B. Boards, Councils & Commissions

TABLE OF CONTENTS IS FOUND ON PAGES 4 AND 5.

All ex-officio members shall have voice and vote, unless expressly denied in the text below.

Members of the Arkansas Annual Conference:

The Arkansas Conference Committee on Nominations is pleased to present to the Annual Conference the Nominations Report for 2012. With all the changes in the structure and downsizing of districts, the committee has had an extremely difficult task to accomplish. We have met as a committee several times, not to mention having at least 3 telephone conferences. The committee worked many hours to make sure we were nominating the best possible persons for the various boards, commissions and committees of the Annual Conference. We have tried to ensure that a broad representation of the Arkansas Conference will be serving in the coming year. On behalf of the committee, I want to express appreciation to all of those who have accepted nominations and are willing to take on leadership roles in the Annual Conference. Special thanks to Reverend Phil Hathcock, Director of Connectional Ministries for all his help and advice in completing this job. We also would like to thank Bishop Charles N. Crutchfield for meeting with us and playing a part in the committee's work.

Every effort has been made to have correct name spelling, addresses, phone numbers and where possible, e-mail addresses. Any corrections to the contact information may be sent to the Secretary of the Committee, LaDonna Busby at lbusby@arumc.org or by calling 870-793-5247.

Respectfully submitted,
Jerry Eubanks, Chairperson

IMAGINE MINISTRY: RECASTING THE VISION
Bud Reeves welcomed the Conference to Hot Springs and gave the report on the Imagine Ministry initiative.

"As we gather today it is important to remind ourselves why we began this journey. The Arkansas Conference took a bold and significant step of faith and trust in God and one another four months ago. We have committed ourselves to wrestle with the missional questions surrounding the making of disciples for Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. We have positioned this new work in the mission field, in our local congregations and in our surrounding communities. This new work is reflected in a new Vision and Mission statement accompanied by four Core Measures designed to guide us in this endeavor.

In 2009, we discovered that not only had our denomination been in decline for 40 years, but that in the last five years the downward pace had accelerated. In 2008, 81% of our congregations had less than 100 people in attendance on Sundays, which is around the threshold of adequately supporting a full-time pastor. 51% had less than 35 on Sundays. 66 % of the United Methodist congregations in Arkansas did not have a profession of faith and 57 % of the congregations reported zero baptisms for that year. The average age of a United Methodist was 57, twenty years older than the average U. s. citizen. Those numbers have not improved.

Our congregations are aging and dying, but even worse, they are becoming irrelevant. We have become, in large part, unable to speak to the culture around us. Or if we speak, nobody is listening.

We began this journey because leaders in our conference were increasingly discontented with the status quo. For all of the reasons I have just mentioned, plus the annual conference and general church was demanding increasing financial support from a declining membership, we had to do something.

At the same time, there were similar conversations going on around our denomination. A few other annual conferences were engaged in the process of renewal, some a step or two ahead of us. The General Conference established Four Foci of Ministry:

- Combating the diseases of poverty by improving health globally.
- Engaging in ministry with the poor.
- Creating new places for new people and revitalizing existing congregations.
- Developing principled Christian leaders for the church and the world.

The Council of Bishops issued a Call to Action, which identified the drivers of vitality in the local church:

- Effective pastoral leadership including inspirational preaching, mentoring laity, and effective management
- Multiple small groups and programs for children and youth

• A mix of traditional and contemporary worship services
• A high percentage of spiritually engaged laity who assume leadership roles.

They proposed several recommendations, but the primary one was to focus for the next ten years on building vital local congregations. This helped our cause.

Finally, we began to have conversations at the highest level of the church about the unsustainability of our church finances. Asking more and more from fewer and fewer just will not work. All of these other conversations helped us understand that we were on the right track.

So we entered into a two year process of prayer, Bible study, research, many conversations asking hard questions of ourselves and one another, formulating and reformulating strategies. We have charted a first step course, a movement built upon the success and progress from the last fifty years of faithful ministry of laity, congregations and clergy. We knew at the beginning how hard this work would be, how uncomfortable change is to each of us. Each question we have asked has led us to another question, and a new learning. We work at ministry in an ever-changing world.

The two images we have used throughout the Imagine Ministry process both speak to this uncertainty. We compared it to Moses and the Israelites wandering in the wilderness. And we talked about walking down a dark path with a flashlight. We cannot see the end of the path, but we have enough light to take the next few steps at least. And we are still walking that path.

The rationale for this transitional time and transitional structure is founded in the experiences of other annual conferences which have gone through similar processes within the last few years. We are not alone, but we are on the forefront. We have been cautioned time and again not to put a full-blown structure into place up front. This has usually proven to be ineffective, and conferences that have done this have made several major adjustments within a year or two of the new structure. We have been advised to go slowly and deliberately.

As with any period of change, we can expect some chaos and conflict as we move ahead. Some desire to move more quickly, to go farther than proposed. Others want to go more slowly or less drastically. Some feel we are not doing the right things at all, and we are all frightened and uncomfortable with changing what is dear to us. One of our biggest challenges will be to stay loose and "unfrozen" long enough so that we don't become "refrozen" again before we finish our work. Any structure for the 21st century church needs to be dynamic and nimble, to support our mission and ministry as the culture and mission field continues to change.

As we did our work, we held several core assumptions:

- Disciples are made in local churches, not conference meetings. Any program or process has to strengthen the local congregation for the work of ministry in its mission field.
- The connectional church (district, conference, and general church) exists to support, resource, and empower the local church, not the other way around.
- We have all sizes of churches in Arkansas, and Imagine Ministry should be relevant and helpful to all sizes of churches.
- We are talking about deep change, and deep change takes time. This transitional period will last at least through 2013.
- At some point, we will all have to swallow our own self-interest and do what is best for the good of the larger body.

So at Annual Conference just four short months ago, we presented the Imagine Ministry plan. It contained a new vision: Congregations and surrounding communities transformed by the Holy Spirit to demonstrate holy living, justice and love of neighbor.

There was also a new statement of our mission: To make disciples of Jesus Christ equipped to transform the world with excellence and passion.

We proposed four Core Measures, touchstones that will characterize our work and will serve as references for ongoing evaluation:

We shall embrace deep change that empowers us to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world by:

- Rooting all we do in our understanding of scripture, personal and social holiness, so that we revitalize our connection and our ministry instead of being connected by our apportionments, appointments and benefits.

- Establishing the mission field as the primary place for our attention and resources instead of directing most of our attention and resources to the institutional needs of congregations and clergy.
- Equipping laity and clergy for shared outcomes of transformation with excellence instead of directing resources toward congregational preservation and satisfaction of current members.
- Organizing our ministry around the unique geographic, cultural, demographic, and ethnic contexts in the identified mission fields instead of treating every church, district and conference structure the same.

In addition to the adoption of these statements, we also took action by reducing the number of districts from 9 to 5. With that reduction, we proposed the addition of circuit elders and congregational coaches. So each local church can have access to the connection four ways: the district superintendent, who is the chief missional strategist for the district, the circuit elder, the coach, and the pastor.

Then we established two centers and two networks to carry the weight of conference programming moving forward. I'll give you an update on those in a moment. There are three important implications of the entire Imagine Ministry proposal:

- It decreased the annual conference structure, both on the district level and in our conference committee structure.
- It shifted the focus of ministry off of the congregation and onto the mission field, which includes not only the local church, but the surrounding community and the world.
- The point of Imagine Ministry is not to save money but to promote effectiveness in ministry, making disciples and transforming the world. In doing that, we want to be good stewards of our resources. We want to align the resources of the conference with the mission of the conference. And we want to avoid an unsustainable drain on our finances.

Now let me bring you up to date on our progress so far.

There is a report in your material and on the conference website about the Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership. [SEE PRINTED REPORT REPRODUCED AT THE END OF THESE MINUTES] The focus of this center is to produce excellent leadership—clergy and lay—for the strengthening of local churches. It will be built on the success of our Connected in Christ process. Connected in Christ has been working well for over ten years, and it has transformed the lives of many of our pastors and churches in the conference. CIC has given us a common understanding of and language about strategic ministry planning, personal ministry plans, coaching for local churches, peer group relationships among clergy, and empowering lay leadership. It has been an awesome thing.

We are so grateful to Michael Roberts, who has led CIC for eight years, to John Crawford, who came out of retirement to lead a cohort of coaches, to the coaches, and to the pastors and laity who have been through the training seminars and retreats. I was in the very first CIC group with Michael and served on the CIC board as president for several years. It transformed my ministry and my church at Bryant.

What we want to do with the Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership is to build on the strengths of CIC and expand its work to be more inclusive across the conference. If I can quote Michael, "CIC has never been a program to protect but a process and philosophy (way of life) to be cultivated." We want to cultivate the process in several ways:

- Continue to foster peer group relationships among clergy.
- Continue the training and empowerment for laity.
- Continue the coaching of local congregations by lay people who can think strategically and missionally.
- Continue to work with the Board of Ordained Ministry to help provisional elders and deacons begin their ministry in a positive and pro-active way.

We also plan for the Center to go beyond what CIC has done in the past:

- Make the resources of the Center available conference-wide, to all sizes of congregations.
- Train the circuit elders for their task, in concert with the new role of the DS as missional strategist.
- Provide accountability processes for clergy and laity which will focus on missional outcomes.
- Work with the Center for Technology, the Network of Discipleship and Mission, and the Conference office in a coordinated and aligned pursuit of the vision and mission of the conference.
- Create targeted programs for specific needs, such as children or youth leaders, young adult ministries, wherever needs for development exist.

You can see more details in the printed report. The purpose of all this is to develop and strengthen passion and excellence in local congregations so they can make disciples and transform their mission field. In this way the vision, mission, and core measurements of the conference will become imbedded in the local churches, for the good of all!

The Technology Task Force has been working on The Center for Technology. [SEE PRINTED REPORT REPRODUCED AT THE END OF THESE MINUTES] There is so much potential for new technologies to provide resources to local congregations in achieving their goal of "making disciples and transforming communities". In the past, geographical isolation presented a challenge in delivering resources, communicating, and staying connected as an annual conference. Technology offers exciting new tools to overcome those old barriers.

This Center is on the cutting edge of creative thought within our denomination. They are plowing new ground, and the task force decided to engage professional counsel to act as a "technology architect." The United Methodist Foundation of Arkansas provided funding for this consultant relationship. Dr. Jim Pagan has been engaged to lead the Task Force in the development of the Center. The target completion date of the design phase is June 1, 2012.

The Technology Task Force is proceeding on the following principles:

- The target audiences are clergy, lay leadership, staff and administrative personnel, active parishioners, inactive parishioners, and the unchurched.
- The primary objectives include enhanced training and study opportunities for lay and clergy; improved communication, and supporting the new Network of Discipleship and Mission and the new Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership.
- The task force sees great potential in better connecting persons and congregations and in more effectively telling the story of Arkansas United Methodism.

The task force is currently compiling the results of a technology survey to assess local church infrastructure and needs. They appreciate everyone's participation in the survey. Dr. Pagan is currently conducting extensive interviews as the cornerstone of the task force's assessment work. The task force anticipates some targeted research projects to improve its ability to be responsive to key target audiences. There are more details in the written report.

One of the most apparent changes we have made since Annual Conference is to combine the two networks—personal and social holiness—into one. It became clear as the task force thought about Wesley's vision of the combination of personal and social holiness that to separate the two would violate our Wesleyan heritage. There is an excellent explanation of that in the written report. So we are moving forward with Holiness of Heart and Life: The Network of Discipleship and Mission. [SEE PRINTED REPORT REPRODUCED AT THE END OF THESE MINUTES] The purpose of the Network "is to create an environment where laity, clergy and Conference staff may post, share experiences, encourage disciplines (means of grace), generate discussion, build awareness, link to resources, discuss different opportunities (social justice and local mission ministry events), create accountability groups, address social issues of injustice, and promote involvement in socio-economic, political, environmental initiatives, etc." The possibilities are only limited by the creativity of the participants.

Unlike the two Centers, the Network will not be a structured office. It will be primarily web-based, interacting with the Centers to augment their work. It will be cooperative and collaborative. There will be a lead facilitator and some regional facilitators to help manage the process. But the energy will come from the local churches and clergy and lay people who interact on the Network. Think of it as what John Wesley would have done if he had been on facebook!

Of course, there is a lot more to it than that. The ministry of the Network will be focused in alignment with the vision, mission, and core measurements of the conference. And it will emphasize the Wesleyan commitment to joining together both discipleship and mission, the inward and outward expressions of our faith, excellence and passion. This is a gospel that is as relevant in the 21st century as it was in the 18th—or the 1st!

Along with the groups dealing with the Centers and the Network, we have had four task forces working through issues with other areas of our organization. The Transition Task Force is dealing with the nuts and bolts issues of conference staffing, district organization, budget considerations, and logistics. They will have two announcements in a moment, but their report is in the written material and on the conference website. The other three Task Forces—Youth and Children, Ethnic Concerns, and Young Adults—will make brief reports in a few minutes.

All the task forces are still in the preliminary discussion phase, since they were only formed four months ago. But they involve 74 people from around the conference, and a couple of the task forces have already done surveys. So we are trying to keep the conversation as broad and transparent as possible.

In fact, let me show you who Imagine Ministry is. If you would, please stand:

- The Imagine Ministry team
- The task forces now working and the Council on Finance and Administration
- All who recently participated in an online survey
- All who participated in the Bible study on the Book of Acts and the core measures.
- All who attended a regional meeting, a focus group, or a district clergy meeting in 2010 or 2011
- All who participated in a discussion group at Annual Conference in 2010.

This is Imagine Ministry. This is us. We estimate over 7,000 points of contacts in the last two years as we have moved forward together. The goal of the task forces moving forward now is to have concrete plans by Annual Conference of 2012. So the journey continues.

Of course, everything you plan or do in ministry has financial implications. Imagine Ministry is no exception. Representatives from the conference Council on Finance and Administration will bring the new budget to you in a few minutes. Let me just say this from the Imagine Ministry Team:

- Our goal, again, is not primarily to save money, but to be effective in ministry, to be good stewards of our resources, and to align our resources with the vision and mission of the conference.
- This new budget does not look all that different. That's because big pieces of it are still in transition. It is in some senses a "trust budget" that will continue to be worked out between now and next annual conference. But we have to start using it in January.
- There will be some hard economic decisions to come in the future. We are in an unsustainable pattern. These decisions have not been made yet because we are still thinking, discussing, and deciding what those will be.

The three main changes you will see in the budget are:

- The new district structure and only 5 District Superintendents' expenses beginning July 1, 2012.
- Connected in Christ only funded for half a year, because the funding and the function of CIC will be transitioned into the Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership.

- The elimination of the Parish and Community Development Fund. These grants have been a great help to many churches (mine included), but we want to align those resources with our Centers so they can specifically address mission field opportunities.

This is where we are now. The light is a little bit further down the path, but we are still at the beginning of a long journey. I don't think it will take forty years, like it did for Moses, but it will take a few. The important thing now is to stay loose and unfrozen and open to where God is leading us. All the conversations are still open. Even what we decide to do initially may not prove effective, and we will have to make changes and adjustments. If United Methodism is to transform back into a movement again, we will have to stay nimble and adaptive to new realities that change before our eyes."

CONFERENCE TASK FORCE ON CHILDREN AND YOUTH MINISTRY

Sara Pair reported on the work of the Task Force, which focused on how the church can live out its commitment to children and youth within the Conference. [SEE PRINTED REPORT REPRODUCED AT THE END OF THESE MINUTES]

"Bishop Crutchfield, members of the Arkansas Conference, it is my great honor to bring to you the report from the Children and Youth Task Force. As we have approached our work in evaluating our current Conference ministry with Children and Youth and looking forward to what those ministries can and should be in the future, we are aware and recognize that this is a key and vital focus of every congregation no matter the size or location. We all have in common the promises we have made to children at their baptism and youth at their confirmation to support and to nurture them in their faith journey. So I ask you to join with me in reaffirming these commitments to the children and youth in our care.

One Voice: Do you, as Christ's body, the church, reaffirm both your rejection of sin and your commitment to Christ?

Many Voices: We do.

One Voice: Will you nurture one another in the Christian faith and life and include our children and youth in your care?

Many Voices: With God's help we will proclaim the good news and live according to the example of Christ. We will surround these persons with a community of love and forgiveness, that they may grow in their service to others. We will pray for them that they may be true disciples who walk in the way that leads to life.

So the question is now and ever before us, "How will we as the Arkansas Conference be faithful to our baptismal vows within the larger connection?" To begin to answer this question, we sent out a survey in September to ask you your thoughts about where we are now and where we hope to be. We had an outstanding response to our survey and we are grateful for your participation. Over 300 people invested time, thoughts and ideas. They represented 15-30 churches from each district, as well as a wide span of ages, from youth to older adults. I want to highlight for you this morning the 7 areas of focus that ranked the highest in the survey and that will provide the foundation for our work moving forward.

7. Resourcing Parents
6. Communication to the ARUMC about district and conference events
5. Providing opportunities to youth through events
4. Resourcing local congregations in the areas of children/youth
  Family Ministry*
  lntergenerational Ministry*
  Safe Sanctuary*
  Confirmation*
3. Networking those working with children/youth
2. Leadership development of our young people
1. Training and coaching leaders of children and youth (volunteer and paid)

We know your question today is What does this mean? What is the plan moving forward? We are simply not to that stage yet, but we can assure you with confidence that ministry with and for Children and Youth will continue to be a vital and essential part of our Conference ministry as a whole. The question I cannot answer today is exactly How? There are many options we are considering as far as conference staff possibilities, part time, full time, one person, many persons. We will make a recommendation to the personnel team based on what you continue to tell us, as well as working with the other teams and networks in formulating an overall plan. Be looking for a final survey from our task force to follow up on these 7 areas of focus. We need your help and participation as we continue together to shape our conference children's and youth ministry in the Arkansas Conference to equip and empower us to make disciples of all aged with passion and excellence for the transformation of the world."

CONFERENCE TASK FORCE ON ETHNIC MINISTRIES

Roy Smith gave the report on the main topics considered in regard to ethnic ministries in the Arkansas Conference: Discerning, Connecting, and Inspiring. [SEE PRINTED REPORT REPRODUCED AT THE END OF THESE MINUTES]

"Bishop Crutchfield and members of the Conference, guests and friends: Thank you for the opportunity to share a report of our work since our task force was formed on August 20, 2011.

The Task Force members are : Deborah Bell, Amy Jo Carr, Kathy Conley, Troy Conrad, Rex Dickey, Terry Gallamore, Tommy Halsell, J. Harris Moore, Jim Polk, Tammy Jo Teltoe, Maxine Allen, project manager, and Roy Smith, convener.

We have met two times face to face and once on a conference call.

We began our work by reflecting on the five conclusions shared by the Imagine Ministry Task Force in the executive summary of their work. These conclusions were reached after the initial discoveries of the Task Force through" reading, discussion, interviewing individuals and other Annual Conferences and conducting focus groups and surveys."

These conclusions are:

1. The United Methodist Church in Arkansas must recapture its sense of urgency to evangelize those living in our communities.
2. The mission field in and around local churches must be the primary focus of ministry.
3. Leadership for both clergy and lay leaders must be improved to a level of excellence.
4. Clergy and lay leaders must be held accountable for outcomes of transformation.
5. The Annual Conference must be more responsive to local congregations.

Unfortunately in our rush to get to the organizational work of tending to structural and budget needs, a thorough discussion of these five rather brilliant and insightful descriptions of the strategic or adaptive challenges ahead of us have largely been ignored.

Our Task Force has deeply engaged these five strategic conclusions which have the power to change the way we are doing ministry in The Arkansas Conference if we have the will, faith and commitment to engage them.

In the midst of the initial two years of the work of the Imagine Ministry Task Force, matters regarding ethnic local churches along with Children and Youth Ministry and Young Adult and Campus ministry were placed to the side for a later full scale discussion.

This is the Conversation we have entered. Already our conversation has been wide ranging and substantial. Our meeting notes and the data we have gathered are all on the Conference website for you to see. I hope you will read, if you have not already ,our report which was posted with the other materials for this special session. In the report we show the three primary areas into which our conversation divides itself. These areas are :

Discerning Connecting Inspiring

The first focus of our conversation is "discerning".

This is the process of discovering and lifting up the unique and important history of ethnic churches in United Methodism in Arkansas. This discovery coupled with what is currently happening in and through ethnic churches in Arkansas gives us a clearer picture of where we are and begin our work for the future. We are finding that language is a very important part of developing a cultural competency which will allow us to engage more meaningful, faithful and fruitful mi8nistry in ethnic United Methodist Churches.

The second focus of our conversation and work is :connecting".

Connecting involves making the vital connections among ministries which are already happening well and supporting that. This includes working with SBC21 and Crossing Jordan. This will include working closely with the Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence, the BOOM and the Bishop and cabinet.
As we are continuing the work of discerning and connecting we will discover where the gaps are located. The next work involves working in the gaps by connecting to existing ministries, searching for new ministry models and envisioning ministry models not yet seen.

The third focus is" inspiring".

Let me quote from our written report: 'While it is easy to say that The United Methodist Church in Arkansas must continue to build relationships across barriers of race, ethnicity and culture, it is difficult to inspire people to do so. With all of the mechanisms in place to train and provide possibilities for only those individuals and congregations willing to make the intentional effort will be affected. This is our ongoing struggle: How do you inspire pastors, laity and congregations to change and to work within the mission field where they are planted, especially if that mission field bears little resemblance to them in culture, language or ethnicity?'

To be more specific there are 135,682 members in The Arkansas Conference. Of this total, 4,377 or 4% are identified as ethnic.

Clearly this does not reflect the mission field in which we live.

Where do we go from here?

Initially we recommend that the training of Circuit Elders and Congregational coaches include a sensitivity to the cultural uniqueness of ethnic local churches.

We will continue to understand the state of ethnic local churches ministry in the Conference and to encourage ministries that are effective.

We will continue searching the country for models that are working.

We will continue the work of imaging and engaging partners who can help us dream and envision possibilities where we have not yet imagined them.

As one of our task force members said, 'If we take seriously our mission field the ministry of ethnic United Methodist churches cannot and will not ever be the same."

We continue our conversation and discernment. We look forward to sharing further conclusions with you in June."

CONFERENCE TASK FORCE ON YOUNG ADULT MINISTRIES

David Freeman presented the report of this task force, which focused on the development of the role of Young adults in the church. They are concerned with all young adults, not just those of college age. [SEE PRINTED REPORT REPRODUCED AT THE END OF THESE MINUTES]

"Purpose: To empower churches of the Arkansas Conference to make young adult disciples of Jesus Christ with passion and excellence. We seek to lead churches to develop mindsets and practices that welcome and retain young adults, and nurture and develop their spiritual lives. Furthermore, we seek to lead churches to develop mindsets and practices in which young adult ministry is a part of the entire ministry of the congregation.*

Appreciative Inquiry keeps us focused on long term sustaining change rather than quick fix ideas and program.*

Definition of Young Adults:

(We have chosen to define young adults theologically and socially rather than chronologically.)
People in early stages of post adolescence transitioning from dependence to independence.
Social examples of these transitions may include, leaving home, beginning one's first job or establishing a career, leaving high school, starting or finishing college, marriage, and joining the military. Theological examples of these transitions may include, defining one's own values by or apart from one's family of origin, and taking responsibility for one's own faith practice. Another identifier for young adults is "emerging adults."

Insights:

--Outside of some isolated, yet very effective, local church efforts, ministry to young adults in our conference has been relegated to campus ministries and Wesley Foundations. We will seek to expand our conference's ministry to Young Adults beyond this to give attention to young adults not in college or beyond the traditional age of college students.

--We've come to believe that Young Adult ministry at its best is not another compartmentalized program of a church. It is at its best when Young Adults participate in the full Body of Christ. This approach calls for local churches to change their mindsets about how to do church and engage in new practices for ministry.

Next Steps:

We enter the dreaming phase.

-- Discerning what is God's vision for us as a conference in regard to young adults.

TRANSITION TEAM

Steve Coburn presented the report of the Transition Team. This includes the change from nine to five districts and other administrative changes. The work of the team is expected to end by mid 2013. [SEE PRINTED REPORT REPRODUCED AT THE END OF THESE MINUTES]

CLOSING REMARKS OF IMAGINE MINISTRY INTERIM REPORTS:

Bud Reeves concluded the reports with a call for patience, cooperation, and grace in the implementation of Imagine Ministry. He concluded with a time of prayer, asking the conference to pray with each other for the work of the church going forward. Reeves led the singing of "Spirit of the Living God".

Let me leave you with three thoughts this morning, and I appreciate your patience. First, as we move forward, we will have to remember that the main word for Methodists is grace. There will be some tough times ahead, some tough decisions to be made. Feelings will get hurt. People or churches will not feel affirmed or validated. We need to remember that as much as we might disagree with a brother or sister, he or she is still our brother or sister in Christ. We live by grace. We act in trust that the one motive we all share is for the Church of Jesus Christ called United Methodist in Arkansas to grow and prosper and to do what God wants us to do. It may mean slaughtering our own sacred cows, or letting someone else's star ascend faster than ours, but if we stay on mission, we will achieve the vision.

Steven Covey spoke years ago of the difference between the scarcity and abundance mentality. Even in these times, we cannot afford to live with a scarcity mentality that fears there is not enough for everyone. Scarcity breeds competition and conflict. Our God is a God of abundance. He will not send us on a journey and then refuse to guide us. God will not call us to do something that he will not provide the resources to accomplish. The challenge is to use God's resources effectively. With an abundance mentality, we can achieve the vision; we can share the wealth; and we can live with grace.

The second thought is a new Bible story. It comes from Numbers 13. It's the story of Joshua and Caleb. Moses had led the Israelites through the desert to the edge of the Promised Land in a matter of weeks. He sent spies over into the land, ten of whom came back with the report that it was nice and all, but there were too many enemies—big, mean people—and they shouldn't attempt to enter the land. Only Caleb and Joshua got all excited about the possibilities and encouraged the people to go, because the Lord was with them. But that day the Israelites turned away. They tried to elect a leader who would take them back to Egypt. And they wandered forty years in the wilderness.

When they finally entered the Promised Land only two people who were there the first time were still alive: Joshua and Caleb. And the Lord's word to Joshua was this: "Be strong and courageous; do not be frightened or dismayed, for the Lord your God is with you wherever you go."

We are not yet to the Promised Land, but thank God, we are not in Egypt, either! We have begun to move. Our God is with us, and we have to be strong and courageous to carry out the mission.

Finally, I am under no illusion, and you should not be either, that structures and budgets will renew the United Methodist Church in Arkansas. We cannot organize ourselves into vitality. New life for our churches will be a work of the Holy Spirit. What Imagine Ministry is trying to do is to clear the way so that the Spirit can move more freely in our local churches. When the Spirit inhabits the hearts of the pastors and the lay people of the Arkansas Annual Conference, there will be a great wave of passion and excellence across this land. I can't give you a plan for that, except the one Jesus gave the apostles: "Stay here in the city, pray, and you will receive power." If God is gracious to grant us an outpouring of the Spirit, as God did to the apostles in Acts, as God did to John Wesley and the early Methodists, as God did to the circuit riders on the American frontier, we just want the church not to get in the way.

It has been an incredible journey working with the Imagine Ministry team. It has been intense, exhausting, sometimes infuriating, but always exciting. We have become the talk of the nation in United Methodist circles. I don't care about that so much, unless we can help somebody else. In the end, my hope is the same as yours, my brothers and sisters. I want Arkansas United Methodism to be a better group experience. I want to see our churches renewed and revitalized. I want to see disciples made and communities transformed. I want to glorify God in our ministry together.

BREAK: The Bishop called for a 10 minute break.

ACTION ITEM:
ADOPTION OF THE 2012 CONFERENCE PROPOSED BUDGET

Clefton Vaughn introduced Brittany Watson a member of the budget team, Don Riggin of the Imagine Ministry Team, and Todd Burris, Conference Treasurer. There are twenty-two members of CF&A from large and small churches.

Two motions from the last session of the Annual Conference were referred to CF&A.

REFERRED MOTION #1:

The first referred motion was a request to come to the 2012 conference with a simplified Apportionment formula. A task force is working on this formula. A new apportionment formula, in response to the June 2011 motion, will be brought to the coming June 2012 conference session.

REFERRED MOTION #2:

The second was a motion by Bennie Harmon that the salaries for District Superintendents be set at 120% of the conference average for elders under full appointment. The Harmon motion was referred to this called session. The Council recommends non-concurrence to the Harmon motion.

Rev. Harmon spoke in support of the motion.

Rev. Rodney steel spoke against the motion.

The Conference will be voting on the Harmon motion. A yes vote will be in support of the motion, a no vote will agree with the non-concurrence recommendation of the CF&A.

The Harmon motion FAILED.

MAIN MOTION: Brittany Watson presented the 2012 proposed budget, outlining changes and additions. CF&A recommends passage. [SEE PRINTED BUDGET AND REPORT REPRODUCED AT THE END OF THESE MINUTES]

"Good morning. First of all, it has been pleasure to work alongside Clef, Todd, and the Transition Team on behalf of you, our Annual Conference, as we journey together towards a new vision of how to do church. At this juncture, I hope that each of you has had the opportunity to review the proposed budget that has been continually processed and reviewed by the Imagine Ministry Team, the Transition Team and the Council on Finance and Administration. This document is not the product of one committee or team, it is, instead a thoughtful proposal submitted by multiple groups as a next step on this complicated and hopeful path.

As you review this budget you will see that it leaves room for growth and reorganization, while still maintaining the needed structure of our Annual Conference. This means that the budget requires a certain amount of trust from each of us as we venture forward. We are just beginning the transition to the structure that we adopted as the Arkansas Annual Conference last June. In the past few months, multiple teams, centers, networks, and task forces have begun to meet and have given input on the changes that need to happen within this budget. However, no one knows exactly what this new structure will look like and thus how this new budget should be organized. We are attempting to leave behind our assumptions and concepts of how we have been organized in the past and so we will be carefully evaluating each area of our conference administration to figure out how and if they support our mission to make disciples of Jesus Christ equipped to transform the world with excellence and passion. This is why, as you view the budget, you will see many of our current budgeted positions and ministries highlighted in orange.

These "oranged" figures are amidst transition. As we begin to structure the various networks and centers these transitional areas will be evaluated as to how and where they will best serve our conference. When the 2013 budget is proposed at next years Annual Conference these areas will look dramatically different than they do today. However the total amount of money budgeted to these areas in will not be exceeded in 2012.

This morning, as we take a look at this proposed budget I would like to point out three changes that we will encounter.

First of all, you will notice a reduction in conference leadership positions from fourteen to nine. This is a result of our decision in June to reduce our districts and our District Superintendents from 9 to 5. This reduction will go in full effect in July 2012. With these changes, our conference leadership positions will consist of five District Superintendents, a Director of Connectional Ministry and Assistant to the Bishop, a Director of the Center for Clergy and Lay Excellence in Leadership, a Director of the Center of Technology, and a Director of Administrative Services and Treasurer. This change in the number of leadership positions will result in a decrease in the administration budget of over $300,000.00.

The second change you will see is the elimination of the Parish and Community Grants, totaling $87,500.00. Rev. Reeves has already given us the reasoning for this elimination. It is essential that we become better stewards of our funds and be mindful that they are being used for the furthering of our mission and in an effort to achieve our vision for our conference, that is to become Congregations and surrounding communities transformed by the Holy Spirit to demonstrate holy living, justice, and love of neighbor. To achieve this vision we are forced to make tough decisions, this is the first of many such decisions that we will have to make during this transitional process.

The final change that you will find in this document is the redirecting half of the Connected in Christ line item during the second half of 2012 to the Center for Clergy and Lay Excellence in Leadership. This is one of the first steps in the transition towards the creation of the new centers and networks.

As I mentioned before, these changes are the results of the prayerful and thoughtful processes of multiple groups. I hope that you will see that all of this in an effort to become a more effective conference that takes seriously our call to spread the message of God's eternal grace and unfailing love.

This transition has already faced many challenges and will face many more in the months and years to come, however, we as an Annual Conference have agreed that these steps are necessary as we journey towards a renewed sense of what it means to do Church. This budget is only the first step towards a much greater and more dramatic change and so on behalf of the council of finance and administration, I recommend its adoption."

QUESTION: Todd-Paul Taulbee questioned the insurance line for district superintendents in the second half of the budget. With five District Superintendents, the amount for the second half should be smaller than the first half. Todd Burris explained that this was caused by the uncertainty of the insurance premiums. Taulbee asked if the amount could be changed to reflect the actual amount of the premiums. Todd said it would be a friendly motion.

MOTION TO AMEND: Taulbee moved that the insurance figure for the District Superintendents be corrected to reflect the actual cost. The Motion to amend PASSED.

REQUEST: Pat Newman of Foreman asked the insurance committee to search for ways to lower the premiums for pastors.

QUESTION: Jimmy Boyd asked about the June apportionment formula motion. The Bishop responded that the motion was referred to the 2012 session, and that CFA will bring a response to that motion in June.

MOTION TO AMEND: Jeff Warrick moved that we amend to budget to accept only the first 6 months of the proposed 2012 budget and defer the second half till the 2012 Annual Conference. After discussion Warrick withdrew his motion.

QUESTION: Roy Smith asked when we would learn how the Personnel Committee and CFA will redistribute the red sections of the proposed 2012 budget. Don Riggin responded that we do not have that information now, but that decision should be made in the spring.

QUESTION: Deborah Bell asked what will happen to the Focus Teams Religion & Race grants. Don Riggin responded that we do not have that information now, but that decision should be made in the spring.

MOTION: Donna Alberts reported that General Conference was recommending a percentage reduction in its budget and the Arkansas Annual Conference should follow similar percentage. Donna suggested that we consider a 3% across the board across the board cut of our budget and made a motion to do so. The motion was ruled out of order since she made her speech before the made the motion.

CLARIFICATION: Jay Clark asked how much of our budget we actually control. Clefton Vaughn replied 20 to 30 %.

CALLING THE QUESTION: Tyler Thompson Called the Question, and his motion was Seconded. The Bishop closed debate.
The motion to call the question. PASSED.

MAIN MOTION: The proposed budget, revised to represent more accurate Health Insurance premiums for the District Superintendents, for 2012 PASSED.

CLOSING WORD AND PRAYER: Rev. Miller-Yow led the singing of "Here I Am Lord."

ADJOURNMENT: Bishop Crutchfield adjourned the session with prayer at 12:32 pm.

The Transition Team has held four meetings since being established and the Work Groups have met numerous times as the members gathered information and developed recommendations for the Transition Team. As expected, much of this work has required information from various parts of the existing conference organization and from other Imagine Ministry teams and task forces. Most of the issues being addressed are in the information-gathering and study phases. The following issues have been approved. Even so, a great deal of additional work will be required to assure the many implementation details have been properly considered and addressed.

- The names of the five districts are:
  Central, Northeast, Northwest, Southeast and Southwest.
- The future office locations of the five districts are:
  Central: Little Rock Area
  Northeast: Batesville
  Northwest: Fort Smith
  Southwest: Arkadelphia
  Southeast: Pine Bluff Area

- Relocation to the new locations shall be completed by July 1, 2014.
- The conference will financially support only one district office beginning January 1, 2013.
- District Superintendents can plan for nine Administrative Assistants through 2013.
- Housing allowances for District Superintendents will be discontinued - each district will provide a parsonage through lease, rental, or purchase by July 1, 2014.
- For the year 2012, the districts will budget for and employ their administrative assistants.
- Beginning January 1, 2013, the Administrative Assistants will become employees of the Arkansas Conference and their salaries and benefits will be paid from the conference budget.
- Beginning January 1, 2013, district financial work will be centralized in the office of the Arkansas Conference Treasurer.
- The current expectation is the Transition Team will complete its work by mid-year 2013.

Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership

The Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership was formed in the Arkansas Annual Conference to foster an environment that continuously leads clergy and laity of the conference toward excellence in leadership development. This work will begin with the mission field of the local church and address the adaptive learning that must occur with clergy and laity working as a team. The adaptive challenge will be to redirect the flow of attention, energy, and resource to an intense concentration on fostering and sustaining an increase in the number of vital congregations effective in making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

In Phase I, The Start Up and Transition Phase, the focus of the Center will be directed in four categories that work with local church mission field.

Areas of Focus: Phase I - Start Up and Transition Phase, June 2012 – 2013.

1. The recruitment, training and deployment of 70 Circuit Elders to the Circuits (Mission Field) in 2012.
2. The recruitment, training and assignment of 30 Congregational Coaches to the Circuits (Mission Fields) in 2012. A customized approach to coaching will be created that addresses the specific work of the mission field as identified in the Imagine Ministry proposal.
3. Laity Development, Equipping, Training and Accountability for Leadership
   The Center will work with laity excellence in the following ways.
   - To connect and equip congregations with tools and resources for congregational revitalization, leadership, accountability, transformation and vitality in the communities they serve. (Core measures #2, 3 and 4.)
   - The Center will also work within the existing congregation to assist in transforming consumer members into citizens of the Kingdom, and to the making of disciples in the surrounding communities of the mission field.
   - The Center will work with the Conference Networks to foster and create a Laity Leadership Network- within each church to provide training and curriculum for intentional accountability and excellence in leadership development.
   - Pilot studies in selective local church settings of various sizes will be launched to study Laity Leadership Development, Training, and Accountability.
   - Congregational assessment and revitalization to identify Ministry Plans for the local church.
   - Utilize the Network of Holiness of Heart and Life for connecting laity to other laity.
   - Laity learning settings for Wesleyan history, doctrine and polity.
   - Mission Field Assessment.

- Small Church Academy.
- Transformation Leadership in the Local Church with key identified laity.
- Church development and revitalization.
- Church Assessment – Consultation with Coach in self-identified categories of local church.
- Technology usage of Online Learning and Communications, Web based.
- To measure congregational outcomes in metrics and non-metric methods (missional descriptors) of becoming Acts 2 congregations. In the usage of metrics, we will collect, report, review and act on statistical information that measure progress in key performance areas to learn and adjust our approaches to leadership, policies, and the use of human and financial resources. In non-metrics, missional descriptors will be identified that define specific fruits and outcomes of a local church that is making a difference in the lives of others.
- Create new avenues for telling mission stories and communicating the need for increased involvement and opportunity for local and world-wide mission engagement.

In addition to the work defined above, the Center for Laity Excellence in Leadership will assume the new church development and congregational transformation work within the conference. During the first three months of implementation, a Transitional Leadership Team of six members chaired by the Director of Center for Excellence will develop a strategic design for equipping congregations with vitality, revitalization, assessment, conflict negotiation, new church starts, and fruitfulness.

4. Clergy Development, Equipping, Accountability , and Training for Leadership

The Center will work with Clergy Excellence in the following ways.

- The Center empowers clergy with resources and skills to equip congregations in the making of disciples for the transformation of the world within the context of the mission field. (Core measure #2, 3, and 4.)
- To connect and equip clergy with tools and resources for congregational revitalization, leadership, accountability, transformation and vitality in the communities they serve. (Core measures #2, 3 and 4.)
- The Center will work with the Cabinet in effectiveness training and evaluation.
- The Connected In Christ work of the conference will be incorporated into a foundational and central role within the Center as it resources, trains and connects clergy and laity teams for shared leadership.
- To resource clergy in the development and implementation of Clergy Ministry Plans.
- The Center's goal is to lead clergy to be accountable, effective, Spirit led, faithful and fruitful.
- The Center will work to affirm the giftedness of each clergy.
- The equipping of clergy with specific resources for professional development in peer to peer leadership groups.
- The recruiting of gifted candidates for ministry.
- Providing resources for a team approach of clergy and lay leadership in congregations.
- Mission Field Assessment.
- Provide resources for clergy development with lay leadership.
- Peer to Peer Group formation – Sustaining Excellence.
- Training of DS's with Circuit Elders and Congregational Coach for the Mission Field.
- Collaborative work with the new Networks of Heart and Life, Center for Technology, and Director of Connectional Ministries.
- Technology usage of Online Learning and Communications, Web based.

Areas of Focus: Phase II – Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership, June 2013-

2014. Work of the Center: Inverting the Initiative from the conference to the local church. In the Phase II work, The Center for Excellence will resource and support the local church mission field, as each church and its leaders have their own conversation, prayer, and discernment about what they believe needs to be different and how it might happen in their own setting of ministry. In this intensive work, the initiative for leadership and change that needs to happen is focused on the local church level. The conference and district will be in the resourcing and supportive role.

Imagine Ministry Task Force
Center for Technology Imagine Ministry Task Force

The Task Force recognizes the significant challenge in developing a technological delivery system that resources local congregations in achieving their goal of "making disciples and transforming communities". Since this endeavor is new to the Arkansas Annual Conference and there are few places for comparison, the Task Force begins its work with the assistance of a "web system" designer. The United Methodist Foundation of Arkansas has provided funding for this consultant relationship. Dr. Jim Pagan has been selected to lead the Task Force in the development of the Center. The target completion date of the design phase is June 1, 2012.

The following steps will be taken:

1) Front-end Analysis
2) Design
3) Development
4) Implementation and Evaluation

The Center of Technology will be created with these beginning thoughts in mind.

The Target Audiences are:

Clergy
Lay leadership

Imagine Ministry Task Force
Holiness of Heart and Life: The Network of Discipleship and Mission

Purpose

The purpose of the Holiness of Heart and Life: The Network of Discipleship and Mission (hereafter referred to as Network) is to create an environment where laity, clergy and Conference staff may post, share experiences, encourage disciplines (means of grace), generate discussion, build awareness, link to resources, discuss different opportunities (social justice and local mission ministry events), create accountability groups, address social issues of injustice, and promote involvement in socio-economic, political, environmental initiatives, etc. The vision of the Network is the transformation of the body of Christ and a re-learning of the full meaning of Wesleyan social holiness. John Wesley emphasized that a person's practice of spiritual disciplines must be encouraged, sustained and held accountable by a community of faith. Therefore, the creation of one Network emphasizing both discipleship and commitment to mission will encourage our progression from holiness of heart to holiness of life, from personal to social, from inward to outward expressions of faith and a blending of excellence (head) and passion (heart). See the Appendix for the Wesleyan rationale that led to the name change.

Description

The Network will be primarily web-based. A team of facilitators, one lead facilitator and up to four others from around the Conference, shall collaborate on the function of the Network, not to create programs, but to pull together current resources and ministries and connect people across the state in shared ministry. A Network facilitator may be either a lay member or clergy member of the Annual Conference. The Network will foster accountability in ministry by honing in on the meaning of "accountability"- "to give an account of your faith." The Network shall create online opportunities and face-to-face gatherings for sharing our faith stories, testifying to the work of God in our midst. The facilitators shall collaborate with the Center Directors, the Director of Conference Ministries and be orchestrated through the technical support of the Center for Technology.

Additional aspects of the Network:

- A specifically designed area for new Christians who are looking for resources and opportunities to get involved
- Various age-level resources and specific connections
- Unique geographic, cultural and ethnic group connections
- Area for participants to share personal passions for ministry and social concerns so that participants in the Network may become resources to the Network

In Relationship to the Core Measures:

1) Rooting all we do in our understanding of Scripture, and personal and social holiness (the foundational principles of United Methodism), so that we revitalize our connection and our ministry instead of being connected by our apportionments, appointments and benefits.

   The Network for Discipleship and Mission will be designed with core measure one in mind. This is the new work that will specifically renew our minds and hearts to our foundational principles of Methodism and Wesley's intent for holiness of heart and life. The Network will revitalize connection through the emphasis on accountability (giving account for one's faith), and sharing our ministry and mission in new ways instead of relying on connection through apportionments, appointments and benefits.

2) Establishing the mission field as the primary place for our attention and resources instead of directing most of our attention and resources to the institutional needs of congregations and clergy.

   The emphasis on the mission field as our primary place for our attention and resources as stated in core measure two will be addressed by the Network as the Network facilitators foster communication with District Superintendents and Circuit Elders to utilize the Network for resourcing and sharing ideas with clergy and laity in each district.

3) Equipping laity and clergy for shared outcomes of transformation with excellence instead of directing resources toward congregational preservation and satisfaction of current members.

   Core measure three will be addressed through the Network as clergy and laity learns to be accountable to sharing our faith stories and seeking connections with one another for the purpose of transforming the body of Christ. The Network shall resource clergy and laity for spiritual formation, academic teaching, spiritual guidance, liturgical experience and small group encounters.

4) Organizing our ministry around the unique geographic, cultural, demographic, and ethnic contexts in the identified mission fields instead of treating every church, district, and conference the same.

   The Network facilitators will need to be intentional about seeking out and encouraging connections for the various geographic, cultural, demographic and ethnic ministries of our mission fields. The Network will be a primary place for sharing transformative ministries and encouraging participation in unique mission field contexts.

Therefore:

1) The Networks for Personal and Social Holiness from the adopted Imagine Ministry proposal is now "Holiness of Heart and Life: The Network for Discipleship and Mission."
2) One individual shall be invited to serve as the lead facilitator and up to four more facilitators will be recruited throughout the Conference. A network facilitator may be either a lay member or clergy member of the Annual Conference. Each facilitator will serve a term (length of term to be determined).
3) It is requested that the Network be budgeted for facilitators' travel, administration and unforeseen expenses. The Center for Technology shall assist the Network with all web-based technologies and needs. A portion of the budget for the Network shall be used as a stipend for a resident Wesleyan scholar to promote our deepened commitment to Wesleyan theology and the United Methodist way. The Wesleyan scholar would fluidly coordinate and collaborate with multiple entities in the Conference, each Center and the Network.

Appendix:

Why Holiness of Heart and Life instead of Personal and Social Holiness … and why one network instead of two?

One of the most obvious changes our task force is proposing is the integration of the two holiness networks into one single network. With that proposed change, we are also suggesting a name change as well, replacing the phrase, "personal and social holiness" with the more accurate "holiness of heart and life." This means the one network would now be named, "Holiness of Heart and Life: The Network of Discipleship and Mission." Since these changes are significant, we thought it would be helpful to explain our reasoning behind them.

The Imagine Ministry report explains the originally proposed holiness networks within a thoroughly Wesleyan framework. It states that the new networks will be "understood in terms of the historic poles of Wesleyan theology and identity – personal and social holiness – that make up the unique practical theology of United Methodists as a people." It also goes on to speak about personal and social holiness as "two central parts of our Wesleyan heritage."

Our task force is very encouraged by the focus of the Imagine Ministry plan on connecting the crucial work of discipleship formation to the Wesleyan heritage of the people called Methodists. We also affirm the strong Wesleyan emphasis on holiness as one of the very core parts of the Wesleyan heritage. But we also want to use this unique opportunity in the history of the Arkansas Conference and its ministries to really get back to the heart of our common Wesleyan tradition – its concepts and its language. To that end, we want to "get inside" the Wesleyan vocabulary when it comes to our use of the language of holiness as Wesley and the early Methodists spoke about it.

As it turns out, the phrase "personal and social holiness" is not Wesleyan at all … in the sense that it does not come from John Wesley's pen. There is also some reason to think that this particular phrasing might not be the ideal way to frame our approach to holiness in the modern age. Here are a few points to explain our task force's discussions around this issue:

- Surely Wesley uses the phrase "social holiness" doesn't he? John Wesley does use the phrase "social holiness" in a very important essay in 1739 to describe the environmental context necessary for the sanctification of Christian believers to be a possibility. And the environmental context he's talking about is one in which devotional practices, acts of worship, and forms of discipleship adopted by individual Christian believers are firmly located within a community of faith. His view on this is essentially that of the Apostles Peter and Paul in the New Testament: when we are baptized we become members of the body of Christ in such a way that we are no longer individuals in a spiritual sense at all. We are instead living stones being built into a spiritual house – a holy nation, a royal priesthood, God's own people. For Wesley, this means that we can "watch over one another in love" (to use a phrase from the General Rules), provoking one another to good works, helping one another when we fall, and celebrating with one another when God wins victories in us. In all of this, we are united by the Holy Spirit so that the holiness that becomes manifest is a holiness of the body. Apart from one another, we can never find the joy of this redeemed life. But together, we are made holy by the Spirit of Christ. This is the meaning of social holiness in Wesley's teaching.

Conversely, Wesley refuses to refer to the individual activities of Christians as forms of "personal holiness" (or "solitary holiness" in the language of the essay in question). The reason is that he's afraid it will communicate the wrong message about how Christians receive transformation through God's grace. Thus, he says famously, "There is no holiness but social holiness." It is actually the only place in the entire Wesleyan corpus where he uses the exact phrase "social holiness," but as a concept, it is infused throughout his entire practical theology.

- Okay, so what about "personal holiness" in Wesley's writing? The phrase "personal holiness" is used elsewhere by Wesley in a very limited number of places. But it is not used in the same essay as "social holiness." And when Wesley does use it, he's not using it in the way people do today when they invoke "personal and social holiness." He speaks of "personal holiness" exclusively in writings dedicated to his arguments with the Calvinists of his day, and he means the phrase as the companion to something like "Christ's holiness." That is, Wesley wants to talk about the holiness (or righteousness) of Christ applied to believers in justification and the holiness (or righteousness) of persons that grows over time in sanctification. We tend to want to talk about personal holiness as individual or private acts of devotion that connect us to God. The point Wesley is making about personal holiness is actually quite different and is concerned with the relation between justification and sanctification rather than the way to understand different elements within sanctification itself.
- So what's the difference? Our tendency as latter-day Methodists is to want to speak of personal and social holiness as if this is a division within sanctification. We want to talk about the personal (or even private) acts of the individual as if this is one avenue of becoming holy. And we want to talk about the public or social acts of a congregation ("in the church" through worship or "in the world" through mission) as if that is another avenue of becoming holy. Thus, at some point along the way (and it isn't at all clear when or why) Methodists started talking about "personal and social holiness." But this isn't Wesleyan. At best, it is Wesleyish.
- So why the confusion? While we don't know where or when people started to speak about "personal and social holiness," one particular reason for confusion is not hard to determine once we know the connotations around the word, "society." In our time, we think of society as the world around us – the social, political, and economic world in which the church exists. So it should be no surprise that "social holiness" makes us think most directly about how we carry the gospel into that world. But in Wesley's day, the word "society" was often used (and very often used by Wesley) in a way that carries it closer to the Latin root of the term. That root is socius in the singular and socii in the plural, and it refers to the comrades around oneself, with whom one identifies and shares a common cause. You've probably heard about the early Methodist "societies" which is what Methodist congregations were called before Methodism separated from the Church of England and became a church in its own right. That's the way Wesley most often speaks of "society" and "social." So you can think of "social holiness" as the holiness that exists within the life of the society. In our own parlance, the closest equivalent would be to speak of "congregational holiness."
- So what's at stake? The reason the use of discipline in our language is important is because language shapes the way we think. And when we divide the reality of holiness into personal and social forms, then we communicate the belief that there is such a thing as a purely private or personal faith. In a culture that seems to become more individualistic by the day, the temptation for most people to gravitate toward the personal holiness side-of-things will only become stronger. And the irony of such a state of affairs would be that this is exactly what Wesley was trying to guard against!
- So what's the solution? We believe the solution is to take Wesley at his word and really buy into the belief that "there is no holiness but social holiness." That means that all our devotional practices, our acts of worship, our practices of discipleship, and our efforts at mission & outreach, are ultimately conducted with the environment of social holiness. They are either inherently social in nature and must be pursued directly within the community of faith. We can become holy insofar as we are living, working, worshiping, and witnessing with other Christian believers. And this calls us to be rooted in local churches and the Sunday schools, small groups, and other ministries that make them up. In that way, all the holiness manifest within us is social holiness, whether it comes through Scripture study, celebrating the Lord's Supper, prayer, fasting, discipleship mentoring, mutual witness, or missional outreach!

When you consider the logic of Wesley's theology of holiness, then it starts to make sense that thinking in terms of a single, integrated network for holiness makes a lot of sense. For one reason, it allows us to think of holiness in the way that Wesley wants us to do: as a manifestation of the Holy Spirit in the life of the Christian community as a whole. Individual Christians within that community can themselves exhibit holy lives to be sure, but they only become (and remain!) holy insofar as they are knit into the Christian community itself.

Wesley's teaching on holiness also helps us to understand how thinking in terms of holiness of heart and life is the way to go if we want to adopt a strongly Wesleyan phrase to describe how we intend to teach holiness among the Methodists of today.

For example, John Wesley summarizes his view of what it means to be a Methodist Christian in his 1742 essay, The Character of a Methodist. It is here that Wesley describes a Methodist as, "a Christian, not in name only, but in heart and in life. He is inwardly and outwardly conformed to the will of God, as revealed in the written Word." That phrase – in heart and in life – is one that takes great prominence thereafter in Wesley's theology. It is the way he prefers to describe holiness in all its fullness when he is trying to describe the transformation that Christ brings us through his grace. In the new birth of the Spirit, a believer is renewed inwardly and has his soul regenerated: this is the very beginning of sanctification. That inward transformation is "holiness of heart," and when the soul (or heart) is transformed, the believer begins to see that his life changes as well. The love that fills his soul spills over, and he finds that Christian friendship, the study of Scripture, worship in the great congregation, and outreach to the downtrodden are all things that he finds inexpressible joy in doing.

If we focus on a single Network of Discipleship and Mission and frame that network through the very Wesleyan notion of Holiness of Heart and Life, then our task force believes we can begin to truly get at the core of Wesley's own teaching about how holiness becomes a reality in the lives of Christian believers. First, we will be keeping holiness as a "unitary concept" and not dividing it into private and social realms. Second, we will be teaching our folk that holiness is something that transforms us both inwardly and outwardly, so that there is no holiness that is not both central to my soul and central to the way I live my life. And thirdly, we will be teaching that discipleship (in our churches) and mission (to the world) are both intimately forms of social holiness in the sense that they are the ways in which we become holy together through the God the Holy Spirit.

Task Force on Ethnic Ministries

The Task Force on Ethnic Ministries has developed a working guideline for the Arkansas Annual Conference to consider. This is a living document, malleable to the circumstances of the Annual Conference and should be transformed by the mission field needs of the congregation. We have developed three broad topics to capture the current needs and future opportunities of ethnic ministries. These are not the only topics to be discussed but are a baseline for our continued discussion regarding ethnic ministries in the Arkansas Conference. These topics are: Discerning, Connecting, and Inspiring.

Discerning

Ethnic ministries in the United Methodist church serve an important role in the lives of thousands of people across the state. As a Conference we should lift up the rich history of these ministries and how they have played a vital role in making the Arkansas Annual Conference what it is today. As we become aware of the vital role of ethnic ministries in our communities across the state we should also realize the evolution of our cultural competency and how it relates to our attitudes, actions, and interactions regarding ethnic persons in Arkansas

The General Commission on Religion and Race defines cultural competency as:

> "…a process of developing proficiency in effectively responding in a cross cultural context. It is the process by which individuals, agencies, and systems integrate and transform awareness of assumptions, values, biases, and knowledge about themselves and others to respond respectfully and effectively across diverse cultures, language, socioeconomic status, race, ethnic background, religion, gender, sexual orientation, and ability. Cultural competence recognizes, affirms, fosters, and values the strengths of individuals, families, and communities and protects and preserves the worth and dignity of each (State of Wisconsin Mental and Physical Health Services).

Language plays a vital role as it pertains to ethnic ministries. How we communicate, both as individuals and as the Church, sets the tone for the level of trust and relationship-building for our societies. By understanding our history and learning appropriate language with clear unambiguous meanings we will be better equipped to identify the mission fields so that we can be active participants. By transforming ourselves first; we can transform the world.

As we become aware of the vital role of ethnic ministries in our communities across the state we should realize that both history and language play vital roles as they pertain to ethnic ministries. By understanding our history and how it has affected the attitudes, actions, and interactions between races and by learning to use appropriate language with clear unambiguous meanings we will be better equipped both to engage our mission fields as active participants and to develop the necessary trust for relationships to form. By transforming ourselves first we can transform the world!

In the Arkansas Annual Conference there are 135,682 total members. Of this total, 4% of active members self-identified as ethnic. In comparison to Census figures, 23% of the population of the state of Arkansas has identified themselves as ethnic. The following table describes the demographic make-up of the United Methodist Church in Arkansas:

Arkansas Conference Membership by ethnic categories

Asian	377
African American	3,340
Hispanic	293
Native American	104
Pacific Islander	27
White	131,299
Multi-racial	229

An analysis of these figures clearly shows that the United Methodist Church in Arkansas is not effectively addressing the needs of ethnic communities. It is imperative that the Church find more innovative ways to address the needs of ethnic communities in our state.

Connecting

The Taskforce on Ethnic Ministries should be charged with the task of identifying strategic ethnic communities in our state where the Conference will focus resources. Once a mission field has been identified, this ministry team will:

(1) Recommend to the Annual Conference specific strategies on how to reach these communities;
(2) Determine resources for supporting the work in the community (funding, technology, leadership identification and empowerment, etc.);
(3) Offer to already-established local churches the support of congregational coaches versed in the history and language of ethnic communities in order to help local congregations develop cultural competencies and new and innovative ways to reach the communities in which they reside;
(4) Make available through both Conference and General Church resourcing (Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence and SBC21) resources to develop and implement programs to reach their communities.

In addition, the Arkansas Conference should reaffirm its commitment to ethnic ministries on a statewide basis by offering cultural competency training to all Elders and local pastors in the history, language, and ethos of ethnic cultures. This training could be done in several formats. Possible avenues would be:

- Training through the Conference Board of Ordained Ministry (including District Committees on Ordained Ministry);

- District Conferences;
- modules during Connected in Christ retreats;
- continuing education classes; and local church-sponsored events.

A function of the Committee for Ethnic Ministries should be to develop on-going training events for pastors and congregations.

We recognize that mandatory pastoral training in ethnic ministries may not be possible but nonetheless such training must be perceived as a priority across the conference structure. We also realize that local churches may not have resources to start new concentrated ministries but they should be aware of who resides in their true mission field. The Conference should offer these training opportunities to local churches and pastors as they review census figures and effectively discern the most grace-filled avenue of ministry.

Inspiring

Recently, Brian McLaren[1] shared some "Thoughts on Eschatology, Diversity, and Criticism" with writer Darren King:

> I think the biggest thing is for individuals to build relationships. White pastors need to reach out to Latina pastors, or Native American pastors, or African American pastors, or Asian pastors. If leaders build the relationships, I think they set an example for their congregations. Of course, it works the other way too - there can be grass-roots movements of neighborliness that can have a far-reaching effect.
> I think it's good to remember that different religious communities - whether we're talking about denominations or ethnic groupings - are at different places. Some may not need the emergent conversation as much as others, at least not right now. Some might be less ready for it. So I don't think anybody should be pressured to be involved, but those involved should always be hospitable and welcome others in who are interested - and their contributions should be welcomed.
> - http://www.precipicemagazine.com/brian-mclaren-interview.htm

While it is easy to say that The United Methodist Church in Arkansas must continue to build relationships across barriers of race, ethnicity, and culture, it is difficult to inspire people to do so. With all of the mechanisms in place to train and provide possibilities only those individuals and congregations willing to make an intentional effort will be affected.

This is our ongoing struggle: How do you inspire pastors, laity, and congregations to change and to work within the mission field where they are planted, especially if that mission field bears little resemblance to them in culture, language, or ethnicity?

2012 Budget Summary

To the October 29th, 2011 Session of the Arkansas Annual Conference:

The 2012 budget proposal before the Annual Conference is the first step in our commitment, as Arkansas United Methodists, to live fully into our new Mission and Vision Statements. These statements, along with the Core Measures, have shaped the way that we have chosen to apply our financial resources. We have prayerfully addressed the needs of our current financial structure and offer the following proposal in an effort to accommodate the changes called for in the Imagine Ministry Proposals adopted by the June 2011 Annual Conference.

As you review this budget, you will see that it reflects the dynamic nature of this process. After three and one half months of meeting in an effort to begin to transition our Arkansas Annual Conference into our new structure, the Transition Team realized that it was neither feasible nor wise to rush through this process. There are many aspects of this transition that must be addressed and lived into and thus we have chosen to approach our use of financial resources in steps. This is our first step, a budget that gives us the flexibility to ask tough questions and receive insightful answers. We know, also, that some aspects of this new way of doing things will have to be figured out as we move forward, and we know that in these moments the Holy Spirit will be there continuing to transform us. In June 2012, additional adjustments will be presented as we gain a clearer picture of our future.

One of the most challenging aspects of this process is taking a close look at all areas of our current conference staffing structure and asking how and if these expenditures lead us towards making disciples of Jesus Christ equipped to transform the world with excellence and passion. This will be an ongoing effort of the Transition Team, the Imagine Ministry Team, and the Council on Finance and Administration. As these groups work together, our hope is that we will continue to be transformed into a more effective annual conference and thus become congregations that are better empowered to demonstrate holy living, justice, and love of neighbor.

What we ask for on this day is your patience, trust, and prayers. We are in the middle of a bold transition into new territory. As we continue to explore this renewed vision of how to do church, we know that changes will need to be made and as you review the proposed budget you will recognize that we have proposed some changes to start in January 2012 and others to start in July 2012. For this reason we have divided the 2012 budget into two parts, January- June 2012 and July- December 2012. Throughout this proposal, and especially in the July-December 2012 column, you will see that there is some color-coding that will help you decipher the proposed transitions. All those cells marked in yellow are items that have changed as a result of our approved Imagine Ministry Proposal. All those cells marked in orange are items that are still being reviewed by the Transition Team and Imagine Ministry Team. Our hope is that we will be able to discern the ongoing needs of our conference as we build our future together, to do this we must have the flexibility to evaluate all areas of our conference ministries.

We would like to highlight some of the major changes you will encounter in this budget proposal:

- Reducing fourteen conference leadership positions to nine by July 2012.
- The nine are:
  - Five District Mission Strategist and Deployment Specialists (DS)
  - Director of Connectional Ministry and Assistant to the Bishop
  - Director of the Center for Clergy and Lay Excellence in Leadership
  - Director of the Center of Technology
  - Director of Administrative Services and Treasurer
- Establishing a Center for Technology by July 2012.
- This budget will include compensation for a director, administrative assistant, office expenses and programing funds not to exceed $195,000.00.
- Establishing a Center for Clergy and Lay Excellence in Leadership by July 2012.
- This budget will include compensation for a director, administrative assistant, office expenses, travel, and training for circuit elders and congregational coaches (there will be no stipend) not to exceed $184,833.00
- Establishing the Network for Holiness of Heart and Life by July 2012.
- This budget will include a stipend for a Wesley Scholar, facilitator's expenses, along with funds for travel and expenses for the networks not to exceed $50,000.00.
- Redirecting one half of the Connected in Christ line item ($71,250.00).
- Elimination of the Parish and Community Grants line item ($87,500.00).
- All current conference staff positions will be reviewed to determine how and if their ministry aligns with the Vision and Mission Statements along with the Core Measures.

These results will be reported to our next annual conference.

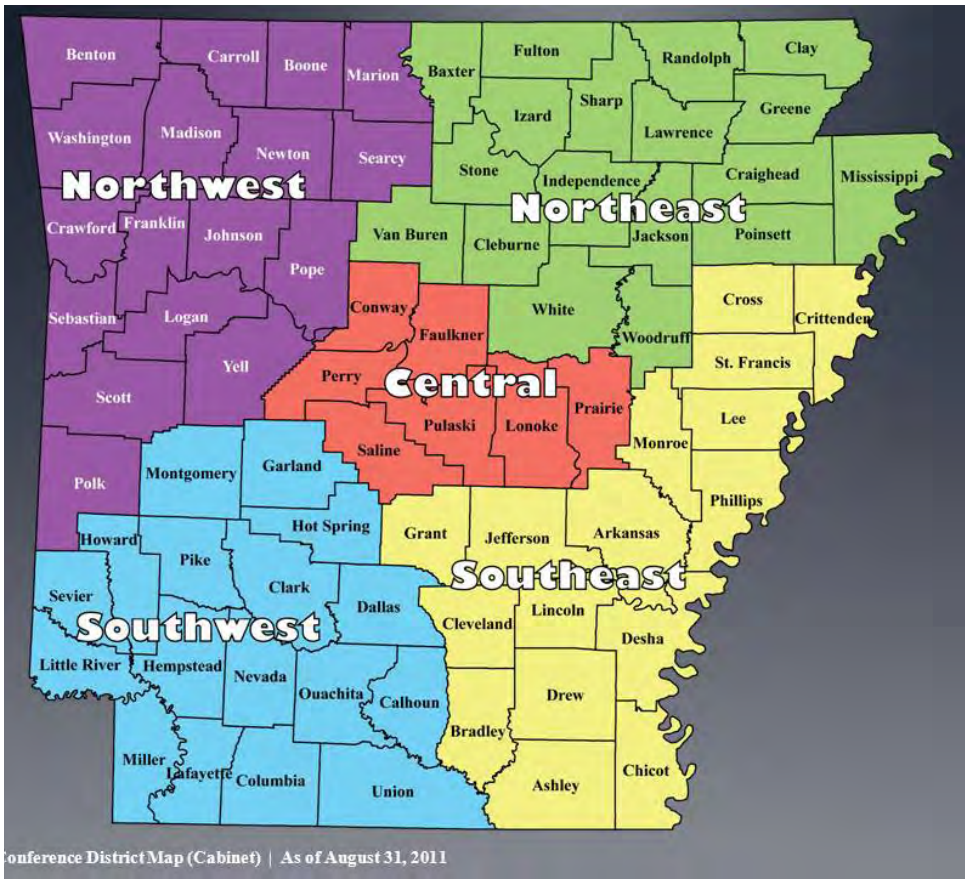

As you consider this proposal, we ask that you continue to support this transition process with your trust and with your prayers. We know that there is still a lot of work to be done, however we trust fully in God's will for us as The Church and seek always the movement and guidance of the Holy Spirit. We are on this journey together and, step-by-step, we will continue to move forward into our sure and hope-filled future.

Photos of the Called Session October 29, 2011

The Rev. Brittany Richardson Watson, a member of the transition team's budget task force, presents the 2012 budget at the Oct. 29, 2011 Called Session of Annual Conference.

The Rev. Rodney Steele speaks during discussion of the proposed budget at the Oct. 29 Called Session of the 2011 Annual Conference.

The Rev. Bennie Harmon speaks to the Oct. 29 Called Session of the 2011 Annual Conference during discussion of a motion he presented at the June gathering. The motion, which had been referred to the Called Session to allow for further study, would have set district superintendent salaries at 120 percent of the average Elder's salary. It did not pass.

The Rev. Steve Coburn, a member of the transition team tasked with implementing the Imagine Ministry plan, presents the team's report to the Oct. 29 Called Session of the Arkansas Annual Conference.

Studies show that an income based formula is better understood and accepted. Because of the acceptance of direct-billed pensions yesterday, the Task Force can go forward with developing models for income based formulas for the Arkansas Conference, based on Table 3 of the Year end reports. A recommendation from the Task Force will be brought to Annual Conference in 2013.

FROM THE AGENDA:

WHERE SHALL THE 2013 ANNUAL CONFERENCE BE HELD?
The 2013 session will be at Little Rock, Sunday to Wednesday, June 9-12, 2013
The 2014 session will be at Rogers, Friday to Sunday afternoon June 20 - 22, 2014
The 2015 session will be at Hot Springs, Friday to Sunday afternoon, June 12-14, 2015
The Conference Session Planning Committee is looking for additional convention center sites across Arkansas to host our future annual conference sessions.

{The Conference Session Planning Committee sets the location; the Bishop sets the date.}

NOTE: The rationale of the Conference Session Planning Committee for the move to Friday - Sunday Conference sessions beginning in 2014: to hopefully increase the attendance of laity and part-time local pastors who would typically only have to take one day off of work instead of three; and hopefully this would allow younger lay members to be elected by local churches.

WHEN SHALL MOVING DAY BE?
Moving day shall be Tuesday, June 26, 2012. (Date set by the cabinet.) Clergy who are to move following appointment changes at the Annual Conference shall receive the June compensation from the charge they are leaving; thus the conference appointive year and pay period shall be July 1 through June 30.

FIRST SUNDAY TO PREACH IN NEW APPOINTMENT:
The first Sunday to preach in a new appointment is July 1, 2012.

ANNOUNCEMENTS: Crossman made various announcements.

A CELEBRATION OF AN APPOINTMENT AND BEING IN MINISTRY TOGETHER: The Bishop read the Appointment changes for the 2012-13 Conference year. The reading was followed by the traditional singing of "A Charge to Keep I Have."

BENEDICTION: C.E. McAdoo gave the benediction for the Conference.
ADJOURNMENT: The Conference was adjourned at 1:25 p.m.

Bishop honors Conference

Bishop Charles N. Crutchfield blessed the annual conference with his final episcopal address Monday. He expressed his thankfulness to the Conference and to the people Arkansas for his eight years in residence. He had a long list of what he will miss about Arkansas concluding with the people of the Arkansas Annual Conference for our courage in developing and adopting the Imagine Ministry proposals, in recognizing that making disciples requires being disciples ourselves, and in making a difference in the lives of others. Change and transformation are to be expected and the Conference recognizes that.

Since it takes a disciple to make a disciple, we will be held accountable to our vows of baptism, membership, and ordination. We are responsible to see that we ourselves are the disciples we should be in order to make disciples.

Christian ministry is always hopeful. We spend our lives in Christian service, faithful to what God has called us to whether or not we ever see the results we long for, knowing that the work of the ministry itself is our reward.

Twenty-nine ministers retired

Late Monday morning, a Service of Worship Recognizing the 2012 Clergy Retirees was held. This year, for the first time, recorded remembrances of the retirees were presented to the Conference in place of the usual retirement speeches. This allowed even those unable to attend Conference to share with the Conference, to express gratitude for the churches they've had the pleasure to serve, and to tell us their plans. The edited reminiscences touched many.

Thirteen of the retirees are Elders (FE), seven are Associate Member (AM) Deacons, one is a Full-Member Deacon (FD), and eight are Local Pastors (LP). Three were on incapacity leave at the time of their retirement. One additional Elder whose retirement was approved, Larry Pearce, had been on honorable location.

Those who are ordained, Elders and Deacons, must receive approval of the Clergy Session to enter retired status. All received overwhelming approval and they, along with the retiring Local Pastors, were honored by the Clergy Session for their service.

Each retiree received a certificate of retirement from the bishop's office, a plaque of recognition and appreciation from the Board of Ordained Ministry, a United Methodist Clergy pin, and the appreciation of the Bishop.

NEWS BRIEFS

Sheila Vancura received a Waterford crystal cross upon her retirement in appreciation for her 11 years in the Bishop's office.

Task forces on youth, children, and young adults will come up with a detailed definition of "disciple" in order to later define how to make disciples.

Pension and insurance

The proposal to unite the work of pensions and insurance into one committee was APPROVED.

The Conference retiree health care is deemed unsustainable. We currently provide retired clergy with secondary insurance. The proposal to pay 10% less of health insurance premiums of current retirees PASSED after much discussion.

The proposal to pay a maximum of 80% of the retiree health insurance plan (Plan B in the Pre-Conference Journal) PASSED. Retirees with sufficient years of service have all of their insurance paid by the Conference. The Conference will now pay 80% of the premium for future retirees with at least 30 years of service.

The fourth issue taken up concerned billing churches directly for their own pastors' pensions. Pension is now apportioned according to the total normal expenses of the churches. In the proposal, each church would be responsible for its own pension based only on the pastors' salary, utilities, and housing allowance (those items on which the minister pays Social Security). Under the current formula, 254 churches in the Conference are partially subsidizing the pensions of 415 churches. The proposal from the Direct Bill Pension Study recommended that the direct billing be phased in over four years to help churches adjust. The Annual Conference will continue to make up any shortage resulting from failure of churches to pay. In the past, shortfall has been made up from the Reserve Fund; under the proposal, the direct billing will include a pad to make up for any shortfall. The proposal PASSED.

Laity address

Lay Leader expressed his thanks to Bishop Crutchfield's service to the Arkansas Annual Conference.

It is time for us to enter the Promised Land.

We do not want God to have to check to see if we are really down here. We want to respond to His call on our lives to help the needy, to give our lives to peace, and to make disciples of Jesus Christ. It may be more of a challenge than we want, but it is His call anyway.

This is not a time for laziness, but a time to hear Jesus say, "Come; follow me."

This General Conference ended up accomplishing far less than the delegates hoped. Discipleship-making is not dependent on General Conference; disciples are made at the local church.

EUB history study proposed

A motion was introduced by Rev. Bennie Harmon to require the study the books History of the United Brethren in Christ and History of the EUB Church by all those in Course of Study and in seminary.

It was referred to Board of Ordained Ministry.

Imagine No Malaria challenge

The UM Foundation has provided a matching grant of $333,000 for Imagine No Malaria. Total gifts will be effectively doubled to a maximum ot $333,000.

We hope to raise $1,000,000.

New AAC staffing

As a result of restructuring, the Conference Youth Minister position will be reduced from full time to one quarter time.

It has been several years since the Conference had a Children's Minister on staff. A quarter-time position will be added at the Conference office.

General Conference report

Rules changes kept General Conference from getting a lot of its work done. Hours that the committees could work were limited and it was no longer required that the body vote on the proposals. Many proposals that passed committees never make it to the floor before the conference ended.

GC voted a restructuring plan but it was overturned by Jurisdictional Council. Time did not allow it to be revisited.

Guaranteed appointment of Elders was eliminated, but the Jurisdictional Council is deciding if the vote will stand.

UM seminaries will lose 1/3 of funding if at least 40% of instructors are not UM.

Forty percent of the delegates were from outside the US. Twenty percent of the total cost of holding the conference was for translation.

CORR & COSROW report

Sunday Evening Worship: While there was some diversity in those who lead worship in various parts of the liturgy; it was noted that there was a lack of diversity in the choir and as communion stewards.

Those in the processional was a lack of male youth and of ethnic diversity. Ushers lacked both age and ethnic diversity. Inclusive language was appreciated in the liturgy & hymns.

Our Conference preacher used a variety of illustrations using both female and male authors and stories.

Monday Session & Retirement: Appreciation is given to our bishop for recognizing in his address a variety of people from different ethnic identities. Still hearing some refer to pastors being "he or him" when "he or she" or "her and him" are more appropriate in conversations around the conference floor.

Please note that the monitoring reports or written comments for these monitoring agencies may be placed in the yellow folder on the COSROW table. All concerned will be addressed through these reports or direct private communications with various coordinators or persons.

There are some that do not understand the monitoring work of these commissions. It is not to be petty or to say the worship or presentations are substandard or horrible. While our monitors have enjoyed the times of worship and presentations, our task is to take notice of who is and is not included in our conference in terms of race, gender and age. We hold a mirror up to ourselves as a conference to see how we are doing.

Tuesday Session to 3:00 p.m.: Presenters were 38% female and 62% male, 25% lay and 75% clergy, 13% racial ethnic persons and 87% white. No youth or young adults in the morning.

Speakers from floor: 22% female and 78% male, 26% lay and 74% male, 4% racial ethnic persons and 96% white 4% youth/young adult and 21% older adult. Video – Imagine No Malaria: 36% female and 64% male, 40% lay and 60% clergy, 15% racial ethnic persons and 85% white, 14% youth/young adult and 42% older adult.

THE ARKANSAS CONFERENCE DAILY DIGEST

A Publication of The Arkansas Conference of The United Methodist Church

June 13, 2012 | 10th Session of the Arkansas Annual Conference | Number 3

NEWS BRIEFS

Nebraska, Kansas East, and Kansas West annual conferences approved merger effective January 1, 2014. The new conference will be named Great Plains Annual Conference.

UMCOR Sagar Brown honored Rev. Ed Wyers as the first ever recipient of the 20-year service pin.

The new structure and new committees will go into efffect July 1, with common sense to handle any rough spots.

Apportionments

The task group to study apportionments found evidence that income is a better indicator of a church's ability to pay than expenses. Six annual conferences have recently begun to calculate apportionments based on income. Until the issue direct billing of pensions was decided yesterday, the task group was not able to judge what the impact of an income-based apportionment would be.

Churches will be given until August 1 to make corrections to Table III of last year's year-end report to the Conference. The task group will then examine the data on several models to develop a new apportionment formula.

Meetings announcing the results will be held around the Conference in the fall.

A proposal for a new apportionment formula will be brought to Conference next year.

Resolutions draw controversy

#1: Stewardship. Established guidelines for local churches in the Conference for creating and enhancing a culture of stewardship and generosity. PASSED

#2: A Respectful Approach to our Differing Views. Because UMs in the Conference have differing views on homosexuality and other issues, we will approach these differences with respect and humility, giving witness to the love of God for all.

The resolution was amended to add the UM language on homosexuality from Paragraph 161.f of the Social Principles. Attempts to change language in the rationale were out of order as the rationale is not voted on. An amendment to remove any reference to homosexuality and just say that faithful UMs in the Conference have differing view on many issues failed. PASSED.

#3: Encouraging Sacred Conversations on Human Sexuality. All congregations and districts in the Conference will hold a series of sacred conversations on human sexuality with biblical and Disciplinary references and scientific information under the Wesleyan Rules of Holy Conferences.

An amendment by addition to create a task force to develop curriculum to teach human sexuality based on Scripture and the Discipline was accepted with the addition that members of Reconciling Ministries would be on the task force along with members of Methodist Foundation for Social Action and the Confessing Movement of Arkansas. An amendment which was amended to delete "against gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgendered individuals," and "and proper scientific information" failed. PASSED.

#4 Bullying. We condemn bullying and will continue to provide safe places of young people and strongly suggest that all governments and school systems enact strong measures including criminal penalties against bullies.

An amendment to delete "and strongly suggest that all governments and school systems enact strong measures against bullies, including significant civil and criminal penalties against the offenders," which was attempted to be amended several times, failed. An amendment to add mandatory counseling but drop criminal charges failed. PASSED.

#5: Gambling. AAC reaffirms the Social Principles concerning gambling, asks that UMs decline to sign any petition placing gambling measures on the ballot, and asks that UMs support Stop Casinos Now Committee. PASSED.

Standing Rules revised and adopted

Standing Rules were simplified to remove extraneous material such as the definition of "Clergy" which is already defined in the Discipline. Two of four amendments were passed by the Conference. Paragraph 3c was amended to allow persons to serve as trustee on more than one UM-related institution of the AAC at a time. Most of those boards are not elected by the Annual Conference.

The rules were further amended to require that a minimum of two youth and young adults in each district be members of the Annual Conference. The current number is one per disctrict, but the number of districts is being reduced from nine to five.

What's next?

The following three Conferences will meet in Little Rock, in Rogers, and in Hot Springs.

We meet in Little Rock June 9-12, 2013. Conferences in 2014 and 2015 will be from Friday through Sunday afternoon. Conference meets June 20-22 in 2014 and June 12-14 in 2015.

COSROW & CORR monitoring report

Monitoring report for Tuesday evening and Wednesday was not available at press time.

Episcopal Address, June 11, 2012

2012 Arkansas Annual Conference

Bishop Charles N. Crutchfield

I have been asked what I will miss as I leave the Arkansas Annual Conference and the active episcopacy of our church. I will miss church pot luck suppers where the first five dishes are fried catfish, fried chicken, fried potatoes, fried okra and fried hush puppies! I will miss opening the nation-wide United Methodist Reporter and feeling a certain pride because two of the continuing columns are written by young Arkansas clergy. I will miss the beauty of driving down "the pig trail" and the glory of Mount Eagle and the wonder of the Buffalo River. I will miss shivering and waiting down at the River Market in Little Rock for the Easter Sunrise Service sponsored by Pulaski Heights. I will miss the Pentecostal power of one of Ronnie Miller-Yow's sermons and the thoughtful devotionals shared in the cabinet as we begin each meeting. I will miss the sense of history and place that is so much a part of Arkansas. And yes, I will really miss seeing the Razorbacks whip up on LSU – Woooo, pig! Sooee!"

But that which I will most miss is seeing three or four babies baptized on one Sunday morning in a large church. I will miss the faithfulness of the choir in a county seat congregation. I will really miss worshiping in a church with 85 in attendance, with 24 children of the 85 going to the front of the church at the time of the children's meditation.

What ever else one may say about the United Methodist Church, our strength and our glory has never been in the General Conference with all its theological and political agendas. It is not in the general boards and agencies. Our strength and our capacity to serve the mission field is in the local church.

The United Methodist churches of Arkansas have had the courage and the vision and the will to cross the Red Sea, journey into the wilderness and launch into a new and yet uncharted future. You are setting aside the "we've always done it this way" rubric and are replacing it with a vision for the future. You are willing to speak of "purpose" and "mission" in new and innovative ways. You have been willing to step out in faith with a new, emerging, evolving conference structure, and you are willing to embrace a new model with circuit elders and coaches. This conference is unique in saying we want to bring the theological vision and wisdom of a Wesleyan scholar to the decision making tables year round. This is bold. It is different. The institution of the Network of Holiness of Heart and Life is an invitation to grassroots innovation and creation of opportunities for ministry all across Arkansas. This takes courage, a willingness to dare and to risk for the sake of claiming God's promised future. I admire your courage, and will miss not being associated with it daily.

Are we finished? No. Are there yet questions? Certainly. Of course, it will not be perfect. We will recognize the need for continuing change and adaptation as we engage the future that God has prepared for us. We are the daughters and sons of John Wesley who believe we are going ON to perfection. The conversation is beginning, not ending. There will be course corrections and changes as needed. That is the way of a living, breathing, adapting, evolving organism. That is the way of a movement, a Wesleyan, Methodist movement. Change and transformation are not the exception, but the anticipated and expected.

Through the core values you have adopted, you have made it clear that you are not willing to be self-satisfied observers of the status quo in this kingdom building business. It takes a disciple to make a disciple. Another way of saying this is that we know we will all, laity and clergy alike, be held accountable to our vows of baptism, church membership, and ordination. Our embrace of the means of grace – prayer, study and meditation on the Word and words, sharing in worship and the Sacraments – will be seasoned with the creativity of our minds and the activity of our hands in the dirty, messy, yet joyous business of building the Kingdom of God and of making disciples of Jesus Christ. Now, we must look deep within our hearts to see if there is a disciple inside, who will make disciples outside for the Kingdom. The focus is on creating stronger, more vital congregations. The emphasis is on the mission field locally and around the world. This is not about insiders who know the secret words, but about outsiders who need to hear the word and see it made flesh. Jesus reminds us that there are others who must hear the Gospel. John Wesley has said the world is our parish.

There are two official fields of mission endeavor beyond the annual conference. The Russia Initiative focuses on support for several local churches and on support of Moscow Seminary. The seminary needs our support. We have the opportunity to provide scholarships for young men and women who have been called to the tremendous, yet daunting challenge of proclaiming the Good News in a difficult and often hostile environment.

Water wells for Congo is the other major emphasis. You have responded gloriously. Wells are being dug. Five new wells are anticipated during this drilling season. The funds for well drilling are held at the Advance Special Office in New York until the sites are selected and plans for drilling are completed. Then the funds are released. We are fortunate to have a financial cushion right now.

This gives us an opportunity to temporarily shift our focus, with the blessing of the North Katanga Annual Conference, to "Imagine No Malaria." We have been asked to be a vanguard conference leading the rest of the church in our response to a $75 million pledge made in 2008 by the General Conference. Our United Methodist Foundation of Arkansas has provided us with a matching grant of $333,000. There is no apportionment, no grand campaign plan, just an invitation and an opportunity to for your church and your church organizations to help us match dollar for dollar the challenge grant. The first $100,000 we raise will go toward acquisition of a new aircraft for Wings of the Morning. This new aircraft is an integral part of the delivery system that has the potential to wipe out malaria by 2015. If we raise $500,000, it is like saving 50,000 lives. If we raise $2M we will save 200,000 lives. You want to transform the world. Here is your chance.

As we are seen to be a people of holiness of both heart and life, personal and social faith in action, we will be the disciples that make disciples. I don't know if it was his greatest fear, but Mr. Wesley spoke of his concern, not that the Methodist movement would disappear, but, that it would lose its center, its beating heart. He feared we might lose our passion for people's souls. We know that faith which lives and breathes its passion for creating disciples of the Master is our highest calling.

Her name was Hazel. I first saw her sanding tip-toe on top of a small step ladder trying to balance her 72 year old, five-foot frame as she put up wall paper in the bathroom of our first parsonage. When the stewardship campaign came in October and individuals reluctantly accepted the names of those to go see about pledges, with a smile she took the names of the toughest calls and went out the door proclaiming, "It is a privilege to ask for money for the Lord." She always returned with pledges, solid pledges that were always paid.

She was tough. I was told to be careful of her because the preceding pastor had said something from the pulpit she did not think appropriate and she stood up and challenged him right then and there. On Easter Sunday morning, no less!

The heart of her call to ministry was to children. She made a promise to God that she would teach the kindergarten Sunday school class in that small local church until one of her little ones would become an ordained minister in the United Methodist Church. For almost fifty years in that small, rural, New Mexico mountain church, she taught that class. Whether there was one child or ten, Hazel was present, patient, prepared, with arms opened wide. She taught that class with love, and persistence, and grace and expectation. Her ministry was all about those little children, never about her.

Hazel kept her promise to God to teach, until death finally prevented her return to the class room. She never saw the hope of an ordained pastor realized. But she persisted until the day she died believing that she could, indeed, would, make a difference in the life of one child, in and through the ministry of that little church, and that child would make a difference for many. What Hazel did not realize was that in the grace of God, though her persistent faithfulness across 50 years, she was the difference maker. In the end her promise was realized. She had been the face of God's love and grace and compassion for the many.

We all need to be Hazel's, I think – down on our knees praying, in our homes preparing, in our seats worshiping, out on the street in the name of Jesus without embarrassment, persistently living out our chosen ministry. Always hopeful, always expectant, always anticipating that the next child to walk through the door will be the one. Yet knowing, always knowing that the work of ministry in the fullness of God's grace will be sufficient, and is, finally, our reward.

Let us live the faith – for all else we may say or do, it is Hazel, Jeff, Dede, Ronnie, Pam, Michael, Andrew, Edna, Susan, Karen, Eric, Bill and thousands of other individuals working through the life of a local church who are going to make a difference. They – you – will make a difference because you have purpose, and a heart for ministry in a mission field that is only constrained by the limitations of your imaginations. Ministry will not be about "me" and my needs, but about the needs and purposes of the Kingdom of God. This is the ministry and mission to which Jesus invites us.

I love the lines in the old liturgy: "Dearly beloved, the Church is of God, and will be preserved to the end of time, for the promotion of the worship of God and the due administration of God's word and ordinances, the maintenance of Christian fellowship and discipline, the edification of believers, and the conversion of the world. All, of every age and station, stand in need of the means of grace which it alone supplies."

You have been that church for us. It has been a most blessed, extraordinary and faith-filled experience for us to take this eight year journey of ministry with you and the people of the Arkansas Annual Conference. Thank God and thank you for being so gracious and loving, for being so forgiving and compassionate, and for being willing to take risks that few are willing to take. I thank you for living the faith, for speaking with a gracious candor, for looking to the future with anticipation and expectation. You are the difference-makers – and it has been our privilege to share for a season this faith journey with you. You will always be in our prayers. We covet from you that same precious gift. And, yes, we will miss you very much. God bless you all.

Laity Address

Arkansas Annual Conference

June 12, 2012

Asa Whitaker, Lay Leader

Thank you Bishop, as a foundation for our time together today I would like to share with you a few verses from the Book of Hezekiah 14: 5-13

And it came to pass in the dry plains of a foreign land, a son Newton was born to Sinus the priest and his wife Benjilee. Although small in stature, God laid his hand upon the boy to become a high priest and serve the temple of the Lord.

The boy grew in strength, courage, and imagination. He often dreamed of being a gladiator in the court of round ball and dreamed of the time he could adorn himself in blue and lead a mighty army to conquer all foes.

But the call of the Lord was upon him and he was directed to seek the will of the Lord in the land of green hills and blue devils. The court of round ball was without measure in that land but he found himself lacking in stature to follow his dream

And the Lord spoke to him and said, take unto yourself the handmaiden Jenkins that you might have a helpmate. And so it was, he entered into the land of red rocks and barren soil to toil in the vineyard of God.

And the boy prospered in the work of the Lord. But he Lord spoke to him again and said, "arise and go to the land in the east. My people there are wandering in the wilderness. It is a land of opportunity and the work is great.

But Newton replied, "Lord how is this that you wish me to go there? I am vertically challenged and the trees are tall, I will not be able to hear the strange talk and sounds of that land. They howl like red wolves and make loud mournful sounds to beckon the unclean red animals that inhabit their land. And in the time of the animals' season, the people flock together in enclosures neglecting the temple. I am of a genteel spirit and will never learn to howl and call.

Fear not said the Lord, I will make a path for you and the people will follow. You only have to imagine. So go with courage. Three minor prophets, Phillip. Macedias and Curtis, await you and will be a source of strength and encouragement.

And so it was, for eight years Newton waxed strong in the spirit and the people followed him through the wilderness to the edge of the promised land. But he was not to enter the land he had imagined for he was old and spent.

May God forgive me for this reading of unholy scripture.

It has been an honor and privilege to serve this conference as Lay Leader and to work with Bishop Crutchfield during these past eight years. He arrived at time of change for us. We had just formed a new conference, was working with a new structure, and had a new strategic plan in place. I recall vividly his arrival and early conversations where he was asked to tell us what plans he had in mind for our conference. He replied that he had no plan for our conference at that time but to hold us accountable for the plans we already had in place. As I was putting these thoughts together, I couldn't help but think of the analogy of Bishop Crutchfield as being our modern day Moses. Just as the children of Israel were struggling to move on to a new life, so was the Arkansas Conference. No he didn't find a conference beaten down and without hope, we were fresh and new but with our own struggle to move on to a new life as the United Methodist Church in Arkansas. As we worked together in the years to follow, it became apparent that we needed to have a "wilderness experience" if we were to become the effective witness for Jesus Christ and his church that we desired to be. Our recent years together have been spent in the 'wilderness" searching for a path forward to the "promise land" of a new future. This annual conference will make the final decisions to facilitate moving forward into this new future. Like Moses, Bishop Crutchfield has brought us to the mountain top where we can see that new future but for some of us the view is a little unclear and the "promise land" is a long distance away. Sometimes it is difficult for us to see. I am reminded of a story I once heard of a little old lady who lived downtown where apartment buildings stood tall and were so close together only an alleyway would separate them. One day in much distress she called the police and complained that the young man across the alley was parading nude in front of his window. When the police arrived at her apartment to check it out she took them to her bedroom window where they could clearly see a young man shaving. "See," said the old lady, "there he is again. Standing right there with no clothes on". The policeman replied, "Yes maam I see him but I can only see him from his waist up." To which the old lady replied, "Here stand on this box and you can get a better view."

I don't think we will be able to see our future more clearly by standing on a box. We have to move closer to get a better view. Moving into our future requires something of us. Clergy and laity alike. To paraphrase John F. Kennedy, we must "Ask not what our church can do for us, ask what we can do for our church. I am afraid we have been consumers of our faith rather than doers of our faith. Bishop Crutchfield has given us a plan, has set a new direction, and has painted a picture of the potential we have in this promised land. When Moses sent out his scouts into the promise land they came back with mixed reports. As I recall only two of the scouts believed the children of Israel could take the land and enjoy the fruits of this land of "milk and honey" the ten other scouts believed the task was hopeless. The inhabitants of the land were too big and the cities too well fortified and the resistance would be much to severe. A church alive in the grace of God is the "milk and honey" we seek. We will have our own giants, fortified traditions, and resistance to change to overcome if we are to inhabit this new land.

A man who had regularly prayed for many years began to wonder if God heard his prayers at all. During one of his routine times of prayer, he started to doubt. He said, "Hey, up there, can you hear me? Hey, God, if you can hear me tell me what you want me to do with my life." A voice from above thundered a reply, "I want you to help the needy, give your life for the cause of peace, and make disciples of Jesus Christ." Faced with more of a challenge than the man wanted, he answered, "Actually God, I was just checking to see if you were up there" The voice boomed back, "That's all right I was only checking to see if you were down there."

My friends, we are down here and it is time for us to enter the promised land. Busy lives consume our waking hours but Christ's call to "Come, I will make you fishers of men" is as real today as they were the day he spoke those words on the shores of the Sea of Galilee.

Dwight L. Moody once said, "It is observable that God has often called men to places of dignity and honor when they have busy and honest employment of their vocation. Saul was seeking his father's donkeys and David his father's sheep when called to the Kingdom. The shepherds were feeding their flocks when they had their glorious revelation. God called the apostles from their fishing and Matthew from collecting taxes. Amos from the horsemen of Tecoah, Moses from keeping Jethro's sheep, Gideon from the threshing floor, Elisha from the plows. God never called a lazy man".

Jesus seemed to have a sense of urgency when he called his disciples from the seashore. Now is the time. The Greeks had two words for time. The first was chronos or time as we might use it when we look at our clock. It is bound by minutes, hours days, and second word for time is kairos. Time as we might use it when we refer to the time in which we live. We might hear Jesus say, Come the time in which we live calls for us to begin. "Come follow me" What might be our response? "Sorry Lord, I know it is time but I am too involved with other things. Maybe another time." Or will it be "Lord, I don't know how I can find the time, but I know the time is now"

The mood of the delegates at the closing gavel of General Conference was mournful of the loss of hope and the realization that we had accomplished so little on realignment and restructuring. Many issues facing our denomination were not addressed by plenary session. We desperately need a new structure to facilitate our work however, thanks be to God, we, you and I, are not dependent on the structure of the United Methodist Church to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. Disciples are made at the local church not General Conference. The sense of urgency in Jesus voice when he called the fishermen is the sense of urgency I feel for the United Methodist Church. Our numbers are declining because we are not making new disciples. Some say numbers are not important but I believe they are because they represent those folks around us who do not know Jesus in their hearts or have a relationship with God.

Jesus invited the disciples to become fishers of men and that invitation is urgent today . My prayer is that we will enter the promised land and take time to go fishing.

Conference Churches of the Year

Spadra UMC, Rev. Regina Turner, West District • Category I

Spadra UMC saw growth in attendance and membership in 2011. They received one by Profession of Faith and baptized one and now they are averaging 16 in attendance. They began a men's breakfast and children's Sunday school classes. Spadra works with several UMCs in the area and active members in other denominations participate in their Wednesday Bible studies. Several well-attended special worship services and community children's events were held for the first time.

Booneville UMC, Rev. Garal Holloway, West District • Category II

Booneville UMC witnessed four Professions of Faith and six baptisms as attendance grew from an average of 63 to 95. The church decided to target young adult and children's ministries and so began several new Sunday school classes and small groups including a new UMW circle for young adults. A new fellowship night following ballgames and a partnership with the local Boys & Girls Club bring most of the youth of the community into the church teen center.

Mount Olive, Van Buren UMC, Rev. Barry Morton, West District • Category III

Mt. Olive UMC in Van Buren went form 206 to 297 in average attendance with 26 Professions of Faith and 25 baptisms. The church continues to see significant growth in attendance and ministries since it began a few years ago in the building that had been the home of a recently closed, historically black congregation. Growth in all areas required the congregation to find a new home. Easter 2011, Mt Olive UMC held its first service in the former Van Buren FUMC building.

Heritage UMC, Rev. Wes Hilliard, West District • Category IV

Van Buren Heritage UMC continued its numerical growth in 2011. It went from 370 to 391 in attendance with 38 Professions of Faith and 47 baptisms. The Wednesday evening ministry increased from 296 to 375. Over 800 in the community attended a musical production of "Narnia," resulting in several in the carts community becoming active in the church. The members of Heritage gave over $30,000 in food to over 15,000 people. Clothing is distributed twice a month to the local schools. Prayers Booths were provided at both city-wide tourist festivals. Mission trips were conducted to Joplin and New York City and a multi-year project to establish a poultry operation in Kenya was completed.

The following churches are recognized by their Districts and the Conference Parish & Community Development Committee as District Churches of the Year. Celebrating Professions of Faith

The Book of Discipline clearly states that the purpose of the United Methodist Church is to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. According to the records submitted by all the pastors in the Arkansas Conference, the following 324 churches received at least one person by profession of faith during the calendar year of 2011.

The fact that your congregation witnessed professions of faith last year, is a testimony to your faithfulness to the Great Commission's commandment to "go and make disciples of all nations." Matthew 28:19

"Well done, good and faithful servant." Matthew 25:21

May God continue to bless your ministry of making new disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

REPORTS AND BUDGETS

Our 2011 Confirmation Classes

The Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church recognizes your congregation as being one of 162 congregations that held a Confirmation Class during 2011.

Confirmation refers to the decision a person makes to respond to God's grace with intentional commitment, publicly reaffirming his or her baptismal vows before the congregation. Most confirmands are youth between the ages of eleven and fourteen, who have been nurtured in the church since their baptism as an infant or young child. Most churches offer a deliberate time of preparation before this service. During confirmation class, confirmands learn about the meaning of Christian faith; the history and teachings and The United Methodist Church; and an explanation of the baptismal and membership vows they will be professing. Confirmation is a person's first public affirmation of the faith of the church as being his or her own faith. In other words, the confirmand is taking responsibility for living as a member of the body of Christ and for fulfilling God's purposes.

The Arkansas Conference

PREAMBLE

"The Church is of God, and will be preserved to the end of time, for the conduct of worship and the due administration of his Word and Sacraments, the maintenance of Christian fellowship and discipline, the edification of believers, and the conversion of the world. All of every age and station stand in need of the means of grace which it alone supplies." (United Methodist Book of Worship, p. 106)

The mission field is the place of ministry. It is where the word of Christ needs to be heard and demonstrated to transform lives. Understanding the mission field will be one of the challenges of our conference and denomination as we live into our new world. Most important is for us to realize that the mission field will not be the institutional needs of our conference or our congregations and will not be the satisfaction of the people already active in the conference or charges. Each church will need to clearly define its mission field which may be at any one of three levels:

- Within the congregation as people's lives are deepened to become active disciples of Christ.
- Within the community as we invite people to know and respond to the presence of Christ in their lives.
- In the global community as these transformed lives transform the world.

VISION

Congregations and surrounding communities transformed by the Holy Spirit to demonstrate holy living, justice, and love of neighbor.

The implications of this vision statement:

- The desired outcome of making disciples of Jesus Christ in Arkansas mission fields is to impact local communities and make more disciples.
- The fruit of discipleship is to be experienced in mission fields, as well as in personal lives.
- Disciples transform communities by pursuing personal and social holiness and attending to the ordinances of God (The General Rules), practicing sharing their faith stories, and personally inviting others to know Christ.
- Disciples of Jesus Christ combat injustice as the particular geographic, economic, racial, social, and gender issues of our communities are addressed. Disciples must focus on the realization of the Kingdom of God on earth as it is in heaven.
- Truly loving neighbors and giving to others who have needs is the way a disciple mirrors Christ's action and love. For this all disciples should be held accountable.

MISSION

To make disciples of Jesus Christ equipped to transform the world with excellence and passion.

The implications of this mission statement:

- A mission statement declares who and whose we are. Methodists are disciples of Jesus Christ, growing in discipleship, who accept the urgent responsibility to make a difference for Christ in the world.
- Transformation is the work of God. Disciples participate in God's action by seeking to make an impact in the lives of those around them, in their community and in the world, to aid in that transformation.

CORE MEASURES

Touchstones from which work will begin and serve as references for ongoing evaluation.

We shall embrace deep change that empowers us to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world by:

- Rooting all we do in our understanding of Scripture, and personal and social holiness (the foundational principles of United Methodism), so that we revitalize our connection and our ministry instead of being connected by our apportionments, appointments and benefits.
- Establishing the mission field as the primary place for our attention and resources instead of directing most of our attention and resources to the institutional needs of congregations and clergy.
- Equipping laity and clergy for shared outcomes of transformation with excellence instead of directing resources toward congregational preservation and satisfaction of current members.
- Organizing our ministry around the unique geographic, cultural, demographic, and ethnic contexts in the identified mission fields instead of treating every church, district, and conference structure the same.

Arkansas Conference Priorities

These are the places we will give our attention for long term deep change.

Purpose and Identity

To do church differently and make disciples of Jesus Christ by covenanting to become Acts 2 disciple-making congregations which are Spirit-led, Spirit-filled and fruit-producing:

- Focus all activity on Christ (1 Corinthians 12:27). The congregation is organized to make and engage disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world (Matthew 28:18-20);
- Call, equip, and release disciples to pursue their passion and use their gifts to glorify God (Ephesians 4:11-13);
- Call, equip, send and support leaders to lead disciples (Mark 1:17);
- Lead disciples to meet the spiritual, social and physical needs of those in the community and world; and produce Acts 2 fruit (John 15:8, 16 and Acts 2:41-47).

Acts 2 Congregations

By doing church differently, we anticipate bearing fruit for the Kingdom of God demonstrated in Acts 2:41-47:

- Acts 2:47 – Experience an increase in professions or reaffirmations of faith into the faith community.
- Acts 2:41 - Increase worship attendance.
- Acts 2:44-45 - Mission engagement to address poverty and community development through ministries of mercy and justice.
- Ensure a majority of the worshiping congregation is participating in ministry initiatives outside of weekly worship.
- Support mission financially through locally identified community and world mission projects and fulfill 100% of shared ministry giving.
- Acts 2:43 - Demonstrate signs of God's power and wonder; ministry results that are more than human ability and are clearly God's movement through the congregation.

Connection

In order to do church differently the Annual Conference will be realigned, strengthening the resources and relationships with local congregations. Each local congregation is expected to change by embracing the vision and mission of the Annual Conference as we follow The United Methodist Way.

Training and Equipping

In order to do church differently, clergy and laity will be evaluated, trained, and equipped to be accountable for anticipated fruits of Acts 2 congregations.

These are the places to begin our immediate work.

I. Revitalized Mission Emphasis

- Give priority attention to the mission field of the geography surrounding local congregations in The Arkansas Annual Conference as the place to make disciples.
- Create new avenues for telling mission stories and communicating the need for increased involvement and opportunity for local and worldwide mission engagement.
- Enhance the mission communication network to demonstrate the value of the United Methodist connection.
- Focus on the local mission field, where there is the greatest opportunity to make disciples for Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world, though United Methodists will not neglect nor forget that the world is our parish.

ARKANSAS CONFERENCE
COUNCIL ON FINANCE & ADMINISTRATION
2013 BUDGET REQUEST
JUNE 1, 2012

The Conference Council on Finance and Administration finalized its budget work on May 14th (after the Pre-Conference Journal was published). At that meeting the Council approved a change to the budget layout that is included in this report. This new layout is meant to align with the new structure that was approved by last year's special session of the Arkansas Annual Conference. In it you will see six major categories. In parenthesis next to the budget title is the committee or group that is responsible for those budget line items.

Though it was not the intended purpose, the new budget format clearly shows how clergy Pension and Benefits are driving the whole conference budget up. Although some individual budgets have increased, all non-pension budget items combined have decreased by more than $350,000 over the 2012 budget. The 2012 General Conference made significant changes to the Clergy Pension Plan. However, most of those changes will not go into effect until 2014 and therefore will be reflected in next year's budget.

The primary additions to the budget are the two new centers and the network. They have been specifically designed to assist local congregations to "make disciples and transform communities". They will provide personal and specific skill training for leaders. In addition, leaders and congregations will be connected with all congregations in the conference around issues of common interest, develop of ministry ideas and ministry needs. Using the newest forms of technology the conference will be united around common expectation and a common purpose.

While the centers and the network will require significant initial start-up money, we believe that in the long term, these are investments that will strengthen local congregations and in turn will boost the mission of the church.

Finally, the council was asked to bring to this years annual conference a simplified apportionment formula that is more reflective of our four core measures. That report can be found on pages 20-21 of the Pre-Conference Journal, as well as a supplement at the end of this report.

I. Apportionments and Askings

M. The following is to be adopted as the guide for the care and investment of all Conference Funds: (¶612.7 the 2008 Book of Discipline).

1. The Conference Treasurer is charged with the responsibility for managing all Conference Funds. It is the purpose of this investment policy to establish parameters within which the monies of the Conference will be managed.
2. The objective of the investment of Conference monies is to provide:
   a) Preservation of capital.
   b) Liquidity – to meet anticipated and unanticipated future needs.
   c) Maximization of income – while simultaneously insuring preservation of capital and liquidity.
   d) Compliance with the Social Principles and the Discipline of the UMC.
3. To accomplish this objective:
   a) Funds should be deposited in AR institutions in good standing.

5. This policy is intended to be flexible in its application in order to meet changing economic conditions. Investments made for longer than 90 days may be made after the approval of the Executive Committee of the Conference Council on Finance and Administration. While income desirable, the primary emphasis is to be on the maintenance of adequate funds and the avoidance of speculative investments
6. This policy may be amended to meet changing conditions and to fulfill the needs of the Annual Conference

N. The Conference gives the Conference Council on Finance and Administration the authority to fund extraordinary needs relating to the life and ministry of the Arkansas Conference. Clefton Vaughan – President
Jim Polk – Vice-President
Mary Susan Hilliard – Secretary

In response too the resolution regarding pastor's moving expense passed by the 2008 Annual Conference, the council recognizes that the amount paid per move is to low and needs to be increased. However, since so many boards and committees were asked to reduce their 2010 budget we feel that implementing these increases in the current budget would require an additional $65,000 in funding. That additional budget amount would be difficult and insensitive to add to the 2010 requests. Therefore we recommend the following plan.

~~2011 $600 per move plus $1.00 per mile~~
~~2012 $800 per move plus $1.00 per mile~~
2013 $1,000 per move plus $1.00 per mile

IMAGINE NO MALARIA

The Conference Council on Finance and Administration has affirmed the call of the 2008 General Conference to raise funds for Imagine No Malaria in the Arkansas Annual Conference. We applaud the Arkansas United Methodist Foundation challenge grant to local churches and local church related organizations to match on a one for one basis $333,000. We also approve contact of individuals and non-church organizations who might participate in this effort. No apportionment will be established to fund this effort.

CONNECTED IN CHRIST FUNDS

The Council on Finance and Administration recommends that any remaining funds raised for Connected In Christ through the apportionment system be invested in The United Methodist Foundation of Arkansas. The earnings from this investment shall be used for programming funds for the Center for Clergy and Lay Excellence. This endowment fund shall be named "The Connected in Christ Laity and Clergy Leadership Development Fund".

NOMINATION OF TREASURER

In accordance with Par.619 of the 2008 Book of Discipline, The Council on Finance & Administration nominates Todd Burris to serve as Conference Treasurer/Director of Administrative Services for the 2013-2016 quadrennium.

Supplement Report from the Apportionment Study Task Group

Our report and preliminary recommendations can be found on p.20-21 of the pre-conference journal as part of the CFA report. Our third recommendation is that further study be conducted in order to come to the 2013 Annual Conference with a specific proposal for a revenue-based apportionment formula. We will base these studies on data collected from questions 67 and 69 of the 2011 Table III year-end report that was submitted this past January by each church of the Arkansas Conference.

Attached to this report you will find a blank copy of Table III along with the two-page instructional work sheet. You can also find this table in pdf format on our conference web site (www.arumc.org). Click on "Forms" in the quick link section, and download the "Statistical Report to Annual Conference."

In order to conduct meaningful studies, we want to make sure our data is as accurate and complete as possible. Obviously a revenue-based apportionment system will give Table III a new level of importance for our Conference. Therefore we ask each pastor to carefully look over the report you submitted this year. If you are satisfied with the accuracy of what was reported, nothing more will need to be done. If, however, you find that your report was incomplete or inaccurate in any way, you will have until August 1 to re-submit your 2011 Table III data. This is simply a way to insure we are using accurate data when conducting our studies, and will not affect your current apportionments in any way. Any re-submission should be sent directly to the Arkansas Conference Treasurer's Office, P.O. Box 2941, Little Rock, AR 72203. After August 1 we will base our studies and any future recommendations on this data, and it will then become the basis for our report at regional meetings in late Fall.

Our apportionment system is based on trust and a shared sense of responsibility for the work of the United Methodist Church at all levels of ministry. Your timely and diligent attention to this matter will help us in our effort to find the fairest and most effective apportionment formula for our Conference.

Respectfully submitted,
Rev. Jim Polk
Chair, Apportionment Study Task Group

REPORT FROM THE APPORTIONMENT FORMULA STUDY GROUP

Scope

At the 2011 Annual Conference a motion was passed asking CFA to examine the current apportionment formula of the Arkansas Conference and to bring to the 2012 Annual Conference recommendations for a simplified formula more reflective of the conference's four core measures, especially #1 (rooting all we do in our understanding of Scripture, and personal and social holiness) and #4 (organizing our ministry around the unique geographic, cultural, demographic, and ethnic contexts in the identified mission fields.…) A study group consisting of Sara Pair, Zach Roberts, Ken Pearson, Ashley Coldiron, Todd Burris, Phil Hathcock, Roy Smith, Cheryl Baker (maker of the motion) and chaired by Jim Polk, was established and tasked with responding to this motion. The following is our report and recommendations to CFA and to the Arkansas Annual Conference.

Research and Findings

To help us in our research, we began by looking at data collected from several studies conducted by GCFA from 2004-2008 concerning apportionment formulas and payout patterns. Over 30,000 UM churches took part in these studies. After reading the documents that came from these studies, our study group found two pieces of information to be of particular interest:

1. The research clearly indicated that average worship attendance is a better indicator of a church's vitality and therefore of its ability to pay its apportionments than total membership. Based on this, we concluded that if a human factor was to be added into any apportionment formula, we should use average worship attendance.
2. The research also indicated that the correlation between a church's revenue and that congregation's ability to pay its apportionments is greater than that between a church's expenses and its ability to pay. That is, revenue seems to be a better indicator of a church's vitality than expenses.

We then contacted six annual conferences currently using revenue-based apportionment formulas (Upper New York, Kansas East and West, Kentucky, Rocky Mountain, and Indiana) and studied both the formulas they used and the results they have achieved.

Finally, we ran detailed studies using the latest figures available to determine the impact various apportionment formulas might have on the Arkansas Conference and individual churches. We compared the results of our current formula with results created by formulas that include an average worship attendance factor and with formulas that are based on revenue rather than expense.

Unfortunately, due to the uncertainty surrounding the current proposal before the Conference to direct-bill pensions, we were unable at this time to definitively project the impact on individual congregations of the various formulas. However, after looking at all the data collected our consensus was that a revenue-based apportionment formula has strong merit and should be seriously considered by the Arkansas Conference.

Merits of a Revenue-Based Formula

We see several advantages to a revenue-based formula:

- Basing apportionments on a specific percentage of the income of local congregations seems to be more direct, clear, and transparent than the current expense-based system we use. It is simple to apply and easy to understand.
- A revenue-based formula seeks to identify the total revenue available to a congregation to spend on normal operating expenses (and thus their ability to pay apportionments), without penalizing them for decisions on how they will spend their income.
- Directly relating a church's apportionment to the amount of operating income it receives gives us a chance to teach biblical concepts of stewardship such as the tithe, proportional giving, etc., thus tying in with Core Measure #1. Just as individuals are encouraged to tithe to the church, so congregations can begin to see their apportionment as a tithe offering to the conference, a natural way of supporting the work of the Church beyond the local congregation.
- A revenue-based formula will naturally reflect differences in the ability to pay apportionments that may be caused by the "unique geographic, cultural, demographic, and ethnic contexts of our mission fields" (Core Measure #4) without having to use artificial coefficients in the formula. Congregations in depressed regions of the state can be expected to report less income than congregations of similar size in other parts of the state. Congregations with lower per-capita income among their members will likely report lower income figures than similar-size congregations with higher per-capita income.
- A revenue-based formula would for the first time allow our conference budget to be naturally responsive to the changing economic situations of individual local churches. As a congregation's economic health (and thus income) increases, so would its apportionments. Conversely, apportionments would decrease in times of economic uncertainty.
- A revenue-based formula would for the first time allow future conference budgets to be formed based on anticipated income rather than anticipated expenses. It can help our conference better live within its means.

Recommendations

1. We recommend no changes to the current apportionment formula for 2013. Without knowing in advance the will of the Conference relating to the current proposal to direct-bill pensions, we cannot accurately project the impact any apportionment formula change would have on individual congregations.

2. We recommend that neither average worship attendance nor membership be used in any new apportionment formula proposal. A revenue-based formula will at least indirectly tend to take both of these into account.
3. We recommend that further study be conducted in order to come to the 2013 Annual Conference with a specific proposal for a revenue-based apportionment formula. Such a formula would be based on the figures reported on lines 67 and 69 of Table III by local congregations in their yearly checkout forms. The goal would be to as quickly as possible move to a 10% tithe from local churches to support conference, jurisdictional, and general conference ministries. (This would assume that Pensions is direct-billed and thus no longer part of a conference budget. If this is not the case, the percentage would be higher.)

Future Timeline

- The Study Group will present its report to the 2012 Annual Conference in June.
- Regional or District meetings will be held during the Fall of 2012 to discuss specific formula proposals and the implications and opportunities they have for individual congregations, to engage in dialogue about apportionments, and to gain feedback.
- Final recommendations will be made to CFA in the Spring of 2013 and brought before the 2013 Annual Conference.

Conclusion

Ultimately we believe that the best apportionment formula will be one that is both fair and effective; that is, one that asks every congregation to do its proper part and accurately assesses a congregation's ability to pay. While no apportionment formula will ever be perfect, we do believe that a revenue-based formula is a move in the right direction and can in its small way help the conference better relate to its identified core measures.

We also understand that ability to pay and willingness to pay are both factors that characterize every congregation to one degree or another. While ideally an apportionment formula will directly relate to a church's ability to pay, it is our budget work and effective stewardship training that will most directly impact a congregation's willingness to pay. Both must be addressed honestly by CFA and the Arkansas Conference.

SECTION VII: FINANCIAL AID

A. Local Pastor's Licensing School

The Board shall provide all but $325 for expenses for room and board for each student attending the Arkansas Conference Licensing School. Books are provided. All funds are subject to successfully completing and passing all the classes. Some funds may be available for students attending other schools outside of our conference boundaries. Approval for these funds must come from the Dean of the Arkansas Conference License School prior to going.

B. Course of Study

1. Financial Assistance is based on need and the availability of funds; fifty percent of tuition, normal fees, room and board for full - or part-time students in the basic Course of Study.
2. 100% reimbursement of tuition for courses taken in the Arkansas Course of Study School available for part-time local pastors.
3. 50% reimbursement of tuition for those who successfully complete correspondence courses (not to exceed 4 courses).
4. The Board provides assistance only once for each of the 20 courses required in the Basic Course of Study Program.

C. Seminary Financial Aid

Basic Seminary Degree Program

1. Service Loans for Seminary Tuition:

Through the Ministerial Education Fund Apportionment (MEF) the CBOM is able to provide low-interest loans to certified candidates who are attending senate approved seminaries.

The Arkansas Annual Conference retains one fourth of the monies paid for the MEF apportionment for this fund. This is the only source of funds for Service Loans, and disbursements cannot exceed income in any fiscal year.

Students who apply will sign a promissory note. Loans will be forgiven for service one year per year (two semesters) of aid. In other words, a student who borrows from the fund for six semesters would complete his/her obligation through three years of service under appointment by a Bishop of the United Methodist Church. For the 2012-2013 academic year the following policy will be followed for disbursing funds.

Eligibility:

a. Certified Candidate for ordination
b. Approved by the CBOM
c. Attending a Senate approved seminary
d. Is not a recipient of a full scholarship grant from the United Methodist Foundation

Application Procedure:

Applications can be downloaded from arumc.org or obtained from a District Superintendent. Please follow directions carefully. Applications and all supporting documentation for the fall semester must be received by September 15 for the fall semester and February 1 for the spring semester. Deadline for application for summer tuition is July 15th. Applications are not considered complete without an official transcript from the student's seminary. Applications completed after the deadline will not be processed. All applications will be processed by the Secretary of the CBOM.

Reimbursement Policy:

Funds will be budgeted equally for the fall and spring semesters. The rate of reimbursement will be determined once applications have been received and total requests have been calculated. At this time the amount of loans will not exceed 40% of tuition per semester unless there is a surplus in the fall semester. It will be at the discretion of the seminarian registrar to disburse any surplus funds at an equal percentage for all semester applicants. Students at University Senate approved seminaries can receive a maximum of $5,000 per year in loans. Students attending United Methodist seminaries can receive a maximum of $7,000 per year in loans. Students will not receive funds to repeat a failed course. Incomplete courses must be completed before funds are disbursed. (Please note that application must still be made prior to the deadline.)

2. Grants for United Methodist History, Doctrine, and Polity Courses shall not exceed 50% of the tuition cost.
3. Graduate Theological Studies – Persons who have completed the basic course of study may desire to become provisional members by the alternate route (see ¶324.6). They must complete the 32 hours of graduate theological studies, but only if approved by the CBOM prior to enrollment. Up to 50% of tuition not to exceed $5,000 annually will be provided. Deacon candidates on the professional certification route toward ordination (see ¶324.5) will also receive up to 50% of tuition not to exceed $5,000 annually.
4. Arkansas United Methodist Seminary Scholarship – Any certified candidate is eligible to apply through his/her DS for the full-expense scholarship from the funds held in the United Methodist Foundation. This student must be accepted in a United Methodist Seminary as a full-time student. Applications are due March 1. An interview-selection team shall make the determination of the awarding of this scholarship. Two years of service per year of scholarship received is expected in the Arkansas Conference.
5. Seminary students returning to Arkansas for an interview with the Board may receive up to 50% of actual cost of transportation.

2. Applications for granting continuing education credit for an event shall be sent to the Chair of Continuing Education. Applications shall then be forwarded to the CBOM Treasurer.

SECTION IX: EXIT,
READMISSION TO CONFERENCE RELATIONSHIP

A. There shall be a Committee on Conference Relations to oversee requests for changes in conference relationship.

1. Any request for a change in conference relationship must be made in writing to the CBOM, and will be reviewed by the Committee on Conference Relationship.
2. The Committee will report its recommendations to the full Conference Board.

B. Exiting:

1. Whenever, and for whatever reason, a person related to the Annual Conference with a ministerial relationship leaves that relationship; the exiting shall be reviewed by the Committee on Conference Relations and approved by the CBOM per requirements of the Discipline.
2. The Secretary of the CBOM shall record in the Board minutes the stated reason(s) for the exiting. The Registrar of the respective division shall enter into the person's record the stated reason(s) for his/her exiting. Additional statements shall be recorded from the Cabinet and the person who has exited.

C. Readmission to Conference Relationship:

2. The Board shall review all files and statements kept by the Board Secretary and Registrar of the respective division at the time of exiting.
3. All persons requesting readmission to a Conference relationship are required to submit to a Declared Candidate Packet as prescribed in Section II B. A person returning from a Leave of Absence, Family Leave, or Maternity/Paternity Leave may have this requirement waived by the Chairperson and Registrar of the respective division of CBOM.
4. A person seeking readmission after having received discontinuance from Provisional Membership, Honorable Location, Administrative Location, or who surrendered the Ministerial Office shall serve a minimum of two years as a Local Pastor. During the second year a person may reapply for Conference relationship and/or credentials previously held.

SECTION X: CLERGY COVENANT FUND

A. The Clergy Covenant Fund provides for financial assistance to clergy persons and their families. A gift of $1,500 will be given to the surviving spouse of a clergy person who dies while serving under appointment or while on incapacity leave. Such requests will be initiated by the District Superintendent of the district where the deceased person was under appointment. Financial assistance of up to $750 is available to clergy and/or their family for financial needs which arise from personal or family crisis. Requests for these funds will be made by a District Superintendent to the Chair of the CBOM, and must be approved by the CBOM Executive Committee.

B. Funds will be provided by means of an offering received during the Clergy Session of the Annual Conference. Clergy will also be given an opportunity each November to make a special Thanksgiving contribution to the Fund. Memorials and special gifts may be made to the Fund at any time. Gifts may be sent any time to: United Methodist Foundation of Arkansas, Clergy Covenant Fund, 5300 Evergreen, Little Rock, AR 72207.

SECTION XI: VACATION

It is The United Methodist Church's view that good vacation time benefits ministry. Since pastors are on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week, time away (when the parish is "vacated") can bring renewal and refreshment for the tasks at hand and help prevent burn-out, we recommend the following minimum vacation standards:

1. Each clergy person under appointment by the Bishop of the Arkansas Conference shall be entitled to receive the following minimum vacation time during the course of the Annual Conference year (July 1-June 30).
   a. Those having served full time in The United Methodist Church from the time first appointed to five years: two weeks vacation (2 Sundays).
   b. Those having served full time in The United Methodist Church from six years to ten years: three weeks vacation (3 Sundays).
   c. Those having served full time in the United Methodist Church for eleven or more years: four weeks vacation (4 Sundays).
2. Vacation time shall be based on the number of years of service under full-time appointment in the ministry of The United Methodist Church (including previous service in diaconal ministry) and not on the number of years of service in a given appointment.
3. Time away from the appointment for participating in continuing education events and experiences shall not be counted as vacation time (see ¶351.2), nor shall time away for other events which the appointee is expected to attend, such as Annual Conference, or other conference, district or general church events.
4. All full-time clergy are to receive a minimum of two weeks for continuing education. All part- time clergy are to receive a minimum of one week for continuing education (This continuing education policy does not apply to pastors who have not completed Course of Study.)
5. The Committee on Pastor/Staff-Parish Relations should also arrange for the clergy person to have one day off each week and to be away from the appointment occasionally for a day or two.
6. In those charges where local pastors have not completed the Course of Study and where clergy are appointed to less than full-time service, including student pastors and part-time local pastors, the minimum vacation time shall be two weeks.
7. Clergy should refrain from taking vacation during the first month of a new appointment. It is also recommended that the first-year vacation be distributed across the year, not taken all at once.
8. The clergy person shall consult with the Pastor/Staff Parish Relations Committee in obtaining vacation supply coverage.
9. The charge shall make available as necessary the funds for pulpit supply while the pastor is on vacation.

Respectfully Submitted,
Biff Averitt, Chair
Rose Kuonen, Secretary

TASK FORCE ON RETIREE HEALTH CARE

SECTION I. PENSION/INSURANCE MERGER PROPOSAL

Concern:

Lack of communication and awareness of the decisions made by the Arkansas Conference Committee on Health Insurance and Board of Pensions can have a negative effect on the outcomes from each group. Both make decisions that affect the calculation of conference pensions and health liabilities. In addition, time and effort expended by Conference staff, lay persons and clergy in addressing pension and insurance benefits is not efficient.

Merger Proposal:

Combine the Board of Pensions with the Committee on Health Insurance. The combined group shall be named the Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits. This board shall consist of 15 elected members, per the Book of Discipline structure for the required Board of Pensions (1/3 clergy, 1/3 lay women, 1/3 lay men). Members with expertise in pensions and insurance shall be included for membership in the combined group.

Rationale:

- This model will help to calculate conference pensions and health liabilities.
- The two groups have cross-functional purposes and a combined group will allow a more streamlined process to handle the insurance and pension affairs of the conference.
- This model follows the General Conference pattern of combining the two functions of pensions and insurance into one cohesive group. The Conference Board of Pensions is named and required in the Book of Discipline. The committee on group insurance is not required by the Book of Discipline.
- The staff of the Arkansas Annual Conference currently works with both groups and must schedule time and meetings with both. A combined group will reduce scheduling conflicts, the number of committee meetings and amount of time devoted by staff to the two groups.
- This model is consistent with the Imagine Ministry goal to simplify processes to allow clergy and lay members to devote more time and energy to the mission field and less on administrative functions and committee meetings. It is also consistent in that it reduces the number of persons on committees.
- This model is similar to the model used in many large businesses where pension benefit programs and insurance programs are both administered and maintained by human resources functionality.

SECTION II. RETIREE HEALTH CARE BENEFITS

Concern:

The cost of conference healthcare in general is following a national trend, which is increasing faster than other measures of inflation. Additionally, we have an increasing number of clergy retiring, coupled with fewer congregations to provide the benefits. Some conferences no longer provide any benefits to retirees. A few do not even allow retirees to stay in the conference plan at all. Other conferences have reduced the gift and/or changed the formula for providing medical benefits to retired clergy. The conclusion of the task force is our current retiree plan is not sustainable for the long-term. Specifically, the latest actuarial report indicates that our current apportionment premium gift line item of one million dollars will double in seven years and triple in eleven years.

Observation:

- Retirees are not causing the active clergy insurance premiums to increase! While some conferences have voted to remove retirees from the plan, and may have good cause, we see no justification for this in Arkansas at this time.

- Retiree premiums presently cover the claims related to the retirees. These premiums come from two sources: the conference budget "premium gift"; and from the retirees themselves. For retirees, the conference plan is secondary to Medicare.
- The premium gifts are transferred each year from the Board of Pensions account to the Conference Group Health Insurance account. Pooled with the premiums from the active clergy and other staff in the plan, all claims are paid. Any unused funds are placed in a reserve fund to handle the years when claims exceed premium collections. In the last few years we went from a reserve of over 18 months down to five.
- It is the "premium gift" that will be addressed by the task force. Though well intended, the funds come directly from the conference budget which comes directly from the local church as an apportioned item. The local churches feel the strain of paying 100% of the active clergy premiums, including those on disability leave, and up to 100% of the retired clergy premiums.

Retiree Healthcare Proposal - Part A:

Each current retiree "premium gift" shall be reduced by 10%, beginning in 2013. (Part A will not go into effect unless Part B is approved to reduce the future retiree premium gift by a similar or greater amount.)

Examples:

A current retiree who is eligible in 2012 to have 100% of the premium paid by the conference will thereafter have 90% of the premium provided by the conference. A retiree who is currently eligible for 50% of the premium paid by the conference, will thereafter only have 45% provided by the conference. In each case, the reduction is 10% of the premium gift.

Rationale:

We hesitate to place a burden on those least able to absorb the change. However, it is important that everyone participate at an appropriate level in the deep changes that must occur in the coming years. We considered a larger reduction in the gift. However, when we saw that the retired clergy medical claims are well within the premiums collected for them, we adjusted the gift reduction to 10%.

Retiree Healthcare Proposal - Part B:

Those retiring after this session of annual conference will have the following changes in the formula for the premium gift:

1. To be eligible to receive the premium gift, retiring clergy must have served in the denomination full time for at least ten years. The last five years prior to retirement must be served in the Arkansas annual conference and in our insurance plan. (Currently it only takes two years of service to qualify.)
2. The maximum premium gift will be 80% of the premium (currently 100%).
3. The first ten years of Arkansas service will accrue at 2% per service year. The next twenty years of Arkansas service the gift will accrue at 3% per service year. At 30 years of Arkansas service, the maximum premium gift of 80% is achieved. Years of service outside the Arkansas conference are not included in the premium gift calculation. Currently the gift accelerates at 4% per service year for the first twenty, and then 1% per service year for the next twenty years.

Examples:

A current retiree who is eligible in 2012 to have 100% of the premium paid by the conference will thereafter have 80% of the premium provided by the conference. A retiree who is currently eligible for 50% of the premium paid by the conference, will thereafter only have 40% provided by the conference. In each case, the reduction equals 20% of the premium gift.

Rationale:

After reviewing ten annual conferences in our jurisdiction and around our state, our current healthcare benefits were the most generous of the conferences reviewed. Arkansas also ranks well in the compensation category among those conferences. Our goal is to provide a benefits package that moves us toward lasting sustainability while still maintaining a competitive edge which can attract and keep quality leadership. Even after making the proposed changes, our retirees will still enjoy a more desirable plan than any of the conferences reviewed.

SECTION III. CLERGY PENSION COLLECTION METHOD

Concern:

The largest single line item in the conference budget is the amount that must be set aside for clergy pension. It amounts to over 1/3 of the entire apportionment. This money is placed into an account with the General Board of Pensions for each pastor and invested until retirement. The pension amount is directly related to the salaries the churches pay their pastors, which is beyond the control of the conference. Under our current system there is only an indirect relationship between what churches pay their pastor and what their share of the conference budget will be (which includes the pension). When churches fail to pay their apportionment, the conference is still obligated to pay 100% of their pastor's pension. This means that some other worthy ministries must receive less than budgeted to make up the difference.

Pension Direct-Bill Proposal:

Direct-bill to each local church the pension associated with the pastor appointed to the church. No longer include this amount in the conference budget. The only pension related items to remain in the conference budget will be for those clergy appointed to conference positions (Wesley Foundation Directors, Conference Staff, Superintendents, etc.).

This transition shall be phased in over a four year period:

2013 – 25% Direct Bill (75% included in the conference budget)
2014 – 50% Direct Bill (50% included in the conference budget)
2015 – 75% Direct Bill (25% included in the conference budget)
2016 – 100% Direct Bill

Rationale:

- Local churches can see the full cost of providing the level of compensation they have chosen for their pastor.
- Local churches will have more control over a greater portion of what is now included in their apportionment. A church will know that if they decrease/increase the pastor's salary, the pension amount will do the same.
- If a church increases or decreases their pastor's compensation, it will have less impact on other churches in the conference, since churches will no longer share each other's pension responsibility.
- If a church will not or cannot pay the direct bill for the pension, the conference is still obligated to pay it out of the conference budget. This is beyond our control! However, this will give the bishop and cabinet more leverage to not appoint a pastor to a charge until the church can afford to pay the full cost of the pastor.

BOARD OF PENSION AND HEALTH BENEFITS

HEALTH INSURANCE BENEFITS

Merger Proposal: Combine the Board of Pensions with the Committee on Health Insurance. The combined group shall be named the Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits. This board shall consist of 15 elected members, per the Book of Discipline structure for the required Board of Pensions (1/3 clergy, 1/3 lay women, 1/3 lay men). Members with expertise in pensions and insurance shall be included for membership in the combined group.

One purpose of the Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits is to administer a Comprehensive Health Insurance Program, selected by the Annual Conference, for active and retired clergy of the Annual Conference, along with full-time lay employees of the UMC. All of the actions taken by the board are subject to review and revision by the Annual Conference.

The Arkansas Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits is also charged with the work of providing for and contributing to the support, relief, assistance and pensioning of the clergy and their families, other church workers, and lay employees of the UMC, its institutions, organizations, and agencies within the Annual Conference, except as otherwise provided for by the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits. The board works closely with the General Board of Pension of The UMC which provides excellent counsel, interpretation and guidance in our pension program.

Since the forming of a Conference Group Health Plan on June 5, 1995, the former North Arkansas and Little Rock Conferences administered the plan jointly. Adjustments to the plan were made by the two committees meeting jointly, every year. IMPLIED consent by both committees was used to "tweak" the plan each year. The Plan benefit adjustments were done based on claim paid history and were done only to hold down exorbitant premium cost increases. Because no record can be found giving "express/implied" consent to the Committee, the Annual Conference gives consent to the Arkansas Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits to make adjustments to the Conference Group Health Plan. All such adjustments are always subject to review and revision by the Annual Conference.

Realizing that it is necessary, in a self-funded group health insurance plan, to maintain a reserve in case of catastrophic claims upon our plan, it shall be the policy of the Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits to maintain a reserve balance of approximately one year's annual gross premium and administration costs. Any excess over and above the one year reserve will be distributed back to the Annual Conference Self-funded Group Health Plan in the form of maintained, adjusted premiums or enhanced benefits. Any Reserve overage may only be used for the benefit of its Participants in The Group Health Insurance Plan, the salary and expenses of the Conference Benefit Officer and related expenses of operating the Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits. All other expenses shall be paid only with the express consent of the Arkansas Annual Conference.

The cost of health care is a troublesome issue for our conference. To do nothing is to risk our ability to deliver benefits in the future. The committee is taking several pro-active measures to increase the health of our clergy families and slow down the increasing costs of our health care program.

We seek to:

- offer the best benefits to pastors and their families
- help our pastors and their families to optimize their health
- contain healthcare costs

In 2013 the Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits will contract with an independent consulting firm to review our current health insurance plan for best practices and sustainability. The audit will be paid through a grant provided by the United Methodist Foundation of Arkansas.

1. All Full, Associate, and Probationary Members, all Full-Time Local Pastors of the conference under regular Arkansas appointment and their dependents (except students serving in or those employed by other conferences or agencies that have compulsory programs, members under special appointment outside the conference, or military personnel serving in the conference), and all full-time employees of the conference shall participate in the Health Benefits Program of the Arkansas Conference.
    a. The Program is open for full-time lay staff (working at least 30 hrs. per week), Probationers, Student Local Pastors, Full Deacons, Diaconal Ministers, and Full Members serving less than full-time appointment or employment. This is optional for these participants and is their responsibility to make necessary arrangements to enroll and will be responsible for the total premium.
    b. A participant must enroll in writing with the Office of Pension and Health Benefits within 30 days of the eligibility date. The eligibility date is the date of first appointment, business date of Annual Conference, date of employment, or the first day following an employee waiting period.
    c. All retired clergy, spouses, surviving spouses, eligible dependent children and surviving eligible dependent children of retired clergy who are the responsibility of the Arkansas

Conference and have been participating in the program on the date of retirement shall be eligible to continue participation. Retired participants and their spouses who have attained age 65 must have Medicare parts A and B at the participant's own expense. The group medical plan will coordinate benefits with Medicare whether or not the participant or their spouse is actually receiving benefits. Conference Group Health Insurance participants who are retired are asked NOT TO ENROLL IN MEDICARE PART D. Your conference prescription drug benefit acting as a Medicare Subsidy will remain the same coverage which you had in your Active years.

d. Clergy on Incapacity Leave receiving CPP Disability benefits that become eligible for Medicare Disability after July 1, 2009 are required to enroll in Medicare parts A & B at your own cost. The Arkansas Board of Pension and Health Benefits will provide the full cost of your conference health insurance premium while you are receiving CPP Disability. CoreSource remains the primary carrier. The Stop-Loss benefit will not apply so that Medicare pays a portion.

e. The Conference Benefit Officer will verify clergy eligibility with the district office. The eligibility of any full-time lay employee of a church will be verified with the senior pastor, and payment of premiums agreed upon prior to enrollment.

f. In order to be in HIPPA compliance, there is a thirty (30) day OPEN ENROLLMENT period each September. Insurance benefits are effective OCTOBER 1. Pre-existing conditions limitations may apply.

The following procedure will continue to be used in conjunction with collecting premiums:

1. The insurance premiums are billed quarterly to the lead church. The premium is due 30 days from the statement date shown on the invoice sent from the Treasurer's office. All participants are responsible for seeing that the total premium due is sent to: The Arkansas Conference, P.O. Box 3611, Little Rock, AR 72203 within the quarter.
2. The board shall use the following measures when premiums are not received on time:
   a. A second notice is sent to the church 14 days after the due date, with a copy sent to the district. The church may be billed a late charge of $20.00 after this second notice is sent.
   b. A third notice will be sent to the church and cabinet representative 7 days after the second notice with a possible termination date clearly stated.
   c. After the third notice has been sent, and no response has been made, the participant may be terminated from the plan and the Cabinet Representative notified. [Note: No participant will ever be terminated from the plan until personal contact has been made from the board.] Premiums must be received before the termination date. Premiums received after termination will be returned to the church.
   d. If coverage is terminated, re-enrollment will not take place until open enrollment.
3. Participants in the Insurance Plan whose appointment/employment is terminated may be granted an Extension of coverage (COBRA) for up to eighteen months provided that:

MEDICAL SCHEDULE OF BENEFITS FOR RETIRED PARTICIPANTS

When Retired Employees or their Dependents become eligible under Medicare, all of the following will happen:

- Medicare pays benefits first.
- All health benefits then in effect for that person stop and are replaced with a new benefit to complement Medicare. The new benefit is a Major Medical Benefit.
- Eligible Charges incurred prior to a person becoming eligible under Medicare in the Calendar Year in which the person becomes eligible under Medicare may be used to satisfy the Cash Deductible under the new Major Medical Benefit for that Calendar Year.
- Payment for any day of confinement or any treatment, services, or supplies given after the date the person becomes eligible under Medicare is made only under the new Major Medical Benefit.
- This new Major Medical Benefit is only for persons eligible under Medicare. It does not apply to any participant unless that participant becomes eligible under Medicare.

The Major Medical Benefit for Retired Employees pays Eligible Charges that are more than the amounts payable for the same expenses under both of the following:

- Medicare Parts A and B.
- Any plan of basic medical benefits sponsored by the Employer for persons eligible under Medicare.

Each participant must satisfy a Cash Deductible of $250 each Calendar Year before any payment is made. The Cash Deductible is the amount of Eligible Charges you must first pay each year for each participant.

If a participant:

- Incurs Eligible Charges during October, November, or December; and

- Uses these Eligible Charges to satisfy the Cash Deductible,

They will also be counted toward that participant's Cash Deductible for the following year.

If two (2) or more family members are hurt in the same accident, only one (1) Cash Deductible will have to be paid for all expenses incurred by the family due to that accident each year.

Then the benefit pays the following percentage of Eligible Charges:

- 80% of the UCR amount for PPO Providers and 70% of the UCR amount for Non-PPO Providers.

The Eligible Charges payable under this Major Medical Benefit for Retired Employees are the same Eligible Charges payable under Medicare with the exception of Prescription Drug charges.

If the provider has agreed to limit charges for services and supplies to the charges allowed by Medicare (participation physicians), this Plan determines the amount of Eligible Charges based on the amount of charges allowed by Medicare.

If the provider has not agreed to limit charges for services and supplies to the charges allowed by Medicare (non-participating physician), this Plan determines the amount of Eligible Charges based on the lesser of the following:

- The Reasonable Charges.
- The amount of the Limiting Charges as defined by Medicare.

OUT-OF-POCKET FEATURE

Out-of-Pocket Feature does not apply to charges incurred because of cost containment penalties, nor charges incurred due to reduction of UCR nor prescription drug card copays nor Inpatient Hospital Confinement Deductibles. The aforementioned charges will never be paid at 100%, even after the Out-of-Pocket Maximum has been reached.

The amount of Eligible Charges, including the Cash Deductible that you pay, are counted toward the In-Network Out-of-Pocket Maximum or the Out-of-Network Out-of-Pocket Maximum, as applicable. The In-Network Out-of-Pocket Maximum is $2,500 and the Out-of-Network Out-of-Pocket Maximum is $2,500; please note these are separate and do not contribute toward each other. When the Out-of-Pocket Maximum for In-Network is reached for any one person in a Calendar Year, In-Network Eligible Charges, other than those shown above, are payable at 100% for that same person for the rest of that year. When the Out-of-Pocket Maximum for Out-of-Network is reached for any one person in a Calendar Year, Out-of-Network Eligible Charges, other than those shown above, are payable at 100% for that same person for the rest of that year.

MAXIMUM BENEFIT

The Maximum Benefit payable per Calendar Year for each participant is $1,250,000.

The maximum will include any amount paid under the Employer's Comprehensive Medical Benefit for persons eligible under Medicare in effect prior to the Effective Date.

EXCLUSIONS

The exclusions shown in the "Exclusions" section of this Plan Document also apply to this Major Medical Benefit for Retired Employees and includes ineligible charges under Medicare with the exception of Prescription Drug charges.

Methodist Healthcare Employee Assistance Program

The Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits announce our partnership with the Board of Ordained Ministry to bring you the Methodist Healthcare Employee Assistance Program (EAP). Beginning January 1, 2012, this program will provide free, confidential short- term counseling to clergy and all members of your household.

The Methodist Healthcare EAP has been a leader in the Memphis community for over 25 years.

We are pleased to offer this service now to our clergy and their families. EAP can help with many of life's challenges such as family issues, marital concerns, alcohol and drug abuse, anxiety, depression, major life events, grief, work concerns and managing the stress of everyday life. The program offers 6 counseling sessions to you and members of your household, free of charge. It is paid for by the Arkansas Conference. You will not need to pay a co-pay. In most cases, short-term counseling is all the help you'll need. However, if a referral outside the EAP is necessary, the EAP counselor will seek the best resources for your situation. Counseling outside the EAP will require use of insurance or self-pay.

Use of the EAP and issues discussed in all sessions are held in strict confidence. Rest assured that your private health information remains confidential and can only be released outside the EAP with your written consent or when required by law such as in life threatening situations or child/elder abuse.

All Arkansas Conference clergy, whether full-time, part-time, retired or disabled as well as members of your household are eligible to participate. People who live within 50 miles of the two EAP offices in Memphis will use that resource. For all others, there are affiliate counselors throughout Arkansas to serve you and your family. For more information about the Methodist Healthcare EAP, please visit their website at www.methodisteapcanhelp.org.

To access the program, simply call their toll free number, 1 (800) 880-5658 to schedule an appointment. Look for more information from the Methodist Healthcare EAP throughout the year via a monthly newsletter and at Annual Conference.

Eligible clergy include all clergy members, local pastors appointed within the AC; those who have been previously approved by the Conference Board of Ordained Ministry for service as full-time, part-time or student pastors, or a clergy person of another denomination who is under episcopal appointment in the conference. The Board of Pension and Health Benefits recommend that:

1. PSR- 2012 & 2013 Past Service Rate is $577.00.
2. The MPP ended December 31, 2006. Money on account is subject to market performance. The AC participates in the new retirement plan, Clergy Retirement Security Program (CRSP) and the Comprehensive Protection Plan (CPP) the death & disability plan (full-time only are eligible for CPP). CRSP is made up of 2 components, a defined benefit and defined contribution.
   a. The calculations under CRSP are:
      i. Monthly DB Retirement Benefit Calculation is 1.25% X Denominational Average Compensation (DAC) X Years of Credited Service after 12/31/2006 ÷ 12.
      ii. The DC contribution is 3% of your actual plan compensation (includes housing).
   b. Contributions to the Comprehensive Protection Plan (CPP) are 3% of plan compensation up to 200% of the DAC.
   c. Current and past service is paid by the local church through apportionment.
   d. The Comprehensive Protection Plan (CPP) is available through special arrangements as determined by the conference Adoption Agreement with the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits.
3. Surviving spouses eligible for spousal benefits will receive benefits at 75% of the formula benefit rate for pre-1982 service.
4. Allowance grants and local expenses of the Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits are paid by the Conference Treasurer, subject to the approval of the Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits and the 2008 Book of Discipline.
5. The institution, board or organization paying the salary of a minister on special appointment without annuity claim on the conference shall make provision for the pension of such person. Attention is called to ¶1506.3a (3), 2008 Book of Discipline, regarding eligibility to participate in CRSP and Comprehensive Protection Plan (CPP).In order to provide adequately for the pension program (current and past funding), and health insurance for disabled clergy receiving CPP benefits, the churches shall pay as apportioned for 2013 an amount totaling $4,350,000. The 2013 Health insurance premiums for retirees shall be apportioned for $1,780,000.

6. There shall be apportioned to each agency and institution served by a ministerial member under special appointment with annuity claim on the conference an amount equal to 16.4% of the Denominational Average Compensation (DAC).
7. We remind all pastors and local churches of ¶639.4 in the 2004 Book of Discipline, which sets forth the requirement that payments on the pension and benefit program of the conference be in exact proportion to payments made on the salary or salaries of the ordained minister or clergy serving it. ¶638.4d requires the local church treasurer and/or pastor to adjust the cash salary and payment to be in the same proportion as the amount paid to the pension and benefit program of the conference. ¶638.4 adds that it shall not be permissible for a pastor to receive a bonus or other supplementary compensation tending to defeat proportional payment.
8. ¶638.4 of the 2008 Book of Discipline requires the Conference Board to keep a permanent record of defaults of the churches of the conference in paying the pension and benefit apportionment in full. The board is further required to render annually to each church that is in default a statement of the amounts in default for that and preceding years. According to our Conference Treasurer, in 2011 the following churches were in default by the following amounts:

16. We recommend that all retired ministers, widows, and dependent children who are the responsibility of the Arkansas Annual Conference and were enrolled ten years immediately prior to retirement the last five years prior to retirement must be served in our annual conference and in our health insurance plan. Clergy and or spouses who enroll after the deadline are ineligible to receive the following premium gift benefit and will responsible for paying the entire premium.

The Annual Conference will pay health care cost of retirees and surviving spouses, starting the first day of the month in which pension annuity begins under the following guidelines:

a. Retiree Healthcare Proposal - Part A: Each current retiree "premium gift" shall be reduced by 10%, beginning January 1, 2013. (Part A will not go into effect unless Part B is approved to reduce the future retiree premium gift by a similar or greater amount.) EARLY RETIREE BENEFITS: Is defined as a clergy who retires under the Medicare eligible age of 65 for the purpose the conference health insurance premium gift calculation. There will be a cap equal to the Conference Medicare Companion Premium Rate applied to early retiree premium gift benefits. Example: Clergy age 62 with 30 years of service (and spouse age 59) would receive a gift of up to $620 toward $1558 monthly premium and would be responsible for the remaining $938 per month. In addition, once the clergy & spouse reach age 65, a penalty equal to a 10% reduction in the conference premium gift benefit will remain in place. The Conference insurance premium gift will start when Clergy becomes annuitant.

b. Retiree Healthcare Proposal - Part B: Those retiring after the 2012 session of annual conference will have the following changes in the formula for the premium gift:

   i. To be eligible to receive the premium gift, retiring clergy must have served in the denomination full-time for at least ten years. The last five years prior to retirement must be served in the Arkansas annual conference and in our insurance plan. (Currently it only takes two years of service to qualify.)

   ii. The maximum premium gift will be 80% of the premium (currently 100%).

   iii. The first ten years of Arkansas service will accrue at 2% per service year. The next twenty years of Arkansas service the gift will accrue at 3% per service year. At 30 years of Arkansas service, the maximum premium gift of 80% is achieved. Years of service outside the Arkansas conference are not included in the premium gift calculation. Currently the gift accelerates at 4% per service year for the first twenty, and then 1% per service year for the next twenty years.

c. FULL RETIREMENT: Is defined as a clergy who has reached Medicare age 65 on or prior to the effective date of retirement for the conference health insurance premium gift.

Monthly Premium rate	2011	2012
Clergy- early age retiree/single coverage	650	750
Clergy-early age retiree/spouse under age 65.....	$1,458	$1,558

Clergy- full age retiree/spouse under age 65.....	$1,303	$1,386

NOTE: Participant's portion is based on current premiums and may vary yearly with rate increases and annual changes in Board of Pension policy.

d. Retired individuals, eligible for Medicare, shall personally pay Medicare premiums.

e. The health insurance premium of an under-age surviving spouse will be paid for 5 years and there after will be based on the formula paid for retired clergy service year credit. After the 5-year payment, the surviving spouse is required to request monetary assistance in writing if needed.

f. When a surviving spouse of a retired clergy person remarries, that surviving spouse will be responsible for 100% of the insurance premium.

g. Spouses and dependent children, under the age of 65, of a clergy person who dies while active will have their health insurance premiums paid by the Annual Conference for 5 years following the death of the clergy. In the event of extenuating circumstances, an extension of payments may be requested by the surviving spouse. Each case will be reviewed annually. When the unmarried surviving spouse reaches 65, the guidelines above go into effect.

h. If a retired minister marries, the new spouse will be eligible for coverage under the Health Insurance Plan. The total premium will be his/her responsibility.

i. Eligible dependents of a retired minister who are not currently enrolled in the Arkansas United Methodist Health Insurance plan may, if eligible, enroll in this plan with preexisting conditions waived provided:

   i. The dependent(s) have been covered by an employer-sponsored group insurance plan for a minimum of one consecutive year; and

WHEREAS, the practice of the Church and of this Conference was and is to provide active Clergypersons with a parsonage or a rental/housing allowance as part of their gross compensation;

WHEREAS, pensions or other amounts paid to active, retired, and disabled Clergypersons are considered to be deferred compensation and are paid to active, retired, and disabled Clergypersons in consideration of previous active service; and

THAT the pension or disability payments to which this rental/housing allowance applies will be any pension or disability payments from plans, annuities, or funds authorized under the Discipline, including such payments from the GBOPHB and from a commercial annuity company that provides an annuity arising from benefits accrued under a GBOPHB plan, annuity, or fund authorized under the Discipline, that result from any service a Clergyperson rendered to this Conference or that an active, a retired, or a disabled Clergyperson of this Conference rendered to any local church, annual conference of the Church, general agency of the Church, other institution of the Church, former denomination that is now a part of the Church, or any other employer that employed the Clergyperson to perform services related to the ministry of the Church, or its predecessors, and that elected to make contributions to, or accrue a benefit under, such a plan, annuity, or fund for such active, retired, or disabled Clergyperson's pension or disability as part of his or her gross compensation.

NOTE: The rental/housing allowance that may be excluded from a Clergyperson's gross income in any year for federal income tax purposes is limited under Internal Revenue Code section 107(2) and regulations there under to the least of: (1) the amount of the rental/housing allowance designated by the Clergyperson's employer or other appropriate body of the Church (such as this Conference in the foregoing resolutions) for such year; (2) the amount actually expended by the Clergyperson to rent or provide a home in such year; or (3) the fair rental value of the home, including furnishings and appurtenances (such as a garage), plus the cost of utilities in such year.

18. A Retired Minister's Day is Recommended Each Year: Recommended to be the Third Sunday of May each year. The purpose of this day is to recognize the service of the retired servants and their families, and to involve the local churches in the recognition of the needs, both present and future, of The Arkansas Conference Board of Pension and Health Benefits.

    If a retired minister does not reside within the bounds of a charge, but a member of a retired minister's family does, they shall be invited to participate in the service (or observance); otherwise, recognition of these servants, and their service, should be observed appropriately. "Appropriately" should be determined by the Pastor/Parish Relations Committee of each local church. This committee shall have the responsibility of locating these people and relate the service of these persons to the local church and our Annual Conference. Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church
2012 Funding Plan
For Supplement One to the Ministerial Pension Plan

The 2011 Past Service Rate (PSR) is $577.00, or 0.87% of the Conference Average Compensation (CAC). While the CAC has been trending at a higher percentage, the economic downturn in 2008 has caused that trend to be reversed. We also have seen attendance and membership declining over the past several years. All of this would indicate the CAC will be increasing at 2% or below. We plan to not increase the PSR for 2013. We anticipate future PSR increases to be approximately 2.00% per year.

The 2012 funding plan is summarized below.

Current Plan Funding at 1/1/10 .....$ 22,985,062.00
Total Liability at 1/1/10 * ..... (29,582,844.00)
Funded Status at 1/1/10..... $ (6,597,782.00)
Funded Ratio at 1/1/10 .....78.00%
Required Contribution *.....$875,617.00

*Assumes an average of 2% PSR increase per year, 7.0% Interest and RP 2000 mortality table, unprojected

The Arkansas Conference will utilize the CPP Premium Holiday for the years 2010, 2011, and 2012. The Conference will continue to apportion those CPP premiums to the local churches and direct those funds toward the contribution required for the Pre-82 Plan on December 31, 2011. That amount is approximately $650,000 per year; therefore two years of CPP premiums collected will be $1,300,000.

CPP Premium Holiday .....$ 650,000.00
Reserves on account with GBOPHB.....$ 103,834.00
Total.....$ 875,617.00

In 2012, the third CPP Premium Holiday will be used for any contributions along with reserves and an additional $500,000 conference apportionment.

All future Pre-82 funding will be raised through apportionments.

If the funded ratio exceeds 110% the Conference Board of Pension will consider redirecting surplus funds. We recognize that redirecting surplus increases the future probability of contributions.

EQUITABLE COMPENSATION COMMISSION

MISSION STATEMENT:

The mission of the Commission on Equitable Compensation is to enable local churches to make disciples of Jesus Christ by providing appropriate compensation for effective pastoral leadership.

Recognizing the need to be good stewards of the trust that is placed with the Equitable Compensation Commission, the commission has reduced the amount requested this year to $165,000. Through careful planning and the number of churches that no longer need support, this action has been taken in our request to the Conference Council on Finance.

I. MINIMUM COMPENSATION BASE SUPPORT:

The Commission on Equitable Compensation recommends that the 2013 Minimum Compensation Payment Schedule remain at the 2012 level. The Guidelines having been established and proving to be effective will remain the same as printed in this report.

	Full Connection	Provisional -- Associate Member	Local Pastor
Minimum Base Comp.	$ 32,800	$ 31,700	$ 30,500

1. A parsonage or a housing allowance shall be provided in addition to the figures listed above.
2. Associate Pastors (not to be confused with Associate Members of the Conference) are not eligible for Minimum Compensation Aid.
3. Retired Pastors are not eligible for Minimum Compensation Aid. See ¶ 359.6, 2008 Book of Discipline.
4. Each church receiving Minimum Base Compensation Support shall provide the amount(s) received from the Arkansas Conference for the past five (5) years. We further require that each local church describe how they will reduce this support through the local church's ministry plan. Each church receiving compensation shall report to the commission each year by August 30. The report form is available on the Arkansas Conference website at arumc.org and from each district superintendent. Completed forms are to be sent to Rev. Brad Elrod, ECC Registrar, by August 30 each year. Please note that each category will have a different report form.

II. KEY CHARGE PROGRAM FOR BASE COMPENSATION SUPPORT:

The Key Charge Program provides Base Compensation Support to pastors who are appointed to charges targeted for significant growth by the Conference or are in transition and require short-term support for effective pastoral leadership for various other reasons. Key Charges are related to the Commission on Equitable Compensation by a contractual agreement. The contract is negotiated by the Chair of the Commission, the district superintendent, and representatives of the charge. The persons, or their successors, shall be the trustees of the contract, having verified it with their signatures.
The contract shall include:

(a) The initial amount of the Base Compensation Support needed,
(b) The duration of the contract (normally 5 years or less), and
(c) The signatures of the persons negotiating the contract.

The nature of the contract is such that the amount of compensation support given shall decrease proportionately each year, while the compensation paid by the charge increases by at least the same amount, thus keeping the compensation at least stable over the contract period. After the contract has expired, no further compensation support will be granted to the charge. Under the Key Charge arrangement, there shall be no required minimum or maximum levels of support by the charge. The only limitation will be the amount of funding budgeted for this program.

III. MISSIONAL LOCAL CHURCH COMPENSATION SUPPORT:

We recommend that the Arkansas Conference undergird its mission by providing a Missional Local Church Compensation Support Program. This program is intended to help provide capable, effective, pastoral leadership to charges which function in areas of extreme economic limitation and which are unable to provide a viable level of pastoral support without mission aid. In each case, the level of base compensation support shall be negotiated by the Chair of the Commission on Equitable Compensation and the district superintendent in consultation with the pastor and officials of the charge. Priority shall be given to charges that show potential for growth, for increased effectiveness in ministry and for advance toward self-support. Consequently, when a charge has received Missional Local Church Support for four years, the commission will assess the charge's growth during the period before continued funding is approved. Considerations will include:

1. Membership
2. Worship attendance
3. Percentage of apportionments paid
4. The charge's share of the pastor's compensation

5. The charge's stewardship ("total amount paid" divided by worship attendance)

If a charge declines in more than two of these categories over the four-year period, Missional Local Church Support shall be reduced by ten percent the following year, and it shall be reduced by one third over each of the succeeding three years. The district superintendent may appear before the commission to request an exception to this process.

IV. EQUITABLE COMPENSATION AGREEMENT:

When Equitable Compensation support has been granted to a church/charge, an acknowledgement of the conditions and amount of that funding shall be executed by the district superintendent, pastor, and leaders of the church/charge before any payment of funds shall be made. This acknowledgement shall be made on a form provided by the commission. No funds shall be disbursed until the agreement is signed and returned to the district superintendent. These forms are available on the conference website at arumc.org.

V. ANNUAL REPORT:

The church/charge receiving financial support shall submit an annual report. The report form is available from the district superintendent or the conference website at arumc.org. Included in this report is the explanation of how these funds have aided the local church/charge. This report shall be returned by August 30 of each year to Rev. Brad Elrod, ECC Registrar.

VI. ADDITIONAL PRIORITIES:

A. The Equitable Compensation Commission shall maintain adequate reserves to fund needs which may emerge.
B. Each charge receiving equitable compensation in any of the above categories is expected to pay its conference apportionments in full. If the charge is unable to accomplish this, they shall submit a written plan of action approved by their district superintendent, detailing the steps to be taken in order to achieve this goal.
C. All Commission on Equitable Compensation funding relates to pastoral support only. Using funds for any other purpose, such as program cost or other compensation, violates the agreement.
D. Equitable compensation funds are paid directly to the church/charge and shall be paid to the pastor as a supplement to funds budgeted by the church/charge.

CAMP TANAKO

4301 Highway 290, Hot Springs, AR 71913-8799
(501) 262-2600

Camp Tanako continues to be a vital part of the Arkansas Conference, as it recorded over 8,000 camper days. Children, youth, families, and adults come to Tanako seeking retreat and ministry opportunities as they enjoy God's Creation. While many are already involved in their local church communities, many others hear God's Call for the first time at Tanako.

Tanako is continuing its partnership with other ministries, as it hosts the Noahs of Ark Emmaus group, many confirmation classes, Sunday morning services, and the Methodist Family Health organization. The camp also partners with the local community, as an important link for education and youth development opportunities.

In 2011, Tanako saw a 6% rise in summer camper attendance. The Counselor In Training program is continuing to flourish, producing youth that are valuable leaders of younger campers. The Spring Break Missions opportunity began this year at Tanako. It offers an option at Tanako and surrounding areas for churches who are interested in participating locally in the mission field.

Tanako is constantly striving to hold a valuable place in both the Conference and the Community. The Everitt Lodge was built in memory of longtime director, Terry Everitt, and will house Tanako staff during the summer months and is available for use by small groups.

New Tanako Board members for this year are: Courtney Heyl, Little Rock; Kevin Wade, Little Rock; Ken Pearson, Little Rock; Roger Pessa, Camden; and Rick Gartner, Conway.

Since 2003 and the creation of the Arkansas Conference, Tanako has been working on getting its paperwork "official." Tanako would like to present these Articles of Amendment to its Articles of Incorporation for review and acceptance by the Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church. These Articles update Tanako's information relative to the merge of the two conferences, assuring that language is current with requirements by both the State of Arkansas and the ARUMC.

We appreciate the Conference's support of our mission and ministry.

Camp Tanako Articles of Incorporation Executive Summary:

On Proposed changes of Articles of Incorporation, known as Articles of Amendment The Board of Trustees of the Little Rock Conference Camp, DBA Camp Tanako, respectfully submits the following changes to be voted upon by the 2012 session of the Arkansas Annual Conference:

1. The Amendments will reflect that the new name of the corporation will be Camp Tanako. It is currently registered as the Little Rock Conference United Methodist Camp. Seeing as the Little Rock Conference does not actually exist anymore, the common name of Camp Tanako would be more appropriate.
2. The amendments will reflect present IRS tax and law terms that were not in existence when the current Articles were filed. Since the Articles of Incorporation were originally filed in 1948, and amended in 1980, this amendment brings Articles into conformity with current Arkansas law pertaining to not for profit corporations. It also addresses items that are affected by current IRS regulations for not for profit corporations.
3. The amendments will reflect the current address of the camp, which was changed when 911 services came to the community in the late 1980s.
4. The amendments will reflect current necessary applications of the Discipline of the United Methodist Church.

RESOLUTIONS

RESOLUTION #1
"Stewardship"

Whereas, the Conference Committee on Stewardship is tasked with promoting stewardship efforts in the local churches of the Arkansas Conference.

Whereas, many local churches within our Conference and across the nation struggle with how to encourage, teach, and promote biblically-based stewardship practices. [1]

Whereas, the concept of biblically-based stewardship should include teaching for all age levels from children through adults on the use of time, talents, resources, and care of creation. [2]

Whereas, national surveys indicate that less than 10% of Christians practice giving of the tithe, commonly defined as giving 10% of one's income to the local church, which leads many churches to face continuing struggles with meeting all of the financial needs of the church. [3]

Whereas national surveys indicate that less than 23% of self-identified Christians are actively involved in volunteering through a local church. [4]

Therefore, the Conference Committee on Stewardship recommends the establishment of general guidelines for the local churches of the Arkansas Conference in regard to creating and enhancing a culture of stewardship and generosity. The following guidelines are suggested for incorporation into all Conference churches:

a) At least one time per year, the pastor of each church will seek to provide a teaching sermon on the topic of giving/generosity, which will seek to teach principles beyond the standard "tithing sermon".
b) All local churches are encouraged to make available a biblically-based personal financial management program like Financial Peace University, Crown Financial Ministries or promote similar financial planning resources that can be used by individuals and families of the church.
c) In conjunction with resources made available through the Arkansas Conference Center for Technology all churches should review the possibility of offering online giving and consider making this option available through the local church website if one is in place and if the church deems that it would be a useful giving option.
d) In order to plan for future needs of the church, consideration should be given to the establishment of a planned giving program, an example of which is available and free through the United Methodist Foundation of Arkansas.
e) In an effort to promote and foster a climate of giving beyond the walls of the church which engages us in helping our neighbors, local churches are encouraged to adopt at least one local or global mission project each year while providing support through the use of time, talents, and resources.
f) In an effort to engage more church members in active volunteerism, Conference churches are encouraged to focus at least one Sunday per year on the importance of service and volunteerism.
g) In an effort to increase awareness about issues related to creation care, Conference churches are encouraged to focus on this topic at least one Sunday per year and to adopt creation care practices in regard to the church operation.

We respectfully submit the above referenced guidelines, which we deem to not be exhaustive of the many possibilities and initiatives Conference churches can utilize to foster a stewardship climate.

RESOLUTION #2

In accordance with our Standing Rule 8c, this resolution was referred to the Conference Board of Church and Society. The Board responded by recommending concurrence.

A Resolution for the Annual Conference to Affirm the Following Statement:

"A Respectful Approach to our Differing Views"

"Without trying to amend current positions in the Book of Discipline in this resolution (Insert ¶161.f F) Human Sexuality—We affirm that sexuality is God's good gift to all persons. We call everyone to responsible stewardship of this sacred gift. Although all persons are sexual beings whether or not they are married, sexual relations are affirmed only with the covenant of monogamous, heterosexual marriage. We deplore all forms of the commercialization, abuse, and exploitation of sex. We call for strict global enforcement of laws prohibiting the sexual exploitation of children and for adequate protection, guidance, and counseling for abused children. All persons, regardless of age, gender, marital status, or sexual orientation, are entitled to have their human and civil rights ensured and to be protected against violence. The Church should support the family in providing age-appropriate education regarding sexuality to children, youth, and adults.
*We affirm that all persons are individuals of sacred worth, created in the image of God. All persons need the ministry of the Church in their struggles for human fulfillment, as well as the spiritual and emotional care of a fellowship that enables reconciling relationships with God, with others, and with self. The United Methodist Church does not condone the practice of homosexuality and consider this practice incompatible with Christian teaching. We affirm that God's grace is available to all. We will seek to live together in Christian community, welcoming, forgiving, and loving one another, as Christ has loved and accepted us. We implore families and churches not to reject or condemn lesbian and gay members and friends. We commit ourselves to be in ministry for and with all persons.), and with the precedence of the new wording of the preamble to the Social Principles, we acknowledge that faithful United Methodist Christians in the Arkansas Conference have differing views on the issue of homosexuality, as well as other issues. We resolve to approach these differences with respect and humility, giving witness to the love that God has for all."

Rationale:

The issue of homosexuality is mentioned specifically because it is an emotionally and spiritually charged issue, with many congregations divided in terms of views and feelings. This resolution would support congregations as they work to make connections with people of varied opinions and feelings, seeking to build bridges rather than barriers. With this resolution, we are not taking sides. Rather, we are acknowledging that there are thoughtful and scripturally-based views within the Body of Christ that are not in agreement. We hope to provide some language to help us approach this tension in a way that glorifies God. To paraphrase John Wesley, while we don't all think alike on many things, we can still love alike.

Why make an affirmation of this kind at the Annual Conference level? Just as it is good for local congregations to discern and name their unique purpose and values, this is important for Annual Conferences as well. Within our global church, represented with many diverse cultures and values, such local affirmations might be more pertinent and helpful than statements at higher levels of the church. This statement is not about policies or a call to change policies; it is an affirmation of the need for holy conferencing. In support of this calling, the Preamble to the Social Principles now states, "We stand united in declaring our faith that God's grace is available to all, and that nothing can separate us from the love of God in Jesus Christ. We affirm our unity in Jesus Christ while acknowledging differences in applying our faith in different cultural contexts as we live out the gospel."

Finally, in the spirit of holy conferencing, we make this proposal in the hope that it will be adopted by consensus, rather than by majority vote. Consensus does not necessarily mean unanimous enthusiasm; rather, it means that the vast majority can live with the proposal and are willing to give support at various levels. We believe that such an affirmation would be a sign of the kingdom of God at work in our midst, and would be a powerful witness to others. If a vote is called for from the Chair or from the body, we hope to minimize divisiveness by conducting this business in a spirit of prayer.

RESOLUTION #3

In accordance with our Standing Rule 8c, this resolution was referred to the Conference Board of Church and Society. The Board responded by recommending concurrence.

Encouraging Sacred Conversations on Human Sexuality

Whereas, the Book of Discipline "affirm(s) that sexuality is God's good gift to all persons" (161f), and

Whereas, we "seek to live together in Christian community, welcoming, forgiving, and loving each other" (161f), and

Whereas, "we implore families and churches not to reject or condemn lesbian and gay members and friends" (161f), and

Whereas, we realize that lack of information and dialogue on human sexuality creates and maintains an atmosphere of distrust and misinformation, and even encourages bullying and acts of violence against gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgendered individuals,

Therefore, we, the Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church resolves to hold and encourage, in all congregations and districts, a series of Sacred Conversations on Human Sexuality with Biblical and Disciplinary referencing and relevant scientific information and under the Wesleyan rules of Holy Conferencing.

Therefore the Bishop shall set up a task force to develop a curriculum to teach this course. The curriculum would reference all scriptures that speak to human sexuality; refer to all the references to human sexuality in the Discipline including ¶341.6, 2702a., 2702b, 304.2, 304.3, 161.f and Social Principles. We should be sure to use the Weslyan method of answering theological questions of scripture, tradition, reason and experience to develop this curriculum. This task force will be made up of Cabinet representatives, members of the Confessing Movement, members of the Methodist Federation for Social Action, Reconciling Ministries, and possibly other interested persons.

RESOLUTION #4

In accordance with our Standing Rule 8c, this resolution was referred to the Conference Board of Church and Society. The Board responded by recommending concurrence.

Resolution on Bullying

Whereas, our Judeo-Christian tradition highly values the next generation as the future of our society, to be nurtured and educated with care and respect, and

Whereas, Jesus showed particular affection for children (Luke 18:16), and stated that acts of mercy as small as sharing a cup of cold water with little ones bring the rewards of discipleship (Matthew 10:42), and

Whereas, bullying has reached epic proportions, particularly online (cyberbullying); and in full recognition that we are called to ministry to all, especially "the least", those who have no voice in society, and

Whereas, we are losing young people to suicide in record numbers as a result of uncontrolled bullying,

Therefore, we, the Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church, as peace-loving and faithful Christians, deplore and condemn the act of bullying, will continue to provide Safe Places and Safe Sanctuaries, for young people, and strongly suggest that all governments and school systems enact strong measures against bullies, including significant civil and criminal penalties against the offenders.

RESOLUTION #5

In accordance with our Standing Rule 8c, this resolution was referred to the Conference Board of Church and Society. The Board responded by recommending concurrence.

Resolution on Gambling

Whereas the Social Principles of the United Methodist Church state, "Gambling is a menace to society, deadly to the best interests of moral, social, economic, and spiritual life, destructive of good government and good stewardship," (Para. 163, G)

And, whereas there is currently a proposal for a constitutional amendment that would allow four casino gambling establishments in the state, (Arkansas Democrat/Gazette, April 26, 2012, p2B)

And, whereas such a constitutional amendment would potentially approve of an unregulated gambling monopoly,

Be it therefore resolved that the Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church reaffirms its support of the statement from the Social Principles of the United Methodist Church herein quoted; Implores United Methodist Christians to decline signing any petition that would assist in placing the measure on the 2012 Arkansas election ballot;

And further requests that United Methodist Christians support the efforts of the STOP CASINOS NOW COMMITTEE* in preventing the establishment of casinos in Arkansas.

One of the four quadrennial goals of the United Methodist Church is to advocate with the poor.

I am involved with a number of efforts that assist in the reduction of poverty. I am Chair of Housing Arkansas, which is attempting to create a housing trust fund. This will enable the development of affordable housing in Arkansas. I also Chair the Arkansas Energy Network, which is a developing program to assist with utility bills.

I am working to develop the Circles program in Arkansas. This effort will allow for better understanding of the low-income. I also attended the University of Central Arkansas' Community Development Institute.

ARCHIVES AND HISTORY COMMISSION

arkmethodist@hendrix.edu

The Archives and History Commission endeavors to assist in preserving the history of individual churches in order to honor the pastors and laity who built and nurtured these congregations through their prayers, presence, gifts, service and witness. Remembering and honoring the past work of our fellow Methodists helps us as we move forward in creating and maintaining congregations where following Jesus Christ remains the focus.

This past year the Commission has been successful in two areas: 1) the first involved bringing the independent United Methodist Historical Society of Arkansas and its sister organization, The United Methodist Museum of the Arkansas Conference, officially under the umbrella of the Commission as subsidiary arms; 2) The second focus was the securing of a new permanent home for the United Methodist Museum of the Arkansas Conference within the facilities of First United Methodist Church in Little Rock. The re-opening of the Museum took place January 14 with Bishop Charles Crutchfield leading the dedicatory service.

At Annual Conference, the Commission was voted approval to include four additional at-large representatives of the Commission representing two members each from both the Society and the Museum, joining the existing chair, one member from each district, and four other at-large members. This allows for a more coordinated and cohesive involvement regarding the preservation and celebration of our Conference's heritage.

Additionally, due to the announced retirement of Mauzel Beal as co-archivist of the Arkansas UM Archives effective March 31, 2012, Carole Teague was selected to succeed her in that position early in 2012, allowing for a smooth transition in those offices. Carole will join Marcia Crossman in providing continued assistance to those seeking the services of the Archives.

The Winfred D. Polk Archives is located in the Bailey Library on the campus of Hendrix College, 1600 Washington Avenue, Conway, Arkansas 72032. The e-mail address is arkmethodist@hendrix.edu and the telephone number is 501-450-1370.

CHRISTIAN UNITY AND INTERRELIGIOUS CONCERNS

Christian Unity and Interreligious Concerns (CUIC) is the conference committee who:

- advocates work with other churches and faiths to build better trust,
- encourages cooperation between churches and faiths in various projects,
- works toward better communication with peoples of all faiths, and
- encourages dialogue with all persons.

The CUIC supports our membership in, and financial support of the Arkansas Interfaith Conference. Through awareness, dialogue, and recognition, CUIC encourages churches to hold events to promote development of Christian and other Interfaith dialogue within the community. Each year at the Arkansas Annual Conference CUIC recognizes an individual and a church/organization who best exemplifies work through Interfaith dialogue.

CHURCH AND SOCIETY, BOARD OF

During the 2011 Annual Conference, Peace With Justice Grants were awarded to six recipients with the Conference portion of the Peace With Justice Sunday offering. The award recipients included the Murder Victim Families Empowerment Project, AR Coalition to Abolish the Death Penalty; Back to School Bonanza, Central UMC, Lincoln; Compartimos, Faith Spring and Oak Forest UMC; Conway Cradle Care Scholarship Program, Conway Cradle Care, Inc.; Break Free Youth Zone, Hamburg FUMC; and Manna House, Russellville FUMC. These missions help to begin and enhance caring ministries.

The Arkansas Conference Board of Church and Society worked as part of a steering committee along with the Imagine Justice Coalition (BMCR and MFSA) to organize the Imagine Justice Summit that was held on September 17, 2011 at Philander Smith College. There were plenary sessions and worship led by Bishop Charles Crutchfield and Susan Burton of the UM General Board of Church and Society. Workshops were led by Judge Wendell Griffen, Rev. Edna Morgan, Rev. I. Malik Saafir, Dr. Jay Barth, Dr. Joerg Rieger, Dr. Terrance and Sara Bayles. Tanika Harris of the General Board of Global Ministries led a panel and breakout groups. The topics of the day included imagining justice in an inclusive church, family justice, environmental justice, political justice and justice through mission.

The Hunger Task Force provided 14 small grants to community food programs through an allocation from the budget of the BOCS. This task force continues to remain active in accordance with a mandate from the 2003 Arkansas Annual Conference that a Hunger Task Force be named and remain active until there is no more hunger in Arkansas. The Task Force continues to seek out innovative ways of eliminating hunger. The Arkansas BOCS continues its membership in and support of the Arkansas Hunger Coalition, which attempts to alleviate immediate needs as well as remove the root causes of hunger.

The BOCS continued to work to develop principled Christian leaders by educating UMs in Arkansas concerning theological, economic, environmental and moral issues through the distribution of copies of the Social Principles, preparing resolutions for the Arkansas Conference and General Conference and using the Speakers Bureau to send individuals knowledgeable in specific areas to lead groups throughout the state.

A BOCS display board has been used at various venues throughout the year to distribute information and increase awareness of many issues such as worldwide health issues and disease eradication, access to clean water, healthcare, housing, how to affect change through legislation and political involvement and how to relate what the Bible says to United Methodist beliefs and actions. This information can help local churches begin new ministries and create more outreach into their communities.

An event modeled after the GBCS sponsored seminar program was held this spring in the Arkansas Conference using conference leadership who had participated in the national level program. This conference level event will allow for increased participation and will assist in developing a younger generation of church and mission leaders. The main goal is to provide young adults with an awareness of the role of social holiness in a life of faith.

A breakfast was held at the 2011 Annual Conference featuring Rev. Clayton Childress from the General Board of Church and Society. His focus was on Imagine No Malaria. The breakfast for 2012 will feature Dr Joerg Rieger of SMU Perkins School of Theology.

CHILD CARE LIAISON PROJECT

The Child Care Liaison Project continues to share information with faith based child care centers across Arkansas. Additionally, the Liaison responds to individual church child care needs as such arise.

At last count there were in the vicinity of 5000 children enrolled in our weekday child care offerings. For a great many of such children, attending church based child care is their only exposure to Christianity. Ministry to children is not about making countable church members, it is a ministry to share the love of God. Focusing on this main purpose, can help churches ensure a unity of all who come to be served.

If your church has a weekday child care ministry (mother's day out, kids day out, preschool, all day care, before or after school program) and you have not yet completed section 15 of the Guide to Child Care Ministries delivered to your church in 2009 (or available by contacting the district or conference office) please complete the section by June of 2012. The guide was created to help churches proactively address potential a variety of situations which can arise when having a regularly occurring weekday program for children (under 18 years of age). Topics include staffing, insurance, marketing, tuition, behavior, policies and more.

The General Board of Discipline recommends United Methodist Church child care programs seek to surpass state minimum licensing requirements, therefore, all Arkansas United Methodist operated licensed child care centers are encouraged to seek Better Beginnings certification which helps ensure care programs move beyond minimum safety regulations and are positive learning atmospheres for the children.

I am available to assist your church and its child care program as needed. Please feel free to email me at: meredithoharaarumc@sbcglobal.net or contact me at (501) 231-2299.

CONNECTED IN CHRIST

Connected In Christ began several years ago as part of a re-focusing effort to fulfill the mission to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world. Motivated by this mission, we have held numerous clergy retreats, leadership seminars for clergy and laity teams, coaching sessions with congregational teams, and tailored events to help pastors and congregations grow in faithful and fruitful ministry.

The impact of this work has been significant. Our pastors have reported that they feel more connected and better equipped for ministry as a result of their involvement in CIC. Leadership teams from congregations have consistently reported that they are more focused on the mission of the church, more hopeful about the future, and better equipped for ministry. In past reports we have given many statistics to show the fruit of this ministry. It is clear that CIC has been a catalyst for growth within our conference.

Through the Imagine Ministry process, it has been determined that it is time to end this particular ministry and focus these efforts through the new Center of Excellence for Clergy and Lay Leadership. In this new work, it is hoped that the core connections of CIC will continue to guide us. The unique mission of CIC has been to facilitate the connections needed for faithful and fruitful ministry. These connections include connecting pastors together in covenant community, connecting clergy and laity together into leadership teams, and connecting congregations to a coach for insights, encouragement, and accountability. Through these connections great things have happened. We hope and pray that these values and connections will continue to bear fruit in and for our Conference.

John Crawford, our Director of Lay Leadership, and I count it as a great blessing to have been in partnership with so many of you in this ministry. We give thanks for everyone who has supported and participated in Connected In Christ. May we always remember the most important connection, our connection to the one who said, "I am the vine and you are the branches." This is the connection that brings life to all others. May it always be at the heart of what we do as a Conference.

Grace and Peace,
Michael Roberts

CROSSING JORDAN MOVEMENT REPORT

The Crossing Jordan Movement is breathing new life and activity in the historically African American Churches across the Conference. Since November 2008, led by a core planning team, the African Americans within The United Methodist Church in Arkansas has seen new church starts, spiritual growth, energy, and renewed vision. This collaboration of Strengthening the Black Church for the 21st Century, Ethnic Local Church Committee, Religion and Race, and Black Methodists for Church Renewal is working to develop a new Comprehensive Plan for the Ethnic Church in Arkansas. Working together will yield a better product in which all groups affiliated with Black Churches can become stakeholders in the Arkansas Annual Conference. God is at work in the ethnic churches in Arkansas.

The Crossing Jordan Goals include continuing to work with ethnic churches regarding the following:

- Re-Think Church
- Three Simple Rules
- Living the United Methodist Way
- Four Focuses of the General Church
- Implementing the Five Practices of a Fruitful Congregation
- Support the work of the Imagining Ministry Teams through completion of gathering of local congregational profiles
- Rotating host sites to regional quarterly events
- Targeting specific topics in the quarterly events
- Presenting a schedule through 2012 that enables churches in each quadrant of the state to be provided with external/general church resources
- Invited local and regional feed-back for future events.

In 2011 The Crossing Jordan Movement began a new Academy with seven (7) persons in their first appointment or who were identified as needing additional support of a senior mentor. The Arkansas United Methodist Foundation provided a 2-year $40,000 grant to support The Academy. The senior mentor that was identified was Bishop Felton May, a retired cutting-edge spirit-filled clergy-elder whose task was to assist the younger clergy in planning, personal growth and integration of their seminary education into the reality of their appointments. Known for his far-reaching work with "Shalom Zones" and Africa University, Bishop May is the perfect match to enhance these persons skills in all practical areas of ministry.

Over the past year The Academy participants have attended focus groups, shared reading assignments, liturgical planning and specific tasks to enhance their ministry. The diverse group included associate pastors, stand-alone pastors, and a new church start pastor. All of the persons identified were given a series of peer-led praxis assignments designed to empower them in their individual contexts. One Academy participant indicated that while he had a church administration class in seminary, he did not fully understand the church budgeting process, or how the budget process fits into the Charge Conference dynamics.

Each Academy participant was given the opportunity to participate in Arkansas Conference events that they would not have ordinarily attended as a way to build community across the state and across the connection.

Crossing Jordan co-sponsored several events in which The Academy members participated: the Imagine Justice Summit, Can We Talk Jurisdictional Conference, SCJ Black Methodists for Church Renewal and several small cluster conversations in different areas of the state.

One pastor stated, "I did not understand the relationship between all of the conference advocacy groups until I attended the Imagine Justice Summit. I did not understand that issues were not just Arkansas issues, but that many conferences face the same things as we face in Arkansas. Through the Can We Talk Conference I was able to put the pieces together."

Another said, "Can We Talk allowed me to see jurisdictional candidates for bishop in action."

The Crossing Jordan Movement anticipates having a second Academy group following the 2012 Arkansas Annual Conference.

God is at work in the committees and ethnic churches of Arkansas bringing about a new awareness and understanding that the church is not a building, but the church is a people!

Maxine Allen
Crossing Jordan Movement Coordinator

EPISCOPACY COMMITTEE

Bishop Crutchfield continues to lead our conference to deep change. Under his leadership, the Imagine Team has completed its work by developing a recommended path forward where they believe the conference can improve its ministries. The chair of the committee met with Bishop Crutchfield to hear and respond to his ministry plan for the next year. He has led with conviction and passion the work of the Imagine Ministry team. We will be receiving a new bishop in the Arkansas Conference in September 2012. Preparation is underway to bid farewell to the Bishop and Karen Crutchfield and to receive the new bishop appointed here. Bishop Crutchfield has led us to the place where we can now see into "the promised land." We bid them farewell with grateful hearts.

The episcopal residence is in excellent condition. An informal review of the episcopal residence with Bishop and Karen Crutchfield supported the adequacy of the previous repairs. Some minor issues will be addressed this summer at a time convenient for the episcopal family and the incoming bishop.

Grace and Peace,
Asa Whitaker, Chair, Episcopacy Committee

ETHNIC LOCAL CHURCH CONCERNS

PURPOSE:

The Ethnic Local Church Concerns Committee has and will continue collaborating with existing structures of the Annual Conference in order to implement, evaluate and update the Annual Conference as it relates to its to ethnic Comprehensive Plans, Districts and the local churches of The Arkansas Conference, in training and implementation of matters related to local ethnic churches. (2007 Journal, p. 428)

In 2011, the committee on Ethnic Local Church Concerns supported and funded a number of initiatives that both enhanced opportunities to make disciples of Jesus Christ and responded to the strategic initiatives of The United Methodist Church in Arkansas.

A growing concern as it relates to all ethnic congregations is the absence of and the continuing loss of full-time clergy leadership. Every community of faith must have the benefit of knowledgeable passionate leadership if they are to reach their full potential. In an effort to help address this concern and encourage United Methodist students to invest their gifts and graces in the greater ministry of the United Methodist Church. The ELCC committee funded (22) students pursuing the completion of their academics as they navigate through undergraduate and graduate institutions of higher education. The committee funded all completed scholarship requests.

In 2011 the ELCC committee funded (25) leadership and outreach opportunities within the Arkansas Conference, promoting leadership development in congregational communities and national programs. The leadership and outreach funding will help to ensure the members of congregations who have taken leadership responsibilities with in the church, have the opportunity to acquire the appropriate training to be effective in meeting the needs of membership and surrounding communities.

The funded outreach opportunities included: Living Legends Banquet (PSC Campus Ministry), Church and Community Worker in McGhee, Black Methodist for Church Renewal Arkansas Chapter, First UMC, Lighthouse Afterschool Mentoring Program, Break Free Youth Zone, Delta Dream Food Pantry, St. Paul Maumelle, McCabe UMC, Crossing Jordan Movement, Marianna Larger Parish Hamburg FUMC, Wesley Chapel (Dollars for Scholars), Sweet Home UMC and Lower Delta Parish Camp.

In 2011 the ELCC committee continued to support and serve as the lead agency in the conference for Crossing Jordan Movement, collaborating with Religion and Race, Black Methodists for Church Renewal, Strengthening the Black Church for the 21st Century, Philander Smith College, and the Arkansas Conference Cabinet, in its mutual effort to make disciples of Jesus Christ and respond to and ever-evolving church.

In 2012, the committee on Ethnic Local Church Concerns (ELCC) will continue to support events and programs that encourage participation in mission and ministry for The United Methodist Church in Arkansas for persons of color as they relate to the mission and strategic initiatives of the Arkansas Conference by:

a. Supporting/provide training for community development leadership (grant writing, congregational mapping).
b. Continuing to act as the lead agency in the conference supporting the design and Implementation of "Crossing Jordan Movement" and related regional events.
c. Support/provide training for community development leadership (recruit train and develop black leaders).
d. Support/provide training for children, youth and young adult workshop retreats.
e. Support/provide training implementing the Five Practices of Fruitful Church congregations (passionate worship).

The Arkansas Conference Committee on Ethnic Local Church Concerns goal in the future is to continue efforts to address the mission and strategic initiatives of the Arkansas Conference by:

a. Encouraging leadership development by funding participation in congregational and national programs that will cultivate and produce leadership that will help congregations reach their full potential.
b. Acting as the lead agency in the Conference supporting the design and implementation of "Crossing Jordan" and related regional events.
c. Supporting students of color as they matriculate through undergraduate and graduate institutions of higher education via scholarships.
d. Encouraging youth and young adult leadership development through the provision of scholarships for a statewide conference based on the National Harambee model.
e. Encouraging local congregations to enhance and develop community outreach programs that will both nurture and enrich the life and ministry of the church.

The ELCC committee will continue to be reflective, committed and passionate in its effort to address/meet the concerns of the Ethnic Local Church, the strategic initiatives of The United Methodist Church in Arkansas and responsive to the "Imagine Ministry" initiative in fulfilling the greater mission of spreading the good news of the gospel, making disciples of Jesus Christ thought out the world.

* Developing principled Christian leaders.

*Ministry with the Poor
*Improving health globally ---
-Four Foci of the United Methodist Church-General Conference 2008

The ministries of the Focus Team have been developed to provide the means to include and give voice to the distinctive needs of small churches in our ever expanding "mega church" mindset; to call the Church's attention to see the mission field through rainbow lens; to not just minister to but be in ministry with people.

The ministry areas of the Focus Team requires us to be intentional. Without a designated voice and a place at the table – wholeness is not accomplished through vague references and expectations that "good people" will do the work somehow and somewhere.

Each ministry area speaks to a constituency within our denomination and within society. Without intentionality providing a place, a voice to advocate for and develop ways to include that constituency, those who are represented soon become voiceless and or invisible.

There are five (5) ethnic and language ministries within the United Methodist Church. Somehow, we must find better ways to connect, coordinate and utilize these unique mission opportunities. As our society becomes more mobile and interrelated; cross cultural ministries will become more important in the future of The United Methodist Church in Arkansas and across the country.

The groups above provide access to the connectional system within the conference. Resource materials for small churches have been developed, leadership development, cooperative and networking training events, such as "Crossing Jordan," Small Church Institute, advocacy and assistance for immigrants, support for hunger projects and scholarship assistance for needy students attending college.

GLOBAL MINISTRIES, BOARD OF

Change… we have experienced a lot of that this past year. But some things remain the same… poverty, hunger, and disasters. There are probably a whole list of things that never change, but one thing that has remained steady in all our structural changes is that The United Methodist Church is a church that loves their neighbors. The Board of Global Ministry, like many of you, is figuring out who we are in the midst of the newness of Imagine Ministry. As the past year has shown us we are a conference of willing hearts and working hands. Ingathering was another huge success, our totals were a bit down, but we are tossing out a challenge to the new five District Superintendents. Will your district have the largest Ingathering totals for next year?

We want to be the mission information hub for the conference. Please contact any member and let us know how we can help your church be more mission-minded. We want to join you as you are being the active body of Christ. As we dive into the new year, we pray that you will continue to encourage your churches to be in mission, "across the street and around the world."

Chair of BOGM

HIGHER EDUCATION AND CAMPUS MINISTRY

Campus ministry of the United Methodist Church in Arkansas is important for a number of reasons, not the least of which is as an important source for identifying and guiding students toward ordained and lay positions in the church and community. Although not all students involved in the Wesley Foundations at Arkansas' public institutions of higher education choose a path into the ordained clergy, many do. Campus ministry programs are important as a pipeline for new clergy.

A number of the Wesley Foundations report students who have made a commitment to the ordained ministry and who plan to apply for, or attend, seminary next year or in coming years.

The University of Central Arkansas campus ministry identifies and encourages students who may have a call to ministry. In the last three years the UCA Wesley Board has recommended two students to the candidacy process. Josh Allen is in his first year at Iliff School of Theology. Sara Bayles has been accepted to Duke Divinity School and awarded its top scholarship. She will begin classes in the fall.

The UA-Monticello Wesley has an excellent record of identifying and encouraging new pastors. Two of its members are candidates in ministry, and there may be another two, possibly three, by the end of the spring semester. All Wesley Foundations are in a constant state of "recruitment" as their members tend to "cycle out" every four to five years.

The Arkansas State University Wesley Foundation focuses on the continued development of student leadership. One of its graduates this year will spend two years doing mission work through GBHEM, likely in Mongolia. Another is preparing for seminary, and yet another has found his calling to serve God as an EMT. Most encouraging of all, this year's upper class students at ASU Wesley invested heavily in the younger students to create a culture of Christian leadership that will perpetuate itself more and more in years to come.

These campus ministries of the Arkansas Conference play a very important role in recruiting, confirming, and guiding young people into Christian vocations.

Campus ministry in the Arkansas Conference faces a junction in the road ahead. Campus ministers, the conference, and individual churches are discussing how campus ministry will be done. Will the Arkansas Conference continue to do ministry as it is now done? Or will the responsibility of campus ministry be turned over to local churches in communities which are home to public colleges and universities? Or will it be a combination of both? Or something entirely different?

Those are important questions facing United Methodists in Arkansas.

We believe that campus ministry and the local church can exist together. It is not the intention of campus ministry to "steal" young people when they go away to college. In fact, Wesley Foundation ministries on our public college and university campuses encourage those young people to be involved in local congregations. The students are each often at a different place, both in terms of their lives and of their local church. Campus ministries try to provide opportunities for young people attending college to be involved in local ministries and to gather on campus with their contemporaries for worship, fellowship, and service.

The great albatross for most, if not all, campus ministries in Arkansas is the facility. College students are notorious for not being big spenders or givers. Their resources are tied up in the cost of their college education. So much of a campus ministry budget goes for maintenance of a facility that really needs a big make-over. Wesley Foundations need help identifying and developing major donors to help improve (or rebuild) UMC campus facilities. If a magic wand could somehow make this happen, operational costs could be shifted from maintenance to programming. More local churches need to realize that campus ministry is just an extension of the mission field of the local church, providing a United Methodist connection for its members who are in a different place. A local student may retain his/her connection with a local congregation, but those who choose to attend a school in a distant community may feel more comfortable at the campus Wesley Foundation. Local churches need to buy into Wesley as an extension of their family rather than as competition. That attitude shift would provide a much better connection and a more productive mutual partnership. United Methodists are, after all, connectional.

All Wesley Foundations provide unique opportunities for mission and service at the state's four-year institutions. In addition to Bible study, meals and fellowship, and leadership development, the Board cites the following as some examples of special things that Wesley campus ministries carry out.

- The Tour de Faith, spearheaded last year by the Arkansas State University Wesley, a service-learning bicycle trip that covered more than 1000 miles across New Mexico, Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas with campus ministry participants from ASU, the University of New Mexico, Eastern New Mexico University, Baylor, and the University of Central Arkansas … connecting with four annual conferences, 22 local churches, and hundreds of other United Methodists and performing community service projects all along the route.
- ACTS, a ministry at Arkansas Tech University designed to allow students a Christ-centered dramatic outlet. Students do two productions each year for members of the Russellville community as a means of giving the students an outlet to share their gifts and as a means of fundraising for the overall ministry.
- The ATU CARE ministry takes a group of college students into a Russellville nursing home for one-on-one time with older adults, as well as games and singing.
- ATU Wesley students went to Joplin, MO, to support the rebuilding efforts of the Missouri Annual Conference after the devastating tornado which hit that city.
- Arkansas Tech's Wesley has an Age to Age ministry which pairs up college students with at-risk children in the Russellville community for tutoring, one-on-one sharing, and programs that help children break out of the cycle they find themselves in at no fault of their own. Summer months include four camps for Age to Age students to attend.
- Southern Arkansas University's Wesley Foundation continues to carry out its Wesley Scholarship Program developed by the Wesley Foundation Board of Directors several years ago and funded by special gifts from churches and individuals from the Southwest District. Through this program United Methodist Students receive scholarships in exchange for providing ministry and leadership through the SAU Wesley Foundation.
- The SAU Wesley Building also served as the Worship Center for an interdenominational group called Genesis Ministries, a ministry geared toward black SAU students.
- The Wesley at UA-Little Rock raised the roof. Actually, they put a new roof on as they completed a fundraising effort last July. This $38,000+ project culminated an 18-month effort that included Board members, churches, and individuals. The major dinner event, "Raise the Roof," resulted in a $9,000 profit. Other generous gifts came from The Arkansas Conference, the Central District, Arkansas Conference Parish and Community Development, many churches and individuals. But two HVAC components – an air conditioning unit from 1982 and a furnace from 1991 – probably will not make it another year and need replacing.
- UALR's Wesley worked with the Oak Forest and University district to provide a health fair open to community residents. Ultimately, this event attracted more than 200 area residents who are now able to use UALR facilities.
- Wesley students at the UA-Monticello campus help with a soup kitchen at Wilson Chapel UMC in nearby Warren that feeds more than a thousand people each month. The Wesley has built two wheelchair ramps and collected more than 300 cans of food for Wilson Chapel UMC's food pantry.

- Free martial arts lessons in Aikido are offered on Tuesday and Thursday nights at UAM's Wesley. What is Aikido? Aikido is a defensive martial art that stresses discipline, restraint, and personal integrity … all qualities vital in Christian discipleship … qualities that are stressed during classes at Wesley and often give the Wesley director the opportunity to preach! The Martial Arts Ministry at UA-Monticello is a fantastic success every year.
- At UCA a community garden flourishes on the Wesley Foundation property. Wesley students begin in early March, planting spring greens, cabbage, herbs, broccoli, strawberries and an assortment of other vegetables. Spring planting was finished in mid-April with tomatoes, peppers, and corn. This garden project piqued the interest of people from all around the UCA campus as they walked by and saw Wesley students working. It provided the UCA Wesley great opportunities to connect with a wider group of people.
- In 2011 UCA's Wesley sent a team to Trujillo, Peru. This team of 10 spent two weeks in Peru, first working with children in the barrios of Trujillo, then with a halfway house for abused children.

HISPANIC / LATINO MINISTRIES COMMITTEE

GRANT REVIEW

The Hispanic Ministries Committee sees two major components to its ultimate goal of establishing a worshipping community in every area with an established Hispanic population throughout the conference: Leadership Development and Program Support.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT

Arkansas has a rapidly growing Hispanic/Latino population, but currently lacks a centralized and cohesive structure to raise up and train leaders qualified to meet the unique ministry needs of the Hispanic/Latino community. We need to develop leaders at all levels: Lay Speakers, Commissioned Missioners, and Ordained Pastors. The Hispanic Ministries Committee has a three-fold plan to address the leadership training needs in all three areas:

1. Lay Speaker Training. Vibrant Hispanic communities exist throughout Arkansas. There are already members of these communities who are taking on leadership roles within the church, but who lack the formal training (and the confidence that is thus acquired) necessary to help form their communities into communities of faith and worship. With the goal of raising up well-equipped lay leaders in mind, the Hispanic Ministries Committee has dedicated a large portion of its resources to developing bi-lingual Lay Speaker Training throughout the Arkansas Annual Conference. Because the majority of prospective students in these classes are likely to come from low-income communities, we provide scholarships and transportation costs for those who would benefit from them.
2. Modular Training. We need Lay Speakers from local Hispanic/Latino communities trained to minister "at home" in both Spanish and English. But we also need persons, be they Hispanic or non-Hispanic, who are trained to handle the unique challenges that ministry amongst Hispanics/Latinos brings. The Hispanic Ministries Committee wants Commissioned Missioners who are dedicated to forming vibrant communities of faith throughout the Hispanic communities of Arkansas. These are persons who could provide administrative and organizational support and serve as a resource to Lay Leaders and church elders alike. The Hispanic Ministries Committee therefore brought Modular Training, which provides such commissioned persons, to the Arkansas Conference. The most recent Module Training was a success: about 20 students attended and were received further training in Hispanic Ministry, all in a bilingual setting.

3. Scholarships. Although Lay Speakers and Missioners must play a vital role in the future of Hispanic/Latino ministry, they are still no substitute for full-time clergy. A vital community of faith is a worshipping community; an ordained Methodist Elder can be invaluable in helping such communities reach their full potential. It is impractical for the Arkansas Conference to found a seminary, but we can financially assist those who feel a calling toward full-time ministry among Hispanics/Latinos as they attend undergraduate school, seminary, or complete a Course of Study. The Hispanic Ministries Committee is currently sponsoring several such students and is available to provide scholarships for others who hope to enter into ordained ministry, hopefully among Hispanics within our conference.

PROGRAM SUPPORT.

The Hispanic Ministries Committee is also committed to providing support for the Hispanic ministries that exist throughout the Conference. Much of this support is given through grants; each ministry must apply yearly and provide a detailed review of all work done with grant money. The Hispanic Committee also provides salary support for some local ministries; this support is contingent on the ability of the ministry to raise support from local sources within a specified period of time.

1. New Church Start, Fort Smith. An Hispanic, Spanish-speaking pastor has started a Spanish-language church in Fort Smith. He receives New Church Start funds through the Arkansas Conference, support from his district and local sponsor church, and is beginning to become more self-sufficient through the support of his parishioners. The Hispanic Committee provides funds for Spanish-language materials (Bibles, literature, etc.) and helps purchase food and supplies for the various social ministries that his church sponsors. The Hispanic Committee also supplements his salary and gives him scholarship funds as he completes his Course of Study (this falls under Leadership Development – Scholarships, see above).
2. Betel UMC. In the Northwest corner of the Arkansas Conference, Betel UMC is a thriving Hispanic Congregation. The church has produced several students who are interested in full-time ministry, to whom the Hispanic Committee has provided scholarship funds. Betel has active children's and youth programs, both of which are exploring new areas of ministry within a Hispanic/Latino context.
3. Mi Casa, Pine Bluff. Mi Casa is a thriving Hispanic Mission of the Lakeside UMC Church. The Mission is working hard to develop a thriving community of faith even as it serves the very real physical and social needs of the area Hispanics. Mi Casa offers Spanish-language worship and Sunday School services and Bible Studies, and encourages its members to participate in the English-language parent church. Mi Casa helps meet the financial needs of area Hispanics through helping with utilities, groceries, gas, and medical expenses, while also providing translating services. The Hispanic Committee helps fund these important ministries, and gives salary support for staff.
4. Justice For Our Neighbors (JFON). JFON provides legal counsel and advocacy on immigration and other issues central to the lives of many Hispanics. These services are usually free of charge and therefore require quite a bit of financial support. The Hispanic Committee supports the various JFON centers within the Arkansas Annual Conference and provides salary support to the Church and Community Worker who is the JFON coordinator.
5. Oak Forest UMC. Oak Forest UMC is active in reaching out to the Hispanic community around the church. This church hosts a JFON clinic, as well as medical, dental, and vision clinics, free meals, computer classes (in Spanish), ESL, and Spanish-language worship services. The Hispanic Committee helps the church with program funding and supports specific initiatives (ie the purchase of a home/lot adjacent to the church that could permanently house the dental clinic).
6. Lower Delta Community Outreach. The Hamburg UM Church hosts another Church and Community Worker who is appointed to Arkansas. This worker is engaged in outreach to the Hispanic and other ethnic communities of the area through after-school and Summer Camp programs for school-aged children. The work with the children helps integrate the various ethnic communities into a diverse whole, and helps lead the children and their families into a community of faith. The Hispanic Committee helps with program funding as the need arises.

7. FUMC of DeQueen. This congregation sees itself as blessed to be a part of a racially diverse community. In response to area need, they have started Kids of the King, an afterschool program that provides transportation, food, and Christian education to local children, all the while giving them a safe and supportive place to enjoy themselves. Among other children, Kids of the King saw three Hispanic youth confess faith in Christ, undergo Confirmation, and be baptized this past year. Hispanic Ministry Committee grant money helps provide supplies and support so that FUMC of DeQueen can continue this vibrant ministry.
8. Other Social Outreach Programs and Hispanic Missions. The Hispanic Committee trusts that the Holy Spirit will work amongst the Hispanics of the Arkansas Conference in the coming years. Through the leadership training that the Hispanic Committee is developing, it is the Committee's hope that new and vibrant Hispanic ministries will arise where now the need is all that is evident. The Committee will support these new missions through prayer, training, and grant money when available.

The Hispanic Ministries Committee is well-aware of new directions within the conference that could have a profound impact on ministry to and with the Hispanic/Latino population of our state. We therefore urge any new body to which is given the responsibility of ethnic ministries to keep the following in mind:

- Arkansas has one of the fastest growing Hispanic populations in the United States. If the United Methodist Church of Arkansas wants to retain its relevance and vibrancy in the coming generations, it must have the active and vital participation of Hispanics.
- The membership and direction of congregations are often shaped by their leaders. We cannot expect Hispanics to flood and enliven our churches if they do not see their faces reflected amongst our clergy. We therefore call the Board of Ordained Ministry to actively recruit Hispanic and Spanish-speaking pastors to our pulpits.
- Language does not have to be a barrier. Even congregations that have no experience in Hispanic ministry can open the door through ESL (English as a Second Language) classes, and meet their students half-way by pastors and local leaders learning Spanish and attending Modular Training.
- Hispanic populations face immigration and citizenship challenges that often keep them from fully participating in society. As advocates for social equality, the UMC of AR needs to continue its work with JFON and reach out to other groups, such as DREAM, to: help Hispanic communities handle their legal concerns; educate non-Hispanic congregations about the almost insurmountable difficulties their neighbors faces; lobby for fair and navigable immigration reform.

HUNGER TASK FORCE

The major emphasis of the Task Force in 2011 and 2012 is on community gardening and activities related to it. We focus our work in three major areas.

A. Education

We held a Community Gardening workshop in September at Mt. Eagle. We are encouraging United Methodist churches to focus on developing community gardens and the activities related to it. Some of these activities would include cooking, canning and freezing garden produce. Our Change for Change grants will to recipients that have developed these ministries.

B. Advocacy

We continue to work with Bread for the World to advocate for hunger issues. This year, we have included many other denominations in Arkansas in this effort.

C. Relief

We continue to work with our food banks and food pantries distributing food in our communities. We gave 15 awards out totaling over $30,000 last year.

Respectfully submitted,
Stephen Copley, Chair

IMAGINE MINISTRY TEAM

The reality that drove the formation of the Imagine Ministry process was the unsustainability—organizationally and financially—of the ministry we were doing in the Arkansas Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church. Our hope has always been that through deep change, we can support vital local congregations to become more faithful and fruitful in ministry to their communities. Bold steps have already been taken, but we are still under construction. And it is a messy process! We need your prayers and support for our continued journey together.

The Imagine Ministry Report as approved by the 2011 Arkansas Annual Conference included the following four actions to be taken in the June 2011 to June 2012 time frame.

- The Arkansas Annual Conference adopts the Vision and Mission Statement and the four Core Measurements as presented by the Imagine Ministry Team.
- The Arkansas Annual Conference, by the Annual Conference session of 2012, is redistricted into five districts, being served by five District Superintendents.
- The Arkansas Annual Conference, by the Annual Conference session of 2012, will simplify its organizational structure following the mandates of the Book of Discipline and the missional direction of the Vision and Mission Statements and the four Core Measurements.
- A Team will be appointed by the Arkansas Conference Bishop to arrange for the orderly transition to the new conference and district organization which will provide a budget proposal for conference staffing. This budget will take effect January 1, 2012; and will not exceed the amount budgeted for conference staffing for 2011.

The Imagine Ministry Team, with the assistance of Dr. Gil Rendle, has continued its work to further discern what the United Methodist Church in Arkansas and its ministry can be and should be in the coming years with emphasis on resourcing and equipping local congregations. Dr. Rendle will continue to consult with the Imagine Ministry Team and will assist with the work of the centers directors and district superintendents in this developing structure.

Bishop Crutchfield appointed task forces to implement the directives of annual conference, which included:

- Transition Team
- Task Force on Young Adult Ministries
- Task Force on Youth and Children
- Task Force on Ethnic Ministries

In addition, task forces have been meeting to address issues regarding pensions and insurance and the conference program of new church development.

On October 29, 2011, a Called Session of the Arkansas Annual Conference was held to hear updates from the task forces and address outstanding 2012 budget issues. The task forces have been working on ministry strategies, conference and district structure issues, planning guidelines for the five new districts and associated issues. Each of these groups have addressed their tasks with the view of adhering to the conference vision, mission and core values and resourcing and equipping local congregations.

The following conference structure has emerged from these conversations:

- 5 district offices, 5 district superintendents, supported by circuit elders and congregational coaches
- 2 Centers: Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership and Technology
- 1 Network: Discipleship and Mission (Holiness of Heart and Life)
- Conference office led by the Director of Connectional Ministries, with networks to other connected ministries of the conference
- Office of Administrative Services to handle finances, insurance, and pension concerns

The deep changes initiated or proposed to date are in the ministry areas. In order to make further progress toward resourcing and equipping local churches for ministry, it will be necessary to begin considering other areas to which significant financial and personnel resources are dedicated.

Transition Team:

The Transition Team with eight clergy, including Bishop Crutchfield, and ten lay persons has met numerous times since last June. The team has operated in four smaller work groups focusing on District

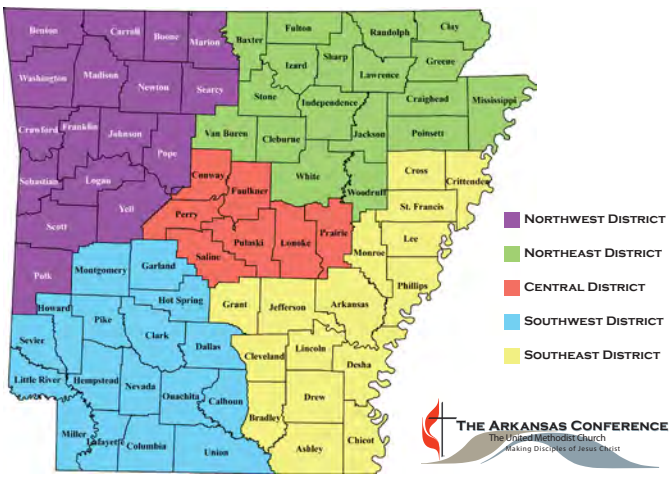

Assets and Organization, Personnel, Conference Structure and Budget. The team has also met with representatives of the Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership, the Center for Technology, Holiness of Heart and Life: The Network of Discipleship and Mission, the Task Force for Children and Youth Ministries, the Task Force for Young Adult Ministries and the Task Force for Ethnic Ministries to receive and consider their recommendations. The following proposals have been implemented or are pending implementation.

- Naming the five new districts
- Location of the district offices and parsonages and timing guidelines for implementation
- Process for the reallocation of district assets
- Employee Handbook and Personnel Policies
- Selected conference staff job descriptions referred to the Executive Team for review and action
- Conference Leadership Structure - Executive Team, Extended Cabinet and Leadership Table
- Purposes and functional relationship of the centers and network
  - o Center for Clergy and Lay Excellence in Leadership
  - o Center for Technology
  - o Holiness of Heart and Life: The Network of Discipleship and Mission

Yet to be resolved is the issue of defining the duties and reporting arrangements for the District Administrative Assistants.

Issues which will require action by the Annual Conference include:

- Standing Rules of the Conference
- Structure of the Conference and Districts
- Conference Staff configuration and personnel budget

The Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership:

The Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership was formed in the Arkansas Annual Conference to foster an environment that continuously leads clergy and laity of the conference toward excellence in leadership development. This work will begin with the mission field of the local church and address the learning that must occur with clergy and laity working as a team. This work will start July 1, 2012. The challenge will be to redirect the flow of attention, energy, and resources toward an increase in the number of vital congregations effective in making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

In Phase I, the focus of the Center will be directed in four areas that work with local church mission field.

Areas of Focus: Phase I - Start Up and Transition, June 2012 – 2013.

1. The recruitment, training and deployment of up to 70 Circuit Elders to the Circuits (Mission Fields) in 2012. The training of Circuit Elders will be held in April – May, 2012. The Circuit Elders will start the new work on July 1, 2012.
2. The recruitment, training and assignment of up to 30 Lay Congregational Coaches to the Circuits (Mission Fields) in 2012. A customized approach to coaching will be created that addresses the specific work of the mission field. The training for the Congregational Coaches will be September – October, 2012. The coaching work will start in November, 2012.
3. Developing, Equipping, Training and holding Laity accountable for leadership in ministry. A full program of assessment tools, training opportunities, and strategic planning will be offered to laity in every church in Arkansas.
4. Developing, equipping, training and holding clergy accountable for leadership in ministry.
   Affirming the giftedness of each pastor, the Center will work to develop the effectiveness of the clergy through peer learning and support, diagnostic planning tools, strategies for church revitalization, and learning opportunities in all areas of vital ministry.

Areas of Focus: Phase II - June 2013-2014.

In the Phase II work, The Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership will resource and support the local church mission field, as each church and its leaders have their own conversation, prayer, and discernment about revitalization of the local congregation. In this intensive work, the initiative for leadership and change that needs to happen is focused on the local church level. The conference and district will be in a resourcing and supportive role.

The work of Phase I will continue in Phase II:

- The recruitment, training and deployment of Circuit Elders to the Circuits (Mission Field).
- The recruitment, training and assignment of Congregational Coaches to the Circuits (Mission Field).
- Laity Development, Equipping, Training and Accountability for Leadership
- Clergy Development, Equipping, Training, and Accountability for Leadership

Clergy will be identified to enroll in Advance Leadership Studies for the next steps in leadership formation. In addition, a series of specific learning settings will be designed for clergy in Interim Ministry, Small Membership Church, and Large Church Staffing, etc. The teaching will utilize group settings and online learning with web based technology.

The development and usage of Interim Ministry and Conflict Resolution Teams within the Conference will also be a focus of Phase II.

Laity Excellence in Phase II will involve developing Laity Leadership Tables, involving church leaders in studies for leadership transformation and congregational revitalization. The curriculum will be written and created around a format that will promote leadership development among laity in the local church. It will utilize the best of available materials at present and new learning from the mission field. The teaching of the above courses will utilize online learning, group settings, and web based technology.

Rev. Kurt Boggan, Director

The Center for Technology:
Summary of Activities and Priorities - 2012

In June, 2011 the Imagine Ministry Team submitted a report to the Annual Conference proposing the creation of a new organization that would include a Center for Technology. A task force was created in the Fall of 2011 to make recommendations on how this new organization would be structured to support the mission of the ARUMC through the development and support of technology.

Key Activities

Research. During late Fall and early Winter 2011 needs assessment research consisting of conference-wide electronic surveys and in-person interviews with clergy, district superintendents and central office personnel was completed. Target audiences addressed in the research included clergy, lay leadership, staff administration, active parishioners, inactive parishioners, and unchurched persons.

Findings. Research data indicated a wide breadth of technology needs across the ARUMC falling into three major categories of communications, marketing, and training. Suggested areas of focus for the new Technology Center include:

- technologies to support inbound as well as outbound communications between clergy, parishioners, district, and central office personnel (see Chart 1)
- technologies to support marketing efforts to grow church membership including web presence (web sites, social media), focused outreach and recruitment campaigns, and commercial advertising
- technologies to support clergy, administrative, and leadership development utilizing live as well as on-demand training solutions

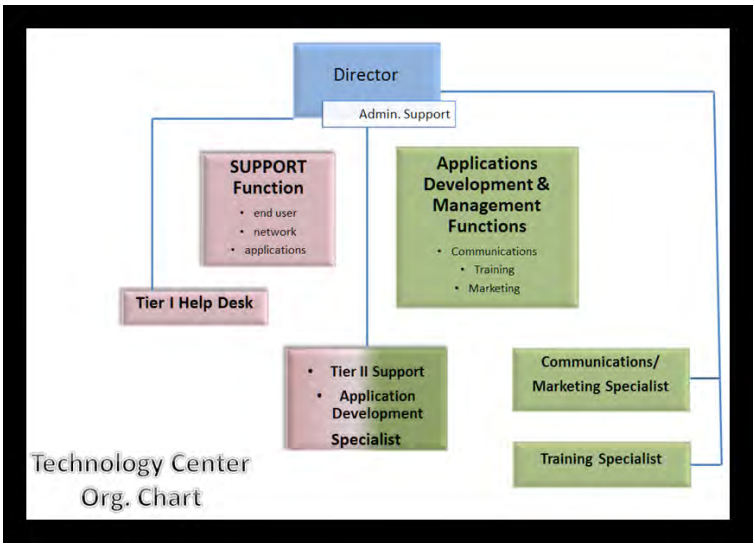

Recommendations. The Technology Task Force recommends the following:

- Fund the proposed Technology Center organizational structure in order to provide both service delivery as well as the critical functions of training and support (see Chart 2)
- Hire a Technology Center Director by June 1st 2012 who will staff the remaining positions in the Center and interface with key leadership, standing committees and network organizations of the ARUMC.
- Prioritize the development of a "wide area" network to connect all church locations and offices in the Conference in order to facilitate internal communications and knowledge sharing.

Holiness of Heart and Life:
The Network of Discipleship and Mission

The task force for the Holiness of Heart and Life: Network of Discipleship and Mission met throughout the late summer in person and via web conference to brainstorm and give a base framework for the scope and reach of the Network. The mission was to be creative and explore the untapped potential of sharing ministries, resources and connections through an online "hub" that will reflect our Wesleyan tradition of social holiness. The beginning outline and description of the Network as envisioned by the task force was first presented to the Annual Conference at the October meeting.

The recommendations of the task force included forming a team of up to five facilitators from around the conference to create the Network and connect Arkansas United Methodists. A lead facilitator will relate to the directors of the Center for Technology and the Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership as well as the Extended Cabinet. The proposal also called for a Wesley Scholar to be named who will relate to the conference through the Network and the Centers to help ground our future efforts in our Wesleyan heritage. The members of the task force include: Lu Harding, Edna Morgan, Richard Lancaster, Andrew Thompson, Liza Goodwin and Susan Ledbetter.

The web-based Network will link laity, clergy and conference staff throughout the state to share information, generate discussion, access resources, create accountability groups, address social issues of injustice, and promote involvement in socio-economic, political, environmental initiatives, etc. The Network will also be a place for individuals to share their interests in and ideas for new mission, justice and outreach ministries. The main goal will be to transform lives and communities but also to "network" churches, groups, and mission activities. By receiving and sharing information in outreach we shall further transform local churches and communities. Through this Network, churches, groups, and individuals will be able to spend less time researching and meeting and more time actually engaging and doing vital ministries.

The position of Wesley Scholar represents a new venture for the mission and ministry of the Arkansas Conference. The purpose of the Wesley Scholar will be to serve as a conference resource in teaching, preaching, writing, and holy conferencing – specifically aimed toward the purpose of reconnecting the ministries of the annual conference with the Wesleyan heritage of the people called Methodist. This means that the conference's Wesley Scholar may be called upon in a variety of roles, which may include ministry roles with the Network for Holiness of Heart & Life, the Center for Clergy & Lay Excellence in Leadership, the Center for Technology, and the Task Forces for program ministries in the annual conference, as well as other areas within the districts of the annual conference. In assisting the mission and ministry of the Arkansas Conference, the Wesley Scholar's work will be focused on what John Wesley called "practical divinity," or engaging in vital ministry aimed at bringing the resources of the Christian tradition to bear on the practical work of the church.

Using emerging technologies, the potential impact and reach of the Network is unlimited. The Network is to be an exciting hub of activity that will prove to be a primary resource for all of our congregations—and evidence of the power of the Holy Spirit at work in the people of Arkansas United Methodist churches!

Rev. Susan Ledbetter, Chair

Task Force on Children and Youth:

As we have approached our work as a task force in evaluating our current Conference ministry with Children and Youth, and looking forward to what those ministries can and should be in the future, we are deeply aware that this is a key focus of every congregation no matter the size or location. We all have in common the promises we have made to children at their baptism and youth at their confirmation to support and to nurture them in their faith journey.

On a daily basis, the faith of our children and youth is being shaped and formed as they interact with the Church and the world around them. These interactions bring new questions about what it means to be a child of God and a follower of Christ. Often new families are drawn to a community of faith as they seek to help their children and youth answer those questions and develop a strong faith of their own. In many cases, as children and youth make commitments of faith, parents follow. Every congregation has the potential and the call to be in ministry with children and youth—to guide them in their discipleship with passion and excellence.

How can we develop effective and strong children and youth ministries in congregations across our conference? Where should our focus be as we strive to fully engage children and youth in their faith journey now and in the future? To begin to answer this question, we sent out a survey in September to understand your thoughts about where we are now and where we hope to be. We had an outstanding response to our survey (over 300 people), and we are grateful for your participation. The responses represented 15-30 churches from each district, as well as a wide span of ages, from youth to older adults. Below are the 7 areas of focus that ranked the highest in the survey and that will provide the foundation for our work moving forward.

1. Leadership development of our young people
2. Networking those working with children/youth
3. Training and coaching leaders of children and youth (volunteer and paid)
4. Communication network among conference ministries
5. Providing opportunities through events
6. Resourcing Parents
7. Resourcing local congregations in the areas of children/youth
    - *Family Ministry
    - *Intergenerational Ministry
    - *Safe Sanctuary
    - *Confirmation

We have begun to explore possibilities and models to establish a leadership development initiative for the youth across our Conference. In partnership with CCYM and the Conference staff, our task force will continue to look at how we are able to most effectively network staff and volunteers working with children and youth, as well how to provide needed resourcing for congregations. We recognize that congregations have a wide variety of needs in regards to resourcing, so we are seeking to develop a broad-based and comprehensive plan that can help every congregation move to the next level in their ministry.

In January, we submitted a proposal to the Transition Team concerning the staffing needs on a Conference level for children and youth ministries. Our hope would be to retain a presence within the new conference structure to oversee, resource, and hold accountable ministry with children and youth across the Arkansas Conference. On April 21, we will participate in a joint task force meeting with the Ethic Ministries Task Force and Young Adult Task Force. At this joint meeting we will share our assessments of the needs in our various areas and form a joint plan for moving forward. In June, we will be sending representatives to observe Duke's Youth Academy to learn more about their unique approach to leadership development with youth. This type of leadership development academy holds great potential for our conference as this is a new model of cultivating leadership in our young people, but also a culture of call. We also continue to explore other models and approaches to ministry with children and youth that have proven effective in other Conferences and congregations.

The Arkansas Conference is known across the connection for the ministry it does with children and youth. Our job is to move that vision forward into this new phase of our conference, without compromising the needs of our churches across the conference. We ask that you hold us in prayer as this journey continues to unfold. We also encourage and invite your participation and partnership as we work together to remain faithful to the promises we have made to the children and youth in our congregations and communities, following Christ's call to make disciples with passion and excellence.

Task Force on Young Adult Ministries

Purpose: To empower churches of the Arkansas Conference to make young adult disciples of Jesus Christ with passion and excellence. We seek to lead churches to develop mindsets and practices that welcome and retain young adults, and nurture and develop their spiritual lives. Furthermore, we seek to lead churches to develop mindsets and practices in which young adult ministry is a part of the entire ministry of the congregation.

Definition of Young Adults: (We have chosen to define young adults theologically and socially rather than chronologically.) Young adults are people in early stages of post-adolescence transitioning from dependence to independence. Social examples of these transitions may include leaving home, beginning one's first job, establishing a career, leaving high school, starting or finishing college, marriage, and joining the military. Theological examples of these transitions may include defining one's own values by or apart from one's family of origin and taking responsibility for one's own faith practice. Another identifier for young adults is "emerging adults."

We've come to believe that Young Adult ministry at its best is not another compartmentalized program of a church. It is at its best when Young Adults participate in the full Body of Christ. This approach calls for local churches to change their mindsets about how to do church and engage in new practices for ministry. David Kinnaman, author of You Lost Me: Why Young Christians Are Leaving Church and Rethinking Faith, writes, "…the Christian community needs a new mind, a new way of thinking, and new way of relating, a new vision of our role in the world—to pass on the faith to this and future generations." Using Kinnaman's book we have identified three areas the church must address in order to close the gap between the ourselves and the Millennial generation: Relationships, Vocation, and Wisdom. These areas are where the Millennial generation is searching the most and feel the church is not addressing.

Next Steps:

We will participate in a joint task force meeting with the Ethnic Ministries Task Force and Children and Youth Task Force on April 21. At this joint meeting we will share our assessments of the needs in our various areas and form a joint plan for moving forward.

We believe our path forward is to design and implement a process of coaching churches to discover new mindsets and practices that address the gaps between the church and young adults. These mindsets and practices must be broader than programs and isolated ministries of the church. They must be complete overhauls of the church's life and practice of faith. These coaching relationships will not be formulaic or program driven. Coaching will invite churches to create an indigenous practice of ministry that engages all people in the spiritual discernment of relationships, vocation, and wisdom.

The process of reaching young adults is fluid and ever-changing. It is not a formula that can be achieved and thus perpetuated. It will take continual learning and development of new mindsets and understanding about young adults and future generations. We've discovered that "each generation wants to be different from the previous generation and is presumptive enough to believe the next generation will want to be like them."

Our task force will continue our commitment to allow the Holy Spirit to move within us. We believe that our work has far reaching implications and will be transformative to ministry. Thus, the only way to see the path forward is by it being illuminated by the Spirit.

Rev. David Freeman, Chair

Task Force on Ethnic Ministries

Our Task Force was formed in August, 2011. Since that time we have held three day-long face-to-face meetings and several conference calls. At the special session of the Annual Conference in October we reported on our progress. In our work and conversations we continually keep the four core measures adopted by the Conference at the forefront of our conversations.

As we discuss and explore ethnic ministries we are especially impacted by two of the core measures:

- Establishing the mission field as the primary place for our attention and resources instead of directing most of our attention and resources to the institutional needs of congregations and clergy.
- Organizing our ministry around the unique geographical cultural, demographic and ethnic contexts in the identified mission fields instead of treating every church, district and conference structure the same.

As we have continued our conversation our work has begun to divide itself into these areas: discerning, connecting, and inspiring.

The work of discerning has pushed us to begin making a thorough honest evaluation of where we are currently in ministries with ethnic persons. At the same time we are coming to know the mission field of our conference through the lens of ethnic persons.

The work of connecting is helping us identify ministries that are working in our conference as well as beyond our conference. We also seek new model of partnership ministries and new ministry models. Then the task will be to connect with models of ministry and to develop lay and clergy leaders to lead.

The third dimension of our work is inspiration. This work is the most difficult of all. Can we find the will, desire, passion, and commitment to evangelize our ethnic communities?

We will be sharing our discoveries with the Bishop and the Cabinet and the Transition Team. We will be sharing insight and possibilities with the conference committees and task forces. We will be working in partnership with the Center for Clergy and Laity Excellence in Leadership, the Center for Technology, and the Network of Discipleship and Mission (Holiness of Heart and Life).

Dr. Lovett Weems, in his book Focus: The Real Challenges That Face The United Methodist Church, writes, "The United States today is going through the greatest increase in racial diversity since the introduction of slavery. …And how is the church responding to this changed context? Virtually all United Methodist Conferences seek people of color less well than they reach whites…

"Advances in diversity are possible. The remarkable increases in diversity for internal leadership positions make that clear. Significant changes occurred through careful attention to increasing diversity among bishops, superintendents, agency staff, clergy, and General Conference delegations. A next logical step is to apply the same proven strategy—name the priority, set goals, monitor consistently to insure accountability—directly to the mission of the denomination to make disciples, thus connecting the value of diversity even more directly with our purpose. One can hardly imagine the changes in the United Methodist witness in the United States as a result of a commitment to make disciples of Jesus Christ among the growing populations of color. A compelling case exists for the affirmative action and monitoring priority in the next decade to be professions of faith among people of color."

The choice about our future is real. Are we interested and willing to be a church that seeks to make disciples of all of God's children or not?

LAITY - BOARD OF LAITY

District Lay Leaders as well as the Conference Director of Lay Speaking Ministries make up the membership of the Arkansas Conference Board of Laity. The work of the Board is done primarily through individual District Lay Leaders working with their respective District Superintendents and meets only as necessary to plan ministry and to respond to the defined needs of lay ministry within the conference.

The over-arching goal of the Board of Laity is to enable laity across the conference to be more effective in making disciples of Jesus Christ.

In 2012 a new board will be reconstituted with new leadership and structure as approved by the conference. Laity leadership will continue to partner with the Cabinet and clergy leadership to educate, promote, and reaffirm the need for "Deep Change" within our conference if we are to be more effective in making Disciples of Jesus Christ. A new interface with the Clergy and Lay Leadership Center will be established to ensure mutual support and direction.

The Board did not sponsor conference wide training events for laity and clergy. Vital Signs 2013 will be re-evaluated and its future direction will be determined by the new Board and the Leadership Center. It is imperative that we foster mutual ministry of clergy and lay at every level of the church structure. We seek to develop pathways of developing partnerships and mutual ministry with the Cabinet, the District Leadership Teams, and pastors in the local church. Through the local church lay leader, we seek to foster an awareness of the role of laity in ministry to encourage clergy and laity alike to be proactive in developing effective ministry relationships.

Conference Lay Leader

MISSION PERSONNEL COMMITTEE

In December 2011 the Committee on Mission Personnel interviewed and recommended Elizabeth (Buchanan) Soard for a position as an international missionary with the General Board of Global Ministries. She and her husband, Eric, who also applied through the Memphis Conference, have been working as Volunteers in Mission in Tanzania. They have been approved, will receive training in Atlanta, Georgia, and will be commissioned at General Conference on April 29, 2012.

The committee approved the continuation of Cathy Larson as lay missioner at the Open Door ministry at the Shorewood Hills United Methodist Church in 2012. Support for this position is shared by the conference and South Central District.

We were pleased to learn that Rev. Dr. Rodney Aist, whom we interviewed and recommended to GBGM in 2007, was commissioned as an international missionary in September 2011. He is pastor for the Methodist/Waldensian Community in Milan, Italy. Although Dr. Aist, an elder who was a member of the Arkansas Annual Conference when we recommended him, had transferred to the New Mexico Annual Conference, GBGM was able to use his original application.

The Conference Church and Community Workers Advisory Committee met twice in 2011. The three church and community workers serving Arkansas Conference are: Evelyn Banks-Shackelford of Marianna Larger Parish; Steve Copley, Executive Director of Arkansas Interfaith Conference and Arkansas Interfaith Alliance and Director of Justice for Our Neighbors; and Allyne Solomon of the Lower Delta Parish Community Outreach Ministry. (See CCW page on the conference web site.)

Additionally, Church and Community Worker Governor Mays, who once served in southeast Arkansas, is presently South Central Jurisdiction Mission Interpreter. He resides in Lake Village.

Colleen Caldwell, who was commissioned a deaconess last year, focuses on Community Care and Missions at Christ United Methodist Church in Cabot. Kandi Mount, also a commissioned deaconess, is a lay chaplain with Mercy Health Systems in Rogers.

Churches are urged to participate in covenant relationships with individual missionaries to assist with salary support. Covenant relationships are rewarding for those in the churches involved as well as the missionaries.

The General Board of Global Ministries anticipates continuing to commission new missionaries. Since the Committee on Mission Personnel is a nondisciplinary committee, it will no longer exist under the new structure proposed for adoption at Annual Conference. However, a coordinator for mission personnel with a position on the Conference Board of Global Ministries will be available to assist individuals considering missionary service.

It has been my privilege to serve on our Committee on Mission Personnel since its inception in 1999, when we were an Area committee of the North Arkansas and Little Rock Conferences. Initially we were successful in the placement of several 10-10-10 missionaries who served in Arkansas. After that program was phased out we recommended a number of applicants for other areas of missionary service. Since the establishment of the Arkansas Conference in 2003, applications which we have processed have resulted in the commissioning of one church and community worker, one deaconess, and two international missionaries, including Elizabeth Soard. May God bless all who answer the call to missionary service now and in the future.

Committee on Mission Personnel

- 26% of these attempts were in non-anglo contexts
- the 5 new ethnic congregations average 47 in worship
- the 12 new anglo congregations average 139 in worship
- six of these congregations have chartered already, and four are already paying apportionments in full
- accumulated total of apportionments paid by these chartered new churches: $127,506
- four more are second campuses with apportionments paid through the main campus

We began a new process for starting new churches in April of 2004. Although these congregations are still quite young, it appears that this new process is going to develop stronger and larger congregations than the old model. These new congregations are already giving evidence that they will be good investments for the Kingdom of God and the Conference.

If we go back a bit farther in time, we discover that Arkansas has 23 new congregations that are less than 10 years old.

- we attempted to start 30 congregations in the past ten years
- 23 have survived (77% survival)
- 27% of them are in non-anglo contexts
- total worship attendance of 2,805 (52% of the conference total)
- total membership of 3,352 (24% of the conference total)
- witnessed accumulated total of 1,163 professions of faith
- witnessed accumulated total of 701 baptisms
- witnessed accumulated total of 534 reaffirmations of faith
- these 23 new congregations paid an accumulated total of $832,799 in apportionments in the past ten years

If we go back ever farther, we discover that Arkansas has 51 congregations that have started since the United Methodist Church was formed in 1968.

- we attempted to start 66 congregations since 1968
- 51 have survived (77% survival)
- 17% are in non-anglo contexts
- total worship attendance of 9,220 (17% of the conference-wide total)
- total membership of 18,138 (13% of the conference total)
- witnessed accumulated total of 8,965 professions of faith
- witnessed accumulated total of 7,965 baptisms
- witnessed accumulated total of 5,805 reaffirmations of faith
- paid an accumulated total of $24,174,073 in apportionments
- these new churches are paying about 1.7 million each year, about 14% of all apportionments paid

WHY KEEP STARTING NEW CHURCHES?

You might be asking, "Why? Why start new churches? Don't we have plenty of churches now? Shouldn't we take care of supporting the strong churches we have? Shouldn't we revitalize the churches that are struggling? Shouldn't we offer compassion for churches that are dwindling, before we build any new ones?"

Good questions. Very good questions.

The truth is that across the entire church we have been, and will continue, to spend the vast majority of our resources caring for the churches we already have.

- The bulk of our denomination's strategic initiatives primarily focus on helping our existing churches to discover new life and mission.
- The primary passion of most of our pastors under appointment is to revitalize the church they are now serving.
- The primary passion of most of the United Methodists sitting in worship every Sunday, is to care for the church they are now attending.
- The primary responsibility of most of the Conference staff is to revitalize our existing congregations. The primary passion of most of us United Methodists, is to teach, baptize, inspire, and build up those who are already sitting in our pews every Sunday.

Thank God, that revitalization is a priority in our churches, districts and conferences.

However, there is more expected of us.

The teachings of the New Testament not only call for us to care for our own, but also to reach out to new communities with the saving Gospel of Jesus Christ. We are faithful to this calling each week as we invite our friends, relatives, neighbors, and associates to worship with us on Sunday. We are also faithful to this calling when we start a new church designed to reach a new mission field in an "underserved" or growing part of our Conference.

We do not have to choose between strengthening our existing churches, or starting new churches. We must accomplish both of these missions.

For example, over the past few decades in Arkansas the population has been growing, shifting within the state, and changing ethnically. We have twenty-three United Methodist Churches in Arkansas that are less than ten years old, six of them in non-anglo contexts. This pace has not kept up with the faster pace of the changing demographics within our state.

Steve Compton, Executive Director of the Office of Congregational Development for the North Carolina Conference, offers these six reasons to plant new churches:

1) New people are more likely to join new churches rather than old churches;
2) old churches are moved toward renewal by the presence of new churches in their communities;
3) old denominations are renewed as the percentage of new churches in their total number of churches increases;
4) New churches are more likely than old churches to be open to all kinds of people (inclusive of race, ethnicity, socio-economic, nationality, gender, etc.);
5) new churches are more likely than old churches to call or receive pastors who are women or whose cultural background, race, ethnicity, or nationality differs from that of the majority membership; and,
6) new churches find it easier than old churches to live out new paradigms of mission and ministry (overnight hospitality for the poor and homeless, contemporary worship, etc.)

Lyle Schaller, in his book "Forty-four Questions for Church Planters," (page 27-36) suggest twelve reasons to start new churches:

1) the Great Commission (Matthew 28: 18-20);
2) we cannot rely on long-established congregations to reach all the new generations of people;
3) historically new congregations have turned out to be the most effective approach to reaching new generations of people;
4) a different style of worship and ministry can be more effective in reaching people outside the church than the style that attracts already committed Christians;
5) new churches reach those venturesome personalities who enjoy helping pioneer the new;
6) new churches are focused on evangelism and mission, while long established congregations are often overly concerned with institutional survival goals;
7) the presence of two or more congregations with the same denominational affiliation usually results in a higher level of congregational health and vitality than if one congregation has a denominational monopoly in that community;
8) no one congregation possesses the skills and can muster the resources necessary to reach, attract, serve, and be responsive to the needs of every resident;
9) no one congregation has the resources to reach both young religious pilgrims, mature adults, parents of young children, and also those who are focused on social justice;
10) to reach people who have moved out to suburbs on the edge of town;
11) starting new churches can be an effective means of changing the denominational mix, experimenting with changing the racial/economic/theological mixture of people, ideas, approaches to ministry, models of congregational life, and style of corporate worship; and,
12) if we don't do it, someone else will.

Starting New Churches - It's the Methodist Thing to Do

New church start ministry is faithful to our DNA as United Methodists. The founders of our church: John Wesley, Francis Asbury, Philip William Otterbein, Martin Boehm, and Thomas Coke all had a passion to disciple those who were already active in church. But their passion didn't stop there. They also had a passion for those outside of the church walls; for the downtrodden; and, for the lost who needed a Savior. That passion drove them to give their time and energy to preach outside in the city parks; to preach by the exit doors when the factory shift changed; to preach at the coal mine entrance as miners walked home; and to send circuit riders out into the wilderness of America looking for settlements that did not yet have a church.

The Four Areas of Focus of the General Conference express the vision and yearnings of the people of The United Methodist Church. Over this quadrennium, the church will seek to focus the work of making disciples for Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world around these areas of ministry:

- Combating the diseases of poverty by improving health globally.
- Engaging in ministry with the poor.
- Creating new places for new people and revitalizing existing congregations.
- Developing principled Christian leaders for the church and the world.

It is faithful to our DNA as United Methodist Christians to start new churches with a passion for those in our pews, and a passion for those who are not yet in any pew.

AS WE MOVE FORWARD,
HOW SHOULD WE START NEW CHURCHES IN THE FUTURE?

In the winter of 2011, a consulting firm was engaged to review our church planting history and make recommendations for the future. Among their recommendations:

1) Create a Culture of Faith & Expectation For New Growth

With the commitment to start new churches comes the inevitable rejoinder, "what if it fails?" Some would insist that failures are unacceptable. By its very nature, church planting is a "by faith" enterprise and therefore essential to the faith journey of every conference.

Additionally, the "Call to Action" has mandated conferences to launch more new faith communities, not less, Avoiding failure proves counter-productive to God's people. The Bible contains numerous narratives involving people of faith who tried to avoid failure, but were stretched immeasurably as they stepped out of their comfort zone. Such a "cloud of witnesses" surrounds the Arkansas Conference and any group that ventures to obey God in the missional enterprise of reaching new people. It must be noted that in the Kingdom, it's impossible to have a "success only" policy.

2) A Dedicated Person to Oversee the Supervision Process

Some conferences across the Connection have reduced conference positions. The downsizing of some positions appears warranted. However, virtually every time a conference eliminated the position of New Church Director, and handed new church responsibilities back to the districts, church planting efforts have ceased...

3) System & Policies

The Arkansas Conference has developed an exemplar process of assessing, training, and coaching new church start pastors. To resource the cabinet in its decision making about placement of new church clergy, we have a trained assessment team for evaluating candidates for new churches. They serve to resource the cabinet in evaluating "readiness" to plant a new church.

In the future, particular emphasis needs to be on a candidate having a "proven" track record of bearing fruit in reaching new people. It is better to wait for a viable candidate than to appoint someone who lacks the essential the gifts and graces.

Assessment and proper vetting is particularly important when recruiting a planter from another denomination. Extensive background checks and a proven history of growth are needed.

4) A Significant NEW Trend: "Adoptions"

With the decline of many existing churches due to leadership or resources, one emerging strategy in church planting is for vital congregations to "adopt" anemic ones that cannot survive on their own, but find themselves located in an active and abundant mission fields. In these cases, the DS and Conference Director work to have the vital church "adopt" this congregation and bring them under their care. The under-resourced church actually votes to surrender itself to the care of the "adopting" church. All boards and committees disband and the congregation becomes part of the adopted church community. They no longer "manage" their building. The vital church provides resources for the worship service, including clergy oversight and worship music. Often time, the adopting church adds a retired clergy to provide pastoral care, including home visitation to the remaining congregation. The adopting church starts another congregation in the building to reach the mission field. This brings hope to the existing group. They begin to see their church's legacy renewed.

More and more conferences have utilized this strategy with great success.

5) Work with Missional Congregations:

Because the "parachute" model of planting (dropping a person unfamiliar to the area and starting from scratch) is effective only 10-12% of the time, the healthier model is for larger, vital churches to launch daughter congregations, start extension campuses or "adopt" smaller, struggling sites. But for this healthy model to be effective, the senior pastor and the congregation of the "mother" church must have a heart for others and being willing to share resources, people and income.

It is recommended that the conference spend significant time and energy identifying and meeting with missional congregations in the conference to develop this sense of vision and mission and "heart" for others.

The senior pastors in these congregations hold the key. Regardless of congregational buy-in, if the senior pastor is not personally called, actively engaged, and functioning as an advocate, the project is doomed. The conference should have regional and one-on-one meetings with strategic congregations for honest discussion, for painting the picture of multiplication and to challenge pastors and congregations to multiply.

This work will need to be intentional and long-term as many pastors of large congregations seem fixated solely on their congregations and appear not to value the multiplication of the church.

6) Preparing a Region:

It is always dangerous to underestimate the "institutional resistance" to a new church start from other churches of the same denomination.

Before the selection of new church site and long before the selection of a planter, the district superintendent, needs to spend great amounts of time working with existing UMC churches in the region to lower the institutional resistance. This conversation should include:

- Addressing the "scarcity" mentality. Often, existing churches think there are only a handful of "un-churched" people in the region and feel threatened by a new start. A reality check is needed to show that in fact, there are many un-churched people.
- Addressing the "stealing our members" syndrome. Often, existing churches have an irrational fear that a new church will steal their members, when in fact, no one is ever "stolen"; adults choose a church based on relationships and people will be loyal to a congregation where they have found purpose and meaning.
- Promise and deliver training and coaching for the existing churches so they can grow right along with the new church plant. Existing churches should be offered Turnaround Boot Camps, discipleship training, stewardship work, etc. The concept is that the conference wants the entire region to grow and that a "rising tide lifts all boats".
- Invite existing churches to offer their members gifts and services to a new start. This practice is often called "rent a member." It means that current congregations lend their members to a new start for a specific period of time. Rather than being "stolen" these members return to their church with a new excitement having worked with a new start and they lead the existing congregation in new paths of reaching others as well.

7) Recruiting and developing Hispanic and African-American Leadership:

Twenty-six percent (26%) of the new church starts (2004-2011) were in a non-Anglo context. As the demographics continue to change in Arkansas there will be a growing need for more pastors for racial/ethnic new starts. For example, the "Delta" region of the conference is filled with communities that are predominantly African-American but there are few available and qualified African-American pastors to staff existing congregations or start new ones. The conference will need to begin an intentional process of recruiting and encouraging new leadership. Many of these leaders will not take the traditional route of years of seminary, and alternative training for lay leaders, pastors with local authorization, and bi-vocational pastors will be needed.

8) Coordination between the Conference Director and the District Superintendents:

It is critical for the Conference to have all new starts church coordinated by the Conference Director's office and to have a strong partnership in all starts with the DS. The Conference Director and DS must act as one voice to the new start and to the churches in the region.

When an existing church offers resistance, or the senior pastor of a "mother" church withholds support, such actions must be challenged immediately. For this to happen the Conference Director and DS have to be in tune with one another. If the Conference "system" isn't coordinated, new starts suffer. Those Conferences that produce the most effective new church starts are all on the "same page" from the Bishop, to Conference Staff to District Superintendents. Because the Conference New Church Development position is relatively new, there is work still to be done in the Conference to make new church starts part of the "DNA" of the Conference.

To clarify, the District Superintendent supervises all new churches in their district. All decisions belong in their hands. The role of the Conference New Church Director serves to "resource" the DS at all times, providing help with selection, demographics, training, and ongoing coaching.

9) Benchmarks:

It is critical that every new start know its benchmarks and for the Conference to hold the new start to those benchmarks. It is tempting to keep extending starts hoping that they will turnaround. Not every start will be a success. It is only good stewardship to pull the plug when a new start isn't working.

10) Second Pastors of New Church Starts:

Fact: never underestimate the vulnerability a new church feels over the loss of their "founding pastor." When a new pastor follows the "Founder", this proves quite traumatic to a young congregation. Appointing a pastor to this situation is quite different than appointing a pastor to an existing congregation. Careful assessment of a second pastor is essential to discern gifts for continuing to keep the new start on a missional focus while also having the gifts to put in place the needed structures of a growing church. Not just anybody has such a skill set.

11) Celebrate, Celebrate. Celebrate:

The Arkansas Conference has a growing new church start movement with many successful church plants. This fact has not been celebrated enough throughout the Conference. Too much emphasis has been placed on a couple of failed starts. What needs to lifted up in conference, district and local church settings is the 2,000 people whose lives have been changed by new starts.

In Barry Morton and Rob Williams, the Conference has developed some spectacular new start leadership; one only has to be around such leaders for a few moments to feel the Spirit. Painting the picture of what has succeeded already, and the many possibilities for the future, will help bring new church starts into the mainstream of conference life. For most Conferences and denominations, new church starts have not been front and center for decades.

During the last eight years, the Arkansas Conference has made significant progress in the area of new churches. Celebrate the foundation that's been laid so that the AAC may continue to change lives and transform communities for the sake of the Gospel.

OUTDOOR MINISTRIES COMMITTEE

Our two conference facilities and three district camps continue to provide opportunities for worship, study, meditation, recreation, fellowship, and personal retreat in settings that uniquely afford participants an experience of God through the great outdoors. We use all of the resources we have to provide children, youth, and adults at every stage of spiritual formation a pathway to deeper discipleship. The personal witness of laity and clergy alike affirms that a call to deeper discipleship as well as to full-time Christian service has often occurred on hillsides, by the lakeside, and through mountain top experiences. These can happen best when we intentionally seek to encounter God in a remote setting, far away from the routines and relationships that characterize our daily lives. To that end our vision, mission, and goals for the year remain as follows: Our Vision is to be "A ministry where God's people are afforded the windows, doors and pathways to experience more fully God's love, mercy and grace through a broad range of outdoor settings and activities."

Our Mission is "to provide opportunities to make disciples for Jesus Christ by offering a means for their growth and development through a wide variety of facilities and programs."

Goal 1 - Increase people participating in outdoor ministries

Goal 2 - Involvement by pastors and church leadership

Goal 3 - Improve quality of facilities and programming

We have also begun exploring creative collaboration with local churches and other ministries to address the four areas of focus. We believe that our settings can help individuals, groups, congregations, and our conference in ministries:

- Combating the diseases of poverty by improving health globally
- Engaging in ministry with the poor
- Creating new places for new people and revitalizing existing congregations
- Developing principled Christian leaders for the church and the world

We have continued to incorporate information gathered through our participation in this last year's national gathering and training event at Lake Junaluska Retreat Center in North Carolina. We have likewise sent representatives to a national gathering jointly sponsored by the United Methodist, Presbyterian, and Lutheran Churches on "How to Afford the Ministry That We Cannot Afford to Lose." Finally, we have participated in a work camp and networking event sponsored by the Southcentral Jurisdiction in Oklahoma in February. As camping and retreat ministries continue to be more specialized, providing training for our leaders is imperative. Indeed, we hope to use connections we have made during these gatherings to bring training to administrators, board members, and volunteers in our conference in the future.

Finally, as chair I will be recommending that our Conference Committee join the Boards of Camp Tanako and Mount Eagle who have unanimously voted to seek the guidance of an independent consulting team, Run River Enterprises, to help us in joint strategic planning for our future. The central question of any faith based planning process is: "What is God calling us to do in and through this ministry at this time?" Our answers to that question and the specific plans that emerge for viability, organizational structure, program, marketing, and operations are essential to our future.

Respectfully submitted,
David Fleming, chair

2. An application requires the approval of the District Board of Church Location and Building (¶1414-1416 in the Discipline).
3. An application requires a promissory note signed by the trustees of the church.
4. There shall be insurance on any property financed with Conference Loan Fund.

5. The guidelines established in the Discipline ¶1431, 1432 and 1435 and the guidelines for loans in this Conference Journal shall be followed.
6. There shall be no prepayment penalties.
7. The interest rate shall be set by the P&CD Committee.

— Applications for Loans —

All applications for loans shall be submitted on forms provided by the Parish and Community Development Committee and shall provide in full the requested information including the approval and recommendation of the pastor and district superintendent. An application for a loan to build a new building, obtain land from a church site, expand an existing building, or provide major renovation of a building shall be accompanied by a letter or minutes for the District Committee on Church Location and Building showing approval and support. Application for loans from the Conference Loan Fund are to be made through the Conference Loan Secretary: Bill Wisener, (870) 367-5334 (office); (870) 367-7341 (fax); (870) 723-0952 (cell). His address is: Bill Wisener, c/o Simmons First Bank, 473 Highway 425 North, Monticello, AR 71655.

Applications for loans from the Conference Loan Fund may be made at anytime. However, they must be in the hands of the Conference Loan Secretary by February 15 or September 15 of each year, and will only be considered at that time. Inquiries for further information about the services and assistance of the Parish and Community Development Committee may be directed to the Chairperson of the Committee: Bob Burnham, phone 870-735-1805.

— Action on Applications for Grants or Loans —

The Parish and Community Development Committee will act on application for grants during the month of March of each year. Factors entering into the consideration of applications shall include the evident need for the project, the extension of Christian Ministry the project will make possible, the population and area to be reached, the degree to which other churches are serving the area under consideration, the evaluation of the proposed project by the District Superintendent, the Bishop, Cabinet, and district agencies, as well as the results of research by the Church Revitalization Program. The level of local church's participation and effort are also significant factors. Full approval and authorization of grants from the Church Revitalization Fund and loans from the Conference Loan Fund shall be lodged in the Parish and Community Development Committee.

— Disbursements of Grants or Loans —

In general, disbursements of a grant may be made to a project when the Pastor and the District Superintendent certify by letter to the Secretary of Church Revitalization that the funds, thus made available, will when combined with other available funds, make possible the completion of the project. Disbursement of a loan may be made when all requested forms are in the hands of the Conference Loan Secretary. As money becomes available in the appropriate fund, a disbursement check shall then be mailed to the District Superintendent for delivery to the project. Approved Grants must be requested within two years of the approval date.

— New Congregation Development Program —

The Parish and Community Development Committee, is charged with "encouraging and supporting the development of new and established congregations", (¶731.5e) and the Catch the Vision Fund is the process whereby meaningful contributions can be made in starting new churches and to the proposed relocation of existing congregations when justified.

I. NEW CONGREGATIONS:

A. Goal: It shall be a goal of the Arkansas Conference to start three new congregation a year within the conference as the need arises and the resources are available which is in harmony with Strategic Initiative #1.
B. New congregations may be started in a variety of ways, including (but not limited to):
    1. an existing congregation initiating a mission outreach, mother/daughter, second campus, and/or similar new starts for the purpose of developing a new congregation;

2. an existing congregation initiating an extension Sunday School in another location;
3. a pastor may be appointed to a given area for the purpose of establishing a congregation;
4. a pastor may be appointed to a piece of property already owned to start a new church;
5. The District Board of Church Location and Building identifies an area or community of significant growth for a new or relocated congregation and one of the above may take place;
6. Bishop, Cabinet, and or the Director of New Church Starts may identify an area or community as a target for a new church start. However, the ultimate decision, identification, and funding request for a new church start rests upon the authority of the office of Bishop of the Arkansas Annual Conference.

C. Criteria for an Emerging Congregation:
   l. Missions and Ministry shall be a focus from the beginning of each congregation. The purpose of a United Methodist Church is to be held forth by each pastor so as to present the Gospel in the community.
   2. A strong community of faith, fellowship or koinonia, will be an aim to provide strength and support to each person in the Body of Christ.
   3. Stewardship in all its aspects (time, talents, finances) will be taught so as to enrich the goals above as well as to financially undergird the fledgling congregations.
   4. While the pastor is critical in the formation of a new church, the people need to help provide a setting conducive to the high morale of the pastor.
   5. The first full year after the church is constituted they shall be given the same Apportionment responsibilities as other churches, in accordance with the council on finance and administration (CFA) formula.

II. FINANCIAL SUPPORT FOR NEW CONGREGATIONS:

Support for the new congregations can come from several sources such as: the congregation itself, district mission funds, district "special" funds/apportionment, interested individuals or groups in the community; Equitable Compensation Commission (key charge arrangement), and Catch the Vision funds. These new and relocated congregations, particularly the new ones, will need this assistance for clergy salary and housing and utilities support, first meeting facilities, site purchase, program, outreach ministries, advertising, signs, leadership training.

A. First meeting facilities can include arenas, theaters, community building, other religious group buildings, public buildings (schools, auditoriums). We do not recommend or endorse the use of trailers. It is important to have a focal point for identity during the beginning for the new congregation, but deliberate, long-range plans need to be made to avoid premature, debilitating indebtedness.
B. Salary, utilities and housing for the pastor will be needed until such time as the new congregation can become self-sufficient. A five year declining rate of support from district, Equitable Salaries, or other funds, is anticipated, however, each church will be urged to make stewardship education among its primary goals to shorten the time whenever possible.
C. Site selection and purchase can come at any time prior to, or after the organization of the church; unless there are unusual circumstances, five acres will be considered the minimum goal for a new congregation. Once the property is identified through the combined efforts of the bishop, cabinet, district board of church location and building, and the parish and community development committee, the purchase will be pursued in accordance with the Book of Discipline.
D. Outreach and programs of nurture should begin with the advent of the new church, even before there is a sizeable number of members and constituents. A recommended goal for the congregation's budget is seen as one-fourth salary, one-fourth mission/outreach (including initiating apportionments), one-fourth program (including advertising) and one-fourth debt retirement.
E. The First Phase in the building program will be crucial to the continued growth and nurture of the new congregation, therefore, a premature program is to be avoided. The General Board School of Congregational Development recommends that a building committee not be appointed until regular worship attendance reaches 125, and also not plan for the construction to be completed until attendance averages at least 200. This first phase needs to be constructed within the bounds of a reasonably manageable debt for the membership (national statistics indicate the need to be at a $60,000 self-generated budget with 1/3 for debt retirement as the minimum requirement). Catch the Vision funds are seen as one way to help avoid indebtedness which might severely limit the focus and capabilities of those members and future members.

III. CATCH THE VISION FUNDS:

A. Monies collected from the Catch the Vision annual calls will provide support to eligible projects for the following purposes:
   l. Site purchase for a present or future development.
   2. Assistance for start-up and first meeting facilities.
   3. Assistance in the first phases of the building program.
   4. Assistance for new faith communities growing out of existing congregations as extension campus ministries.

B. New Congregations/Churches formed by Relocation or Merger. Relocating churches and new congregations formed by merger will be eligible for funds under the following criteria:
   l. A relocation church is one that develops at the initiative of the bishop, district superintendent/cabinet, district board of church location and building, with the advice and consultation of the parish and community development committee. It shall be defined as an existing group becoming a new church, with a new name, in a new area, having participated in training about what it means to be a new church.
   2. New churches resulting from a merger of two or more congregations will be eligible under the same process as for relocation.

C. Limits on Catch the Vision Funding:

The following shall be the limits of time and dollars for new congregations:
   1. A church shall be considered new for five years from the date of the appointment of the pastor. An extension of up to two years may be granted for special circumstances after an in-depth review.
   2. A maximum of $350,000 will be allowed to any one situation, covering all items as noted in III. A. Actual funding will be determined by the needs of the project and the availability of funds.
   3. Projects eligible for funding within the above limit must have been approved as a qualifying project by the Parish and Community Development Committee prior to the beginning of the project.

D. Application for Catch the Vision Funds.
   1. Send a letter of request, including the signature of the District Superintendent and others as needed for the specific request to: Bob Burnham at (870) 735-1805 at 215 N. Missouri, West Memphis, AR 72301.

RELIGION AND RACE COMMITTEE

CCORR remains dedicated to the principles of the national office to equipping individuals and groups with tools to develop and build relationships of inclusivity and tolerance among racial/ethnic groups as it works to make disciples of Jesus Christ in the transformation of the world. CCORR continues to provide leadership and support to members and young adults to participate in leadership training and planning opportunities. Below is information on participation on joint task forces engaged in concerted planning and action.

- Members of CORR are participating ongoing in the planning, implementation activities and evaluation of Crossing Jordan. Members have traveled to targeted sites providing listening sessions and capacity building activities for local churches and pastors.
- The most recent joint event of BMCR, Crossing Jordan and Religion and Race was "Can We Talk" held November 18 – 19, 2011 at Philander Smith. The event welcomed participants from across the South Central Jurisdiction and South East Jurisdiction and other areas.. Bishops, district superintendents, pastors and lay persons were in attendance. "How does the Call to Action affect African-American churches?" Scholarships were made available to persons that incurred travel expenses.
- Partnering with Conference Committee on Church and Society, Methodist Federation for Social Action and Black Methodist for Church Renewal in planning of the Imagine Justice Summit, held September 16 – 17, 2011. Sara Bayles of Conway resourced the display table with materials from the General Commission. Sara was completing an internship at the national office in Washington, DC. Financial assistance was provided the Imagine Justice event to assist with travel for the speaker Susan Burton.
- Joint monitoring activities with COSROW at the June 2011 annual conference in Hot Springs, AR.
- Request made with the annual conference committee to schedule times to introduce the monitoring ministry on the front end of the conference as well as a slot for a final report. A final report was denied and recommendation was accepted for the reports to appear in the Daily Digest.
- Partnered with the Crossing Jordan project throughout the year. Collaborated on the development of the 4 year Comprehensive Plan for African-American Churches.
- On going participation with the GCORR Webinar learning experiences on designated Mondays.
- Conference Commission on Religion and Race ensuring that the persons nominated to serve are notified and willing to serve is a major effort. Names for potential committee members were submitted to Rev. Phil Hathcock for recommendations to the Conference Nominating Committee.

- Churches and individuals are being recruited to participate in drop the "I"-Word national campaign.

An ongoing goal is to develop responsive committee representation on CCORR.

SPIRITUAL FORMATION COMMITTEE

The Conference Committee on Spiritual Formation is responsible for the promotion and development of the spiritual life for clergy and lay persons of all ages by conducting seminars and training events (private and corporate prayer, Bible study, and spiritual growth opportunities) and encouraging the use of resources for spiritual formation, as well as supporting the ministries of prayer in the local church (United Methodist Book of Discipline, paragraph 630). These responsibilities have grown and expanded with every General Conference since 1996. Spiritual formation is the process of being conformed to the image of Christ for the transformation of the world. These ministries are fundamental to making disciples of Jesus Christ.

Our committee continues to design and conduct retreats for clergy and laity in our conference to promote and facilitate the development of the spiritual life. We believe that spiritual formation of both clergy and laity is vital for the overall health of mind, body, and spirit and the care of souls as well as for spiritual renewal in the Church. Many peer reviewed published studies have identified lack of attentiveness to matters of spiritual formation as a major cause of clergy attrition, malpractice, and burnout. Healthy, well-functioning ministers (both clergy and lay) contribute to healthy, well-functioning congregations. Spiritual formation is essential for developing mature Christians.

1. In recent years our conference committee has brought the Upper Room Five-Day Academy for Spiritual Formation to Arkansas twice and we have another Five-Day Academy planned for the spring of 2013. These events have been held at our jurisdictional retreat center at Mount Sequoyah and have been well received and attended by both clergy and laity from within our conference and jurisdiction.
2. We have also designed and conducted a course on spiritual formation which has been approved as an Advanced Lay Speaker's course in our conference.
3. We have also held annual spiritual formation retreats at Mount Eagle, and in 2011 we held both a spring retreat and a fall retreat. The 2011 fall retreat resulted in the completion of the Stations of the Cross as a permanent resource for Mount Eagle. The 2012 spring retreat will be March 4-7 at Mount Eagle.
4. The spiritual formation committee continues to sponsor a special room at annual conference that is set aside for prayer and spirituality. The room features visual, auditory, and tactile ways of experiencing prayer as well as morning teaching sessions and other activities. The Prayer and Spirituality room provides an oasis where conference attendees can withdraw for long or short periods of prayer and reflection and for learning.

Respectfully submitted,
Bill Buchanan, chair

UNITED METHODIST YOUTH, COUNCIL ON

This year the Arkansas Conference Council on Youth Ministries (ACCYM) had much success in planning and carrying out seven events and worked diligently throughout the year while growing accustomed to the changes to the Conference made at last year's Annual Conference.

In July 2011, the 2011-2012 CCYM members came together for a planning retreat at College of the Ozarks in Clarksville. From there, all members split up into their task forces designated by the executive council made up of president Madison Schallhorn, vice president Susan Warren, secretary Michala Roberts, then chaplain MJ Booker, JYT (Jurisdictional Youth Team) Representatives Sam Petty and Jacob Sentell, and YSF (Youth Service Fund) Chair Bailey Moon. From there the youth worked on planning the events Refuge, Mitto, Veritas, Choir Tour, Junior High Assembly, Senior High Assembly, and working on YSF.

These forty youth worked hard with helpful resource adults to plan and think of fresh, new ideas for these events. They met in September, November, January, and March.

The first event of the year was Refuge in November held at Camp Wyldewood in Searcy. This was a junior high event that saw one the largest number of participants for this event to date. The event was based upon CCYMer-led small groups with a guided curriculum. These CCYMers served as leaders and mentors to the junior high youth. The speaker was Mike Meeks and the band was Visitor's Parking, a band based out of Hot Springs with one of its members in CCYM—Gable Bradley. The participants took home a message about TTYL—Talking to Your Lord.

Following that was the newest event Mitto. This is the first year that Mitto has occurred and was chaired by Caitlyn Hendrickson and Max Hocott. The week after Christmas thirty youth came together to work on mission and outreach in the Central district. They worked at the Methodist Family Health children's home and behavioral hospital, the Compassion Center, the Ronald McDonald House, worked with elderly members of Pulaski Heights Methodist church in Little Rock, and repaired the Wesley Foundation building at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock campus. This event plans to move to a different district every year in an effort to bring mission to every district on a five year rotation.

The biggest event, Veritas, happened in the last weekend of February at the new location in Rogers at the John Hammonds Convention Center. This event also saw the biggest crowd to date at 1530 youth. The event was open to seventh to twelth graders. The theme was Revolution and the participants received messages about revolutionary love and the unconventional love the Jesus had for everyone from Mark Oestericher. They also experienced and learned through worship, workshops, fellowship, and a mission project. There was also exciting Saturday night entertainment illusionist Drew Worsham and local Christian bands that performed Friday night.

At the March meeting the ACCYM elected the new executive officers that will hold positions for the 2012-2013 year. These new officers are President Caitlyn Hendrickson from the former Central district, Vice President Michala Roberts from the former Central district, Secretary Jessa Wilson from the former Northcentral district, JYT Rep Brooke Hobbs from the former Southcentral district, Chaplain Miller Wilbourn from the former Central district, and this year there was a special suspension of the rules that only allowed one YSF chairperson so that Henry Bowen from the former Northcentral district and Henry Darnell from the former Northwest district could serve at Youth Service Fund co-chairs. These new executive-elects officially are put into office at the foot washing ceremony at Senior High Assembly in July and will become new chairs for next year's events.

No large events occur until Choir Tour from June 24 to July 1. This event has multiple practices throughout the year in Hot Springs to work on music that they will tour throughout many towns in Arkansas. This year's schedule is as follows:

June 27 – St. Paul UMC, El Dorado, 7pm
June 28 – Monticello FUMC, 7pm
June 29 – Forrest City FUMC, 7pm
June 30 – Blytheville FUMC, 7pm
July 1 – Memphis Fun Day, 7pm
July 2 – Lakeside UMC, Pine Bluff, 7pm
July 3 – Beebe FUMC, 6pm

Junior High Assembly and Senior High Assembly occur in the summer from July 22-26 at College of the Ozarks. This year, the events will occur separately but simultaneously, which differs from previous years when Senior High Assembly started right after Junior High ended. This change was made in an effort to assist youth directors with transportation and volunteer issues. These events are based around small groups led by youth directors and other adults with around six youth from different districts.

Finally the year comes to a close with the Methodist Family Health walk and YSF Lock-in on August 3. The walk starts at the North Little Rock side of the Big Dam Bridge at Cook's Landing. The cost is $20, but all proceeds go to the Methodist Family Health and its missions. This is not specifically an event that the ACCYM puts on, but we support it and urge youth groups to go before they go to the YSF lock-in at Wild River Country. The lockin helps raise money for grants that YSF sends to groups that apply.

The 2011-2012 year was a very productive, fruitful, and blessed year for the ACCYM. Hard work, helpful adults and parents, and our faith and guidance in God got us through.

Madison Schallhorn
ACCYM president

ALDERSGATE CAMP

www.campaldersgate.net

The team at Camp Aldersgate has had another incredible year, once again! While we continued to serve and provide our year-round specialized programs for kids with disabilities and medical conditions, as well as our programming for senior adults, we also had another huge opportunity placed in front of us! Camp Aldersgate was asked to apply for an enhancement grant from the Donald W. Reynolds Foundation. We applied and received grant funding to support some significant changes at the Camp.

This grant will provide support to build the internal, programmatic and financial capacity of the Camp by funding functions such as long-term, strategic, fundraising and master planning, staff development and training, Board development and office modifications. This is an incredible opportunity for the Camp, and it will help ensure our continued success. The Foundation has certainly already transformed the 'outside' of the Camp and now will help transform the 'inside' of the Camp with the newly awarded grant. This will be a huge step forward in how we plan for long-term growth.

With all of these wonderful changes, the most important thing I need and want you to know about Camp Aldersgate is the significance of what our programming does to change lives. The following is a letter from a camper parent:

To Whom It May Concern:

My children, Abby and Allen, both attended Camp Aldersgate's Kota camp during the summer of 2010. It was the third year for both to attend this camp, and the experience has proven to be invaluable in their lives.

Abby, 11, was diagnosed with Asperger syndrome at age 4. She loves to draw cartoons and collect insects, read books and cook with her dad. She has come so far in her life, but she still requires close supervision. She doesn't always recognize danger, and she is easily frustrated or frightened by the simplest things. In her daily life, she spends most of her time in school or in therapy, and there isn't a lot of time for extracurricular activities. However, there aren't many activities she could engage in. She won't compete on a team, and her focus wanders easily, which frustrates most coaches and other children. There is no such thing as "just dropping her off" anywhere, which severely limits her social options.

Camp Aldersgate is a wonderful gift for Abby. She actually can talk about an activity that seems "normal," something other kids might do. At camp, she is engaged and is never left standing outside looking in. People mean well, but let's face it, often children get swept up in their own lives and it takes extra effort to include a child with a disability. Abby often feels hurt or left out of normal interactions at school, but not at Camp Aldersgate. She gets to shine, which is so rare for her. More than that, it's a chance for her to learn independence, to see how other kids do for themselves, and to be inspired to try new things. It gives her confidence and a great model to follow. This year, for the first time, she can take a shower by herself and shampoo her own hair – things she first did at Camp Aldersgate. She doesn't feel separated, isolated in a group of "others," and that makes a difference to her.

While raving about how Camp Aldersgate has helped my daughter, I have saved the best for last. I honestly feel it has had more of an impact on my son, 9.

Allen knows his sister has a disability, but he accepts it as just another characteristic, like eye color or weight. He has basically grown up at Camp Aldersgate, and he loves everything about it. The best thing for me, though, is that Allen does not see disabled children as being disabled. They are simply part of the gang, others who are at camp. There's nothing to set them apart, and he engages with them as he would any other children. He doesn't coddle them or talk down to them – they are simply his contemporaries. His best friend at school has Asperger's, yet Allen doesn't see that. I don't know if he would so easily overlook differences if he didn't see that attitude modeled summer after summer at Camp Aldersgate.

If the goal of a camp such as Aldersgate is to give new opportunities and insight to disabled children, it succeeds. If the goal is to help "normal" children accept those around them and incorporate the disabled into their worlds, it succeeds. If the goal is to make a difference in the lives of those it serves, it most definitely succeeds.

I never realized until I had Abby what a blessing it is just to be included, to have people see us. We don't appreciate the comfort of belonging until we don't belong. Camp Aldersgate is one more place that gives my child a presence in a world that often goes too fast to slow down and include her. I feel blessed to have it in our community and in our state.

Sincerely, Becky B.

I hope this letter sums up Camp Aldersgate in the simplest of terms – the Camp is changing lives. I want to thank the Arkansas Conference and the individuals in the United Methodist Church for supporting our incredible organization, and the United Methodist Women for leasing the property to us so we can provide such significant and unique programming.

In 2011, Camp Aldersgate served 552 participants from 107 cities and 52 counties throughout Arkansas, as well as six other states. 1,701 volunteers contributed an amazing 35,111 hours of service to the Camp.

Thank you,
Sarah C. Wacaster, Chief Executive Officer

EMORY | CANDLER SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

CANDLER SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY
Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia

Candler School of Theology prepares real people to make a real difference in the real world. Our commitment to authentic discipleship and relevant ministry enables us to develop uniquely well-rounded leaders who are challenged academically, encouraged spiritually, and immersed in Christian service from the first day they arrive on campus.

As one of the 13 official seminaries of The United Methodist Church, Candler is grounded in the Christian faith and shaped by the Wesleyan tradition of evangelical piety, ecumenical openness, and social concern. As one of seven graduate professional schools of Emory University, Candler provides a rich context for learning and formation supported by the extensive resources of a top-tier research university. As a school located in the major metropolitan area of Atlanta, Candler offers students a learning environment that reflects the highly diverse communities of our 21st century world. There is no better place for ministry preparation that addresses our major denominational priorities: developing leaders, starting and growing churches, ministry with the poor, and improving global health.

Candler's student body continues to reflect the diversity and breadth of the Christian faithful.

Our enrollment stands at 479, with 372 seeking the Master of Divinity, 64 the Master of Theological Studies, 19 the Master of Theology, 17 the Doctor of Theology, and 7 enrolled as Special, Non-Degree students. The total student population is 22% U.S. ethnic minority, 8% international, and 50% women. Forty-four denominations are represented, with 52% of MDiv students being United Methodist. The median age of our entering class of MDiv students is 26, with 50% of total enrollment under thirty.

An extraordinary gift of $15 million from the O. Wayne Rollins Foundation will make possible the construction of the second phase of the school's new building. In recognition of this gift, the first building—a 65,000-square-foot facility completed in 2008—will be named in memory of the late Rita Anne Rollins, the first grandchild of the foundation's namesake. The new building will house the Pitts Theology Library, additional classrooms and offices, group study areas, and the Wesley Teaching Chapel.

Candler and The General Theological Seminary (GTS) in New York have formed an innovative partnership that includes the sharing of library resources, collaborative educational programs, and the exchange of both students and faculty members. The partnership began this fall with the transfer of 90,000 volumes from GTS to Candler's Pitts Theology Library, and will continue to expand this year via student/faculty exchanges and continuing education programs.

Candler has introduced two new ways to make theological education more accessible. First, we launched a Tuesday-Thursday format for core courses for our incoming students in order to lessen the burden of commuting. Second, we began offering certain courses in an online or hybrid format. Two courses were piloted in January term and spring semester. We remain deeply committed to the highest quality education for our clergy and will offer only those hybrid and online courses that meet a gold standard of excellence in teaching and learning outcomes. Faculty members undergo rigorous training in order to translate their courses to an online format.

Candler continues to emphasize preparing our students for leadership in an increasingly global context. We now offer 17 academic exchanges with theology schools across five continents and 15 countries, including many related to The United Methodist Church. In addition to our ongoing summer internship program with the Methodist Church in the Bahamas, this year's travel seminars included the Middle East Travel Seminar in May-June and World Methodist Evangelism Institute evangelism seminars to Colombia, Indonesia, and Israel.

A hallmark of the Candler MDiv experience, the two-year Contextual Education program shapes our students' pastoral identities by interweaving service at ministry sites with academic analysis in the classroom and spiritual reflection in pastor-led small groups. In any given week, Candler deploys more than 250 ConEd students throughout the region to minister to people in congregations, hospitals, and social service agencies. This year we have continued Candler Advantage, a program designed to pay rising third-year MDiv students for summer internships in congregations so they can further hone their pastoral skills beyond the first two years of ConEd.

Candler's Lifelong Learning events strengthen the church by providing opportunities for clergy and lay leaders to learn more about the practice of ministry. Our Fall Conference, "The Art of Preaching in the 21st Century," brought to campus some of the most respected names in preaching, including Otis Moss Jr. and James Howell. The Spring Conference, "The Singing Church," gathered experts to lead an exploration of the best practices and emerging trends of congregational song.

In addition to our Lifelong Learning events, Candler oversees the educational process of more than 900 people each year through the Course of Study regional school and our five extension schools in the Southeast.

Despite today's challenging economic climate, Candler remains steadfastly committed to making theological education financially feasible. Although our operating budget essentially remained flat this year, we dedicated $4.5 million to financial aid. Seventy-seven percent of eligible students received Candler-based financial aid, with the average award covering more than two-thirds of tuition.

Our widely respected faculty continues to distinguish itself, both in academia and in churches and denominational bodies at local, national, and international levels. This year, faculty members garnered prestigious grants and fellowships from the Guggenheim Foundation, the National Endowment for the Humanities, and the Louisville Institute, among others. Dr. Carol Newsom recently completed a term as president of the Society of Biblical Literature. In Fall 2011 we welcomed two new faculty members: Jennifer Ayres in religious education and Anthony Briggman in the history of early Christianity. In Fall 2012 we welcome Neil Alexander, current bishop of the Episcopal Archdiocese of Atlanta, as director of our Anglican Studies Program and Ted Smith as assistant professor of homiletics and ethics. Our UM faculty presence remains strong, with 36 percent of our full-time faculty being United Methodist.

Candler draws considerable strength and inspiration from its relationship with The United Methodist Church. Our ability to fulfill our mission of educating faithful and creative leaders for the church's ministries in the world depends upon your support, gifts, and prayers. Thank you for the countless ways you advance this vital ministry in the life of our denomination. We invite you to visit us in person in Atlanta or online at www.candler.emory.edu to see firsthand how Candler prepares real people to make a real difference in the real world.

DREW UNIVERSITY
36 Madison Avenue, Madison, NJ 07940

Drew Theological School, deeply rooted in its United Methodist heritage, is a place that empowers its students to conceive and implement dynamic ministries. Drew offers the MDiv, MA, MAM, STM, DMin, and PhD degrees, as well as certifications in Camp and Retreat Ministry, and Spiritual Formation. Academically rigorous and spiritually revealing, Drew develops religious leadership prepared for these ever-changing times. Drew offers 100% tuition scholarships to all United Methodists who meet all admissions requirements and have a 3.5 undergraduate GPA or higher.

In the fall semester, I had the honor of welcoming a new class of students to Drew. This new class is composed of 73 masters and 13 PhD students. In addition, we also admitted 58 DMin students who started the program in the various cohorts around the country. We also welcomed another 19 students in the spring semester. We began the new academic year with a new Associate Dean for Academic Affairs in Dr. Morris Davis, Associate Professor of the History of Christianity and Wesleyan/Methodist Studies and welcomed two new faculty members and a post-doctoral fellow. Dr. Kate Ott joined us as Assistant Professor of Christian Social Ethics, Dr. Elías Ortega-Aponte as Assistant Professor in Afro-Latino/a Religions and Cultural Studies, and Dr. David Evans as a post-doctoral fellow position and Lecturer in the History of Christianity.

As we began a new academic year, I was reminded of Drew's impact and contribution in the global context. I had the privilege of visiting Drew alumni in Hong Kong, Taiwan, Malaysia, Singapore and South Korea. Our alumni spoke with great appreciation of the education they received at Drew and the professors who taught them. Drew's influence in Korea, in particular, is historic. Henry G. Appenzeller, a graduate of Drew in 1885, brought Methodism to Korea. Appenzeller's connection with Drew has brought hundreds of students from Korea to Drew. Today, we have alumni teaching in seminaries and universities and serving churches in Korea.

I have enjoyed teaching a course on the General Conference and will be taking the class to Tampa. We were honored to have leaders such as Jim Winkler, General Secretary of GBCS, Harriett Olson, Deputy General Secretary of the Women's Division, and Erin Hawkins, General Secretary of GCORR, come and speak to the class. Three members of the Drew community are serving as delegates to the General Conference: Mark Miller, Tanya Bennett and myself.

We are living into a "majority minority" faculty, staff and student body at Drew that trains leaders for the church that will be soon serving in a "majority minority" world. Forty-five percent of our faculty is African / African Americans, Asian / Asian Americans, and Latino / a. We have almost an equal number of women and men on the faculty.

We are thrilled to have received a grant of $75,600 from the GCORR Action Fund for the purpose of widening the ethos of multi-ethnic theological education. The grant will assist us in a thorough curriculum review with the hopes of enhancing every aspect of the multi-lingual, multi-ethnic, and multi-cultural reality at Drew.

Creative, cutting-edge, inclusive, multi-cultural, social justice ministry is part of the legacy of Drew, and I am proud to be associated with it! Below are just a few other ministries that make me proud to be associated with Drew.

Bishops in Residence at Drew

I have enjoyed meeting Bishops and many Boards of Ordained Ministry to convey our desire at Drew to be a resource to the entire denomination. I am particularly pleased that Drew is hosting a January Term class taught by UM Bishops. This past January, Bishop Alfred Johnson taught a class in urban ministry. He recently shared with me some reflections about his experience teaching here at Drew: "I am deeply impressed with the quality, depth and reflective experience of the students in my class. Both their reflection, inquiry and contribution to the field of urban ministry greatly deepened my own theological reflection and praxis."

In January 2013, Bishop Peggy Johnson of the Eastern PA and Peninsula Delaware Conference will teach a class on Ministry with People with Disabilities. In January of 2014, Bishop Jane Middleton of the Central PA Conference will teach a class on Ministry and Health.

United Methodist Liaison at Drew

The Rev. Jeff Markay continues to work with our UM students by introducing them to the leaders and resources within our denomination. He helps them navigate the process toward commissioning and ordination as well as with issues of discernment. We have monthly UM Lunches to meet with bishops, and leaders of the general agencies, conferences and connection. We are grateful for every opportunity to build a UM ethos here at Drew so that the connectionalism is strong when our students graduate to become leaders in their settings of ministry. We are also grateful to have the Rev. Susan Worrell as the Deacon Liaison on campus who shares resources and wisdom with those hearing a call to the Ministry of the Deacon in the UMC.

Center for Clergy and Congregational Health and Wholeness

In the fall of 2011 representatives from the General Board of Pension and Health Benefits of the UMC came to Drew to meet with Dean Samuel and me. The purpose of the visit was to explore developing a partnership between the two institutions to address issues of clergy health. This cooperative partnership will lead to two things in 2012, namely, the launching of a longitudinal study on the health habits of seminary students while in seminary and for five years upon graduation and a conference, bringing together deans and presidents and staff members from the 13 UM seminaries, to be held in June on Clergy Health and Theological Education.

Taking seriously our shared lot in a global community, theological education is not just interested in "small talk"— we strive for hard talk, demanding friendships and challenges. We at Drew look forward to working with the good and faithful people of the UMC as we forge deeper friendships in the shared ministry of making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

Theological Seminary
LIGHT, FREEDOM, TRUTH, BE EVER THESE OUR OWN

653 Beckwith Street SW, Atlanta, GA 30314

www.gammonseminary.org

Gammon Theological Seminary, located in Atlanta, GA, is the United Methodist constituent member of the Interdenominational Theological Center (ITC), a consortium of six historically African American theological schools. Gammon/ITC is a co-educational, professional graduate school of theology. Its faculty personifies vigorous scholarship, rigorous academic discipline, and significant research in the service of the church and other communities in the world. Gammon/ITC is the world's premier resource for black church scholarship and faith-based solutions to the spiritual and socio-economic challenges confronting the African American community and beyond.

Founded in 1883 by the Methodist Episcopal Church and with assistance from the Freedman's Aid Society, today Gammon Theological Seminary is one of the 13 theological schools of the United Methodist Church. The faculty and administration of Gammon/ITC create an environment in which critical thinking, investigative reflection, decision making, and responsible action are fostered. Gammon/ITC is a member of the Atlanta University Center Complex, the world's largest enterprise of African American higher education. It is also a member of The University Center of Georgia and the Atlanta Theological Association. The school is fully accredited by the Association of Theological Schools and the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Gammon/ITC offers the following degree programs: the Master of Divinity, the Master of Arts in Religious Education, the Master of Arts in Church Music, the Doctor of Theology (Th.D.) in Pastoral Counseling, and the Doctor of Ministry (D.Min.). There are also a number of dual degree programs offered in cooperation with seminaries and schools in the Atlanta Theological Association. Admission is open to qualified men and women of the United Methodist Church.

Because of the support of this Annual Conference, Gammon/ITC students carry on a proud tradition. They are taught to think independently and communicate effectively. They are also challenged to become involved in finding solutions to problems that affect the human condition, and to become active in the community beyond this campus. Additionally, graduates of this institution are encouraged to maintain a lifelong desire for intellectual growth, spiritual development, and the acquisition of skills for the practice of ministry.

Gammon/ITC has had a very exciting and busy year living out its mission, which is to recruit, support and educate pastors and leaders for the United Methodist Church. There are at least three significant ways that we have lived out our mission and furthered our vision:

1) Enrolled one of the largest entering classes on record for our institution. This entering class is comprised of young persons (average age of 25) called by God to be prophetic leaders for the mission of making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.
2) Instituted the Merit Scholars Program, which is a scholarship for incredibly bright and called students, that covers full tuition and fees. Gammon/ITC is able to attract these students because of your contributions to the Ministerial Education Fund.
3) Launched the Center for the Study of Religion and Race. Gammon/ITC's historic commitment to producing public theologians – men and women who are spiritually astute, intellectually keen, politically sophisticated, and culturally sensitive – is advanced with the establishment of this Center. With assistance from the General Commission on Religion and Race, it is Gammon/ITC's desire to continue the great work of addressing issues of cultural competency, advocacy and education in areas that further racial justice and equity.

Gammon Theological Seminary is extremely grateful to this Annual Conference for your support of theological education, and for your commitment to ensuring that God's church will be served by persons who are called and trained to lead us forward.

Dr. Albert Mosley, President-Dean

HENDRIX

HENDRIX COLLEGE REPORT

The relationship between Hendrix College and the United Methodist Church started more than 135 years ago and continues to grow strong. Part of that relationship is strengthened by the generous apportionment dollars given to the College. Hendrix College appreciates the financial support from the church and strives to be good stewards of the money. All of the apportionment dollars go directly to student scholarships and financial aid. Throughout the history of Methodism, more than 1,200 Methodist colleges were established. Today, there are less than 125 United Methodist institutions of higher education in the United States. Hendrix College is proud to be one of them. We are proud of the ways in which Hendrix can partner with the Arkansas Annual Conference, particularly through the collaborative work of the Office of the Chaplain and the Hendrix-Miller Center for Vocation, Ethics and Calling. Below are some of the ways the College feels that it is being a good steward of the apportionment dollars.

Ministry / Seminary Exploration

- Since 2002, 32 Hendrix graduates have enrolled in seminary with 50% of these students attending UM seminaries.
- Approximately 12 students are currently in seminary.
- In the next four years, we anticipate 20 students will enroll in seminary. From this year's senior class alone, we expect 6 will attend seminary.
- Approximately 10-15 students who are discerning ministry meet each week.
- The College provides up to $500 per student in travel funds to visit a seminary. Approximately 6-10 students take advantage of this program each year.

UMYF Scholars / Religious Life / Mission Trips

- The UMYF Leadership Scholarship Program is completing its 16th year. Currently 40 students participate in the program and there are more than 140 alumni from the program.
- More than 400 UM churches in all nine districts have had Hendrix students assist with worship services in the past 16 years.
- More than 200 students participate in weekly programming including chapel, communion, Bible studies, a youth group-style program called Fellowship, or Tuesday Talks, a discussion of vocation and calling conducted by a faculty or staff member.
- This year 127 students applied for 40 mission trip positions. This ratio has been increasing over 5% annually for the past five years.

Use of Hendrix Space / Church Relations

- Methodist groups that the College hosts for no rental fee include the Arkansas Course of Studies, Arkansas United Methodist Conference Historical Society, and local UM church staff meetings.
- The College also dedicates a display case in the Student Life and Technology Building as a temporary display for the Arkansas United Methodist Conference Museum.
- Methodist groups the College hosts for a 25% reduction in rental fees are: Arkansas School of Christian Mission, and Youth Assembly.
- Hendrix College, Bailey Library houses the permanent collection of Archives of the Arkansas Conference.

Continuing Education / Lectures

- This year on campus, the College hosted the following speakers / preachers: Shane Claiborne, Billy Abraham, and Bishop Charles Crutchfield. With the exception of the preaching workshop, all lectures were free.
- Hendrix also hosted an Arkansas United Methodist Youth Ministers Appreciation Day.

Financial / Enrollment

- For the 2011 calendar year, the College received $249,766 from the Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church. 100% of the church apportionment goes toward scholarships.
- Annually, the College provides more than $3.2 million dollars to all UM students.
- Of the $3.2 million dollars, the College annually provides more than $300,000 directly to the three specific groups of Methodist students:
  1) UMYF Leadership Scholars,
  2) UM clergy ½ tuition discount,
  3) UM students who are candidates for ordained ministry.
- Annually, the College provides funding for two full-time ordained chaplains and programming at a cost of over $300,000.
- The College sponsored a UMYF Visit Day for the first time with great success. There were 20 students and 27 family members who attended the visit day.
- For the past few years, an average of 650 students from Arkansas have been enrolled in the College. The number of students from Arkansas has increased over the past few years.

Hendrix College remains committed to ensuring that all qualified students have access to a Hendrix education, regardless of their family's financial circumstances. The amount of money needed to fund scholarships and financial aid for our students continues to increase each year. This year, Hendrix is providing more than $28.9 million in student scholarships and financial aid. This represents approximately 30 percent of our total budget. Our budget for student financial assistance has doubled in the past four years in response to the growing need of students and their families for assistance with financing a college education.

The relationship between Methodists and higher education was established by John Wesley. Hendrix College cherishes its relationship with the United Methodist Church and the opportunity to fulfill Wesley's vision to bring together intellectual curiosity, spiritual formation, knowledge, and vital piety. We are grateful for the many ways in which United Methodist Churches of Arkansas support Hendrix, including your apportionment gifts that go directly to students to provide financial assistance that ensure access to our strong academic program, the Miller Center, a wide range of religious life and spiritual formation opportunities, and the UMYF Leadership Scholars Program. Thank you for your continuing support of Hendrix.

LYDIA PATTERSON INSTITUTE

It is my pleasure to submit this report to the Bishop and members of the conference with great appreciation for your love, support and prayers as we work together to do God's work on the border.

Lydia Patterson Institute is a true representation of the meaning of connectionalism as proclaimed by the United Methodist Church. Together, with every member of this conference and beyond, we have just entered into the 99th year of ministry with underprivileged young men and women on the US-Mexican border.

Life on the border is a daily challenge. In the last few years, our students have lived some of the most horrifying experiences that one can imagine. Some have lost members of their families, including one or both of their parents. Most have experienced assaults, kidnappings, and death and violence on the streets. The character of our students is such that in spite of all, they still manage to smile. They have faced the situation with courage and faith. They have remained focused on their school, and they constantly thank Lydia Patterson and the United Methodist Church for bringing them hope and a place of refuge where they feel safe. They are grateful for the spiritual encouragement they receive here, and continually talk about Lydia Patterson as their mean for survival. Their goal is to graduate and go to college. Again, thanks to the support of our United Methodist colleges and universities, 95% of our students are reaching that dream. Last year, the United Methodist colleges and universities awarded more than $1 Million in scholarships to our students alone.

After two years of drops in enrollment as a result of the violence and the economy across the border, we recovered our students this year. With so many parents out of work, we doubled the number of work scholarships in order to keep the students in school. It is at times like these when the faith of our supporters becomes most evident. We are thankful to United Methodist individuals and churches that went beyond paying for their apportionments to provide for one or more scholarships to save our students. Many in your conference were among those who made the difference, and we are extremely grateful.

The work of Lydia Patterson goes beyond providing a good education to the students. It is about preparing leaders for the church and forming disciples for Jesus Christ and the transformation of the world. The lay ministry program has grown from 5 students to 95 this year. Students continue to serve churches locally and throughout the jurisdiction. Many are now in seminary; others are in the process for ordination; and some are youth leaders, Bible teachers, choir directors, or maybe even leading small churches. Through this program, we hope to comply with the needs of the church as well as change the lives of many, including ours.

The support of our United Methodist friends is evident in their recognition of our work. At times it is expressed in visits to our campus. Last summer we hosted the 40th anniversary of MARCHA who returned to celebrate in the place where the organization was born. We were also honored by the visit of the College of Bishops who undoubtedly committed their total support. Work teams, mission groups, individuals, and everyone coming to share a meal with our students, is a new spark of hope for them.

We will soon be celebrating our Centennial Anniversary. Among the numerous events planned for the year 2013, is the publishing of the Lydia Patterson history. As a guiding light and beacon among the missions of the United Methodist Church, it is only right that its past be properly recorded. Plans are also in place to launch a capital campaign to rebuild our campus and place Lydia Patterson among those ministries of the United Methodist Church that will continue God's work for another 100 years. As we approach this memorable date, we offer our words of gratitude and ask for your continued prayers for the safety of our students and continued success of our ministry.

Respectfully,
Socorro de Anda, President

MEMPHIS THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Memphis Theological Seminary (MTS) is an ecumenical graduate school of religion that provides theological education for 300+ students each semester, representing close to 30 denominations. The seminary is accredited by SACS and ATS and is approved by the University Senate to prepare ordained leaders for the United Methodist Church. In any given semester, total enrollment includes 35-40% Methodist students, by far the largest denominational percentage.

In addition to the seminary's core curriculum, many courses are offered specifically for Methodist students, including:

- Early Methodism: History, Doctrine, & Polity
- American Methodism: History, Doctrine, & Polity
- Evangelism & Discipleship in the Wesleyan Tradition
- The Means of Grace in Wesleyan Theology

MTS offers these and all of our courses to auditors, which is a convenient and relevant way for United Methodist clergy to earn CEUs.

Of the full-time teaching faculty of 13, two are United Methodist: Dr. Lee Ramsey, Professor of Pastoral Theology and Homiletics, and Rev. Andrew C. Thompson, Assistant Professor of Historical Theology and Wesleyan Studies. Rev. Thompson graduated from Hendrix College in Conway, AR, and received his Master of Divinity from Vanderbilt Divinity School. Most recently, Thompson has been a Ministry Coordinator of the Duke Youth Academy for Christian Formation and is a contributing columnist for the United Methodist Reporter. His "Gen-X Rising" column appears bi-weekly and has won the Award of Excellence from the Associated Church Press. Thompson is also the editor of Generation Rising: A Future with Hope for the United Methodist Church, published in April of 2011 by Abingdon Press.

Rev. Emily Matheny, associate pastor of Christ UMC in the Memphis-Asbury district, serves on the MTS Board of Trustees, along with Rev. Tom Bell, recently retired district superintendent of the North Alabama Conference. United Methodist laypersons include Harvey Ferguson from the Mississippi Conference and Nancy Vernon from the Arkansas Conference. Thus, each annual conference served by MTS has a representative on the Board of Trustees. In addition, two District Superintendents in the Memphis Annual Conference are MTS alumni: Rev. Sandra Leatherwood Clay (Asbury) and Rev. Steve Cavitt (Dyersburg).

Jesus taught us the importance of a solid foundation for any building. Here at MTS, we are building faith and skills for ministry in the men and women God is calling to serve the church. It is my prayer and my commitment that we build on the solid foundation of the gospel, staying grounded in tradition and open to the Spirit. We are grateful for your partnership and support in this essential work.

FAMILY HEALTH FOUNDATION
Rebuilding the Lives of Children and Families Since 1899

METHODIST FAMILY HEALTH

Established in 1899 as the Methodist Orphanage and later known widely as the Methodist Children's Home, today's Methodist Family Health is a nonprofit organization that provides comprehensive behavioral and mental health care services to children, adolescents and families in Arkansas. Methodist Family Health currently serves more than 1,400 clients daily. The mission at Methodist Family Health is to give the best possible care to those who may need our help and to treat the whole person: behaviorally, emotionally and spiritually.

Methodist Family Health is a caring and effective provider of comprehensive mental health care services that we want all United Methodists in Arkansas to know about, to utilize, to support and to celebrate! We are proud to be part of the United Methodist Connection!

At Methodist Family Health, we have a staff of highly skilled individuals who provide our clients with a continuum of care that meets all of their needs. We believe in a team approach to treatment, including both client and family participation. We believe in offering hope and healing to children and families who need help and have few places to turn.

The unique Methodist Family Health Continuum offers levels of care ranging from the most restrictive (acute psychiatric hospital care) to the least restrictive (outpatient counseling), while also providing all levels of intermediate care. And it's important to remember that while in residential placement at Methodist Family Health, clients receive quality academic instruction that meets and exceeds educational requirements.

Complete care for the whole person at Methodist Family Health includes:

- Methodist Behavioral Hospital – a 60-bed hospital that is home to acute (short-term) and sub-acute (long-term) inpatient programs for children and adolescents up to age 18. The goal is to stabilize behavior and return the client to a less-restrictive environment. (Maumelle)
- Residential Treatment Centers – care for children and adolescents who are struggling with chronic issues. Again, the goal is to stabilize behavior and return the client to a less-restrictive environment. (Little Rock and Bono)
- Therapeutic Group Homes – a family-like setting of care led by Teaching Parents who offer emotional and behavioral guidance and support. (Eight homes located in Magnolia, Searcy, Helena-West Helena, Heber Springs, Mulberry and Little Rock)
- Therapeutic Foster Care – care for children who are in the custody of the state Division of Children and Family Services (DCFS). Children are matched with trained therapeutic foster parents who can provide for their needs. (multiple locations statewide).
- Emergency Shelters – a nurturing environment for children who are in the custody of DCFS and have nowhere else to go. (Little Rock and Magnolia)
- Therapeutic Day Treatment Programs – schools (K-12) that serve children and youth who can no longer function in a regular academic setting. The educational, behavioral, emotional and social needs of students are addressed. (Little Rock and Magnolia)
- Outpatient Counseling Clinics – an array of counseling services are offered, including individual, family and group therapy; behavior management; medication management; parent support and education. (eight clinics located in Batesville, Heber Springs, Little Rock, Mount Ida, Fayetteville, Jonesboro, Magnolia and Cherokee Village)
- School-Based Counseling – outpatient mental health services offered in local school settings. (services in Jonesboro, Nettleton, Harrisburg, Judsonia, Vilonia, Lincoln and Craighead County)
- Arkansas CARES (Centers for Addictions Research, Education and Services) – focuses on breaking the cycle of maternal addiction; includes a residential substance abuse treatment center, mental health services for mothers and their young children, early childhood education and early intervention services. (Little Rock)

- Kaleidoscope Grief Center – grieving children, teens and their families receive help dealing with loss and bereavement through education, therapeutic and recreational services, grief support programs, an annual grief camp and traditional counseling. (Little Rock)

Methodist Family Health continues to grow and seek ways to serve communities and those in need of our help. Here are a few facts that may better acquaint you with today's Methodist Family Health:

- Administrative offices in Little Rock coordinate services and programs offered in more than 30 cities across the state.
- Methodist Family Health has more than 600 full- and part-time employees.
- Educational components for clients are part of MFH services, and these range from a nursery and pre-school, to accredited high school classes, to GED attainment. Methodist Family Health also has a post-secondary education Scholarship Fund for former or current residential clients.
- All programs use the Teaching-Family Model, a highly structured treatment approach proven to be effective with troubled children. This model uses positive, non-punitive interactions to encourage behavior change and achieve positive outcomes. MFH is the only behavioral healthcare system in the state that uses the Teaching-Family Model.
- All programs are accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations.
- Methodist Family Health has professional affiliations with the Arkansas Department of Human Services, Baptist Health School of Nursing, University of Central Arkansas School of Nursing, University of Arkansas Criminal Justice Institute, University of Arkansas for Medical Science, University of Arkansas at Little Rock, Arkansas Sheriff's Youth Ranch and Arkansas Children's Hospital.
- Pastoral care is an important aspect of the care we offer. Methodist Family Health offers Bible studies, spirituality services, devotionals and many special events. Our Children's Bible Fund makes a Bible available to every client who wishes to receive one. Churches in communities where we have group homes and other programs continue to be welcoming and nurturing friends to our young clients and their families. We are blessed by the pastoral leadership of Rev. Scott Moore, chaplain, and Bishop Kenneth W. Hicks, director of ministries.
- Methodist Family Health receives no apportioned funds from the Arkansas Conference.

The support of United Methodist churches is crucial to the success of Methodist Family Health. We sincerely appreciate the tremendous support congregations around the state have shown, through gifts (both in-kind and monetary), volunteerism, and caring for and nurturing children in our care. We appreciate the Arkansas Conference for allowing Methodist Family Health to be a "supported organization" of the conference and allowing us to tell the story of Methodist Family Health and collect a designated offering in churches each December. For those churches and church groups interested in learning more about how they can partner with us and support our efforts to make a difference in the lives of children and families in Arkansas, consider these opportunities:

- Encourage your church's participation in the annual Christmas Campaign in December and make an annual contribution.
- Give to the Rev. Regnier Memorial Camp Fund that allows our children to enjoy outdoor ministries and the beauty of Camp Tanako.
- Support the Children's Bible Fund that makes a Bible available to every child in our care.
- Join the Get Up & Give campaign during Lent and collect necessity items for our children and youth. Jane Dennis has details [jdennis@methodistfamily.org or 501.661.0720 ext. 7157].
- Take part in the Walk for Children and Families over the Arkansas River's Big Dam Bridge on Aug. 3. This is a favorite of youth groups! Annie Davis is the contact [adavis@methodistfamily.org or (501) 661-0720 ext. 7301].
- Watch for details about the next Kaleidoscope Kids Auction, slated for May 2013.

- Be an ambassador for Methodist Family Health in your church and community. We can provide information and materials, but we need a familiar face to make sure parishioners know about Methodist Family Health, our programs, services and special events. Contact Maggie Beeler at mbeeler@methodistfamily.org or (501) 661-0720 ext. 7299.
- Invite a representative of the Methodist Family Health Foundation to speak to your congregation, class or church gathering. Maggie Beeler can help with that, also.
- To learn more about volunteer opportunities, immediate needs and ways to support Methodist Family Health, contact Jamie Griffith [jgriffith@methodistfamily.org or 501.661.0720 ext. 7304, or Methodist Family Health, P.O. Box 56050, Little Rock, AR 72215].

Methodist Family Health has a rich heritage rooted in the church and dating back 113 years ago when Methodists of Arkansas saw fit to establish the Methodist Orphanage. We are proud and honored to carry on that tradition by providing healing and hope for many Arkansas children and families.

METHODIST LE BONHEUR HEALTHCARE

Memphis, Tennessee

We greet you with deep gratitude for the exceptional year we have had at Methodist Le Bonheur Healthcare. Since we first opened our doors in 1918, Methodist has become so deeply interwoven with Memphis and the Mid-South Area that our success is your success. Every day we consider it a privilege to bring benefit to our community and to serve all our patients through our hospitals, clinics, surgery centers, physician offices and other locations.

We don't have to tell you that these are challenging times for our nation and our economy. Like all hospital systems across the country, Methodist Le Bonheur Healthcare is facing its share of trying issues, but even so, we have managed to accomplish some very exciting things over the past year.

We broke ground on our Olive Branch Hospital, fulfilling a dream many years in the making, and Le Bonheur Children's Hospital began serving children and families in its brand new, state-of-the-art hospital. We opened our Center of Excellence in Faith and Health at Methodist University Hospital. This center is a place to teach, learn, train, educate, explore and research the innovative practices that flow from the blended intelligences of faith and the health sciences. As a major part of the center, our Congregational Health Network continued to grow and now has over 430 affiliated congregations in Tennessee, Mississippi and Arkansas.

We completed our beautiful Hospice Residence on Quince Road, creating a place of beauty and comfort for those near the end of life's journey. We aligned with additional physician partners, bringing our total number of affiliated practices to 17. One of our major partnerships was with The West Clinic, leaders in cancer care, elevating cancer research and care in this region. Our ongoing affiliation with the University of Tennessee Health Science Center continues to result in strong clinical and academic partnerships that ultimately benefit our patients.

Health care reform and changes in reimbursement still loom uncertain on the horizon, but we will weather whatever comes, because Methodist Le Bonheur Healthcare is a strong health care system positioned to serve the community for the long haul.

Be Treated By the Best

It's not just a tagline; it's our brand promise. Seeking rigorous certifications, joining forces on research, achieving clinical innovation, and delivering care that involves the patient and family as collaborators, these are among the ways we treat patients better. By no means a comprehensive list, what follows are a few of the achievements and highlights from the past year.

U.S. News and World Report

Methodist Hospitals of Memphis were ranked as the best hospital in the region by U.S. News and World Report based on performance in 12 medical specialties. For the first time, Le Bonheur Children's Hospital was named to U.S. News & World Report's Best Children's Hospitals list.

Joint Commission Certifications

The Joint Commission, the nation's leading standards-setting and accrediting body in healthcare, has granted the following certifications: Advanced Certification in Stroke Care – Memphis Hospitals; Primary Stroke Center – Memphis Hospitals; Acute Myocardial Infarction (Heart Attack) - North, Germantown; Knee and Hip Replacement – North, Germantown Pneumonia National Top Performer – Methodist Fayette

Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) - Hospital Quality Incentive Demonstration Project Awards

Methodist Hospitals of Memphis:

Attainment Awards – Acute Myocardial Infarction (Heart Attack / AMI), Heart Failure, Pneumonia, Surgical Care Improvement Project;

Top Performer Award – AMI

Top Improvement Awards – Heart Failure, Pneumonia, Hip / Knee Replacement

Methodist Fayette Hospital:

Attainment Award – Pneumonia

Methodist Extended Care Hospital Receives NICHE Designation

Methodist Extended Care Hospital (MECH), a long term acute care hospital focused on the treatment of patients with an average length of stay of 25 days, has received the honor of being designated a Nurses Improving Care for Healthsystem Elders (NICHE) hospital.

Le Bonheur Named Level I Trauma Center

Le Bonheur Children's Hospital was named a Level 1 Trauma Center by the American College of Surgeons. The hospital joined the ranks as one of only 33 such pediatric centers in the country, and is the only Level 1 Center within 400 miles of Memphis

Electronic Medical Record Implemented

With the successful implementation of Physician Order Entry at Methodist Germantown, all Methodist Memphis Hospitals offer patients the safety of a fully electronic medical record. Built as a system of checks and balances throughout the patient's stay, electronic medical records alert staff to potential medication and safety errors.

Be Innovative

The constant state of change in healthcare led us to add to our organization's guiding values and behaviors. Service, Quality, Integrity and Teamwork remain paramount, but the addition of innovation results from the need to effect change and do things in a new way. This newest value means we are a learning organization and embrace new ways to get better results – all to better serve our patients and families and improve the health care experience. Here are just a few of the ways we saw innovation in practice this year.

Sapien® Artificial Heart Valve

Methodist became the first in the market to implant a bovine valve flap to treat aortic valve stenosis, a condition caused by a clogged valve in the aorta which impairs the heart's ability to pump blood. To better treat patients with the condition, Methodist teamed up with The Sutherland Clinic, The CardioVascular Center and The University of Tennessee Medical Group to open two clinics that evaluate patients who may be candidates for minimally invasive percutaneous valve repair.

Advanced Robotic Technology for Cardiology and Neurology

Methodist University Hospital is just one of a handful of hospitals in the country to house Artis Zeego and the Artis biplane technology for advanced cardiology and neurology procedures. The device provides physicians with images needed to guide them through surgery without moving the patient during sensitive procedures, and enables physicians to make quick and accurate decisions during time-critical procedures such as stroke and aneurysm.

Le Bonheur Separates Rare Conjoined Twins

On August 29, Le Bonheur Children's successfully performed its most complex surgery to date by separating rare conjoined twins, Joshua and Jacob Spates. Born with multiple congenital anomalies, it took a 34-member pediatric surgical team 13 hours to successfully separate the boys.

PACE Grant Awarded to Study Care for Elderly

Methodist received a $1 million grant from the Program for All-Inclusive Care of the Elderly (PACE). PACE programs provide social and medical services primarily in an adult day health center, supplemented by in-home and referral services in accordance with the participant's needs.

Paired Donor Kidney Transplantation

The Methodist University Hospital Transplant Institute, in partnership with the University of Tennessee Health Science Center, teamed up with the National Kidney Registry to offer paired donor transplantation. The program allows transplant patients without a compatible living kidney donor to be paired with another patient who also does not have a compatible living donor. The patients swap donors so they each have a compatible kidney donor and each receive the life-saving organ they need.

TheraSphere® Treatment for Inoperable Liver Cancer

Methodist University Hospital is the only hospital in Tennessee to offer inoperable liver cancer patients a new innovative treatment to help them fight their disease. TheraSphere® is delivered via a minimally invasive procedure, and uses radioactive microspheres to provide radiation straight to the tumor inside the liver.

Taking Triple Aim to Improve Healthcare

Partnering with other major players in the Memphis healthcare community, Methodist is taking part in the Institute for Healthcare Improvement's program, Triple Aim. The program's goal is to improve the healthcare experience, quality of care and decrease costs while focusing on three issues that are especially problematic in Memphis: infant mortality, end-of-life care and chronic diseases such as diabetes and congestive heart failure.

Be Patient- and Family-Centered

Healthcare is changing in many ways, but delivering patient- and family-centered care is transforming the culture of the industry. Respected as active members of the healthcare team, patients and families are not only involved in decisions about their care, but medical team members gain the benefit of their help and insight to plan and deliver care, resulting in better outcomes.

Assisting us in this journey are the Methodist Family Partner Councils, comprised of nearly 100 former patients and their family members. Each Methodist facility has its own council that works directly with the Chief Executive Officer and other key leaders to enact change. Family Partners also help at the Methodist system-level on initiatives that affect overall processes, and with Methodist Affiliated services, including hospice and home care.

Family Partner projects range from the complex – changing the way advance directives are stored in electronic systems, to more simple suggestions – revising patient education to ensure it is understandable, but all projects are important. Their achievements are many, and the list below represents but a small sample of their dedication and commitment from this past year.

Be Inspired

Methodist Le Bonheur Healthcare was founded on a bed rock of faith by The United Methodist Church. That's why we were so proud to open our Center of Excellence in Faith and Health at Methodist University Hospital this year. The most visible presence is the new Family Care Center, a space where we can improve the efforts and collaboration between doctors, clergy, practitioners and patients. However, the Center of Excellence is much more than that.

The Center's mission is to be a safe and lively space to teach, learn, train, educate, explore and research the innovative practices that flow from the blended intelligences of faith and the health sciences. Patients, families, healthcare professionals, clergy, academics from many disciplines are welcomed in the space. The Center also operates as the training ground for the Congregational Health Network (CHN), a web of trust between Methodist and over 430 congregations in Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi.

So unique is the CHN model of care, that Methodist was called to Washington, D.C., as one among a handful of healthcare systems in the country, to present best practices. The White House and the Department of Health and Human Services asked us to share how we have been able to engage our local urban community in unprecedented ways, lowering mortality rates and helping to close the disparity gap and reduce readmissions.

Another great source of inspiration for each of us at Methodist is the caring and dedication rendered each day by our 10,000 Associates and physician partners as they provide the best healthcare possible to the patients who've entrusted us with their care.

Be Involved

As a not-for-profit, faith-based health system, Methodist Le Bonheur Healthcare exists solely to benefit the community. In 2010, we provided $130 million in net community benefit, programs or activities that provide treatment and/or promote health and healing as a response to identified community needs.

In addition to the important health care we provide inside our walls to all those who seek health and healing with us, we are also very involved in the communities we serve through activities, including health fairs, farmer's markets, and sponsorship of many worthy causes.

It is part of our culture, our DNA, to give back and for that reason, we proudly support education by giving $36 million to fund the training of future physicians at the University of Tennessee Health Science Center.

We offer access to everyone across the community in our many facilities through Shelby County and the surrounding counties. Methodist writes off nearly $26 million in bad debt costs to ensure that everyone who walks through our doors receives the care they need.

Methodist also provided $6 million to the Church Health Center and Christ Community Health Services to help them fulfill their missions of taking care of the working poor and underserved in Memphis and Shelby County.

Diversity

Our commitment to diversity and inclusion is grounded in our faith-based mission, vision and values and the Power of One culture focused on delivering outstanding patient and family-centered care.

As a strategic priority for the organization, Methodist continues to work toward greater diversity and inclusion in four key areas: Community Outreach, Workforce, Patients and Families and Suppliers.

We specifically foster diversity and inclusion through active partnership with community and faith based entities, such as the Congregational Health Network, Interpretive Services and Family Partner Councils.

Methodist Le Bonheur Healthcare is committed to creating and maintaining an environment that embraces values and respects the individual differences and unique contributions among our patients and families, Associates, physicians, business partners and the communities we serve.

We are also committed to supplier diversity, meaning direct purchasing from local minority and women owned businesses. From 1999 to 2010, MLH spending with minority and women owned vendors has increased from 4 percent to over 12 percent of annual spending. Total minority and women vendor spending in 2010 was $36.4 million with significant continued participation by minority and women owned firms in the numerous construction and renovation projects taking place across the Methodist Le Bonheur Healthcare system.

Methodist has been recognized over the last few years for setting the standard for successful partnering by the Mid-South Minority Business Council (MMBC), the Black Business Association (BBA), the Small Business Administration, the Memphis Business Development Corporation and Premier, our national group purchasing organization.

Be Good Stewards

As a faith-based healthcare institution, now, more than ever, Methodist Le Bonheur Healthcare is committed to being good stewards of all its resources. That's why we are taking a hard look at expense reduction and quality improvement. The patients who put their trust in us every day deserve no less than our best. We are proud that our executive leadership team works diligently with the Finance Committee of our Board of Directors to lead Methodist down paths that will ensure our success for many years to come.

Be Prepared for the Future

Preparing for the future needs of the community is vital for the success of our organization and the health of the Mid-South. Working together with community and government partners, we saw many of the ideas and planning of previous years come to life in 2011.

Olive Branch Hospital Groundbreaking

In October, Methodist broke ground on a $137 million, 100-bed hospital in Olive Branch, Mississippi. The new facility, located at the southeast corner of U.S. Highway 78 and Bethel Road, will be a full service hospital serving approximately 47,000 Mississippi residents. The hospital is also expected to bring 500 jobs to the area.

Comprehensive Sickle Cell Center

The Comprehensive Sickle Cell Center is a collaborative effort by Methodist Le Bonheur Healthcare, the University of Tennessee Health Science Center and other healthcare organizations throughout the community. The Center's outpatient clinic and dedicated inpatient unit will be housed inside Methodist University Hospital.

Hospice Residence

Fulfilling a vast community need, the 30-bed Methodist Hospice Residence opened in the Spring of 2012 to provide dignity, grace and care in the midst of a terminal illness. Patients of all ages and their families are cared for in a peaceful homelike environment, regardless of their ability to pay.

Corporate Sustainability

Methodist is constantly looking at ways to plan for healthier environments through the reduction of waste, promotion of recycling and following green building practices. The new Le Bonheur Children's Hospital, FedEx Family House and Methodist Residential Hospice have all been built to LEED (Leadership in Energy & Environmental Design) standards. Through a variety of efforts, we are working to reduce annual utility use and costs. Professional energy audits and tools from the EPA's ENERGY STAR program are used to identify how to save resources, operate more efficiently and provide better air quality for our patients, guests and Associates.

Recycling programs are also in place for cardboard, shredded paper, ink/toner cartridges, rechargeable batteries, cooking oil, light bulbs, fluorescent tubes, and computers and other electronic equipment. Annual drives are also held to recycle cell phones and eyeglasses.

Watch for future activities as we continue to transform our faith-based healthcare system into one that will serve the Mid-South community's needs for many years to come. We value our continuing partnership with the Arkansas, Memphis and Mississippi Annual Conferences. On behalf of both of us, our board of directors, our entire leadership team and our 10,000 Associates, we are honored to be your healthcare ministry partner..

METHODIST THEOLOGICAL SCHOOL IN OHIO

Thank you for this opportunity to bring you an update from Methodist Theological School in Ohio. MTSO continues to evolve, developing new educational models, strengthening ties with the church and providing new tools to help future Christian leaders make the most of their unique gifts.

Theological Commons unveiled

The innovative Theological Commons at MTSO is creating new and mutually beneficial connections between those in the practice of ministry and our students and faculty. Loosely based on a "knowledge commons" model developing within some universities, the Theological Commons is a forum for the development of new educational practices and technologies. In addition to encompassing our information technology services, the Commons is the incubator for several new endeavors, including the creating of Communities of Inquiry and Practice – small groups of seminary students, professionals in active ministry, leading experts and faculty members, formed around an area of common interest. These groups meet regularly, in person and online, to share in dialogue, collaborative learning, knowledge construction and leadership development.

New specializations offered

MTSO has introduced specializations that offer Master of Divinity and Master of Arts in Practical Theology students opportunities to focus on areas of particular relevance to their ministry and those they aspire to serve. M.Div. students can now choose from among six specializations: Spirituality; Youth and Young Adult Ministry; Ecology and Social Change; Black Church and African Diaspora Studies; Interreligious Contexts; and Feminist and Womanist Studies. The MAPT program offers specializations in Parish and Community Ministry; Spiritual Formation and Small Group Ministry; Ecology and Justice; and Youth and Young Adult Ministry.

Science and religion library awarded

The International Society for Science & Religion selected MTSO as an ISSR Library awardee and provided MTSO's Dickhaut Library with 224 volumes, exploring the intersection of science and theology in subject areas from ecology to cosmology to bioethics. The ISSR, headquartered at the University of Cambridge's St. Edmund's College in the UK, has selected only 150 institutions worldwide to receive a full set of the library.

We're honored to serve the church and the world through the education of our next generation of leaders. We thank you for your continuing support and prayers, and we invite you to stay connected with our work throughout the year by visiting www.mtso.edu.

MOUNT EAGLE CHRISTIAN CENTER

"Providing Christian hospitality and opportunities for holy listening"

Greetings from Mount Eagle, a retreat center of the Arkansas Annual Conference located near Shirley, AR. It is here that approximately 3000 people come each year to relax, renew and be refreshed for ministry as disciples of Jesus Christ. Our mission is to provide Christian hospitality and opportunities for holy listening, with year-round programs focused on adults and families.

In 2011 we provided sacred space and staff for local church retreats with Sunday School classes, youth groups, men's and women's groups, confirmation classes, quilting and other mission groups. People worshipped, walked the Meditation Trail and labyrinth, hiked to Bear Cave and the "famous" Boat Chapel, shared meals and fellowship together, used the low ropes course, and participated in a myriad of service projects at Mount Eagle.

Three very special groups need to be recognized for their service to Mount Eagle during the past year. The Arkansas NOMADS, a group of retired United Methodists with RV's, provided invaluable service and skilled labor. A team of about 20 people from Eureka Springs UMC spent an April week in mission. They milled lumber using our saw mill, removed timber damaged from the 2009 ice storm, and built an addition to our barn. And then in November, an amazing thing happened. With a bit of preplanning coordinated by Dan Dunn and Lex Wetzel from North West Arkansas and Patricia Harlan of Jonesboro, approximately 35 volunteers from all around the state, and representing 12 local churches, came together for a weekend. In less than 48 hours, they erected a large pavilion at the family campground. The campground reopened March 31, almost two years after being hard hit by a tornado.

Partnerships are a very important part of the ministry of Mount Eagle. In September the Arkansas Conference Hunger Task Force and Mount Eagle sponsored a faith-based community garden workshop. As a result, representatives of 18 local churches committed to help eradicate hunger in Arkansas through gardening and healthy lifestyle education. Perkins School of Theology, SMU, provided three classes in spiritual direction as part of a two-year program of certification. The United Methodist Foundation of Arkansas supported the classes with funding, and the current cohort will graduate in July, 2012. Another group will begin the process in March, 2013. Participants at a recent missions retreat with Care Caps Connection, completed more than 70 special caps. These will be given with love to chemo patients all over the United States. The program was so successful that it will be offered again in September 2012.

By the end of 2012 annual conference, Mount Eagle's new outdoor worship center will be near completion. Rosewood Pavilion will seat 150 people, have a catering kitchen, and provide additional, flexible meeting space. The best news is that the pavilion was completely funded before ground was broken the first of April!

Throughout the year, many wonderful things happen at Mount Eagle. Come experience the hospitality, share in the fellowship, and find your sacred, holy space.

MOUNT SEQUOYAH CONFERENCE AND RETREAT CENTER
150 NW Skyline Drive, Fayetteville, Arkansas 72701
479.443.4531 OFFICE
800.760.8126 TOLL FREE
www.mountsequoyah.org

2011 was a year of recovery for Mount Sequoyah Retreat and Conference Center. The future is bright due to great support from the Conferences it serves. In addition to the Arkansans visiting as members of the 319 Arkansas groups using the facilities, 1689 Arkansans made individual visits to Mount Sequoyah in 2011. Bob Crossman's New Church Leadership Institute and the Small Church Leadership programs led by Bob continue to be great successes. Over the past 4 years Mount Sequoyah has enjoyed the strong support of Bishop Crutchfield and will miss his friendship and leadership as he moves into retirement. Mount Sequoyah continues to serve the United Methodist Church as a place for spiritual reflection, renewal and growth. The support, prayers, and gifts of time and money by the Arkansas Conference are appreciated.

In November 2011 Dr. John and Mrs. Sheri Altland, the Executive Directors, submitted their resignations to pursue other opportunities. The Board is grateful for their contributions to Mount Sequoyah over the past seven years. Lamar Pettus, a Trustee of Mount Sequoyah and Chair of Board of Trustees of the Arkansas Conference, is serving as Interim Executive Director. Lamar and his wife, Donna, are retired attorneys. Lamar is keenly aware of the needs and the business of Mount Sequoyah. Lamar has a 30 year history of active participation and service at the local, District, and Conference levels.

With the generous financial assistance of the Arkansas Methodist Foundation, the Board employed The Alban Institute, a consulting firm, to evaluate its operations. A nationwide search for an Executive Director produced fifty applicants who will now be evaluated by the Search Committee. The Board has set a salary which allows it to be very competitive and believes it will find a committed and practicing Christian with experience in conference, retreat, and hotel/motel marketing and private sector fund raising experience and skills to lead Mount Sequoyah.

Significant changes are being made. All areas of operations are being analyzed. Programs having a history of producing financial losses are either being eliminated or redesigned and are projected to generate a positive cash flow in 2012. A new caterer for food service is under contract and Food Service will return a positive cash flow to offset the costs of maintenance, insurance and utilities for the cafeteria. Facility use fees are under constant review and increases have already been initiated in some areas. Even with the increased fees, Mount Sequoyah faces scheduling problems and will begin remodeling cottages which have not been in service for five or more years. The main level of Young Lodge has been remodeled to serve one client for an additional 36 weeks this year as a training facility. Even with the additional facilities, Mount Sequoyah will not be able to accommodate all who desire to use its facilities in 2012 due to the growth in programming and the increased attendance at events. Local architects and general contractors have volunteered to provide assistance in determining significant maintenance required and the costs to be incurred in the renovation and restoration of old buildings which continue to serve but are in desperate need of renovation.

Current registrations for 2012 indicate Mount Sequoyah will have an exciting year, financially its best in years. The way we operate and our programming focus is changing. While continuing to seek conferences and retreats primarily targeted at religious organizations and secular groups, we are building programs specifically designed to attract young families with children of all ages. Church leaders envisioned Mount Sequoyah as a retreat filled with the laughter of our youth and we want to make the Mountain a place where that can happen once again--an affordable vacation site where young families can bring their children, experience the nature of God's creation and grow together in Christ.

Mount Sequoyah will not shy away from its heritage or purpose. Mount Sequoyah emphasizes Christian hospitality and it is the goal of Mount Sequoyah and its staff that all who visit this mountain will experience the love of Jesus Christ and the spiritual renewal and growth which accompany that encounter. By our actions, our words, our deeds and our prayers Mount Sequoyah's desire is that visitors, especially any who have never heard the Good News of Jesus Christ, leave this Mountain wondering what is different about the Mountain and the staff who serve it. We at Mount Sequoyah refer to this as Christian love and hospitality. Come share Christ with us.

Our prayer is for wisdom for our new leadership and the Board in its stewardship role and that God will use Mount Sequoyah to ignite a revival within this area, this conference, this jurisdiction, and His world.

Your suggestions are appreciated and your prayers are requested. Thanks for your support and come see us soon.

Nancy Mulhearn, Executive Director

Ozark Mission Project (OMP) is a mission of the Arkansas United Methodist Conference, organized for ministry to "persons in need" in response to Jesus Christ's call to servant hood. OMP's vision is to be a Christ-led mission opportunity offering a diverse cultural experience that equips youth to make a global difference. We bring church youth groups to camp sites around Arkansas where they, in turn, serve people in the surrounding communities. In 1986, OMP began with one camp and thirty-five participants. Since then, OMP hosts 12 camps each summer, serving all four corners of Arkansas, and an annual college-aged mission trip outside the state.

In the spirit of Christ, these youth and adults serve individuals and families, called neighbors, who are in need of minor construction and yard work. In addition to the physical service projects, we strive to meet social and emotional needs by spending part of our time visiting, sharing lunch and a devotional with our neighbor, if the neighbor so chooses.

Last year OMP celebrated its 25th Anniversary. Since OMP's inception, 15,000 campers have served over 220 Arkansas communities at 270 camps! In the five years OMP has been offering a college age mission trip, over 170 students have made trips to Rio Bravo, Mexico and post-Katrina New Orleans, Louisiana. Approximately 300 people joined OMP at FUMC Maumelle and Lakewood UMC over a weekend in October as we celebrated this milestone. Through OMP's Scholarship Dinner, funds were raised to send four campers to an OMP camp in 2012. Listening to the stories of campers, staff and volunteers from over the years brought new life to the intimate moments in each of our lives where God has been present with us and shed light on His mission for our lives. It was humbling to reflect on how many lives God has chosen to touch through OMP.

As Barry Morton shared in his message at the Celebration, we have to be willing to get uncomfortable in order to grow and be a part of the community and people God tells us to serve. That's never easy, but luckily, God is with us with each step taken in faith. As we celebrated the past and the present and all of God's work and victories, we were reminded that the best is yet to come.

So what's new with OMP in 2012?

- OMP's sixth annual college trip reached out to a new location: Joplin, MO. After the tornado that left the area devastated, there was plenty for the 41 Wesley Foundation students and leaders to do. The students who participated came from Henderson State University, Ouachita Baptist University, Southern Arkansas University, Arkansas Tech University and University of Central Arkansas.
- After successfully hiring University of Arkansas student Emily Wilson as an intern for the Anniversary Celebration, OMP decided to keep the position permanent. During the spring semester and summer, Mary Dunlap, a sophomore at the University of Central Arkansas, will be assisting OMP as we prepare for our 2012 camp season.
- OMP's 2012 camp season is set with camps at Shoal Creek, Lakewood UMC, Bear Creek, FUMC West Memphis, Grand Ave UMC, Camp Preston Hunt, FUMC Magnolia, Cabot UMC, Cornerstone UMC, and FUMC El Dorado. However, new for 2012 are camps at FUMC Siloam Springs and FUMC Blytheville. We are also excited to announce that OMP is expanding to 13 camps with a camp at Winfield UMC. Our 13th camp is in addition to our regular camp schedule and will be staffed by veteran volunteers and former college staff.
- Finally, OMP pushed hard to fundraise for a 4th tool trailer in 2011 through the "Powered by the Son" campaign. By having a fourth trailer, OMP will be able to offer more camps on dates that are more convenient for our participating youth groups. Thanks to a grassroots fundraising effort, money was raised for our new trailer in honor of Nancy Mulhearn and in memory of Allan Bruner by their friends at FUMC Conway. Many friends of OMP made tool donations, but we are still in need of tools in order to fully stock our new trailer.

As a body of Christ, we know our work is never done. We hope that you'll consider "getting uncomfortable" with OMP as we continue on our mission of transforming lives through worship, fellowship, and hands-on mission.

Respectfully submitted,
Mandy Stanton, Chair, OMP Board of Directors

PERKINS SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY, SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY DEAN'S REPORT

Perkins marked centennial celebrations of the University's 2011 founding and 1915 opening with the publication in 2011 of Perkins School of Theology: A Centennial History by Joseph L. Allen, professor emeritus of Ethics.

In addition to celebrating a distinguished past, Perkins is moving toward a bright future. Effective student recruitment coupled with the lowest attrition rate in more than a decade led to double-digit annual growth in enrollment. United Methodists comprise 77% of our M.Div. cohort. Ten annual conferences in the South Central Jurisdiction provided funds which were matched by the Perkins Prothro Foundation to create endowments for students from their annual conferences. Resulting Perkins Annual Conference Endowment (PACE) grants from earnings on those endowments continue to provide financial aid annually. Twenty-seven United Methodist Annual Conferences are represented in our student body, plus five UMC-related conferences: Indonesia, Kenya, Korea, Malaysia and Singapore.

Dr. Brad Braxton was appointed Lois Craddock Perkins Professor of Homiletics and is the first African American to hold an endowed chair at SMU, effective June 2012. Dr. Heidi Anne Miller, assistant professor of Christian Worship, and Dr. Linn Marie Tonstad, assistant professor of Christian Theology, joined Perkins in 2011. Dr. Pablo Andiñach, professor of Old Testament at ISEDET in Buenos Aires and a distinguished Methodist leader in Argentina, is a visiting professor.

Alyce M. McKenzie was promoted to the George W. and Nell Ayers LeVan Endowed Chair of Preaching and Worship, named a recipient of SMU's 2011 Altshuler Distinguished Teaching Professor Award, and elected 2012 President of the Academy of Homiletics.

Bruce D. Marshall was appointed to the Edward and Emma Lehman Chair in Christian Doctrine. Marshall also became director of the Graduate Program in Religious Studies, combining the resources of Perkins and the department of religious studies in SMU's Dedman College for students who pursue the Ph.D.

Dr. Hugo Magallanes was appointed director of Center for the Study of Latino/a Christianity and Religion at Perkins.

Perkins recognized retirements of David Maldonado, Jr., Marjorie Procter-Smith, and Charles M. Wood. Wood, who serves on the UMC Committee on Faith and Order, was elected 2012-2013 president of the American Theological Society.

Perkins established the Center for Religious Leadership to provide training in the theology of leadership and practical skills for leadership.

Perkins sponsored "Listening For Our Common Mission: The Church and Theological Education at Perkins," a significant event attended by bishops, Board of Ministry chairpersons, and other conference leaders relating to leadership development and clergy recruitment from across the South Central Jurisdiction.

Grace and Peace,

William B. Lawrence, Dean and Professor of American Church History

PHILANDER SMITH COLLEGE EST 1877

THINK JUSTICE

PHILANDER SMITH COLLEGE

When the Arkansas Conference gathers this summer, I will no longer be the president of Philander Smith College. After 7 and a half years, I will be in the process of moving to Dillard University in New Orleans, Louisiana. Dillard is also a United Methodist institution, so I am grateful to continue in the connection.

So this report will highlight some of our work over the past year, but it will also try to contextualize the tremendous work that all of us have done. To succinctly state it, we have created the model for cooperation between a college, a congregation, and a conference. The relationship between Philander Smith College, Wesley Chapel United Methodist Church, and the Arkansas Conference, all situated physically in the same space, is a model for the entire denomination. I take great pride in knowing that I was part of this relationship and worked to strengthen it over the years.

The first significant move was for Philander Smith College president Dr. Trudie Kibbe Reed and Bishop Janice Riggle Huie to work to receive the grant for the Kendall building. That grant made it possible to bring the conference office on campus in 2004. That was the first significant move to build our unique model.

The second key was to merge our campus chaplain position with the senior pastor of Wesley Chapel United Methodist Church. The college was actually started in the church, and with the church physically on the campus, it made great sense for us to advocate this move. So in June of 2006, we were able to finalize this arrangement.

The bonus for the college was that we got a dynamic chaplain in Rev. Ronnie Miller-Yow. The conference has noted his work at Wesley Chapel, and it may be our most unique congregation in the state due to the high number of college students that are involved and active in the church (including leadership roles). As a member of Wesley Chapel, I have watched out average Sunday attendance quadruple. In addition, I have watched graduates of the college remain in Little Rock and become active members of Wesley Chapel.

So within this alliance created by the college, the congregation, and the conference, Philander Smith College is a highly visible and positive example of the best of the United Methodist Church. And I mean the entire denomination, not just the historically Black institutions. Having a college with a social justice mission in a denomination committed to creating the next generation of leaders is the perfect way for all of these entities to meet their mission.

And so we have continued to work toward our mission we adopted in 2007, to graduate academically accomplished students, grounded as advocates for social justice, determined to change the world for the better. Building on our grant from the Kresge Foundation in 2010, this past year we hired our first director of the initiative, Dr. Joseph Jones, who is a graduate of two United Methodist institutions (including Philander Smith) as well as served as a Lina McCord ambassador for the Black College Fund.

We have deepened our look at justice issues this year. We partnered with Witness to Innocence for our annual social justice chapel. This year we brought in Shujaa Graham who was wrongly placed on death row. His powerful message resonated with our community. For our freshmen, they read the book "The New Jim Crow: Mass Incarceration in the Age of Colorblindness" by Michelle Alexander, who visited us in November as part of the Bless the Mic lecture series. More recently, students in association with the Social Justice Initiative created a short documentary on Arkansas death row inmate Tim Howard.

The college continues to improve the physical campus. Several years ago we retrofitted the entire campus to make it more energy efficient. In addition, we have opened two residence halls that are certified silver LEED buildings. In March of 2012 we completed demolition of our oldest residence hall and student union, both completed in the late 1950s. This makes way for our next major project, a 67,000 square foot campus center, which will be our largest facility on campus. It will house our center for social justice, student affairs offices, religious life, and cafeteria among others. Our goal is to open this facility in the fall of 2013.

This new space is needed as the college has steadily grown after right sizing in 2005 and 2006. We have increased our on campus housing capacity by over 50% over the past six years as we have recruited students from across the nation and internationally with stronger academic credentials. While we still have one of the financially neediest student bodies in the state, with an average family income around $29,000, our efforts have begun to pay off with students receiving graduate school acceptances at some of the nation's top institutions.

Even in athletics the institution has made great strides. We joined NAIA for athletics 2 years ago, and have begun to compete in the Gulf Coast Athletic Conference. This past season, senior Ken Brown was named conference player of the year, leading the NAIA nationally in scoring at about 32 points a game, and was second in the entire nation (including NCAA) in scoring.

So as I move on to my next assignment, I was privileged to have seen so many monumental events at Philander Smith College. We turned around our fiscal operations which have led to an audit with no findings. We implemented the Bless the Mic lecture series which has received national attention. We received a grant from the UNCF to strengthen our alumni support, and this has translated to record alumni giving in 4 of the past 6 years, with 2011 a new record high, a level almost five times the level of giving in 2004.

We developed a Black Male Initiative program that is mentioned frequently as one of the leading programs in the nation, even garnering mention in speeches by Secretary Arne Duncan. And along with our new mission statement, we developed a great logo and powerful tag line- Think Justice.

I want to thank you, the Arkansas Conference, for your support of the college. I only ask that you pledge to do even more when the next president arrives. Philander Smith College has made a mark nationally as a United Methodist institution, as well as a historically Black institution. My participation at the April General Conference in Tampa as one of two UMC presidents to speak solidifies our position nationally.

But now is not the time to coast. The college must continue to grow, and we need you to help us do this. I will definitely keep my eye on Philander Smith College, and I know you will continue to nurture this unique relationship between the college, the congregation, and the conference.

Walter M. Kimbrough, Ph.D.
President, 2004 – 2012

(PAUMCS)

The Professional Association of United Methodist Church Secretaries also known ad (PAUMCS) is a national organization structured through General Council on Finance and Administration (GCFA). GCFA has the authority and responsibility "to provide guidance and consultation for continuing education of church secretaries, including the establishment of training and certification programs, and to provide assistance to the Professional Association of United Methodist Secretaries." / The Book of Discipline, 807.19.

The district and conference office secretaries organized a chapter for Arkansas after attending PAUMCS Annual Conference. In October of 2006 four secretaries voted unanimously to become affiliated with PAUMCS and formed the Arkansas Chapter.

The mission in the Arkansas Chapter is to provide a supportive base for the unity and fellowship of members in order to provide individual growth, professional development, continuing education, spiritual enrichment and encourage The United Methodist connection.

The first annual chapter meeting was April 27, 2007. We continue to have training sessions each year and send our national members to be certified through a certification school held in Nashville, TN. Our goal is to send one person each year to be certified as a United Methodist Church secretary. The Arkansas chapter encourages attendance at our national annual conference held in April of every year.

If you would like information about PAUMCS, please contact Libby Gray, email lgray@arumc.org, or call the toll free number at the conference office 1-888-646-1716.

SAINT PAUL SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY
Kansas City Campus: 5123 East Truman Road, Kansas City, MO 64127
Oklahoma City University: 2501 North Blackwelder, Oklahoma City, OK 73106 www.spst.edu

Saint Paul School of Theology is a seminary of the United Methodist Church that educates leaders to make disciples for Jesus Christ, renew the Church, and transform the world. We are one institution with two campuses, a free-standing seminary campus in Kansas City and a university partnership seminary on the campus of Oklahoma City University.

During the 2011-2012 academic year, 184 students from 14 annual conferences and 7 countries were enrolled in degree programs at Saint Paul School of Theology in Kansas City. Thirty-six students were enrolled in the Master of Divinity program at Saint Paul at Oklahoma City University. The Course of Study School at Saint Paul served 297 students at the Kansas City, Missouri, Springfield, Missouri, and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma locations.

The Resurrection Scholars program was founded on a partnership between Saint Paul School of Theology in Kansas City and the United Methodist Church of the Resurrection in Leawood, Kansas. A class was taught by Saint Paul faculty and COR pastors with special presentations from church staff on topics such as church leadership, stewardship, evangelism, governance, pastoral care, and discipleship. In addition, a small group of students were chosen as scholars who completed a 10 hour minimum weekly internship at COR, working in multiple areas of congregational life. The students were also assigned a pastoral mentor, had classes with Pastor Adam Hamilton, and met as a group to process the experience each week.

Saint Paul at OCU held its third LEAD seminar on the Oklahoma City University campus. The seminar focused on a variety of leadership topics including time management, spiritual formation, continuing education, and self-care and balance. The LEAD seminars are a collaborative educational project of the Oklahoma Area of the United Methodist Church, Oklahoma City University, and Saint Paul.

A Doctor of Ministry cohort track focusing on Revitalizing Congregations began January 2012. The track relates directly to the United Methodist Council of Bishops initiatives (the "Four Foci") for the Church. The Wesleyan Strategies for the Missional Church DMin track will begin January 2013. Lead faculty include Dr. Henry H. Knight III, Dr. Robert Martin, and Dr. F. Douglas Powe, Jr. In addition to the lead faculty, students will learn from pastors from some of today's most dynamic Wesleyan congregations.

The seminary will honor the Class of 1962 as its first 50 year class during its 51st Commencement Convocation in May. Bishop Teresa Snorton, the first female bishop elected by the CME Church, will speak.

The Saint Paul YouTheology program, funded primarily by Lilly Endowment, Inc., is a program for high school youth to explore their faith and calling through worship, service, study, travel, and a mentoring relationship. Several youTheology graduates have become Saint Paul Master of Divinity students. In 2012, an MDiv student who was a part of the seminary's first group of youTheologians as a senior in high school will graduate from Saint Paul School of Theology.

The trustees, faculty, staff, and students of Saint Paul thank you for your interest, prayers and support.

SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY
PRESIDENT'S REPORT

As SMU celebrates the centennial of its founding in 1911 by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and its opening in 1915, the University continues to rise in national prominence. Highlights of the past year follow:

- SMU's total fall 2011 enrollment was 10,982, including 6,221 undergraduates and 4,761 graduate students. The ethnic minority enrollment made up 22.9 percent of the student body. The fall enrollment included a record number of 1,119 international students from 89 countries. Perkins School of Theology experienced an 11 percent enrollment increase, including students from 14 Annual Conferences.

- SMU's external awards for research and sponsored projects have increased significantly. During 2010-11, SMU received $21.6 million for research and sponsored projects, up from $16.5 million in 2008-09. In 2011 the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching raised SMU's classification to a research university with "high research activity."
- SMU Unbridled: The Second Century Campaign, launched in 2008, is the largest fund-raising effort in the University's history, with a goal of $750 million. At campaign midpoint in 2012, gifts totaling $574 million are providing funds for 231 scholarships; 22 endowed academic positions; 15 academic program endowments, including support for two schools and one academic department; and 16 new or renovated facilities.

The United Methodist Foundation of Arkansas

UNITED METHODIST FOUNDATION
June, 2012

The United Methodist Foundation of Arkansas continues to make significant contributions to the Arkansas Conference. Our mission is to create and administer permanent charitable endowment funds to strengthen and expand United Methodist ministry in Arkansas.

We support local churches who want to initiate or reinvigorate Endowment Committees to fund their needs in perpetuity. We educate individual United Methodists in Arkansas about their opportunities to support their beloved Church in their lifetime through life income gifts and after their deaths through planned giving. We make grants to change the lives of all United Methodists in Arkansas.

Some United Methodist Foundation of Arkansas endowments are designated by donors to specific local churches or other United Methodist ministries. Others are undesignated and enable the United Methodist Foundation of Arkansas Board to make grants to respond to ministry opportunities in the future we can't anticipate or imagine today.

Some recipients of UMFA grants include:

- Academy for Spiritual Formation – Upper Room training program
- United Methodist Museum of Arkansas – new home for Conference artifacts
- Gospel Without Borders – video with a Christian view on immigration issues
- Crossing Jordan Ministry – peer support for African American pastors
- Dollars for Scholars – scholarship partnership with UM Higher Education Fund
- Imagine Ministry – planning grant for consultant and planning process
- Pastor Spouse Retreat – annual retreat at Mount Eagle
- Seminary Scholarships – three-year grants for United Methodist Seminary students who return to pastor churches in the Conference
- Small Church Leadership Institute – continuing education for pastors and lay leaders
- Small Church Partnership – exploring the use of technology in small church settings
- Spiritual Direction Partnership – Perkins Theological Seminary training at Mount Eagle Retreat Center

We now manage more than $101 million in funds for United Methodist churches and individuals who have set up endowment funds to benefit their local churches or other Church ministries. In 2011, the Foundation made an important change in our investment program by beginning a relationship with a new investment consultant. All UMFA funds are invested through Wespath Investment Management, a recently formed subsidiary of the United Methodist Church's General Board of Pension and Health Benefits (GBOPHB) created to offer investment management services to United Methodist conference foundations nationwide.

The new relationship with Wespath offers the following benefits to the Foundation and its clients:

- Superior investment performance
- Uniquely developed investment vehicles designed especially for foundation investors
- The resources and efficiencies made possible because of the GBOPHB size, currently $16 billion
- Reduced investment-related expenses
- Participation in GBPPHB's socially-responsible investment practices that adhere to the requirement of the Book of Discipline
- An investment philosophy very consistent with UMFA's guiding principles
- Enhanced, web-based access to investment information
- Significantly enhanced investment diversification
- The opportunity to join with the GBOPHB and other foundations through the United Methodist Connection and become better stewards of the resources entrusted to us.

The strong financial staff at the United Methodist Foundation has done an exceptional job working with our local church and individual clients to answer questions and deliver information on their accounts. Account statements are now available online on the fifth working day after month-end as a tree-saving alternative to paper reports.

The innovative development staff has created and utilized new ways to help Arkansas United Methodists learn about the Foundation and its services. Provide & Protect seminars helped local church congregations throughout the state learn about will planning. A weekly e-newsletter with timely information on planned giving, a new website, Facebook posts, testimonial ads and news stories in the Arkansas United Methodist newspaper and the free printed Legacies newsletter keep United Methodists informed.

The United Methodist Foundation is changing and growing thanks to a strong staff, a solid board, and visionary conference leadership from decades ago.

G. DISTRICT REPORTS

The Book of Discipline ¶606.3
Annual Report of the District Superintendents

The 2012-2013 Cabinet

Central & North Central Districts

The Reverend Dede Roberts, District Superintendent

The Central and North Central Districts have had the unique opportunity this year to share a superintendent while working toward becoming a new district. Over the course of the year we have imagined a new leadership team, a budget aimed at keeping resources at the local church level, and a ministry plan which encourages our churches to work collaboratively in making disciples of Jesus Christ and transforming communities and mission fields.

On May 20, 2012 the churches of Conway, Faulkner, Lonoke, Prairie, Perry, Pulaski and Saline counties gathered at First United Methodist Church in North Little Rock to embody the new Central District. The Central District represents approximately one third of all United Methodists in the Arkansas Annual Conference. Our churches share over 26% of the conference budget, and on any given week we account for nearly one quarter of all United Methodists in worship. Located in the crossroads of the state, we are committed to leading the Annual Conference in addressing our mission fields with excellence and passion.

The Central District offices will be in Conway at #3 Red Oak Drive and in Little Rock on the Philander Smith Campus. Dede Roberts, the current District Superintendent will live in Conway. The transition team for Imagine Ministry suggested that the residence and offices should be in the Little Rock area, and the district leadership team will adjust the location for the office and the residence in due time.

The Central District is very diverse geographically, racially and socioeconomically. The leadership team is committed to strengthening the ethnic churches of the district in addition to beginning new ministries which address the changed demographics of many communities in the district. This includes the challenge of racial parity in southwest Little Rock among Caucasians, African-Americans and Hispanics. We currently support four new church missions. Three African American pastors are currently serving in cross racial contexts. We are exploring new ministries among Asian and Hispanic communities. We have four campus ministry settings in our district as well. All of our churches have been challenged to consider ministries with the poor and opening the doors of the church to neighbors who have less material wealth.

Challenges which face us include calling and equipping ethnic leadership for new ministries in cross racial and cross cultural settings. We desire to faithfully gather and distribute shared ministry funds for mission and ministries which are bold and risk taking for the sake of the Kingdom. We must strengthen our outreach to youth and young adults in those communities where the demographic profile is under forty. At the same time, we can reach out to baby boomers and the elderly too in those communities where the population is aging. We are challenged to see ourselves as "one church" with many mission stations, so that we can more fruitfully collaborate for ministry and influence the issues which face our communities. Poverty, violence, public education, unemployment, immigration, homelessness, hunger are only a few of the issues we believe need to have the light of the gospel shine in so that hope and transformation can occur.

We look forward to the work ahead believing that God has saved us, called us, gifted us and sent us to love others as Christ has loved us and to make disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world.

NORTH DISTRICT

The Reverend Charles Settle, Superintendent

FROM JULY 1, 2011 TO JUNE 4, 2012:

1. In spite of the downturn in the economy, the churches of the North District responded generously by leading the other Districts in supporting the Ingathering and were able to pay 100% of District and over 94% of Conference Ministries beyond the Local Church.
2. Most congregations, if not all, were generous in their local missions and outreach to others.
3. Two more churches are closing.
4. There are a number of congregations very active in the Imagine Ministry process, as well as, the Five Practices of Fruitful Congregations focus.
5. The District United Methodist Women continue to be strong and active.
6. Lay Speaking Courses are being offered regularly.

IN THE 2012-2013 CONFERENCE YEAR, THE NORTH DISTRICT WILL UNITE WITH THE NORTHEAST DISTRICT TO BECOME THE NEW NORTHEAST DISTRICT, AS WELL AS RECEIVE A NEW DS. THE DISTRICT WILL –

1. Respond positively to the directives of the Arkansas Annual Conference.
2. Continue to order the life and ministry of our connectional system.
3. Encourage each congregation to define and minister to their Mission Field.
4. Assist those who wish to be in active ministry by offering opportunities for training through the Center for Clergy and Lay Excellence.
5. Encourage clergy and congregations to grow in scriptural love and holiness.
6. Continue to proclaim the Gospel for the purpose of making disciples and transforming the world through the transformed lives of those disciples and congregations (Social Holiness).

Northeast District
The Reverend Dr. Kurt Boggan, Superintendent
Northeast District Report to Annual Conference:

The Northeast district continued to develop its ministry plan for the revitalization of the local church. The District Leadership Team worked to continue developing its network capability among the Children's Age Level.

In 2011, the Northeast district experienced a 41 loss in average worship attendance across the district as compared to the previous year 2010. The district has both increases in population centers around the cities of Jonesboro and Paragould. The district has losses in populations in regions of the delta. The critical decision is to plant new churches in areas with growth of population and to revitalize other congregations in the same demographics.

The District Leadership Team has worked over the past year with the North District Leadership Team in making the necessary decisions on merger of the two districts by July 1, 2012. A district office will be maintained at Jonesboro and Batesville, Arkansas.

A new congregation of the United Methodist Church was chartered in January 22, 2012 as the Christ Way United Methodist Church in Jonesboro. Rev. Herschel Richardson is the pastor of Christ Way UMC. The congregation was chartered with Bishop Crutchfield as a special guest in the worship event.

Another new church start, Victory United Methodist Church is growing in Forrest City, Arkansas. In April 2012, eleven Circuit Elders were trained in preparation for the annual conference. Those trained include: Steve Cook, Ann Ferris, Don Hall, Tony Hill, David Moore, Bonda Moyer, Beth Perdue, Charles Sigman, Michael Sutton, Heath Williams and Jeanne Williams. The Circuit Elders will join the Congregational Coaches in bringing resources closer to the local church mission field. The DS will develop a comprehensive District Ministry Plan for the district in the fall of 2012.

NORTHWEST DISTRICT
The Reverend Dr. Mackey Yokem Superintendent
District Plan of Ministry • Pastoral/Congregational Inventory
Overview

The Northwest District (new) finds itself in a moment of extreme opportunity. Anticipating significant growth in the next four years (2015) the District Leadership Team is beginning to define both opportunity and challenge as they attempt to lead the congregations of our district into "making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world". As a way of preparing for our future we have embarked on a two-fold emphasis within our corporate life: first to discover again the purpose and identity of our congregations and second, adopting innovative and creative ways to introduce the transforming truth of the Gospel into our neighborhoods and congregations.

The first issue has provided a provocative process that has been met with both resistance and excitement. Resistance has appeared because many individual United Methodists and congregations have never been challenged to define "who we are and why we gather as a congregation". This resistance is a conversation starter and hopefully will develop positive learning's over the coming years.

The second issue has become a discussion of accountability. As congregations become aware of the increasing populations of their surrounding neighborhoods compared to their decline or slow growth, many observations and questions have developed about transformational ministry. This second issue is so closely connected to the first that they cannot be considered separate from one another. This reality is now before the congregations of our district for prayer and discernment.

What are the distinct demographic realities of the district?

General Observations

The new Northwest District will grow to a population of 983,101 by 2015. This population will be younger than the state average with a higher percentage of single people and a higher level of education. The growth will be along the highway corridors of Interstate 540 and Highway 412. Places to watch will be: Bella Vista, Springdale, smaller communities to the west of Rogers, and south of Fort Smith.

Specific Areas for Growth

A quick review of the MissionInsite information shows distinctive trends and missional opportunities. Significant growth is predicted all across the Northwest District. Certain areas will experience increases of ethnic demographics. As we observe the general trends, the following strategies and plans will be developed to address our opportunities:

1) Congregations will be revitalized, embracing a passion to reach out
2) New "micro-communities" will be established in certain demographics
3) The second campus concept and Community Mission will be initiated

Hispanic or Latino

The Hispanic population of the Northwest District is growing and there will be five pockets with significant numbers. These areas are shown in dark green. There are established congregations in each of these areas with desire to begin ministries to the Hispanic community.

To assist in establishing Hispanic communities, the following strategies will be developed:

1) Congregations with large numbers of Hispanics, the District will be assisted with learning the language. By 2013, congregations in the following communities will be asked to have a pastor or church staff person able to speak Spanish: Green Forest, Berryville, Eureka Springs, Springdale 1st, Central in Rogers, Siloam Springs 1st.
2) A Hispanic campus from Springdale 1st will be established targeting the Hispanic population in Springdale north to Rogers.
3) Micro-communities will be established in Decatur, Huntsville, Siloam Springs, Rogers.
4) A congregation dedicated to the Hispanic population will be developed in Fort Smith.

Asian Non-Hispanic

The Pacific Islander – Asian population runs through the center part of the District. This represents a large number of Marshallese. Currently, we do not know what to do in ministry to this group however we are beginning to discover our connections. The translator for the Springdale School System is a member of FUMC, Springdale. We are able to determine where and when the largest gathering of the Marshallese occurs. There are two congregations that have made a commitment to study how they might participate in a ministry to this part of our community.

Expected Impact Factor

If we use the standard formula for the Expected Impact Factor, that number should be 34,408. The actual attendance figure for 2011 is 12,761. (This is a decrease from 2010)

What are the long-term goals of the district?

To encourage and assist congregations to become Acts 2 Congregations:

We anticipate bearing fruit for the Kingdom of God demonstrated in Acts 2:41-47:

- Acts 2:47 – Experience an increase in professions or reaffirmations of faith into the faith community.
- Acts 2:41 - Increase worship attendance.

- Acts 2: 44-45 - Mission engagement to address poverty and community development through ministries of mercy, justice and development.
- Ensure a majority of the worshiping congregation is participating in ministry initiatives outside of weekly worship.
- Financially support mission through locally identified community and world mission projects and fulfill 100% of shared ministry giving.
- Acts 2:43 - Demonstrate signs of God's power and wonder; Ministry results that are more than human ability and are clearly God's movement through the congregation.

Potential New Mission Opportunities

No new church starts are planned at this point. However, there is a plan to begin developing "small groups" and "house churches" throughout the district. Special attention will be given to the Hispanic community. Through FUMC, Springdale these efforts will begin in July, 2012. Also, special attention will be given to both Korean and Vietnamese congregations in Springdale and Fort Smith. Opportunities may also be available at Journey, Fort Smith.

To resource the district's congregations and pastors the District Superintendent will supervise Circuit Elders that have been assigned and trained. Those leading as Circuit Elders are:

Circuit Elders

Pastors nominated to serve as a Circuit Elder during the conference year (2012-2013)

Terry Gosnell	Matthew Johnson	David Freeman
Dave Mack	Deanna McCormick	Rex Dickey
Keith Dodson	Gail Brooks	Kim Cloninger

Jaimie Alexander	Craig Russell	Cheri Baker

South Central District
The Reverend Mike Morey, Superintendent

The South Central District recorded a solid year of ministry. We saw several of our larger congregations bounce back in average attendance and we lead the Conference in apportionment payout. We saw lives changed that were engaged in mission work, and in spiritual renewal.

In our population areas of Benton and Hot Springs areas, we saw several churches that showed average worship attendance increase of over 10%. Much of the district shows the effects of changing or declining population and declining economy.

From July 1, 2011 to June 10, 2012

1. Planning began toward the merger with the Southwest District. Leadership Teams from both District met to outline plans and timelines for the merger.
2. A Transition Team was established and the location of the future District Office in Arkadelphia was identified. They also produced a budget for the coming year.

3. The Trustees in both the South Central and Southwest District worked together and received authorization from the Called Combined District Conference to purchase a parsonage.
4. The District did purchase a District Parsonage and was able to do so debt free, due to both Districts had proceeds from the sale of past District Parsonages.
5. Lay Speaking Courses are offered annually.
6. Training was completed with Circuit Elders.
7. Board of Church and Locations approved a new building at Amity and a parsonage at Sardis.
8. The Superintendent visited every congregation for their primary worship service.

From July 1, 2012 to June 1, 2013

1. We will be beginning our work in the new Southwest District, with offices in Arkadelphia and Magnolia.
2. We will utilize technology to connect us for many of our District meetings as well as communication with pastors.
3. Focus will be on the mission field of the local church, with resources and accountability.
4. In a depressed area of the state, we will look for underserved populations.
5. Encourage clergy and laity to grown in their walk of faith, and deepen their understanding of Wesley's teachings of social and personal holiness.
6. We will call out a shift from consumer mentality to servant mentality.

Southwest District
The Reverend Dr. C.E. McAdoo, Superintendent

The Southwest District has had a very exciting year in making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world! We have not had a direct program thrust as we did in 2011 with Connected in Christ. Rather, it has been a continuation of ministry thrust, which has been more inclusive, diverse and with a local mind-set. One of our thrusts was Ministry to Veterans in the community. We have a pilot program: "Project South" centered in Union county which has a very predominate United Methodist leadership.

We are still reaching out to those person who have been incarcerated and have a felony record. We have alerted our churches of the Arkansas Department of Corrections application process, through which one may apply to have the felony removed from an individuals record. There has also been a focus in the district to celebrate the six Special Sundays offering by the use of the "Extra Dollar" Offering. This has been a very fruitful project for the Special Sundays. On the relational and spiritual side, the district was blessed to recruit a district choir. The choir sang at the Southwest District Conference in 2010 and 2011, as well as the District Christmas gatherings. Additionally, our Children and Youth Programs have been very strong, active and well-attended throughout the district.

We thank God for the members, friends and those who have been part of these great ministries. It has been a "God Thing" in so many places!

Southwest District Superintendent

REVEREND RUSSELL MURPHY BAILEY

Rev. Russell Murphy Bailey, 74, passed away on January 22, 2012, at his home in Lewisville. He was born May 28, 1937, in El Dorado, to Russell Victor Bailey and Johnnie Mabel Hood Bailey. He served in the Marine Corps for ten years, including being on President John F. Kennedy's honor guard. He met and married Peggy while in Washington D.C. Upon leaving the service, he worked as a coal miner in West Virginia for eight years. His uncle Rev. Sing the wondrous love of Jesus, Sing His mercy and His grace;
In the mansions bright and blessed, He'll prepare for us a place.
When we all get to heaven, What a day of rejoicing that will be!
When we all see Jesus, We'll sing and shout the victory!
While we walk the pilgrim pathway, Clouds will overspread the sky;
But when trav'ling days are over, Not a shadow, not a sigh.
Let us then be true and faithful, Trusting, serving every day;
Just one glimpse of Him in glory, Will the toils of life repay.
Onward to the prize before us! Soon His beauty we'll behold; who thee by faith before the world confessed,
Soon the pearly gates will open; We shall tread the streets of gold.

Yet all are one in Thee, for all are Thine.

Section J. HISTORICAL

During the past 200 years, the Methodist churches of Arkansas have been served by six different Annual Conferences: Arkansas Conference, Little Rock Conference, North Arkansas Conference, Southwest Conference, Ouachita Conference, and White River Conference. On the following pages you will find the Bishops who served these Annual Conferences since 1816.

1816 - 1835
From 1815 to 1835 the Arkansas Territory was served by pastors appointed by the Missouri Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

1836 - 1854
The "Arkansas Conference" of the Methodist Episcopal Church was organized in Batesville. The Conference also included the upper 2/3's of Louisiana and the Indian Territory. The Conference then had six districts.

1854 - 1870
Arkansas Methodists were divided into two conferences, the Ouachita or "Wachita" Conference in the south became the second conference authorized by the Methodist Episcopal Church. It later became the Little Rock Conference.

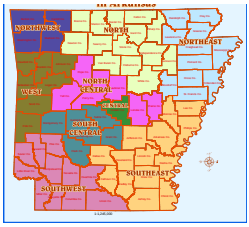

1870 - 1914
A third conference, named the White River, was organized in the northeast part of Arkansas. The northwest remained the Arkansas Conference.

1879 - 1972
In 1879 many of the African American congregations chose to join the conference of the Methodist Episcopal (North) Church within Arkansas. In 1929 the named changed to Southwest Conference. In 1972 the Southwest Conference merged with the North Arkansas and Little Rock Conferences.

1914 - 2003
The Arkansas and White River Conferences merged to form the North Arkansas Conference.

2003
The Little Rock and North Arkansas Conferences merged to form the Arkansas Conference, and reduced the number of districts from 12 to 9.

2012
The Arkansas Conference reduced the number of districts from 9 to 5.

Methodist Bishops of Arkansas' White River Conference

1870 - 1913

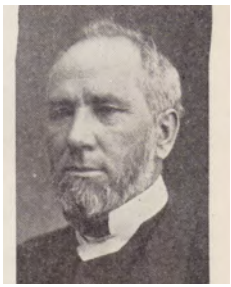

Methodist Episcopal Church South 1870 to 1913

In 1870 the White River Conference was formed, serving Northwest Arkansas.
Northeast Arkansas was served by the Arkansas Conference. Southern Arkansas was served by the Little Rock Conference.
In 1913 the White River Conference and the Arkansas Conference merged, and were called the North Arkansas Conference.

James Anderson in 1935 wrote: "...means of transportation had greatly improved, and it had become much easier for members of the Annual Conference to assemble from over a wide area. Meanwhile, also, members of the Arkansas Conference and of the White River Conference had come to feel that each Conference was too limited in men to supply properly the diversified needs that arose from year to year, though there were some of the older members of White River Conference, who, for reasons of sentiment, were opposed to any change. But a majority took the opposite view, and on petition of both of these Conferences the General Conference authorized the lifting of the line that divided them, thus restoring the status before 1870. The Conference, thus derived from the original stem as constituted in 1836, took the name of North Arkansas Conference, as being appropriate to its geographical position." Centennial History of Arkansas Methodism, James Anderson, 1935, page 221.

The Philander Smith Board of Trustees have chosen Dr. Johnny Moore as president, to succeed Dr. Walter Kimbrough, who's moving to lead Dillard University in New Orleans.

A native of Old Washington, Ark. and a 1980 Philander graduate, Moore is currently executive vice president-student affairs at Tyler Junior College in Tyler, Texas. He is Philander Smith's 13th president.

After earning a bachelor's degree in mathematics from Philander, Moore completed a master's degree at Arkansas State University, and his doctorate in mathematics education at Florida Institute of Technology. Moore served as Vice President of Student Affairs at Indian River State College in Fort Pierce, Fla., where he was a tenured professor before joining the administration.

Moore will replace Dr. Walter Kimbrough who has served as president of Philander Smith for the past seven years.

Bob Birch, Board of Trustees chair said the board utilized a very comprehensive process, which included a national search firm to assist along with a search committee comprised of all stakeholder groups – alumni, faculty, administrators, donors and students.

"From that process, several extremely qualified candidates were presented and interviewed. However, the unanimous choice by the search committee and the board was Dr. Moore. Being an alumnus of the college was a factor, but we are also very impressed with his vast background and success in almost every aspect of higher education," said Birch. "We feel confident Dr. Moore will make a very positive impact with Philander's continued pursuits of excellence for the institution and our students."

Dr. Moore will officially begin his duties as president July 1, 2012. He will meet with the Board of Trustees during its official spring meeting, Friday, May 4, 2012. At that time, Dr. Moore will officially be introduced to alumni during Alumni Reunion Weekend events to be held May 3-6.

Founded in 1877, Philander Smith College is a privately funded, four-year liberal arts career-oriented institution supported by the General Board of Higher Education and a ministry of the United Methodist Church. This college has a rich legacy of providing an educational experience that embraces academic excellence, builds self-esteem and cultivates critical thinking skills and prepares students to be future leaders and advocates for social justice. Current enrollment is 750 students.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Arkansas Conference Council on Finance and Administration
Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church
Little Rock, Arkansas

We have audited the modified cash basis financial statements of Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church (the Conference) as of and for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010, as listed in the accompanying table of contents. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Conference's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

As described in Note 1(b), these financial statements are prepared on the modified cash basis of accounting, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

In our opinion, the financial statements do present fairly, in all material respects, the assets, liabilities and net assets of the Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church as of December 31, 2011 and 2010, and its revenues, expenses and changes in net assets for the years then ended, in conformity with the basis of accounting described in Note 1(b).

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
Years Ended December 31, 2011 and 2010

NOTE 1: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Organization
The Arkansas Conference of the United Methodist Church (the Conference) is a service organization for the United Methodist Church throughout the State of Arkansas. The mission of the Conference is to make disciples for Jesus Christ by equipping local churches for missions and by providing a connection for ministry beyond the congregation, all to the glory of God. The Conference receives apportionments from churches located in the State of Arkansas and distributes the apportionments in accordance with the approved budget set by the Arkansas Annual Conference.

(b) Basis of Accounting
The accompanying financial statements have been prepared on the modified cash basis of accounting, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles. Under that basis, the only assets recognized are cash and cash equivalents and local church apportionments in-transit, and the only liabilities that are recognized are apportioned and other funds payable and prepaid apportionments. The modified cash basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles primarily because purchases of property and equipment are expensed as they are paid for rather than recorded as an asset and depreciated over their estimated useful lives and long-term debt is not recorded. Non-cash transactions are not recorded in the financial statements, therefore non-cash donations are not recorded as revenue when received.

Local church apportionments in-transit represent amounts that churches are budgeted to pay and apportioned and other funds payable include amounts the Conference is budgeted to pay according to the budget approved by the churches at the Arkansas Annual Conference.

(c) Cash and Cash Equivalents
The Conference considers all deposits with financial institutions, as well as highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

At times during the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010, cash and cash equivalents balances exceeded the amounts insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) and were not collateralized. In the event of an institutional failure, the excess over FDIC insurance may not be recoverable. The Conference's total bank balance maintained at multiple financial institutions at December 31, 2011 and 2010, was $3,583,500 and $2,786,961, respectively, of which $3,224,794 and $2,303,035, respectively, was not insured or collateralized.

The Conference is party to a contract with the financial institution in which the Conference maintains its operating account whereby all funds on deposit at that financial institution are transferred on a daily basis into a sweep investment account. The balance in this account is included in cash and cash equivalents.

(d) Cash Receipts
The Conference's cash receipts are restricted to fulfilling the purpose for which the donor remitted the funds. The Conference's goal is to distribute the funds received for the ultimate benefit of the third party donee in a timely and efficient manner.

(d) Cash Receipts (Continued)
The Conference classifies funds based on their funding source. The financial statements contain two types of funds: apportioned and other. Apportioned funds are budgeted by and allocated to the individual churches by the Arkansas Annual Conference. Other funds are obtained through the collection efforts of the committees established to oversee the individual funds. The Conference maintains and disburses these funds as requested by the committees.

(e) Income Taxes
The Conference is a tax-exempt organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and is not a private foundation.

Accounting standards require the Conference to evaluate tax positions and recognize a tax liability (or asset) if the Conference has taken an uncertain position that more likely than not would not be sustained upon examination by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). The Conference has analyzed the tax positions taken and has concluded that as of December 31, 2011 and 2010, there are no uncertain positions taken or expected to be taken that would require the recognition of a liability (or asset) or disclosure in the consolidated financial statements.

(f) Functional Expenses
The Conference considers all disbursements to be related to its programs and therefore does not allocate disbursements between program, general and administrative and fundraising for financial statement presentation.

NOTE 2: HEALTH INSURANCE TRUST

The Conference is the Plan Administrator of the Arkansas United Methodist Conferences Employee Benefit Plan (the Plan) which covers eligible employees of the Conference and churches located within the State of Arkansas. The funds included in the Plan are restricted for the payment of health insurance claims for participants. During the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010, activity in the Plan included approximately $7,901,000 and $7,163,000 in receipts and approximately $7,213,000 and $8,026,000 in disbursements, respectively, which are not included in these financial statements.

NOTE 3: DEFINED CONTRIBUTION PENSION PLANS

Eligible Conference and participating church employees are covered under one of two defined contribution pension plans as follows:

a. Ministerial employees – Eligible ministerial employees are covered under a defined contribution pension whereby the participant contributes 3% of compensation and the church or Conference contributes 10% to 12% of the participant's annual contribution base (compensation) based on the Conference average compensation as calculated by the General Board of Pensions.

b. Lay personnel – Eligible lay employees are covered under a defined contribution pension plan whereby the participant contributes at least 3% and the Conference contributes 12% of the participant's annual contribution base (compensation).

Both plans are multi-employer plans by which all contributed assets of participating employers and employees are commingled and are not segregated by employer.

Total contributions to both plans for Conference staff were approximately $83,000 and $82,000 for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010, respectively.

NOTE 4: OPERATING LEASE

The Conference leases office space from a related party under a noncancelable operating lease agreement that expires November 2013. The conference is in negotiations to extend this lease. Approximate required minimum lease payments are as follows:

2012	$ 69,800
	$ 128,000

Total rent expense was approximately $70,000 for the each of the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010.

NOTE 5: SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

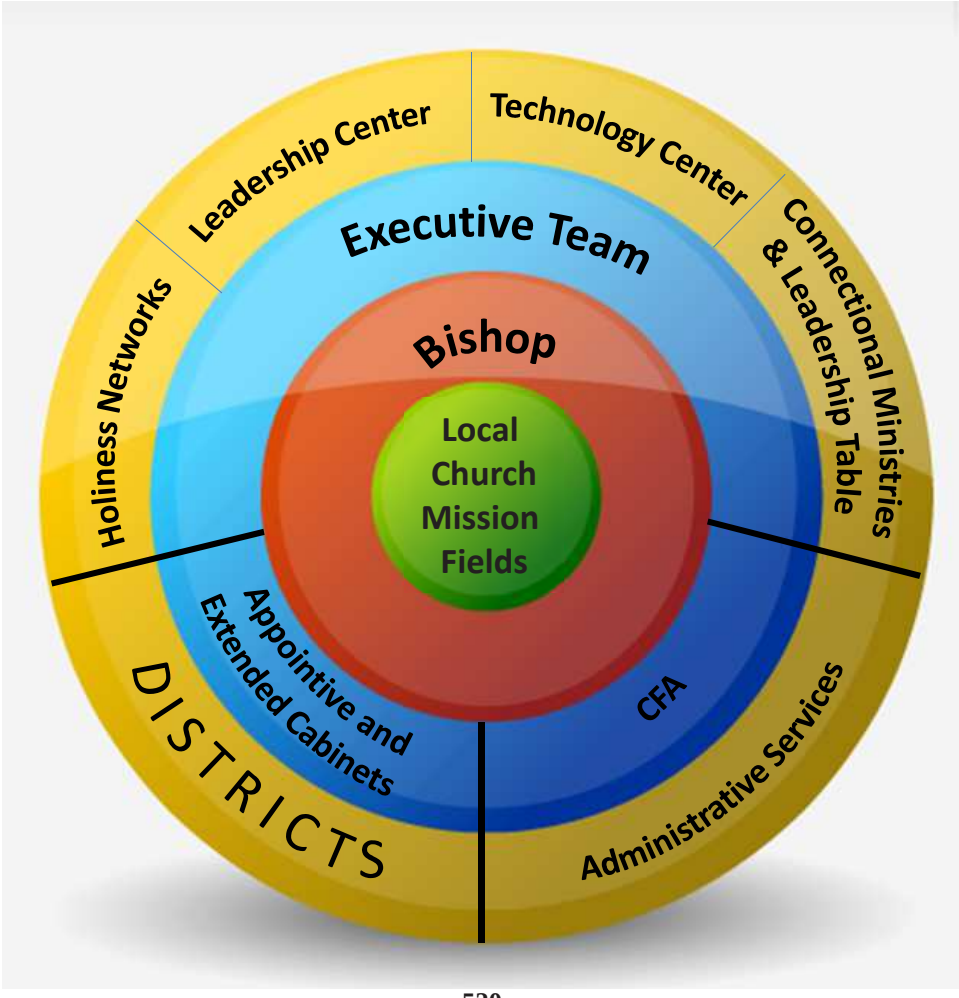

Management has evaluated subsequent events through May 4, 2012, the date that the financial statements were available to be issued.

POLICY STATEMENTS OF THE ARKANSAS CONFERENCE

PARSONAGE STANDARDS

{Presented by the Conference Trustees, and adopted by the Annual Conference on June 10, 2004}

Philosophy For Parsonage Standards: The Conference affirms the policy of church-owned parsonages as the way to serve the churches in our Conference as it greatly facilitates the itinerant system of clergy appointment. Any exceptions to this policy must have the approval of the bishop and cabinet. Therefore, it is important that local church parsonages across the Conference meet certain standards so that differences in quality, size, and equipment are kept to a minimum.

The Discipline is clear concerning the Annual Conference's role in setting parsonage standards and how the parsonage is to be understood by the local church and the clergy and his/her family. The 2004 Book of Discipline states that the Church Council shall "Review the recommendation of the committee on pastor parish relations regarding provision of adequate housing for the pastor(s); and report the same to the charge conference for approval. Housing provisions shall comply with Annual Conference housing policy and parsonage standards. Housing shall not be considered as part of compensation or remuneration." ¶252.4e

The 2004 Book of Discipline also states that, "The chairperson of the board of trustees or the chairperson of the parsonage committee, if one exists, the chairperson of the committee on pastor-parish relations, and the pastor shall make an annual review of the church-owned parsonage to ensure proper maintenance." ¶ 2532.4

The parsonage is to be mutually respected by the pastor's family as the property of the church and by the church as a place of privacy for the pastor's family.

These Guidelines are for use in maintaining, remodeling, building, or buying a parsonage.

Guidelines:

1. Bedrooms: There should be at least three bedrooms of standard size with ample closet space in each. It is recommended that one room on the main floor be adaptable to use as a bedroom.
2. Bathrooms: A parsonage should have at least two bathrooms. One could be with shower only, and the one on the main floor should be a combination tub and shower
3. Kitchen: The minimum kitchen should include: adequate built in cabinets, sink, stove, automatic refrigerator with frozen storage, garbage disposal (where sewer lines or septic tanks do not make this impossible), dishwasher, good light, and adequate electrical outlets. A breakfast area is desirable. Other appliances shall include a washing machine and clothes dryer (not necessarily in the kitchen area itself). An adequate supply of hot water shall be provided.
4. Living/Dining Areas: Adequate living area for family life and entertaining guests must be provided.

Depending upon the needs of the setting this could be a combination of the following rooms/areas: living room, family room, dining room, or a great room.

5. Study: It is preferable for the pastor's office to be in the church buildings. However, the parsonage may be equipped with space for a study. Every parsonage should have adequate bookshelves.
6. Closets: Adequate closet and storage space shall be provided throughout the house.
7. Garage: Two-car garage or carport with a storage room for tools and yard equipment shall be provided.
8. Energy Efficiency: It is recommended that conservation of energy be considered when purchasing appliances, when remodeling, and when purchasing a new parsonage.
9. Heating/Cooling: A central heating/cooling system with the capacity to properly heat/cool the entire habitable part of the house and the proper thermostatic controls should be provided. The pastor shall be responsible for changing furnace filters to insure the safe and efficient operation of the system. The church shall provide all other maintenance of the heating and cooling system.
10. Window Coverings: Appropriate and tasteful curtains, drapes, shades, or other window coverings shall be provided for all rooms of the parsonage. Safe storage of unused window coverings shall be provided by the pastor.
11. Utilities: All utilities shall be provided in the name of the church.
    a. Telephone: At least two phone outlets shall be provided.
    b. Heating/Cooling: Adequate heating/cooling systems shall be provided. The heating/cooling system shall be maintained by the church and shall be inspected annually with regard to soundness of heat/cooling exchanger, flue pipes, and chimney condition. If a wood stove and/or fireplace is in use, it too should be checked yearly. An instruction sheet should be posted near the furnace, or in a convenient place, to instruct on the maintenance and care of the furnace. The name of a reputable furnace company to be used should be specified. Suggestion should be made as to maximum /minimum temperatures and to the desirability of closing off unneeded rooms during the heating/cooling season. The pastor is responsible for the furnace filters to be changed at least three times yearly.
12. Insurance: The church is responsible for payment of insurance for the property. It should include homeowner coverage and shall cover at least eighty per cent of the replacement cost of the parsonage and related structures and church-owned furnishings. It is recommended that the pastor obtain additional coverage to insure the pastor's family furnishings and belongings.
13. Parsonage Furnishings and Equipment: The responsibility of the local church to provide 'adequate housing' shall be interpreted by the Arkansas Annual Conference to include furnishings and other equipment. However, it is suggested that one bedroom be left unfurnished in all parsonages. The required Items shall include an automatic washer, dryer, refrigerator, cooking stove, dishwasher, garbage disposal (unless septic tanks/inadequate sewer line make this impossible), and lawn mower. As applicable, the local church shall furnish a breakfast table, formal living room furniture, den/family room furniture, bedroom furniture (except as noted above), adequate lamps and lighting, and floor coverings. It is expected that the minister shall provide nonessential Items such as a microwave oven, pictures, and accessories. It is permissible, and even encouraged, for the pastor and family to provide personal furnishings, as this is their home. The Pastor shall work with the Parsonage Committee and/or Trustees to provide for safe storage of unused local church-owned furniture.
14. Parsonage Maintenance: Local Church Responsibility
    (a) The local church board of trustees or elected parsonage committee shall properly maintain an adequate and comfortable home in good condition for the pastor and his/her family. At the convenience of the parsonage family, the chairperson of the Trustees, the chairperson of the Pastor Parish Relations Committee, and the pastor shall inspect the home to see what needs to be done, If anything, to meet these standards and to take necessary steps to accomplish these improvements. It is recommended that the maintenance of the parsonage should include provision for pest/termite control.
    (b) The chairperson of the Trustees, the chairperson of the Pastor Parish Relations Committee, and the pastor shall inspect, at least annually, the parsonage and grounds to be familiar with said properties. They shall keep a record of their inspection so that they can take initiative In improving the parsonage and grounds. Each year every local church budget shall include money for maintenance, redecoration, and landscaping of the parsonage.

(c) All instruction books and warranties should be kept and the location of the books made known to an incoming pastor. The location of all cutoff valves, meters, water and sewer lines and similar items should be kept on file and should also be made known to an incoming minister. The local church shall inform the pastor of who has keys to the parsonage. These keys are for emergency use only by anyone other than the pastor and his/her family. (See Philosophy for Parsonage Standards, last sentence, p.1, above.)

15. Parsonage Maintenance: Pastor's Responsibilities
The pastor should care for the parsonage as a good steward of the property, avoiding undue wear and tear. Pets sometimes present special problems. It is the responsibility of the clergy who has pets to inform the appropriate local church officers when moving into the parsonage. Pastors with pets should exercise care so that the parsonage is not abused, including professional pest control for parasites from pets. The pastor is responsible for any damage caused by pets, personal guests, or family members. The pastor's family is responsible for cleaning the parsonage when they move out, including residual tobacco smoke and any odors from pets.
16. Parsonage Grounds: The grounds around the house shall be well drained. The grounds shall be cared for by the parsonage family. If the lawn is unusually large, contains many shrubs, or requires a great deal of time to maintain in keeping with the surrounding neighborhood, the church should consider assisting the pastor with additional help or service. Landscaping and exterior care of the parsonage shall be the responsibility of the local church and shall be such as to be a credit to the church in the community.
17. Mutual Responsibility Covenant: It is recommended that the Trustees and/or the Pastor Parish Relations Committee create a written covenant with the pastor, spelling out each party's responsibilities. The Covenant should be reviewed and updated annually. The covenant should include provisions for restoration to original from any personalized decorating on the part of the pastoral family. Redecorating should be done regularly with full consultation with the pastor.
18. Energy Conservation: It is recommended that all parsonages have an energy audit as soon as possible to determine what might be done to make them more energy efficient... weather seals, storm windows and doors, insulation, etc. Many areas have utility companies that will do this for free or for a small fee.
19. Barrier Free Concerns: It is recommended that all parsonages built, or remodeled in the future consider needs of the physically challenged such as tub bath, at least one bedroom, and preferably laundry be on the main floor, and a limited number of, if any, entry steps.
20. Safety: The parsonage shall contain certain safeguards for the parsonage family's safety. At least two fire extinguishers, one in the house (kitchen?) and one in the garage or utility area, shall be kept in working condition and shall be checked at the annual inspections. Smoke detectors and carbon monoxide detectors shall be provided, at least one for each floor including the basement.

Implementation of these Parsonage Standards:

21. Time: These parsonage standards, to go into effect immediately, are adopted for the pastor, local church board of Trustees, Pastor Parish Relations Committee, and/or Parsonage Committee.
22. All Substandard Parsonages shall be considered for renovation to conform as nearly as possible to the above standards as soon as possible, but no later that January 1, 2006. District Superintendents shall keep a record of parsonages that are not meeting these guidelines and report annually to the cabinet.
23. A local church may appoint a Parsonage Committee to work with the Board of Trustees and Pastor Parish Relations Committee In the implementation these standards and ongoing oversight and maintenance of the parsonage. The Parsonage Committee membership shall include the Chairperson of the Trustees, the Chairperson of the Pastor Parish Relations Committee, a minimum of three at large members elected to three year terms in classes (with the initial election to be for terms of 1 year, 2 years, and 3 years to establish the classes), and the minister or minister's spouse. The at large members may not succeed themselves and at least two of the elected members of the committee shall be women.

24. When there is a Pastoral Change, the house shall be inspected by the Chairpersons of the Trustees and the Pastor Parish Relations Committee, one other member of the Parsonage Committee, if formed, and the Pastor before the Pastor leaves for his/her new situation, to make a list of needed repairs. These repairs shall be accomplished prior to the arrival of the succeeding pastor. When moving day arrives, a final "walk through" conducted by the pastor with the above persons shall occur for a final assessment. Before a move, the departing pastor shall invite the incoming pastor to see the parsonage. Any redecorating should include consultation with the incoming pastoral family.
25. Housing Allowance/Parsonage: The Annual Conference has confirmed the Parsonage System as the most efficient and effective way of serving the local churches in our Arkansas Conference. In certain special and limited situations a housing allowance or use of rental property is permissible. A decision to exercise this option shall be made with the approval of the Pastor-Parish Relations Committee, the District Superintendent, the Trustees, and the Pastor. The resulting decision shall then be recommended to the Charge Conference for approval. The decision must also have the approval of the Bishop and cabinet. In order to maintain an open itinerancy system, churches which do not own a parsonage should make provision for a rental deposit/purchase down payment and initial furnishing purchases for any person moved into the appointment.
26. Publicity of Guidelines: Upon adoption, these parsonage standards shall be distributed to all pastors, Chairpersons of local church Board of Trustees, and, chairpersons of Pastor Parish Relations Committees. The then current parsonage standards will be printed in the Conference Journal once each quadriennium. These standards shall be given to all new pastors and families coming into the conference by the Board of Ordained Ministry.
27. Compliance: The District Superintendent shall ask questions concerning the parsonage and its compliance with the parsonage standards annually at the Charge Conference. If a dispute arises in a local church or between a local church and the pastor, the District Superintendent should be contacted to mediate the issue.
28. Church/Pastor Parsonage Covenant recommend: The Administrative Board of the Church has the responsibility to provide adequate housing for the Pastor (Discipline ¶251.4e). The Parsonage is to be mutually respected by the Pastor as the property of the Church and by the Church as a place of privacy for the Pastor's family. To facilitate this mutual responsibility we recommend that the Church and the Pastor enter into the following covenant. Both Parties should feel free to perfect this Covenant to meet any other desired or special circumstances. It is important that both parties feel satisfied with and responsible for the Covenant.

A SUGGESTED CHURCH/PASTOR PARSONAGE COVENANT

Church Responsibilities:

While other church officers and bodies have a role in the provision, inspection, and maintenance of the parsonage the local church Board of Trustees shall have the responsibility to insure the parsonage meets or exceeds the standards set by the Annual Conference and the local church. The Church Trustees will maintain the physical structure and keep it in good repair. This includes all exterior treatments such as paint, shingles, and siding; the basic interior structure of the home including carpet and other floor coverings, interior decorating, and drapes or curtains. The Trustees assume the responsibility for all equipment such as furnace, water heater, light fixtures, stove, refrigerator, washer, dryer, and lawn mower. The Trustees assume the responsibility for all furnishings provided by the church including maintenance and timely replacement.

Clergy Responsibilities:

The pastor will properly care for the property, keeping it clean and attractive both inside and out. The Pastor will be responsible for light bulbs, furnace filters, lawn mowing and snow removal; for effecting minor repairs such as, but not limited to, tacking or nailing of molding or door tops that may loosen up, and repairing or replacing items damaged by pets, personal guests, or the pastor and his/her family. [This would be signed by the Chairperson of the Board of Trustees, the Pastor, and other appropriate local church officers.]

Respectfully submitted, Regina Haralson, Secretary and Ronald B. Clark, President

POLICY STATEMENT ON MISCONDUCT OF A SEXUAL NATURE

{Adopted by the Annual Conference on June 10, 2004, and revised June 14, 2005}

I. Statement of Policy

The _____United Methodist church affirms the 2008 Book of Resolutions #2044, Sexual Abuse Within the Ministerial Relationship and Sexual Harassment Within the Church, which states that sexual abuse within the ministerial relationship and sexual harassment within the church as incompatible with biblical teachings of hospitality, justice and healing. In accordance with the 2008 Book of Discipline (¶ 161.E) all human beings, both male and female, are created in the image of God, and thus have been made equal in Christ. As the promise of Galatians 3:26-29 states, all are one in Christ, we support equity among all persons without regard to ethnicity, situation, or gender.

Sexual abuse within the ministerial relationship occurs when a person within a ministerial role of leadership (pastor, educator, counselor, youth leader or other position of leadership) engages in sexual contact or sexualized behavior with a congregant, client, employee, student, staff member, co-worker, volunteer, person being counseled or any other person to whom the minister relates in his/her capacity as a minister.

Sexual harassment is any unwanted sexual advance or demand, either verbal or physical, that is reasonably perceived by the recipient as demeaning, intimidating, or coercive.

Sexual abuse within the ministerial relationship involves a betrayal of sacred trust, a violation of the ministerial role and exploitation of those who are vulnerable. Similarly, sexual harassment must be understood as an exploitation of a power relationship rather than as an exclusively sexual issue.

Misconduct of a sexual nature within the life of the church interferes with its moral mission. The _____ United Methodist Church stands in opposition to the sin of misconduct of a sexual nature in the Church and society at large and commits itself to fair and expedient investigation of any charge of sexual misconduct within the church and to take action deemed appropriate and in compliance with the Book of Discipline. Further, the United Methodist Church bears affirmative responsibility to create an environment of hospitality for all persons, male or female, which is free of misconduct of a sexual nature and encourages respect, equality and kinship in Christ.

II. Procedures

A. If you experience what you consider to be inappropriate behavior, keep a written record of your experiences including dates, times, places, and witnesses. Keep any written material you may have received from the person.

You may wish to confront the person with the inappropriate behavior and demand that it cease.

If you choose not to confront the person alone, you may choose to ask someone to accompany you to confront the person and seek reconciliation.

If you choose not to confront the person, or if the behavior continues, report the incident to the chair of the person's appropriate evaluating committee (e.g., a pastor or church staff member would be reported to the chair of the staff/parish relations committee; a district superintendent to the chair of the committee on superintendency; a bishop to the chair of the committee on episcopacy).

If the conflict is not resolved to your satisfaction, the committee chair shall convene the entire committee to meet with the accused, the person bringing the accusations, and each supporting person.

If the situation is not resolved to your satisfaction following these efforts, then follow the Discipline's procedures for grievances, complaints, and charges.

B. If you are confronted by someone who has experienced or observed inappropriate behavior on your part, listen to the accusation and agree to change the behavior or otherwise resolve the situation and reconcile the relationship.

If you are unable to resolve the situation with your accuser, contact the chair of your appropriate evaluating committee. Ask to meet with your accuser and committee chair to resolve the conflict. The accused and the person bringing the accusation each has the right to bring a supportive person to this meeting.

If the conflict remains unresolved, the committee chair shall convene the entire committee to meet with the accused, the person bringing the accusations, and each supporting person.

C. If you receive a report of inappropriate behavior, listen seriously and objectively. Help the person follow the steps outlined above.

If you are a clergy/church professional in a paid supervisory position in the local church or a conference agency, and an employee is being harassed, you should immediately take corrective or preventative action.

According to Arkansas law, any person receiving a report from a child under age 18, indicating sexual abuse of that child, is required to report the abuse to the proper authorities.

LOCAL CHURCH SAFE SANCTUARY

{Resolution adopted by the Annual Conference, June 2006.}

WHEREAS, The General Conference of The United Methodist Church, in April 2004, adopted a resolution aimed at eliminating any potential for child sexual abuse in the church. The adopted resolution includes the following statement:

Jesus said, "Whoever welcomes a child welcomes me." (Matthew 18:5). Children are our present and our future, our hope, our teachers, our inspiration. They are full participants in the life of the church and in the realm of God.

Jesus also said, "If any of you put a stumbling block before one of these little ones..., it would be better for you if a great millstone were fastened around your neck and you were drowned in the depth of the sea." (Matthew 18:6) Our Christian faith calls us to offer both hospitality and protection to the little ones, the children. The Social Principles of The United Methodist Church state that "...children must be protected from economic, physical and sexual exploitation and abuse."

Tragically, churches have not always been safe places for children. Child sexual abuse, exploitation and ritual abuse (ritual abuse refers to abusive acts committed as part of ceremonies or rites; ritual abusers are often related to cults, or pretend to be) occur in churches, both large and small, urban and rural. The problem cuts across all economic, cultural and racial lines. It is real, and it appears to be increasing. Most annual conferences can cite specific incidents of child sexual abuse and exploitation in their churches. Virtually every congregation has among its members adult survivors of early sexual trauma.

Such incidents are devastating to all who are involved: the child, the family, the local church and its leaders. Increasingly, churches are torn apart by the legal, emotional, and monetary consequences of litigation following allegations of abuse.

God calls us to make our churches safe places, protecting children and other vulnerable persons from sexual and ritual abuse. God calls us to create communities of faith where children and adults grow safe and strong. (From The Book of Resolutions of The United Methodist Church. P. 201 - 202)

Therefore, the Arkansas Conference, United Methodist Church, hereby pledges to conduct the ministry of Jesus Christ in ways that assure the physical and emotional safety and spiritual growth of all of our children and youth as well as all of our workers with children and youth. We will follow reasonable safety measures when selecting and recruiting workers; we will implement prudent operational procedures in all areas of programming and care; we will train our workers with children and youth on our procedures and policies; and we will have a clearly defined procedure for reporting a suspected incident of abuse that conforms to the requirements of Arkansas law.

Therefore, in all of our ministries with children and youth, this congregation is committed to demonstrating the love of Jesus Christ so that each child and youth will be "surrounded by steadfast love… established in the faith and confirmed and strengthened in the way that leads to life eternal." (Baptismal Covenant II,"United Methodist Book of Worship, p.96).

Therefore, when our Local Churches are developing Safe Sanctuaries policies and procedures, it is recommended they include the following:

PAID OR VOLUNTEER STAFF SELECTION GUIDELINES

1. Age
   - 18 years old
   - 4-5 years older than the oldest child/youth they will be supervising
2. Application
   - complete and sign an application and the related waivers giving permission to check references and background information.
3. Reference Checks
   - 2-3 references
4. Background Checks
   - Criminal background checks for all clergy, paid staff, and volunteers who have supervisory program responsibility for children/youth
5. Prior Convictions
   - Individuals who have been convicted of physical or sexual abuse or neglect may not work in any church-sponsored activity or program for preschoolers, children or youth.

PAID OR VOLUNTEER STAFF SUPERVISION GUIDELINES

1. Two adult rule
   - Two non-related adults present at all times
   - If a co-ed group, need both male and female sponsors
   - If it's simply not feasible for 2 adults to be present, can have "floater" monitor frequently
2. Check-in/out Procedure
   - Need a check-in/checkout procedure
   - Only release children/youth to people authorized by parent/legal guardian. Parents should notify the one in charge when their youth begins to drive him/herself to youth group and give permission for said youth to transport other youth to and from the meeting. This permission must be reciprocal from other parents who give permission for their youth to ride with other youth age drivers.
3. Open Door Policy
   - Parents and other relatives have the right to visit and observe the children's/youth activity, classroom, or church-sponsored program at any time, unannounced. Other visitors must be accompanied by a church staff person or the lead pastor.
4. Outside Access
   - Access to a phone, cell phone or pager when groups are at or away from the church facility

5. Doors and Windows:
   - All classroom and office doors will have a window or visibility from hallway or remain open while occupied.
   - Windows kept free from adornment
6. Individual Counseling:
   - One-on-one interactions with children and youth should be with open door and visibility to all
7. Outside Groups
   - Outside groups using the church facility need to follow the church's Safe Sanctuaries policies and procedures
8. Training
   - Staff need to be educated in Safe Sanctuary policies, procedures and child abuse issues
   - CPR/First Aid certification
9. Transportation
   - No youth should drive to/from event
   - Adults should never transport child/youth alone.
   - Approved and covered by church's insurance company
   - Drivers should go through same screening process as all other paid/volunteer staff

{Note: These guidelines concern recommendations for the Local Church. A more comprehensive Safe Sanctuary Policy for Conference and District events is currently under review by the Vision Team, Cabinet, COSROW, and the Conference Board of Trustees. A new Conference and District Event policy should be ready for presentation to the 2007 Annual Conference session.}

VACATION POLICY FOR APPOINTED PERSONNEL

{Presented by the Conference Board of Ordained Ministry and adopted by the Annual Conference 1n June 2010}

It is The United Methodist Church's view that good vacation time benefits ministry. Since pastors are on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week, time away (when the parish is "vacated") can bring renewal and refreshment for the tasks at hand and help prevent burn-out, we recommend the following minimum vacation standards:

1) Each clergy person under appointment by the Bishop of the Arkansas Conference shall be entitled to receive the following minimum vacation time during the course of the Annual Conference year (July 1 - June 30).
   a) Those having served full time in The United Methodist Church from the time first appointed to five years: two weeks vacation (2 Sundays).
   b) Those having served full time in The United Methodist Church from six years to ten years: three weeks vacation (3 Sundays).
   c) Those having served full time in the United Methodist Church for eleven or more years: four weeks vacation (4 Sundays).
2) Vacation time shall be based on the number of years of service under full-time appointment in the ministry of The United Methodist Church (including previous service in diaconal ministry) and not on the number of years of service in a given appointment.
3) Time away from the appointment for participating in continuing education events and experiences shall not be counted as vacation time (see ¶351.2), nor time away from the appointment to attend Annual Conference or other conference, district, or general church events which the appointee is expected to attend shall be counted as vacation time.

4) Full time clergy are to receive a minimum of two weeks for continuing education. All part time clergy are to receive a minimum of one week for continuing education (This continuing education policy does not apply to pastors who have not completed Course of Study.)
5) The Committee on Pastor/Staff-Parish Relations should also arrange for the clergy person to have one day off each week and to be away from the appointment occasionally for a day or two.
6) In those charges where local pastors have not completed the Course of Study and where clergy are appointed to less than full time service, including student pastors and part time local pastors, the minimum vacation time shall be two weeks.
7) Clergy should refrain from taking vacation during the first month of a new appointment. It is also recommended that the first-year vacation be distributed across the year, not taken all at once.
8) The clergy person shall consult with the Pastor/Staff Parish Relations Committee in obtaining vacation supply coverage.
9) The charge shall make available as necessary the funds for pulpit supply while the pastor is on vacation.

STANDARDS FOR CAMPING AND RETREAT CENTERS

{The following motion was passed at the 2009 session of the Arkansas Annual Conference}

We recommend that the Arkansas Annual Conference rescind the "Standards for Camping and Retreat Centers" adopted in June 2006 and all previous recommendations of camping standards presented to the conference by this committee.

We further recommend that all camps and retreat centers within the Arkansas Annual Conference move toward accreditation through the American Camp Association.

Rob and Kathi Walker were recognized by the Annual Conference session for their eighteen years of service as Stage Managers for the conference. For eighteen years Rob and Kathi would begin making site preparations six months prior to a session, would arrive three days before the opening gavel and remain after the closing gavel to oversee the tear-down, packing, and clean up of the site. Rob said, "Next year I am looking forward to simply attending the conference session, and letting the next generation look after the details."

Sheila Vancura, retired executive assistant to the bishop, receives a farewell gift from the Conference.

Conference lay leader Asa Whitaker delivers his final Laity Address before the Annual Conference. Asa served as our Conference Lay Leader for the past 12 years (3 years in North Arkansas and 9 years in the Arkansas Conference), and also served for four years as President of the National Association of Conference Lay Leaders.

Retired Bishop Bennie Warner, who once served as a district superintendent in Arkansas, greets the Annual Conference.

Bishop Charles Crutchfield spends a moment holding Sabrina Joy Warrick following her baptism.
