COMMUNICATE WITH CANDIDATES

IN VIEW of the importance of having members of our Legislature and Congress who will preserve our prohibition laws, we urge our readers to interrogate candidates before election, and, if possible, get them committed to the right course. Also get members of the Legislature to promise that they will oppose any race-track gambling measure that may come up. Now is the time to act. Do not delay.

SHALL THE PREACHER PAY HIS DEBTS AND HOW?

A FRIEND recently said to us that it looks as if the time is upon us when not a few preachers will be slow in paying their debts, or even fail to pay them. This friend, himself a minister, said he realized that preachers as a group deserve a high reputation for scrupulous care to be void of offence in paying their debts. But, he declared, the injury which is done in a community to the repute of the churches and preachers as a class, is so large when a single preacher fails to pay his debts, that it would be most unfortunate if instances of such failure should become more common.

To our query as to why he thought there might be an increase in the near future of failures among preachers to obey Paul's injunction, "Owe no man anything," this friend replied: (1) Because the salaries of the large majority of them were set and held at the minimum even when general economic conditions were prosperous. (2) Because in a larger number of cases than the public has ever supposed the small and often inadequate salaries promised are not paid in full. (3) And because not a few of these same ministers at the present time, under the generous impulse to show sympathy with the straitened circumstances of some of their members during depression days, are at their own instance whittling away at their salaries by encouraging their churches to reduce them.

We were deeply impressed. We believe each point made by this man of God is a true and just estimate of the facts which exist. Baptist churches as a class have usually been "bears" when the preacher's salary was up for decision. There are gratifying exceptions it is true. It is also true that Baptists are not the only denomination that is guilty. But the shame of American Christendom has been and is—and to Baptists belongs a full share of the shame—the parsimonious support given to the average minister of the Gospel. Churches have capitalized to their own selfish interest the known fact that the man of God has given his life and talents to building churches of Christ and the institutions of organized society, regardless of self-interest in a pecuniary way.

Salaries of the large majority of ministers were habitually fixed at a minimum in days of prosperity. That is to say they were measured by the least the church or churches thought the minister might somehow be able to live on, rather than by the ability of the church or a fair support of the minister. It is conceded that there are some men in the ministry who are not worth all they get, even when they get very little. But it is obviously unfair to judge any class by its worst exceptions.

The question is another. It is that of the parsimonious support which organized Christianity has usually meted out to its God-called ministry, as expressed in the salaries paid them by the churches to which they give unstintedly their entire time and energy and unselfish service.

Worse still is the habit of some to fail to pay for the support of their spiritual guides even the amount they promise. Our judgment has not been able to jibe with the disposition shown by some ministers recently to encourage their churches to whittle down their salaries because there is a period of financial recession. If the salary had shared in the prosperity of these members in good times, there might be room and justice in the pastor joining his church in whittling down the salary, and the whittling might be accomplished without his whittling himself out of even a minimum necessary support. But pastors' salaries did not so share in most instances.

It is our judgment that it would be much wiser for the average pastor, where this matter is under consideration, to put these facts frankly before his brethren. It is not that we would have preachers act selfishly, or encourage selfishness. Far from it. As a class, who among us more than the preachers show unselfishness and readiness to share with those in need? Who among us comes daily into contact with so much need that wrings the heart? Who responds to such needs more frequently in proportion to what he has?

When the average church member begins to deny himself the cost of attendance, at football and baseball match games and motion pictures, and to cut down on automobile pleasure riding, etc., we shall perhaps be nearer to the time to consider pressing down still harder on the support of pastors and Christian workers.

We are convinced that it will be wiser for churches and pastors during these days, certainly in the great majority of cases, (1) to let the salary matter rest where it is, (2) to be scrupulously honest in paying what is promised, and (3) let the pastor have a fair chance to do what his position and experience and disposition continually challenge him to do in sharing with the needy and distressed within the church fellowship and also beyond it. This would be more just and creditable than the whittling process, which, when carried to its full expression, will come near to whittling both the church and the preacher down to nothing as a spiritual force.

Let churches deal with this matter in the Spirit of Christ. Let them consider what His Spirit requires of them, if they are to "provide things honest in the sight of all men." In this particular matter the church had better watch its own step spiritually than to assume to judge what the pastor should do with the "temporal things" the Scriptures teach it to provide in exchange for his spiritual ministries.

If some of our good laymen will allow themselves to come freely within the grasp of these truths, we may expect to hear of churches—even when there is, compared with the overwhelming material plethora of a few years ago, a comparative recession of liquid wealth—deciding to disappoint Satan and checkmate his wiles by increasing the preacher's salary. It would disappoint Satan, and it would bless many a church and strengthen the hands and empower the spiritual service of many a faithful and fruitful minister. —Western Recorder.

ONLY MEDIUM TO COUNTERACT DESTRUCTIVE INFLUENCES

THE stream of cheap sensationalism and crime pours from the pages of the public press—the misrepresentation of the great moral issues of the day; the frivolous and distorted view of life instantly flaunted on the movie screen; the continuous flow of jazz and cheap commercialism from the radio—all keyed to the lower level of the moronic mind—are rapidly destroying the spiritual poise and moral balance of the American people. They know not what to think, whither to go to find the nobler values of life. They are like lost sheep fleeing hither and thither and finding no escape from their confusion.

The present plight of the Eighteenth Amendment is largely due to the fact that the people as a whole have had no access to reliable material upon which to found a sane and sure judgment on the merits of their own cause. So long as they are dependent upon the biased news of the public press their judgments will be warped and unreliable not only on the temperance issue but upon every other great moral cause.

The Advocate is the only medium we Methodists have to counteract the destructive influences of the day. We have no other means by which we can present to our own people a truthful interpretation of the moral issues of the times. Without our Church press we are helpless to put our own cause before our own people. A well-informed Methodist laity cannot be had apart from our readers.

I am therefore writing to urge that we begin at once an earnest and determined effort to put the Advocate into every Methodist home in Michigan. Advertise it from the pulpit. Present it to the people personally. Enlist solicitors to canvass for subscriptions. The price is not excessive—$1.00 per year. Keep the Advocate before your congregation. Use its material in your sermons. Try it on the prayer meeting. Refer to it in the Sunday School. Use it in the Epworth League. Make your church Advocate-minded and watch the results that will follow. Out of 37 years' experience in the ministry I give it as my deep conviction that the intelligent reader of the Church press as a rule makes the most faithful and devoted member of the Church.—Bishop Edgar Blake, in Michigan Christian Advocate.

AGENTS OF THE HOLY SPIRIT

THERE is a weak modern tendency of looking back with a cry and sighing, "O for the days of Wesley, Whitefield, and Wigglesworth!" Rather should our shibboleth be "O for faith in a living Christ to believe that He is here with men in the power of the Holy Spirit for present-day achievement and service." When the Spirit fills the hearts of men and women, He sends them out as heralds and messengers—He sends them to China as a flame of light; to India as a torch; to Africa as a lighted lamp; to the heart of great cities and into rural communities—as builders of the kingdom. He sends men and women to teach in the church school, to lead a group of boys, to teach in a mission, to a ministry of helpfulness. He sends all into service.

There is also a fallacy of praying for the Spirit, as though He were an agent for us. Nowhere in Scripture is justification for such a view. He equips us. He inspires us. He empowers us. We are the agents of the Holy Spirit. We are the power under Him. O for the mystic, burning symbol in our hearts to make us loyal heralds, endowed ministers, and faithful witnesses! Upon us, O Lord, may Thy Spirit be poured! Freshly anoint us with His power! Give unto us the Holy Spirit that shall make the churches great, that shall make us all great!—Bishop C. W. Burns, in Zion's Herald.

Personal and Other Items

IT WILL be good news to the many friends of Mrs. H. L. Wade of Jonesboro, who recently submitted to an operation in a Memphis hospital, to know that she is now at home and recovering satisfactorily.

MARRIED, Oct. 19, Rev. James A. Anderson, D.D., L.L.D., Presiding Elder of the Jonesboro District, and Mrs. Sarah J. Warner of Jonesboro, at the Methodist parsonage, Jonesboro, Rev. H. Lynn Wade, pastor of First Methodist Church, officiating.

OFFERED $200,000 for a five-week contract in the movies, Albert Einstein staggered Hollywood by telling the movie magnates that he could not spare even a moment from his present work of studying the speed of light. It is good to know that there are some things in this world that money cannot buy.—Ex.

WE ARE always ready to accommodate our subscribers; consequently when they change their location, we want to change the address of their paper so that it will reach them. However, under new postal regulations, if the postoffice notifies us of the change, we are required to pay two cents for the notice. In view of this, we ask our subscribers to notify us promptly of any change of address.

REV. JOHN McCORMACK, pastor of Clarksville Circuit, writes: "Bro. W. C. House, P. E., preached for us at Ludwig Sunday night. The church was filled and people stood around the walls. Bro. House preached a pointed, tender, inspiring sermon, and then held the Fourth Quarterly Conference. He is loved by all the people on the Clarksville Circuit, and we are hoping that he will be our elder next year."

IF THE Methodist people do not give effective support to their religious weeklies, they are in grave danger of losing them. But these papers are necessary if Religious Education, Missions and Prohibition are to receive their proper support within the Church, and to exercise their beneficent influence upon the social order. The religious weekly is the voice of the Church by which outsiders judge it. If that voice is muffled, the loss is incalculable.—Pacific Christian Advocate.

THE American Tobacco Company paid its president, George W. Hill, more than $1,000,000 for 1931. This was disclosed in papers filed by the company in the Federal Court. The documents are in reply to a stockholder's suit by Richard Reid Rogers, who recently obtained a temporary injunction barring further bonus payments to officers of the company. Mr. Hill's compensation consisted of $168,000 salary and a bonus of at least $850,000, or a total of $1,018,000.—Associated Press.

A METHODIST ROMANCE is a brochure by Dr. Elmer T. Clark, giving an account of the work of our Church among the Negroes, and particularly at Paine College, Augusta, Ga., where we are cooperating with the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church in the work of higher education. It is well written and illustrated, and gives a fair conception of this splendid enterprise. It is timely, because next year will be the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Paine College, and our Missionary Council is to meet there in 1933.

ACT No. 2 is intended to improve our election machinery, and as it is fair and gives both parties their proper standing in the management of the elections, it should be adopted. Without honesty in elections the people are not represented, and democracy fails. If we can believe what we have seen in the secular press this year, it is very evident that there is much corruption in our elections and it may be possible to cure it with better provisions for elections. We advise our readers to consider Act No. 2, and, if possible, support it.

DR. M. S. RICE, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist Church, Detroit, says: "We need not look afar to see a Nero fiddling while Rome burns. There are vast numbers today making less harmony than fiddling, as with some shallow thing they are seeking personal joy, while a world all about them is in the immediate peril of tumult and strife." He also says: "There is a waiting place today for a giant figure in the Church to appear. We must not walk uncertainly. The issue is between God's truth which much be championed by his Church, and ease and indifference, and skepticism and materialism, and flagrant sin."

A RECENT report on the educational institutions of the Methodist Episcopal Church (North) states: "We believe the influence of religion is more perfectly present in our Methodist educational institutions than in our local churches and that these institutions are furnishing our youth with much richer Christian influences and ampler Christian instruction than they received prior to their entering these schools. It is this influence of religion that has humanized and vitalized these institutions and made possible the stream of Christian leadership they have sent forth. They have held American education from total secularization and are increasingly influencing it toward a Christian ideal."

THE Editor of The New Outlook, the organ of the United Church of Canada, says: "If such a Church as ours should make up its mind in a very definite way that the circulation of the church paper was a great and worth-while enterprise, and should stir itself and begin to do the thing, there isn't any doubt that something tremendous would happen. This is the special time that our interest in the work of the Church should be at its height, and this is also the very special time that the Church needs the very help and inspiration that the Church paper can give it. When everything was going with a rush, we might conceivably do without the Church paper after a fashion, but we could not possibly do so now with things as they are."

BOOK REVIEWS

What I Owe To Christ; by C. F. Andrews; published by The Abingdon Press, New York. Price, $1.50.

The author is a professor in the International University of Rabindranath Tagore, famous Indian poet and philosopher, at Santiniketan, Bengal, India. He is in very close touch with the life and the leaders of India. His story is full of interest and color and was written at request, especially to give to the younger generation a true conception of the worth of personal religion. His long years of contact with student life give him a keen understanding of their problems and needs. He has had a definite Christian experience and through this volume he strives to convey to others the fullness of joy that has come into his own life through Christ.

The Story of Southern Hymnology; by Arthur L. Stevenson, M.A., B.D.; published by the author, Salem, Va. Price, $1.50. May be ordered from our Publishing House.

The author has given much time and thought to gathering, verifying and classifying his material for this unique history of Southern Hymnology. He draws impartially from the various denominations their contribution of music and song leaders. He makes the simple division of hymns (1) dignified, (2) rapid and jazzy. He has divided his book into five sections, each section into chapters dealing with various phases of the subject. The sections are as follows: I. "Southern Hymnology In General;" II. "The Gospel Hymn;" III. "In the Southern Sunday Schools;" IV. "Results of Southern Hymnology;" V. "Present Trends." The book is a most worthwhile addition to the literature of hymnology. It contains interesting controversies over the value and character of certain hymns.

Youth and Creative Living; by Cynthia Pearl Maus; published by Ray Long and Richard R. Smith, Inc., New York. Price, $1.25.

This is a practical guide-book for youth and leaders of youth in the field of character growth. It is dedicated to the Christian youth of America. The author says: "It is written with the hope that it may help you to understand yourself and by the application of your inner best self to the act of living richly, to climb the highway of life with buoyant tread, because deep in the fiber of your own soul you are building daily those abiding character values which will make your 'tomorrow's self' the abundant personality you want to be." The book is attractive and calculated to catch and hold the interest of youth.

The Rural Billion; by Charles M. McConnell; published by Friendship Press, New York.

This volume, if carefully read, will help to a keener appreciation and a deeper understanding of one of the most important groups of our country, the rural group. Under the following subjects the author gives us some most interesting and helpful discussions: "The Unknown Billion;" "The Christ of the Countryside;" "The Cross and the Plow;" "The Three R's;" "No Physician There;" "Whirlwinds of Rebellion;" "The Church In the Wildwood;" "The Holy Earth." In speaking of our relation to the rural billion the author says: "Since we have so much in common and are neighbors, let us agree to try to know each other better. It is unthinkable that great groups of people, living in a world of common problems, of interdependent production and consumption and interdependent buying and selling, listening in to one another's conversations on the air and sharing experience in a thousand untold ways, should be strangers to one another. 'Meet the rural billion.' From the opening sentence of this book we have been trying to present the needs of the farmer, his way of life, his enormous contribution to society, and the peril to all of us if he is neglected; and with the farmer we have included many who share in some degree his life on the land."

A CALL FOR SUPPLIES.

The Supply Department of the Woman's Missionary Society has just three departments of work this year, namely: First—Our Mission Schools which have been assigned to us from headquarters at Nashville. These institutions are looking to us for help. Second—Our rural work which Miss Willie May Porter is doing in the Camden District. It is a privilege to assist in this work. Third—Our preachers who are serving in places where they are paid very little. This is not a work of charity in the sense we sometimes think of it, but we as women are trying to supplement the small amounts paid by these weaker charges. We want to help because we love the preachers and their families. We think of a "Pounding" as a love gift. That is what the Supply Department of our Auxiliaries is doing—just sending a love-gift. It is imperative that these boxes reach the preachers before Conference if at all possible. Send other gifts any time before January 1, 1933, and send reports of this work to me.—Mrs. L. E.

Reports were given from each of the societies and the following program was rendered:

"Why Christians Should Title,"

Mrs. R. G. Weeks.

Special music, Winchester, "What Chimes Did," Mrs. Haisty.

Mullis.

NEWARK AUXILIARY

The Women's Missionary Society met at the church on October 4 in an all-day Bible Study, with ten members and one visitor present.

The Gateway to Prayer, being used in the study was ably taught by the pastor, Bro. Claud. The study continued until 12 noon, when a long table was set for 12 persons in the basement of the church. The table was loaded with all kinds of good things to eat, which everyone enjoyed.

At 1:15 p. m. the study was resumed, questions being asked by different members, and being answered by Bro. Claud and continued until about 3:30 p. m. after which the Women of the Missionary Society held their regular business meeting.—Mrs. Williams, Supt. Publicity.

ZONE MEETING AT SPRINGDALE

Zone No. 1 of the Fayetteville District met at Springdale, October 6. The program opened at 10:30 with devotionals led by Rev. H. M. Lewis, following the devotional Mrs. H. M. Lewis, president of the zone, asked Mrs. I. R. Hill, president of the Fayetteville Missionary Society, to preside.

Mrs. A. L. Trent, vice-president of the North Arkansas Woman's Missionary Society presented "The World Outlook." Mrs. D. Y. Thomas, conference superintendent of children's work, exhibited handwork of Brazilian children and gave an outline of her special department.

Reports from Springdale, Elm Springs, Lincoln and Fayetteville completed the morning's program. Prairie Grove and Viney Grove, the remaining auxiliaries in Zone 1, were not represented.

Mrs. E. E. Guinup, president of the Springdale Missionary Society asked that all join in the singing of "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow," as thanks preceding the cooperative noon luncheon which was served by the Springdale auxiliary in the church annex.

The afternoon program was devoted to the Young Women's work in the district.

Mrs. W. A. Tittle spoke of the importance of young women's work, and Mrs. I. R. Hill introduced the Belle Bennett Circle, from Fayetteville, who with representatives of young women's work from other auxiliaries were in charge of the afternoon program.

Mrs. Alfred Hathcock, circle chairman, with other members, put on a regular business meeting. Miss Helen Coe, devotional leader, used "Friendship" as her subject, telling the story of Ruth and Naomi, in the love of one woman for another and stressing the need of the younger group having cooperation of the older women in local mission work. Mrs. Holland King told "What My Missionary Society Means to Me from Standpoint of Young Women Working with Older Women in One Missionary Society." Mrs. Hawkins of Springdale sang a solo "Near to the Heart of God" and Mrs. Hathcock told "What My Missionary Society Means to Me from Standpoint of Young Women's Circle Working with Older Circles," closing with a poem, "The Rose that Grew Too High for Me," based on the eighth verse of the 6th chapter of Job in which Job says "Oh, that I might have my request and that God would grant me the thing I long for." In the poem a woman saw a perfect white bud and forgot all else for the time. Mrs. Hathcock said "we should not grieve because we cannot be perfect when we have done all we can" Prayer by Mrs. H. M. Lewis closed the service.

An amusing, interesting and instructive letter from Edith Martin, missionary to Africa and one of our North Arkansas specials, was read by Mrs. A. L. Trent. The invitation of Mrs. E. J. Mount, president of the Lincoln auxiliary, to hold the next Zone meeting at Lincoln was unanimously accepted.

The closing prayer was led by Mrs. D. Y. Thomas.—Mrs. E. J. Mount, Zone Secretary.

TRAINING DAY AT BRINKLEY

The Helena District Training Day for Mission Study leaders held an all day meeting at the church in Brinkley on October 6.

Miss Marie Holmstedt, District Secretary, presided. Representatives from the auxiliaries of Forrest City, Vanndale, Clarendon, Hughes, Helena, Holly Grove, Marvel, Wheatley, Marianna No. 1 and Marianna "Ramsey Society" and Brinkley were present.

The meeting opened with prayer by the pastor host, Rev. J. J. Gallo-way. Introduction of all members and guests present.

Mrs. Peter Kittle, instructor for the day, told of the purpose of training schools, and gave a blackboard demonstration of the principles and methods of teaching, followed by discussion.

Mrs. Kittle stressed the importance of having an objective in study, and how to obtain it.

Requirement for Council recognition was also given together with full explanation of the hours, necessity of qualified leaders, and percentage of attendance at each study class.

The morning session concluded with devotional by Rev. Mr. Gallo-way. Adjournment was had for lunch. A most bounteous and palatable luncheon was served in the an-

HENDRIX COLLEGE ITEMS.

A request from the American University Union, London, England, for a copy of the Hendrix catalog, has been received by Professor G. A. Simmons, Registrar. The request reads: "As we are constantly being asked for accurate information about this college, we should be grateful if you could send us your current copy and each new edition annually."

Some 65 students are members of the Choristers, and are working on "Stabat Mater" by Rassin, to be presented in cities throughout the State.

Miss Ethel Millar, librarian, announces that 25 new volumes have been received during the past week, also that forty volumes of magazines have been returned from the bindery.

In the F. F. A. oratorical contest for the Southern States, held at White Haven School, Memphis, October 7, Anselm Bradley, Hendrix Freshman, took second place. The representative from South Carolina beat him by half of one point and became eligible to enter the national contest to be held in Kansas City in November. Bradley, who won the State oratorical contest at Fayetteville, spoke on cooperative marketing.

CONTINUED INTEREST IN OUR CHRISTIAN EDUCATION INSTITUTES.

The institutes during September and October have proven unusually interesting. Pastors looked carefully after details and there was not a hitch in the plans. In all places we had fine attendance. The Children's Workers were delighted with the services of Miss McRae; the Adult Works with Mr. Cannon and the Young People attended in large numbers.

Institutes since last report were at Mt. Ida, Nashville, Gurdon, Hope, Arkadelphia, Star City, Altheimer, Gillette, St. Charles, DeWitt, Stuttgart, Rison, Sheridan, Humphrey and Malvern.—Clem Baker.

A BEAUTIFUL SPIRIT BEING MANIFESTED BY OUR PREACHERS.

During the last six weeks I have seen a large number of preachers. Never have I seen a more beautiful spirit than is now being manifested. Practically all salaries were reduced. Few are paid this salary in full. Some have been paid very little. Several have been forced to walk their circuits this year. One preacher lived in a tenant house, walked the Circuit, and cultivated four acres of cotton and paid rent. Not one has complained. All look forward to returning to their charges. They are happy in the work. I wish that all laymen could understand the hearts of Methodist preachers and appreciate them as I have had the opportunity to do.

What I have said includes presiding elders. Our Conference is fortunate in both pastorate and presiding elder leadership. Finances are poor, but we are closing one of the best years in the history of our Conference, all things considered.—Clem Baker.

SUNDAY SCHOOL DAY OFFERINGS

Sunday School Day Offerings in Little Rock Conference are far behind this date in previous years, but preachers and people are doing the best they can and their loyalty and love for the cause are not doubted.

We believe that in closing the year's work churches that have not made an offering will do something and those that paid only a part in the spring will do more before Conference meets.

Recently splendid offerings have been received. We thank all friends for helping to carry on this hard year. We believe that when charts are posted the Little Rock Conference will not be ashamed of its record.—Clem Baker.

PINE BLUFF YOUNG PEOPLE TRAINING CONFERENCE NEXT WEEK.

The annual session will be held at First Church, Pine Bluff, October 23-28. The first class session at 5 p.m., Sunday, the 23rd. Instructors will be Rev. J. E. Cooper, Rev. E. O. Harbin and Clem Baker. This school is under the care of Miss Mary Turner and her young people at Pine Bluff. It is expected that young people within reach of Pine Bluff will have representatives. It is estimated that 150 will take the work.—Clem Baker.

BOARD OF INSTITUTIONAL WORK

A meeting of the Board of Institutional Work will be held in Fort Smith, November 1st, at 12:30 noon, at a dinner. NORTH ARKANSAS CONFERENCE FIRST YEAR CLASS

The class and committee will meet in the assigned room at Dodson Avenue, Fort Smith, Tuesday, November 1, at 4 p.m.—W. V. Womack, chairman.

SUPERANNUATE ENDOWMENT NOTICE

Brother pastors, will you please take some part of offering for Superannuate Endowment, either public or private? Let's not have a single charge to report nothing on this sacred fund.

I'll be at Fort Smith ready to receipt you.

While it is a hard pull, surely you will try to do something.—H. Lynn Wade, North Arkansas Conference Director.

APPRECIATION OF THE BLEVINS FAMILY

We wish to express our appreciation to the many friends for the many kindnesses shown us in our great bereavement in the loss of our dear brother.

To Dr. Anderson, Brothers Wayland, Paul Galloway, and other ministers who came to offer comfort and assistance, or wrote a word to console the heart.

To the good people of Wilson who did everything humanly possible to meet the needs of the hour. To his many friends from other places where he had served, who came or sent tokens of their love. To the good people of our own charge of Heber Springs for their service of love and to our boyhood friends of McRae for their many tokens of love. We shall ever remember you with the kindest regards and we pray that God's richest blessings may ever attend your way.—H. H. Blevins and Family.

Diet Didn't Do This!

HAPPY little girl, just bursting with pep, and she has never tasted a "tonic!"

Every child's stomach, liver, and bowels need stimulating at times, but give children something you know all about.

Follow the advice of that famous family physician who gave the world Syrup Pepsin. Stimulate the body's vital organs. Dr. Caldwell's prescription of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh herbs is a mild stimulant that keeps the system from getting sluggish.

If your youngsters don't do well at school, don't play as hard or eat as well as other children do, begin this evening with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This gentle stimulant will soon right things! The bowels will move with better regularity and thoroughness. There won't be so many sick spells or colds. You'll find it just as wonderful for adults, too, in larger spoonfuls!

Get some Syrup Pepsin; protect your household from those bilious days, frequent headaches, and that sluggish state of half-health that means the bowels need stimulating. Keep this preparation in the home to use instead of harsh cathartics that cause chronic constipation if taken too often. You can always get Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at any drug store; they have it all ready in big bottles.

Many others are close and will be out by Conference. Too much cannot be said in praise of the faithful Pastors and Presiding Elders who have achieved this victory in the face of overwhelming odds, and are girding themselves afresh for a still greater one by Conference, November 2. We give thanks and take heart. Officials and members are standing by their Church loyally. The host is advancing. In the name of our Christ we will set up our banners.—Guy Murphy, Treasurer.

NORPHLET-LOUANN REVIVALS

We have just brought to a close the greatest revivals this charge has held in the three years of my ministry. Some say that they were the most effective we have ever had here.

Our meeting at Norphlet filled two weeks ending September 23. Bro. A. J. Christie of Smackover brought us helpful and effective messages. There were 36 additions to the church, 11 on profession of faith, 25 by letter. This increased our church membership by 45 per cent, bringing the total from 81 to 117. All these additions but two were adults.

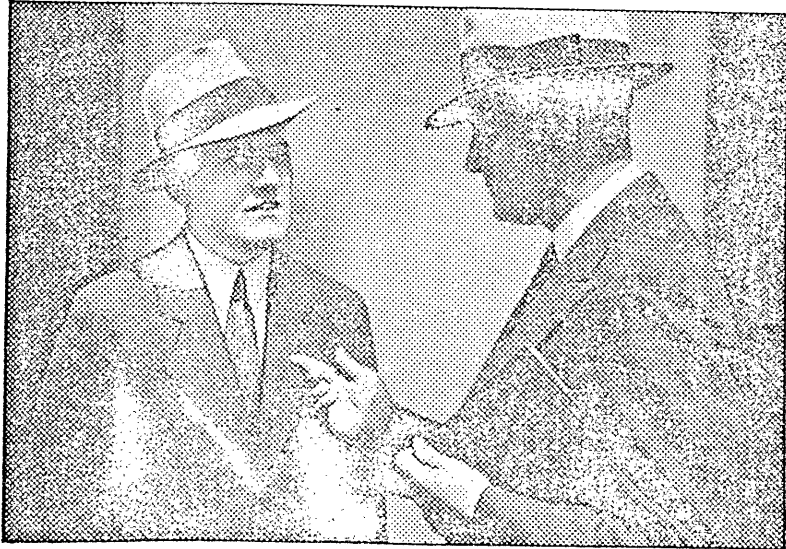

Our meeting at Louann, covering a two weeks' period, ended October 7. Bro. J. Frank Walker, who had been doing evangelistic work in the Camden and Arkadelphia Districts all the summer, did the preaching, bringing us inspiring and persuasive messages. There were 16 additions, eight on profession of faith, and eight by letter.

Although we have suffered a heavy loss on this charge, due to people leaving these oil fields for those of East Texas, we can still show an increase in membership. We have had a total of 52 additions, 19 on profession of faith, most of these adults. It was my happy privilege as pastor to baptize four infants, and in two cases receive the entire family into the church. Our whole family of five came on profession of faith. This has been a great year in the work of "The Kingdom." The glory is His.—Otto W. Teague, P. C.

Relief From Neuralgia In Few Minutes

Quick Dissolving Property of BAYER ASPIRIN Starts Relief 3 or 4 Minutes After Taking

Think of a headache going in three or four minutes. The pains of neuralgia, neuritis or rheumatism being eased, often, in that little space of time!

Due to important, scientific developments in the famous Bayer Aspirin laboratories, millions of people are enjoying this almost unbelievably quick relief from pain.

That is because Bayer Aspirin dissolves almost instantly in the stomach. And thus almost INSTANTLY starts to ease pain. The average headache, for instance, eases in as little as four or five minutes. Think of what a time saver this is to busy people.

Remember it is Genuine BAYER Aspirin which provides this unique property. So see that you get the real article when you buy. See that these three words "Genuine Bayer Aspirin" are on any box or bottle of aspirin that you buy. And that the name "Bayer" is stamped in the form of a cross on any tablet that you take.

Remember that when you buy. And remember, too, that Genuine Bayer Aspirin cannot harm the heart. Take care you get the genuine.

members this quarter, six by vows and one by certificate. We have four Sunday Schools doing good work, and two Epworth Leagues doing fine work.

We have perfected the organization of the most of departments of our church. We have a Social Service Committee at each church that are proving themselves to be of great value to the progress of the church especially at Stoney Point. This committee has made it possible for Stoney Point to be the first church on the Beebe Circuit to pay their salary in full.

I always notice the young people and children, for I realize that they are the hope of our church in the future. We have had several special services for their benefit, resulting in a number of conversions.

As we come to the close of the Conference year, I take this method of expressing my thanks to the official board and members of the church on the Beebe Circuit for their friendship and support, and to our efficient presiding elder, Rev. F. E. Dodson. We, the pastor and members, extend our sincere thanks and appreciation for his brotherly counsel in planning and carrying forward the work of God in our church, and hope that in the providence of God he may guide the minds of the North Arkansas Conference, when it convenes November 2 in making the appointments, that they may return to us of the Searcy District Brother F. E. Dodson who is much loved and highly appreciated for his practical and conservative work in making our district go forward, regardless of depression. We have been able to make great progress under his leadership. —Jas. M. Talkington, P. C.

How One Man Lost 22 Pounds

Mr. Herman Runkis of Detroit writes: "A few lines of thanks from a rheumatism sufferer—my first bottle of Kruschen Salts took all the aches and swelling out of my joints—with my first bottle I went on a diet and lost 22 pounds and now I feel like a new man."

To lose fat SAFELY and quickly take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast.

For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen—the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle at any drugstore in the world and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results—money back. All good druggists will be glad to supply you.

REV. JOHN P. WHEELER— A TRIBUTE.

Rev. J. P. Wheeler died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Roy Webster, April 18, 1932, at Memphis, Texas, after a long and lingering illness. The funeral services were conducted at the First Methodist Church of Memphis, Texas, with the pastor, Rev. J. M. Fuller, officiating.

Brother Wheeler is survived by his wife, three sons, Rev. H. L. Wheeler of the Oklahoma Conference and stationed at Goodwell, Earl Wheeler of Sedalia, Missouri, and Carl Wheeler of Imboden, Arkansas. There are six daughters who survive him: Mrs. Roy Webster of Memphis, Texas; Mrs. Marvin Burks, of Long Beach, California; Mrs. H. J. Jorns, of Houston, Texas; Mrs. Louise Stephens, of Roswell, New Mexico, and Mrs. Virgie Brackeen, of Dalhart, Texas.

Brother Wheeler was born and reared in Missouri and went to Texas at the age of 18. He began his ministry in Texas, then transferred to New Mexico, from which Conference he transferred to the North Arkansas Conference in 1910. He served in active relation until 1919 when he was superannuated. He spent 35 years in the ministry, 14 of which were in the traveling connection. He was faithful and efficient in all relationships of life, a kind and indulgent father, a sympathetic pastor and a forceful preacher of the plain and powerful gospel of Christ. His faith was triumphant, and he died in great peace, surrounded by his children and loved ones.—H. Lynn Wade.

ATLAS UP-TO-DATE170,000 TAXPAYERS
TRYING TO CARRY THE LOAD

Only 165,000 PEOPLE Pay The Bills Under Present Taxation Laws

Taxes Must Be Reduced! Homes Must Be Saved From Annually Increasing Delinquent Tax Sales!

A GENERAL SALES TAX

as proposed by Amendment No. 19 and Initiated Act No. 1 is the solution with its provision all the people will share alike in the cost of government and schools. The sales Tax is the only equal tax.

THE SALES TAX WILL—

1. Relieve Real Estate of $8.70 per thousand of its present tax rate.
2. Prohibit increase in taxation except by a vote of the people.
3. Reduce the present exorbitant cost of tax collection.
4. Produce adequate revenue at an extremely low and uniform rate.
5. Allow few exemptions, and these principally on farm products.
6. Equalize the tax burden by reaching the present non-paying group.
7. Allow more money for weaker schools, since all revenue over present receipts goes to the equalizing fund.

THE SALES TAX WILL NOT—

1. Be a burden on any man, since the 1% rate is so extremely low.
2. Be subject to revision at every session of the Legislature.
3. Require farmers to become tax collectors, for their products are exempt.
4. Hinder the schools, since they will receive as much as they do at present and more.
5. Allow thousands of people to live as parasites on their neighbors' tax money.
6. Favor a specific group at the expense of the multitude.
7. Lower state revenue, rather increase it, since the estimated revenue amounts to $5,390,000 annually.

BEWARE OF FALSE PROPHETS

The only opposition to the Sales Tax comes from selfish interests, those who have ridden the tax-dodging horse so long that they cry crocodile tears when they are forced to get out of the saddle. They do not want to pay their share!

Apponents of the Sales Tax are making many wild and random statements which have no basis of truth or foundation in fact. In their desperation in their attempt to defeat the Sales Tax, they have resorted to gross deception and misleading statements. The piper must be paid, but they do not want to pay him!

Gray Hair

Best Remedy is Made At Home

To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It imparts color to streaked, faded or gray hair and makes it soft and glossy. Barbo will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

 Church and community as well as by the family. She leaves behind her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Frances Forgey, of Pine Bluff, Ark. Her friends loved her and believed in her. Her faith in Christ never wavered, but was strong to the last. Unselfish service was rendered by the family and friends. Truly a real consecrated Christian has gone from us. Those who live well, die well. Rev. J. F. Glover, a former pastor, assisted the pastor in the service, which was held at the Church that she loved so well. Brother Emmons, one of our finest retired preachers, has our deepest sympathies as does the daughter.—B. L. Wilford, Pastor.

PENIX.—Mrs. Susan Ella Penix, wife of W. R. Penix, was born in Craighead County, December 1, 1867. Her entire life was spent in this county at Bono and in Jonesboro. She passed to her reward and rest July 3, 1932, at her home, leaving her husband, four sons, Roy, Fred, John and Nathan, and two daughters, Miss Ellen, and Mrs. Harold Norris. She leaves three sisters also to mourn her departure, Mrs. W. F. Little, Mrs. Mary Hinton and Miss Alma Anderson. Sister Penix was first of all a devout, devoted, faithful, loyal Christian and member of the Methodist Church. Her church came first among all institutions. But Sister Penix was distinctly a home maker. Said her husband, "I want someone to sing, 'Home Sweet Home,' for she made a home for me, the only one I ever had." The Penix home has been and is a home for preachers. Nothing pleased her more than to have a visit from her pastor, and to have him pray. She held many happy memories of services rendered to the church and its ministry. In this she found unbounded delight. Her life was beautiful and sweet in every relationship. Of her all would say, "She is a real Christian." Her children and husband reciprocated her beautiful love. Her influence will continue to live like precious ointment poured forth to bless and help. The funeral was conducted by the pastor at the First Methodist Church, assisted by Rev. J. T. Hood, a former pastor. Mrs. Fred Harrison sang tenderly, "Home Sweet Home."—H. Lynn Wade, Pastor.

ANTI-LYNCHING LEGISLATION

In 1928, the General Assembly of Virginia enacted an anti-lynching law, which fixed responsibility upon local authorities through the device of holding the county liable in the sum of $2,500 to representatives of the person lynched. Any county wishing to recover this payment was given the right to proceed collectively or individually against persons composing the mob. Since 1928, Virginia has had no lynching.

This plan has been adopted in other states with the best results. In lieu of a strong governor like Cameron Morrison, of North Carolina, who made a point of ordering out the militia by way of anticipating trouble, or of some such drastic treatment of the evil as was administered in Georgia in 1926, when Judge Reed sentenced a mob leader to life imprisonment, legislation with teeth sharp enough to grind out lynching would seem to be the only way of preventing ultimate federal interference. — Birmingham Age-Herald.
