncheon was being served, Mrs. A. S. Rodgers read an original poem introducing "the little fellow who does the big job" and the metal sponges were put on sale.

The next meeting of Zone 4 will be in Winchester.—Mrs. W. E. Abernathy.

ZONE MEETING AT FORDYCE

Zone 1 of the Camden District met in Fordyce, May 27. There was a membership attendance of seventy representing five groups—Camden, Thornton, Bearden, Kingsland and Fordyce. Roll call was answered by each organization reporting Spiritual Life Groups and also work done among the rural women.

Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I am only 28 yrs. old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore, I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at any drugstore—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back.

Prayer—Bro. Harrell.

Talk on Spiritual Life Groups—Bro. L. E. Wilson.

Children's Work was presented by Miss Giles, who used an attractive poster. Her talk was brought to a close with a song by Master George Henry, with his mother accompanying.

Christian Relationships was presented by Mrs. Gardner.

Mrs. Sleight spoke on "The Status of Women."

Mrs. Hutcheson, District secretary, gave instructions and reports to the group. She concluded her talk with a special prayer for our missionaries, which was led by Bro. Cannon of Fordyce.

The concluding number was a playlet, "Modernizing Young Mrs. Patton." Roles in this were taken by Mesdames Jesse Aker, Guy Patterson, S. F. Morton, Mittie Jones, Louis Ramsay and Mrs. Kenesson.

The parlors of the church were used as a meeting place for this meeting, and baskets of spring flowers were used artistically to make an attractive setting.—Mrs. East, Sec'y.

HENDRIX COLLEGE NEWS

Fraternities and Sororities have been organized at Hendrix. The student committee, headed by Werner Trieschman, and the faculty committee, headed by Dr. Staples, worked out a plan by which Greek-letter organizations would be permitted and their agreement has resulted in the formation of four fraternities and three sororities.

Finishing their work, the two committees formed a set of ideals which will guide the new organizations, and decided to organize at the first of next year a Pan-Hellenic Council, representatives of the student groups and of the faculty forming this legislative body.

The ideals of the Greek-letter clubs will be to foster scholarship, promote and enrich extra curricular activities, and to furnish diversified social life. The fraternities and sororities shall make for larger educational and social life among Hendrix students.

Officers of the various fraternities and sororities are:

The name cabriolet is the diminutive of the French cabriole, meaning "a leap" like that of a goat, and was applied to this type of carriage because of its light, bounding motion. Cabriolet came from the Italian capriola meaning "a somersault," from Latin capra "a he-goat," capra "a she-goat." CHRISTIAN ADVENTURE ASSEMBLY AT MONTICELLO

The second session of the Christian Adventure Assembly was held at Monticello A. & M. College last week. This Assembly is for the group age 12 to 16 and is for this group what the Young People's Assembly, at Conway, is for the older group.

The first session was held for the Monticello District last year with 57 enrolled. The Pine Bluff District joined the Monticello District this year and the total enrollment was 123.

The Assembly opened Monday night with a banquet, sponsored by Mrs. Rex B. Wilkes. Jack Wilkes was toastmaster. A splendid program, featuring a number of short toasts by young people, was put on. The principal address was delivered by Dr. James Thomas.

Neill Hart served as dean of the school; Mrs. P. H. Herring Dean of Women and Don Marlan, Dean of Men. Hallie Oates served as secretary and registrar. The faculty consisted of W. L. Arnold, J. E. Cooper, Ted McNeal, D. T. Rowe, M. W. Miller, C. R. Roy, R. E. Simpson, Neill Hart, Arthur Terry, O. C. Landers, Rex B. Wilkes and Miss Mary Turner. C. R. Roy directed the recreation program and inspirational speakers at the evening hour were J. C. Glenn, J. M. Hamilton and J. W. Mann.

Perfect order prevailed and not a single pupil missed a class period. All of the 123 students earned two credits, and 246 certificates of credit were awarded.

The management of A. & M. College rendered every service possible in making this Assembly a delightful occasion. At its close 123 young people and all of the adult officers and teachers went away feeling it was the greatest week they had ever had.—Clem Baker.

CAN HELP IN MEETINGS

Mrs. Ruby Henderson, a good soloist and music director, having had considerable experience, is again in position to help in a few meetings this year. Mrs. Henderson is a member of our church at Augusta. She has helped in many meetings and I understand her work with children and young people is very satisfactory. —J. F. Glover, Pastor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The Board of Temperance and Social Service has prepared a statement on "The Present-Day Whisky Rebellion and How to Meet It." The purpose is to put in the hands of pastors and laymen facts in reply to the false propaganda which is being issued almost daily by the wet newspapers. This statement of sixteen pages has been inserted in the Congressional Record by Senator Morris Sheppard and can therefore be sent by the Board in lots of one hundred or more or to any single address for distribution at one cent per copy. Or if a list of names is sent it will be sent free to each individual address at the rate of two cents per copy. Pastors, Church Boards and Societies are urged to send lists, so that, thousands of copies of this statement may be put in the hands of our people. The Board is sending a copy of this statement to all the pastors in the Church. For one dollar, 100 copies will be sent to any single address. For two dollars, copies will be sent to 100 individual addresses. Order of E. L. Crawford, Sec., 50 Bliss Building, Washington, D. C.

MEETING AT WALCO

During the week of May 22-29, R. K. Bass, an ordained Methodist preacher of Arkadelphia and who served the Friendship Circuit in 1925, held a series of revival services at Walco, about two miles south of Malvern. During the heyday of the lumbermill days of a decade ago, regular services were held at Walco. There were four conversions and three of these will unite with the Malvern Methodist Church. Bro. Bass was well received. Although the writer heard only one sermon, Bro. Bass' preaching impressed him as coming from a man of sincerity and hunger for souls to be saved.—Fred R. Harrison, P. C.

REVIVAL AT HOUSTON

May 1 we began our meeting at Houston for two weeks. Rev. A. E. Goode, Conference evangelist, delivered as strong a line of gospel sermons as any man I have ever had with me in a meeting. I certainly recommend him to any pastor who needs some good gospel preaching in his church and I think he has a few open dates.

While the meeting did not result in the accessions to the church that we had hoped to have, yet it was a great success. We had good congregations at the night services and the revival of the membership of the church was of such a type that we feel that great things have been accomplished.—J. W. Harger, P. C.

REVIVAL AT HATFIELD

We have had a good revival at Hatfield, with the Cove Church co-operating. Some came part of the time from the Potter Church. Bro. J. D. Baker, our pastor at DeQueen, did the preaching except at two services, and A. M. Hutton, gospel singer, led the singing and worked with the young people and children. These brethren make a fine team and the Lord used them.

We have received 28 on profession and more are to be received on profession and certificate, making 40 or more. Nine gave their names for membership in other churches.

Our people have been greatly heartened in their work. We praise God for his saving and sanctifying power.—F. C. Cannon, P. C.

AN APPEAL

The Annual Conferences paid in 1931 only 45 per cent of the apportionment, authorized by the General Conference for the various Boards of the Church. The entire apportionment for the Board of Temperance and Social Service is only $25,000, and if the full 100 per cent should be paid there would be only a sufficient sum to meet the necessary maintenance expense of the office of the Board and to carry out a very moderate program of information and education.

When, therefore, only 45 per cent was paid, only $11,250 came to our treasury for the entire year. This is not sufficient to meet our absolutely necessary living expenses—office rent, salaries of the General Secretary and his assistant, occasional necessary clerical help, printing, postage, telephone, telegraph, travel, etc. We will need $4,000 additional, within the next sixty days.

The General Conference has specifically authorized (par. 519, Discipline 1930) the Board to secure needed additional funds from "voluntary contributions." But up to the present the Board has never made an appeal either to individuals or to churches for additional funds, although only with the greatest difficulty has it carried on its work with the amounts received from the Conferences. Indeed it would have been impossible to do so, were it not that ever since the Board was established, its president has given much time to its work without any charge upon its treasury.

At this present juncture the enemies of prohibition are pressing to weaken and ultimately to abolish our prohibition laws. Their forces are organized, and financially amply supported by wealthy citizens who put personal profit and indulgence above the uplift and betterment of society as a whole. The officers of our Board are joining with other prohibition groups to prevent any weakening or abolition of the legislation, branding the liquor traffic as criminal. The attitude of our great Church not only upon Prohibition but upon moral aspects of other great social questions including War and Peace, has been set forth clearly and positively by our Board, emphasized by its officers as occasion has demanded and has been influential as representing the views of our great group of Christian citizens.

In this emergency will you not send check to help our Board maintain its efficiency at this exceedingly important stage. We must have sufficient money to meet necessary expenses. Make check payable to E. L. Crawford, Treasurer, 50 Bliss Building, Washington, D. C.—James Cannon, Jr., Pres.; Eugene L. Crawford, Gen. Sec. and Treas.

RESOLUTIONS OF APPRECIATION

Whereas, Rev. J. A. Henderson, Presiding Elder of the Little Rock District, now in the midst of his second wonderful year on this great District, led our District last year in making a wonderful record of achievements, leading the entire Little Rock Conference in the number of accessions to the Church on profession of faith, and leading the entire Southern Methodist Church in that the Little Rock District was the only District in Southern Methodism to pay its Benevolences in full; and

Whereas, he continues to maintain this splendid leadership in all matters that pertain to the building of the Kingdom of God in this District; and,

Whereas, his wise counsel and brotherly kindness in dealing with both preachers and laymen are a constant source of inspiration and encouragement to all of us; therefore,

Be It Resolved, by the Little Rock District Conference, in session, May 20, 1932, that we express to Brother Henderson our genuine appreciation of his fine Christian leadership, his wise and godly admonition, and pledge to him our loyal and hearty support. Be It Further Resolved, that we most respectfully urge Bishop Hoyt M. Dobbs to return Brother Henderson to the Little Rock District next year as our Presiding Elder.—C. M. Reves, Paul W. Quillian, Leland Clegg, Clem Baker, Harold D. Sadler, S. T. Baugh.

THIS BOOKLET SHOULD BE IN EVERY CHRISTIAN HOME

Christianity is essentially the religion of personality, "A way of life," rather than mere preparation for death. As such it recognizes that the body is but the temporary dwelling place of the immortal soul. For this very reason there has grown up among Christian peoples a disposition to accord to the body the fullest possible measure of protection until Nature itself shall have reduced it to its native element.

To every household there must come a day for providing appropriate burial for some dear one gone before. And in every household there is some person to whom all others look with unquestioning confidence for making these provisions. We commend to this person, wherever he or she may be, an interesting and instructive booklet recently issued by the Galion Metallic Vault Company of Galion, Ohio, entitled "The Ultimate in Burial Protection."

Recognizing that we are dust, the author begins with the following simple words: "In the economy of Nature all that is of the earth must eventually mingle its dust with the dust from which it sprang. But of (Continued on page 7.)" heart, none is more in harmony with all the promptings of the human the finest attributes of the Spirit than that which accords to the mortal part the fullest measure of honor and protection."

Then follows in instructive detail a description of the Galion Cryptorium, "the under ground mausoleum," a rust-resisting metallic sanctuary which, at relatively small expense, protects casket and contents from all external agencies of change, leaving Nature itself to reduce them to dust.

CHURCH AND PARSONAGE INSURANCE

Every year a large amount of Methodist property, erected by the sacrificial gifts of a faithful membership, goes up in smoke with no insurance, or with an inadequate amount to help in rebuilding. The temptation to let other financial obligations crowd out insurance is often with us. We earnestly recommend that insurance up to seventy-five per cent of the value of the building and contents be invariably carried. Years ago, to do this cost heavily but was even then advisable.

The National Mutual Church Insurance Company has for more than one-third of a century been relieving the situation by furnishing insurance on easy terms that can be paid for in annual installments, thus getting the expense into the yearly budget, which is equitable for the changing membership and more easily met than by a large occasional premium.

The Company had assets, at the close of 1931, of over one million dollars, and had paid up to that time losses approximating three and one-quarter million dollars, in which all parts of the country have participated, and has saved its policy-holders about the same large amount in premiums, as compared with other companies. No loss has ever been due and unpaid a single day.

For further information, address Henry P. Magill, President and Manager, Room 1509, 175 W. Jackson Boulevard, Chicago, Illinois.

OBITUARY

Johnston.—T. A. Johnston, gentleman, churchman, Christian, was born on the farm of his father near Dardanelle, Arkansas, October 5, 1857. A farmer by birth and training, he made it the work of his life and thereby succeeded in a large way. On February 11, 1891, he was happily married to Miss Viola Boles of Dardanelle, who survives him. To them three children were born, two dying in childhood, leaving an only son, Tom Glen Johnston of Dardanelle. In 1888, Mr. Johnston united with the Methodist Church at Dardanelle, and served that church as steward for thirty years. For several years he taught in Sunday School and was always interested in the work of the church. The very last days he was able to say that he was well, he spent attending a revival meeting held by the writer. He knew the Lord. His testimony as a Christian was vivid and his presence as a Christian man was surely felt in his church. As a Christian and a churchman, he gave largely of his means. Not only to the local church, but he gave liberally to the causes of the Missionary Centenary, Christian Education, Superannuate Endowment, and Hendrix College. I have spoken of him as Christian and churchman, let me refer to him as gentleman. He was one of the "Old School." When in his presence, I had the feeling that he was Mr. Johnston. His bearing towards womankind was of the highest order. Home was the dearest spot on earth to him and in his home he gladly shared all that was at his command. "Miss Viola," his wife, was the object of his love and esteem. Together they built their home and here, where they lived and labored so long, he closed his eyes to all things earthly on March 19, 1932, and went to his everlasting home. Mr. Johnston was my personal friend. I loved him and many were the happy times we spent together. I shall miss him, but in the land of the "Unsetting Sun" we shall meet again.—J. A. Womack.

A LONG AND LOFTY LIFE: A TRIBUTE TO DR. CADES-MAN POPE.

In the Scriptures a long human life, associated with elevated virtues, is accounted a most noble existence. To the good the divine promise is made: "With long life will I satisfy him and show him my salvation." (Ps. 91:16).

But mere existence of life without the quality of heavenly experience is of little worth. Extended badness is worse than worthlessness; but protracted goodness is never long enough to satisfy the wishes of those who observe and admire it.

A noble life of great length terminated at Helena, Ark., Friday morning, April 8, when Dr. Cadesman Pope passed to his eternal reward. He was born June 21, 1837, on his father's plantation in Pike County, Georgia. Thus it appears that he was nearly ninety-five years old when he ceased to live on the earth and entered his heavenly home. It is, perhaps, true that there were not a thousand ministers in all the American Churches who have lived to such a long age after fulfilling so noble a career.

He entered the ministry when at twenty-one years of age, and he saw active service until the last few years. He joined the old Georgia Conference at its session in Columbus in 1858, having among his classmates that great man, Dr. Young J. Allen.

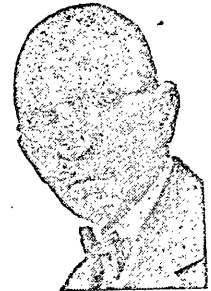

During the seventy-five years of his ministry he served as a pastor, presiding elder, and an educator, (Continued on page 8.)

THE NEW GLEASON HOTEL

Believing that many people coming to Little Rock would like to have centrally located, moderate price hotel with proper moral protection. I would like to say a word for the New Gleason Hotel recently taken over by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Few.

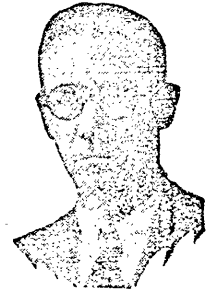

I was their pastor two years at Dermott and was in their hotel at Dermott and know how they tried to give good service and keep the hotel free from moral stain. Mr. Few is a nephew of Revs. A. P. and B. A. Few, well known to Arkansas Methodists. The New Gleason has been renovated throughout and refurbished. It is among the best in the city now. Mr. and Mrs. Few are capable, courteous hotel people with high Christian ideals for this hotel, and while accommodations are the best prices are moderate. People will find this an ideal place to stay while in this city.—W. W. Nelson.

Faithful Service

serving in all the work to which he was assigned with marked devotion and uniform effectiveness.

Indeed, the word that would perhaps express Dr. Pope's character most nearly would be "Uniformity." He was not an extraordinary preacher, but he never fell below excellence in his sermons. The goodness of his character really outshone the excellence of his discourses and often led men to overlook the loftiness of his life.

Few men in his day won more souls to Christ, and few men were as deeply loved as this good man who served in several States and several positions with never-failing fidelity and constant success. The words of Goldsmith in the Deserted Village might be applied to Cadesman Pope: "To relieve the wretched was his pride,

And even his failings leaned to virtue's side;

But in his duty prompt to every call, He watched and wept, he prayed and felt for all;

And, as a bird each fond endearment tries,

To tempt its new-fledged offspring to the skies,

He tried each art, reprov'd each dull delay,

Allured to brighter worlds, and led the way."

While he served longer in Arkansas than in any other State, his heart clung most tenderly to Georgia, the State of his birth. He loved the town of LaGrange, Georgia, with a peculiar devotion. There he had served a very faithful pastorate, and some years ago he wrote to the writer of this sketch: "When I die I wish you would see that my body is buried beside the remains of my beloved wife at LaGrange, and that you would preach my funeral." It was a pain to me that disabling sickness prevented me from attending his burial and preaching his funeral. However, hundreds of good people, who loved him much, honored him with their presence on the sad occasion, and lamented his departure with unaffected grief. Not one among the throng could suggest a criticism of his life. All joined in unison of admiration and affection.

While he was serving St. James Church at Augusta, I was in charge of St. John Church, in the same city. There we became very intimate and very affectionate in our relations. I heard him preach often, and always with profit. I remember, however, his public prayers at this distance of time more distinctly than I can recollect his sermonic discourses. He was an excellent preacher, but he was far more a saintly servant of his Lord. He knew the life that is hid with Christ in God, and spoke to his Lord in prayer as one who knew him well.

We lament his departure, but we are comforted with confident hope that we shall overtake him in his glorified state not many days hence. And when Christ shall appear, among the glorified throng with him will be Cadesman Pope, servant of the Church and saint of God.—Warren A. Candler.
